Your Fire, Water and Light Committee beg leave to report as follows:—

1. We recommend that this Committee be authorized to procure the services of an electrician to ascertain whether the Peterborough Light and Power Company is furnishing street light in accordance with the terms of their contract.

2. We recommend that the Peterborough Light and Power Company be paid at the rate of $12 a year for the 32 candle power incandescent lights used on the streets for street lighting in accordance with order of the Council, so long as they are so used, and that they be paid for at the times and in the same manner as the arc street lights are paid for.

3. The Committee appointed by you to enquire as to the merits of steam fire engines made a report to us as did also the chief of the Fire Brigade and their reports are attached to this report. We recommend a test of the engines at Peterborough and advise that the Waterous Engine Works Company and the Canadian Fire Engine Company be asked to send their engines here for that purpose, and that the engine standing the highest test be purchased, the minimum capacity to be 1,000 gallons.

The report was adopted.

Ald. Mason referred to the present as a shopping expedition. The Council had no power to make the purchase of an engine, and it would be indiscreet to proceed with this without having the proper authority. He thought a fire engine was a necessity.

Ald. Hicks thought that it was better to buy an engine and pay for it out of next year's revenue, than to be without it. The speaker drew a comparison between the respective fire departments in a number of cities approximately equal in population to Peterborough. Of the eight cities which he mentioned two have no engines. All but three have chemical engines. Of the cities mentioned Kingston was probably nearest to Peterborough in population, and he cited the following statistics in comparing the respective fire departments of these two cities;

	Kingston.	Peterborough.
Population	18,000	14,500
Firemen	16	16
Engines	2	0
Hose Wagons	2	1
Cost of Department	$ 8,181	$ 5,773
Cost per head of population	56	40
Cost per $1,00 ass'mt	$ 1.30	$ 1.00
Rate	20	18 1-2

He considered it a great danger to shelve the matter and was strongly in favour of purchasing the engine.

Ald. Hall also thought that the city had been very lax in providing necessary fire protection. He was in favour of purchasing an engine at the earliest possible date even it was necessary to erect a shed in which to hold it. Peterborough was very much behind other towns in the matter of fire protection. The high buildings on George street could not be reached. The Underwriters' Association demands that the city shall have a fire engine, as the property owners were now at the mercy of the underwriters.

Mayor Beat pointed out that, as the situation was, the engine should be purchased, and if a bylaw was not carried on January 1st, it could be paid for from current revenue.

Ald. Leary commented upon the inadequate fire protection in Peterborough, as compared with other cities.

Ald. Bogley thought that the purchase of the fire engine now, and the addition of other equipment later, would meet the approval of the public.

Ald. Adams thought that a by-law should be submitted providing for the purchase of an engine and other equipment. If in the meantime there was a dire necessity, an engine could be rented.

Ald. Johnston said that a fair expression of opinion had never been obtained from the people upon the fire engine question. The speaker was in favour of having the retail merchants and other heavy taxpayers discuss the question with the Fire, Water and Light Committee, that their assistance might be obtained in presenting the matter to the people.

Ald. Tovey was in favour of the purchase of an engine, and the submission of the $35,000 bylaw on Jan. 1st.

Ald. Crowe, though he did not wish to be an obstructionist, thought a new fire hall of much greater necessity than a new engine. The equipment might be purchased in instalments.

Ald. Batten thought that an adequate expression of opinion had never been obtained from the public and that a bylaw would pass if submitted at the proper time.

Ald. Scott expressed the opinion that it would be more advisable to rent an engine than to purchase at the present time.

Ald. McIntyre favoured the view expressed by Ald. Scott.

THE AMECA CATTLE AND PRODUCE COMPANY

The Ameca Cattle and Produce Company, to be incorporated under the laws of the Dominion of Canada and legalized under the laws of the Republic of Mexico.

Capital stock, $250,000.

Par value of stock $5 per share.

30,000 shares common stock.

Treasury stock, 20,000 shares 6 per cent. preferred.

Bankers, Depositaries.

Offices—Peterborough, Ontario, and Guadalajara, Mexico.

Officers—G. Howard Wood, President; William Wood, Treasurer and Managing Director; George M. Holbrooke, Secretary and Financial Agent.

The organization of the Ameca Cattle and Produce Company is for the purpose of acquiring the haciendas De Los Limos De Santa Clara y Santa Cruz, comprising ten thousand acres of the best land in the Ameca Valley, State of Jalisco, Republic of Mexico. This property is situated on the Ameca branch of the Mexican Railroad, forty miles from the city of Guadalajara, capital of the State. The valley is well known throughout the Republic of Mexico as one of the most fertile in all of the Republic. The products of this hacienda are cattle, barley, wheat, beans and corn. The nearness to the city of Guadalajara provides the haciendas with a ready market. Buyers from the city of Guadalajara visit and purchase at the haciendas.

The haciendas operated by the Mexican owners in what might be deemed almost primitive manner, is to-day earning about $5,000 per annum. Under the administration of Mr. Wm. Wood, who has had three years' experience in charge of a forty-five thousand acre hacienda, the earning capacity of this property is conservatively estimated to be $35,000 per annum, and in a comparatively short period of time even this amount can be largely increased.

As financial agent of this company, I offer five thousand shares of the 6 per cent preferred stock at $5 per share. As quickly as this five thousand shares is subscribed for, another five thousand shares will be offered at $6 per share. The balance of treasury stock, ten thousand shares, will be offered in the future at not less than $7 per share.

I recommend the security without reserve, and as an evidence of good faith and honesty of purpose, the company proposes to make

, of Peterborough, Ontario, Treasurer of the company, and Mr. , counsel of the company.

Of the subscribers to the first five thousand shares, three will be elected to the Board of Directors, and it is the desire of the company that a resident of this district be appointed business manager at the hacienda, in full charge of all finances.

George M. Holbrooke, at the Oriental Hotel, will answer all inquiries.

FIREARMS SEIZED BY THE RANGERS

Enforcing Regulations Regarding Temagami Reserve.

Visitors Who Are Ignorant of Ontario's Game Laws Are Causing Trouble—Close Season For Quail Extends to 1906.

The game wardens and rangers in the Temagami reserve have had a busy time during the summer, and are still busy preventing the shooting of game, the principal offenders being American tourists, who are not acquainted with the game laws, or who have been misled in some instances by American literature regarding the game of the region. The regulations applicable to the reserve provide that no firearms with barrels longer than four inches may be taken in, except during the moose season. Many tourists armed with rifles and shotguns have had to part with these weapons on demand of the wardens and rangers. This is particularly true of those entering by way of Temagami Station, where a large number of weapons have been seized. Of course, some persons have managed to get into the reserve with guns, and in several instances have killed deer and other game, leaving the larger portions of their carcasses to rot. Quail is occasionally being shot in the reserve, as well as in other sections of the Province, in spite of a recent order-in-Council extending the close season to November 1, 1906. This order also prohibits the shooting of partridge on St. Joseph's Island, near the Soo, for three years. Every effort is being made by the wardens and rangers, acting on instructions from the game department, to put a stop to these infractions of the regulations.

Situation at Baku Grows Worse; Further Massacres Are Feared

Tartars and Kurds Steadily Attacking and Plundering "Blacktown" District — Oil Men Desire Loan From Russian Government to Assist Them to Re-Establish Their Industry Which is Ruined—Prince Tsitsianoff Assassinated.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 12.—The latest private telegram to be received from Baku reports that the situation there is growing worse.

Other unconfirmed despatches assert that the rioters are stubbornly continuing their attacks and that the Tartars and Kurds are plundering in the "Blacktown" district.

The despatches say that on Sunday the soldiers fired into a crowd of Russian workmen, killing 17.

Oil men representing an annual production of 500,000,000 pounds, met yesterday and determined to ask the state for assistance in obtaining a 20-year loan without interest, to cover the losses resulting from the catastrophe at Baku, without which, they declared, 108 of the 123 companies would be unable to continue in business.

The oil men in Nishni Novgorod and Astrakhan express the fear that attempts will be made to burn the stocks of oil stored there, and they ask for the taking of protective measures.

Tartars Desperate Courage.

A band of Tartars barricaded themselves in the house of a rich Mussulman and fired from the windows on a patrol of police, who summoned them to surrender. The Tartars replied to the summons with another volley, and continued firing while artillery was brought up. The artillery laid the house in ruins, the Tartars perishing to a man.

WHAT KING VICTOR SAW.

Great Fissure of Earth Where Village Once Was.

Monteleone, Calabria, Sept. 12.—King Victor Emmanuel arrived here yesterday to visit the places stricken by the earthquake. He was received by Signor Ferraris, the Minister of Public Works, and the population, who gave him a demonstrative and grateful welcome.

Signor Ferraris had previously visited the village of Zammaro, which presented a terrible spectacle. All the houses have been destroyed and the inhabitants are in a condition of terror.

During the railway trip from Triparni, Signor Ferraris saw from an elevation the ruins of a village completely destroyed. Triparni shows the immensity of the disaster. The western walls of all the buildings have tumbled down and the Minister stood at the edge of a great fissure of earth, where formerly existed a portion of the place, now swallowed up.

At Piscopio troops are burying bodies, and everywhere officers and soldiers are sharing their rations with the population.

CHOLERA IN GERMANY.

Decrease In Number of Deaths—Nine Cases Misjudged.

Berlin, Sept. 12.—An official bulletin issued yesterday says that 16 cholera cases and six deaths were reported from noon Saturday to noon Sunday, and 15 cases and six deaths from noon Sunday to noon yesterday, making the totals 170 cases and 58 deaths.

Although there were 31 fresh cases during the two days ending with noon, that is seven fewer than the preceding 48 hours. This furnishes cause for confidence at the ministry of health that the infection is under control.

Later it was announced that nine of the cases previously classified as cholera had been shown through bacteriological investigation not to be cholera, and that, therefore, the total number of cases was 161.

Railway Commission.

Winnipeg, Sept. 12.—The Dominion Railway Commission opened its sitting yesterday, A. C. Killam and D. J. Mills being the commissioners. Most of the morning was occupied by applications by the Canadian Northern to take in various properties in St. Boniface and the city, looking towards the extension of freight and other facilities. The corporations interested, particularly the City of Winnipeg, have entered formal opposition.

CORFIELD AND POYNER.

Crown Has Weak Case So Far in Stratford Murder, But Prisoners May Be Sent Up For Trial.

Stratford, Sept. 12.—The preliminary hearing of the Crown v. Corfield and Poyner was resumed before Magistrate Sloane yesterday. Several witnesses were recalled and some new ones gave evidence, but nothing new was forthcoming. Nothing has yet developed as to who were the certain perpetrators of the awful deed.

Corfield and Poyner both tell fairly straight stories, differing only in minor details, which cannot incriminate them. Poyner has failed to account for several hours of the night, from the time when he left the shanty until 7 the next morning. Evidence would lead to a belief in his innocence, but local people who have known him express the opinion that he has not told all he knows. Corfield appears to be anxious to facilitate matters. Both men are most earnest in asserting their innocence.

The Crown produced the last of its list of witnesses yesterday. The case against Corfield was adjourned till Tuesday, and that against Poyner till Wednesday, when the argument will be heard. Sentiment may prevail enough to send the prisoners on for further trial.

MURDERS HIS BABY.

Montreal Business Man, Suddenly Insane, Commits Awful Crime.

Montreal, Sept. 12.—A sad case of infanticide occurred here yesterday morning, when J. Albert Martin, son of Mayor Laporte's business partner, in a sudden fit of insanity, killed his 7-months'-old child.

Martin about 7 o'clock jumped out of bed, seized the child, and strangled it with a napkin, and then threw the body on the dining table, muttering that he had sent the infant to heaven, and saved it the trouble of living. He then subsided, and submitted to arrest without a word. The body of the child was taken to the morgue.

Martin is well-to-do, and connected with many of the best people here. He suffered a slight sunstroke during the hot weather of July, and had been behaving eccentrically since. He is 37 years of age. Mrs. Martin was a Miss Orsuli, and well known in French-Canadian circles.

Had 21 Stab Wounds.

New York, Sept. 12.—With 21 stab wounds in his body, Vittal Giovanna, a night watchman, was found dead yesterday in the cellar of a building in Long Island City. He was an Italian 32 years old.

Ontario Man Suicides.

Winnipeg, Sept. 12.—When in a fit of despondency, the result of a prolonged spree, John A. Webber, for the past four years city traveler of Bright & Johnston, wholesale fruit dealers, committed suicide by taking a dose of carbolic acid, in his rooms on William avenue. Webber came from Woodstock, Ont., where his parents reside. He has a brother, R. A. Webber, living at Hickson, Ont.

DEATH OF COL. LEYS.

Former Member For London in Legislature Passes Away.

London, Sept. 12.—Lt.-Col. Leys, ex-M.P.P., died last night, after an illness of nine months, from kidney trouble. He had resided here for nearly 50 years.

The late Lt.-Col. Leys was born in Pickering County nearly 70 years ago and studied law in Toronto with his brother, the late John Leys, ex-M.P.P., but when a young man removed to Windsor, and later to London. He was for many years manager of the Dominion Savings and Loan Society and subsequently engaged in the insurance business. He was wealthy.

He represented London in the Legislature as a supporter of Hon. Geo. W. Ross, defeating Hon. Adam Beck, but was himself defeated by the present Minister at the next general election.

Among the poorer classes he was especially popular for charity shown. He leaves a widow and four children.

THE ABITTIBI ROUTE.

Not Yet Decided Whether G. T. P. Goes North or South.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—The transcontinental Railway Commission has not yet decided whether the line shall be run north or south of Lake Abitibi, although the probability is the route will be as close to the north shore of the lake as possible.

Chairman Parent said yesterday morning that the reports of all surveys had not been completed, and therefore they had no data upon which to base an opinion.

"Generally speaking," he said, "we are well satisfied with the character of the country, between Quebec and Lake Abitibi."

The commission will confer with representatives of the Canadian Northern Railway on the 15th inst., as to the joint use of the terminals in Winnipeg.

Human Smugglers Caught.

Ogdensburg, Sept. 12.—John Larne, John Dash Law and Napoleon Gluckey were arrested here yesterday for violation of the immigration laws. It is alleged that Brazilian immigrants who had been refused admission to the United States were smuggled in from Canada. Joseph Montrol, one of the smugglers, turned state's evidence, giving the names of his comrades.

Yellow Fever Record.

New Orleans, Sept. 12.—Yellow fever to 6 p. m. yesterday: New cases, 28; total to date, 2,327; deaths, none; total to date, 316. New disease centres, 18; cases under treatment, 206; discharged, 1,711. The situation here is regarded as most excellent, but in the country the conditions are more acute because people of prominence in their communities are beginning to fall victims.

Restores Embezzled Money.

London, Sept. 12.—(C. A. P.)—A city clerk a few years ago embezzled £100 and absconded to Canada. On Saturday his former employers received the amount embezzled, with interest.

Experiment a Money-Maker.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—Herring cured at Yarmouth, N. S., by Scottish curing experts and sent to the United States markets brought $7.50 the half-barrel, or at the rate of $15 per barrel, as against a price of from $4 to $6 per barrel obtained under former systems of curing.

Ask Your Grocer About Red Rose Tea

MOST good Grocers sell Red Rose Tea.

If a grocer recommends Red Rose Tea, it will be an honest opinion, because he makes less profit on Red Rose Tea than on most others.

When a merchant recommends an article upon which his profit is less than upon other similar goods, it is because he wants to sell satisfactory goods and to please his customers.

Your grocer knows he can recommend Red Rose Tea for its "rich fruity flavor" and its strength, and because

Regarding your Zutoo Tablets I beg to say: I have been a sufferer from headache since childhood and have used all, or nearly all, of the so-called "cures" on the market, till warned by my physician to discontinue their use on account of their bad effects on the heart. Some months since my attention was called to your Zutoo Tablets and I have been using them ever since and find the most gratifying results. I find they cure a "sick" or "nervous" headache in a few minutes and leave no bad effect. My family use them whenever needed with equally good results. I have frequently given them to friends who were suffering from headache and they never fail to give quick relief. I find them a good remedy for "sour" stomach as well as headache. I always carry them in my grip on the road and would not be without them at any cost.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Central Milling Co. Makes Request for Fixed Assessment

At Last Night's Meeting of the City Council—Many Petitions For Local Improvements Were Received—Peterborough Light and Power Co. Protest Against Being Docked For Defective Light in Case of Accident—New By-Laws Were Introduced.

The City Council met last night, the following members being in attendance: Mayor Best, Aldermen Johnston, Begley, Hicks, Mason, Crowe, Leary, Hall, Povey, Batten, Adams, Scott and McIntyre.

Central Milling Co.'s Request.

A deputation was present on behalf of the Central Milling Co., and was, on motion, heard. Mr. H. A. Mulhern addressed the Council, preferring a request for a fixed assessment of $10,000 per year, urging that, as other institutions of a similar nature had been granted a lower fixed assessment, they were entitled to the same.

Mr. Matchett referred to the request of the company for a rebate on their taxes already paid, proportionate to a reduction in assessment from $14,200 to $10,000. The matter was referred to the Manufacturers' Committee.

Communications.

The following communications were received and dealt with in the manner signified:

From the tax collector, giving statement of taxes for 1905, as follows:

August 1, total amount of first instalment...	$83,048.87
Total amount during August	58,495.00
	$83,633.82
Balance unpaid.....	$30,967.45

Received.

From the city clerk, calling attention to the fact that in polling subdivisions Nos. 1, 2, 3, 5, 6 and 7 the number of qualified voters exceeds 300. Received.

From the Central Milling Co., requesting the City Council to reduce their assessment to a fixed amount of $10,000, the same as was requested some time ago, when a deputation from the company waited upon the Manufacturers' Committee. They found that the new assessment act makes no material difference in the amount of their assessment. They also asked a rebate on the taxes paid this year, which were based on an assessment of $14,200. Referred to Manufacturers' Committee.

From James O'Brien, applying for the position of Inspector of Sewer Construction. Referred to Board of Works.

From the town solicitor, enclosing letter received from Mr. Timmerman in reply to a letter written him with reference to the crossing at Stewart street and other matters. Received.

From A. McDonald, enclosing two tax bills and one receipt for the same property, N. Rink and W. George, and pointing out that an error had been made in making out the two bills for the one piece of property. Referred to Court of Revision.

From the Peterborough Light and Power Co., stating that an accident at the Power House on Wednesday night had deprived them of the use of one machine after 10.15, and for that reason one circuit of lamps was not burning from 10.15 during the rest of the night. The damage has been repaired. Also drawing attention to the fact that it is not necessary for the policeman to report lights out, not paid for by the city, as has been done in two or three cases. Referred to Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From E. Parnell and W. Parnell, requesting two weeks holidays, as usual, to commence about September 18, for one, and two weeks later for the other. Referred to Fire, Water and Light Committee with power to act.

From Dr. C. A. Hodgetts, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, stating that the attention of the Board had been drawn to the nuisance, which still continues on the property used by the Barnardo Home. A report and recommendation was made regarding the disposal of the sewage of the institution, but no action had been taken by the local authorities to abate the nuisance, or by the Barnardo Home people to install a system of septic tank and subsurface tiles, whereby the sewage would be disposed of on the flat, without creating a nuisance to anybody. When making this inspection the possibility of running the sewage direct into the town system was suggested. He therefore asked what action had been taken by the council authorities looking to the discontinuance of the nuisance. —Referred to the Board of Works.

From the town solicitor enclosing voucher for a cheque for $75 handed Mrs. C. I. Davidson, and also deed from Mrs. Davidson to the town of the east 12 feet of lots 100 and 101, south of James street.—Received.

From A. Eyer regarding the sidewalk off Barnardo avenue.—Granted.

From D. W. Dumble regarding the George street extension stating that as no action had been taken with regard to his property south of Romaine street, which he had offered to the town, the offer was now withdrawn.—Received.

From the secretary of the Ontario Municipal Association informing the council of the date of the annual meeting of the Association.—Received.

From the town solicitor, returning Mr. Kelly's letter in reference to his lot south of Sherbrooke street. —Received.

From Dumble and Johnston, informing the council that they opposed the construction of the sidewalk outside the tree line on Dickson street, and forbidding the construction as proposed in front of the property of their client, Mrs. Rebecca Hartley.—Received.

From the Peterborough Light and Power Company, with reference to lights for which they were docked last quarter, which they claimed were out by reason of an accident, and as such they should not be docked by the city. It was reported that on June 6th 53 lamps were out at 1 a.m., and on April 27, 22 out at 3 p.m., for which they thought they should not be docked, and asked that a cheque be forwarded them for the amount docked.—Referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From the city solicitor requesting a description of the property on which Downham's creamery is to be erected, and the conditions of the fixed assessment, in order that they might be placed in the bylaw. — Referred to the Manufacturers Committee.

From F. G. Garbutt, Toronto, applying for a position as auditor. —Received.

From the ratepayers affected, that better fire protection be afforded them, and that a hydrant be placed at the corner of Cedar and Cambridge streets. — Referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

Petitions for Local Improvements.

Petitions requesting the construction of granolithic sidewalks in the following situations, were received, and referred to the Board of Works:

Simcoe street from Reid to Rubidge street.

A petition was received from property owners on Water street, requesting the construction of a sewer on Water street between Smith and Hilliard streets.

Reports.

Reports from the following committees, as have heretofore been published in the Examiner, were received and adopted—Board of Works, Finance Committee, Committee of the Whole Council.

The Legal Committee reported as follows:—

Your Legal Committee beg leave to report with reference to the claim made through Messrs. Dumble & Johnston on behalf of the mother of Margaret L. Losey, who was drowned at the Dickson dam bridge, for damages, that the City was not responsible for the accident and recommend that no action be taken.

The report was adopted as read.

Bylaws and Motions.

The following bylaws were introduced and dealt with as signified:—

Bylaw No. 1,173, confirming the report of the Board of Works, authorizing the construction of granolithic sidewalks.—Carried.

Bylaw No. 1,174, confirming the report of the Board of Works, authorizing the construction of sewers. —Carried.

Bylaw No. 1,175 to appoint John Carnegie as an arbitrator on behalf of the City of Peterborough to act in conjunction with the arbitrator on behalf of the County.—Carried.

Resolutions.

Ald. Hall gave notice of motion that the Solicitor be instructed to prepare a bylaw to have the members of the Council elected under the ward system.

Moved by Ald. Hicks that pursuant to the provisions of 4, Edward VII, Chap. 23, this Council hereby resolves and declares that it is expedient that the Board of Public School Trustees and the Board of High School Trustees or Board of Education for the City of Peterborough should be amalgamated and that a Board of Education be elected in lieu thereof to be styled the Board of Education for the City of Peterborough and for general business.—Referred to Committee of the Whole Council.

Moved by Ald. Adams, seconded by Ald. Scott, that in the event of the tenderers for sewer construction not furnishing the names of their sureties and refusing to sign contracts, that the Board of Works be authorized to re-advertise for tenders for the portions not contracted for, and that they be given power to act in the matter.—Carried.

Bylaw regarding the removal of boxes from the pavements was referred to the Committee at the Whole.

Moved by Ald. Johnston, that Mr. Hartley be allowed to connect his residence with the sewer in the lane in the rear of his property on Water street on condition that he signs an agreement to connect with the sewer on Water street when one is constructed.—Carried.

VEGETABLE GROWERS HAVE GRIEVANCE

Committee of Association Will Give Evidence Before Tariff Committee.

The officers of the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association have instructed the secretary to make arrangements for a committee representing the vegetable growers of the Province to appear before the Tariff Commission when it meets in Toronto, to give evidence on behalf of the vegetable growers. Every year great quantities of vegetables are shipped to the leading cities in Canada from the United States, and often sold at prices below the cost of production at the centres where they are disposed of. The United States tariff prevents Canadian growers shipping their vegetables to the leading cities in the United States when those markets are favourable.

The vegetable growers feel that they have a grievance, and that something should be done to improve existing conditions. As there are thousands of vegetable growers in the Province interested in this matter, the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association intends to present as strong a case as possible before the commission. It is probable that a lawyer will be engaged by the growers to present their case. The secretary of the association, Mr. H. B. Cowan, of the Parliament Buildings, Toronto, will be pleased to hear from vegetable growers in any part of the Province who would like to furnish the committee with information that should be laid before the commission.

AWARDED TO
DIAMOND DYES
By Five Continents and the Isles of the Sea.

Diamond Dyes, the only honest and perfect package dyes now before the women of the world for the successful home colouring, have been awarded the banner of honour and victory by five continents and the isles of the sea, for purity, strength, brilliancy, beauty of colours, and never-fading qualities.

Diamond Dyes with a record of twenty-five years of marvellous and delightful work in the homes of the world, have been imitated. The result is, that many of our women and girls have frequently been deceived by having worthless package dyes forced on them, which have proved disastrous to good materials and valuable garments.

When buying package dyes, the exercise of a little care will save our women much trouble and annoyance. Ask for Diamond Dyes, and see that the words "Diamond Package Dyes" appear on each envelope you are offered. Send to Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, Montreal, P. Q., for valuable book on home dyeing, and card of 48 dyed cloth samples. Sent free to any address.

LIQUOR WAS DRUNK AFTER HOURS

And a Hotel Keeper Was Fined $35.00 and Costs.

There was little or nothing of interest in this morning's police court proceedings. J. Cuerin, proprietor of the Little Windsor Hotel, was charged with allowing liquor to be drunk in his house after hours last Tuesday night. As the defendant had pleaded guilty he did not appear in court, and a fine of $25, with $6.50 costs, was levied.

TUESDAY, SEPT. 12, 1905.

A JUSTIFIABLE IMPOST.

During the month of August the Provincial Treasury was enriched to the extent of $22,740.13 by succession duties, and increase over August, 1904, of $12,606.65. For the eight months ending August 31 the receipts were $394,195.52, an increase over the corresponding period of last year of $119,914.48. The total amount received in 1904 was $460,863. It is apparent that Hon. Mr. Matheson's estimate, made in his budget speech, of $450,000 for the present year will be exceeded, even if the average up to August should not be maintained to the end.

The Examiner has repeatedly pointed out that the succession duty is not only defensible on principle, but for its promise of revenue. It has always been difficult and even impossible to understand why the Conservative Opposition were antagonistic to the Succession Duties Act, an adoption of good sound British principle. Mr. Matheson, Provincial Treasurer, made a violent, if not vicious attempt, failing to accomplish the abolition of the dues, to cut them in half. He was then talking as an irresponsible mere head, anxious to make a fault if he could not find it. Now that he has the responsibility of office and is charged with the duty of providing revenue for his colleagues to spend, he will feel how very foolish he was when he proposed to cut off half of the nearly half a million revenue the Province will receive from succession duties this year. Liberal Government was responsible for the inauguration of these duties, and Liberal Government has been responsible for providing the conditions making for the growth in wealth of our citizens, which largely accounts for the increased total of those duties. And they will be growing larger every year, for as population and wealth increase, the sums liable to paying toll for the protection of their accumulation, will increase both in number and proportions.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

There are a hundred million bushels of reasons for the prosperity of the Canadian Northwest.

How can Mr. Haultain expect to be called upon to form a government for a new province in the Northwest, when he is specifically pledged to smash the legislation creating it?

The drubbing Russia has received at the hands of Japan has converted her dreams of an Eastern Empire into a very uncomfortable sort of nightmare. The influence of this, assisted by the Anglo-Japanese alliance will tend to keep the Bear upon this good behaviour for some time to come.

According to the Medicine Hat News, the corporation of that town is making $25,000 a year out of natural gas, at 17 1-2 cents in winter, and 27 1-2 cents per thousand feet in summer. Just think of it! Gas at 17 1-2 cents, as compared with nearly eight times that price — $1.25 per thousand — in Peterborough. We may pity the West in the matter of wood fuel, but with gas at 17 1-2 we could heat our houses more cheaply than is done now.

A traveller, says the Chicago Canadian-American, reports that the American farmers in Western Canada are becoming ardent Canadians in their political sympathies. We suppose, says that journal, that some of our uninstructed friends here, who believe that there is nothing any good outside of this great union, can hardly conceive the possibility of this, but to those who understand the excellence of Canadian law and administration, it is no surprise at all.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's tariff preference for British goods, seems to help the manufacturers. A manufacturer of metallic ceilings, doing business in Winnipeg, does not want the tariff raised. He feels that he can hold the market, even with the duty on the finished product lowered from 25 to 15 per cent, for under the preference this establishment gets its raw material — from Wales —at 3 2-3 per cent. duty.

"Straining at a gnat and swallowing a saw-mill," is a popular variant of a Scriptural metaphor. The Conservative Government of Ontario seems to be able anyway to swallow a sawlog—at least, a sawlog policy. We see advertisements issued by the Government for the sale of Crown timber by tender. This the Conservatives have inveighed against time after time, insisting always on widely advertised sale by auction. This is another instance in which the Government cannot only swallow a sawlog and sawlog policy, but even swallow itself.

PROGRESS UNDER LIBERAL RULE

Past and Present Prospects Under Laurier Administration.

The Great Difference Between 1894 and 1905.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier could scarcely have chosen a more striking theme for his discourse at Edmonton than the contrast between 1894 and 1905 which the west presents. In the former year Sir Wilfrid made his memorable tour through the western communities. We know what he found there. That very region which he traversed the other day between Calgary and Edmonton was a wilderness from which even the more hopeful and resourceful settlers were fleeing discouraged. The country had been open for settlement for a quarter century. As the Premier said, "The sun shone, the rain fell, the soil responded generously to the efforts of the settler," but some blight clouded all the prospects. It was in a worse position than if it had never had a settler in it. It had been tried by men not easily daunted, and they had given it up.

In that eleven years what a change! The wilderness is being repeopled. The railway which operated three passenger trains a week with difficulty now has a daily service of cars crowded to their capacity. Along the line are bursting little towns, some of them arising in brick and stone, and feeling dignified enough to be rivals of Edmonton and Calgary for the Provincial capital. And this is only a type of what prevails everywhere throughout the west. As the Premier reminded his hearers, even Winnipeg eleven ago was hesitating and doubtful. Regina and Calgary were stagnant and despondent, and they were almost the only places worth mentioning. Now they are palpitating with life, and they have a number of ambitious competitors whose future no man would be bold enough to limit. Brandon, Medicine Hat, Red Deer, Moosejaw, Saskatoon, Prince Albert, Slave Lake, Fort Saskatchewan, MacLeod, Lethbridge, Cardston, Magrath — who can say what these places may become? Who can be sure that Athabasca Landing will not be the near future one of the considerable towns of the north? Some of the places mentioned are already assured of great future growth and pre-eminence. The grand thing is that they are all sure of it, if local pride has any dynamic force. And that is the difference between 1894 and 1905. In the one period hope had almost died—now it beams from every eye.

What has caused the revolution? Sir Wilfrid Laurier modestly refrained from claiming any credit. But there is no immodesty in claiming for the Liberal leader the canny thought which he bore away from that visit of 1894, namely, that the future of Canada depended on the successful solution of the western problem. Thinking thus, he was convinced that the imperative duty of any Government worthy of the name was to make it possible for the settler to make both ends meet. No use in bringing in settlers if they could not do that. And contemporaneously with the easier conditions for settlers larger measures and greater energy must be employed to induce them to come in. The first was partially achieved by lower freight rates both out and in. In 1894 it cost seventeen cents to transport what is now transported for from ten to twelve cents. This of itself in thousands of cases would be the difference between success and failure. The lowered tariff, too, had its effect. In the first year or two of settlement a very little matter may decide the balance, and the wise administrator of this country will always keep that first and second year settler in his eye, for on his success the whole prosperity of the Dominion depends. The wise manufacturer knows this. He knows that it is better to have moderate prices and plentiful customers than higher prices and few customers. The West itself sparks with no uncertain sound of the success that has crowned this Liberal policy, and the Liberal Premier may gather with natural satisfaction that he has lived to see the wondrous change that has come over it since he looked at it as leader of the Opposition eleven years ago, and that he has had no small share in bringing to-day's stir out of the old-time stagnation.—Globe.

"Off Days in a Busy Life;" Rev. Dr. Thomas' Lecture.

Eloquent Discourse by The Eminent Toronto Divine, Listened to With Undivided Interest by Large Audience--Rev. E. A. Langfeldt Occupied The Chair--Ministerial Association Well Represented on Platform.

Last evening at the Park street Baptist church the Rev. Dr. Thomas delivered his famous lecture, "Off Days in a Busy Life," and for two full hours the lecturer held the attention and aroused the enthusiasm of a large and representative audience. On the platform, the Ministerial Association was well represented. Rev. F. J. Scott, of Murray street; Rev. Mr. McKinnon, of Gilmour Memorial; Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, of St. Luke's; the pastor, Rev. A. H. Brace.

On motion of Rev. Mr. Brace, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt took the chair, but he was exceptionally anxious to hear Dr. Thomas, and after a few brief complimentary remarks, he called on Dr. Thomas for the lecture.

As a pastor of a large city church, Dr. Thomas always considered it the part of wisdom in the interests of the people under his charge to take a good long vacation at least once a year, and as the doctor had taken many such vacations he was enabled to relate a number of humorous and exciting personal adventures, too numerous to mention in the limited space of these columns.

He said nothing had charmed him more when the tension has been relaxed and he was given the opportunity to follow his own sweet will, than to go out into the secluded spots and count intimacy with nature, encourage her caresses, and allow her to shed her beaming smiles upon him. Fishing is the acme of holiday occupation. The man who has not felt the electric thrill that passes up from the depths of a dark pool into the hand and through every fibre of the body when a three or four-pounder has taken hold of the angled hook, has not yet experienced the supreme delight of an "off day in a busy life." The preacher is a fisherman, and if he is not content to swim the streams of life like an enraged Hercules, with the only sure result of causing all the fish to decamp, or play hide and seek beneath the surface, he should not be above learning lessons from the disciples of Izaak Walton.

"Three weeks on the Nepigon River will ever remain in my memory as one of the most variable and eventful of all my vacation experiences, and the personnel of my associates contributed not a little to its poignancy, as they were all men of mark and one and all occupied a leading position in law, literature, the mercantile domain, or the gospel ministry."

The doctor then, at some length, gave a graphic description of all his trials and troubles in the north country, how he came to camp each evening covered with mud, soaked with water, and the clothes almost torn from his back, until finally he was almost reduced to Nature's garb. His companions were always jocular, and their clothes were in good condition, and this state of affairs made his misfortunes seem all the heavier to bear.

"A few years ago a trip across this continent was made possible, and it was a pleasure that I had long anticipated. My friend called at several places by the way to give variety to what we witnessed as we moved along, and we took unusual interest in some of the great farms which have been reseued from the primeval wilderness. We would have liked to linger here longer, but as we were seeking recreation in the mountains, we pressed forward. Many thoughts, both profitable and inspiring, came to me as I dwelt in fellowship with those majestic elevations, the Rocky Mountains. How few there are of all the mighty throng who find a sure footing on the topmost ledges, and how many climb the giddy heights to fall discouraged and bleeding on the crags below."

Dr. Thomas also spoke on several others of his vacations, especially his cross-Atlantic, the number of which was so great that it eluded him. He said he was a tolerably good sailor, and not given to casting his bread on the water. For some time he kept the audience convulsed by relating strange and humorous stories about the actions and sayings of people afflicted with mal de mer.

For a place to spend an "off day in a busy life" Dr. Thomas preferred a quiet nook in the principality of Wales, where the hospitality of the people is unbounded. This preference of the doctor's may be well placed, but he may be largely influenced by a sense of national patriotism.

At the conclusion of the lecture it was moved by Rev. Mr. Scott, seconded by Mr. W. D. Scott, M.D., that Dr. Thomas be tendered a vote of thanks for his kindness. The vote was made unanimous by the congregation.

Facial Paralysis

Mr. W. J. Brennan, Western Hill, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "My face was all twisted out of shape with facial paralysis, and five doctors failed to cure or even relieve. By the persistent use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I have been entirely cured, and have returned to work strong and well. I have gained in weight, and feel that I have a new lease of life."

Rain Brings Relief.

Timely rains in the Rajputana and other drought stricken districts of India, are relieving to some extent the fears of an acute famine.

The Question of Baldness

This is a vital question with hundreds of men who are bald or partially so. How to overcome the disfigurement lent by baldness is a simple matter when you consider the perfection of modern art in the making of Wigs and Toupees. The visit of Prof. Dorenwend of Toronto, to Peterborough, on Tuesday, September 26, when he will be at the Oriental Hotel renders it possible for anyone who may wish to consult him, to do so at, his private apartments retained at the Oriental Hotel for this purpose. Demonstration given to show the perfect naturalness of his Wigs and Toupees. Do not miss this opportunity. Remember the day and date. 5d

LONG ago we realized that the baking and roasting qualities of the oven of a range are of greatest importance to the range user. We brought our knowledge, guided by years of experience, to bear on this one point. The result was the Imperial Oxford Diffusive Oven Flue. With this exclusive feature, the Imperial Oxford stands to-day the most perfect baking and roasting range on the market.

After getting this most important feature of a range to such a point of perfection we naturally did not neglect any other improvement which could add to the working of the range. These improvements were incorporated in the because they added to the life of the range, simplified its operation or economized fuel.

Of these improvements the draw-out oven rack is one which will instantly appeal to the cook. The handle of this rack is outside the range—always cool enough to hold with the bare hand. By pulling this handle forward anything roasting in the oven may be drawn out onto the oven shelf to be basted, without touching the hot pan or reaching into the oven. The same applies to the testing of bread, cake or pies.

We would like you to see the Imperial Oxford Range. If your dealer doesn't handle it, write us for illustrated literature and the address of the nearest dealer who does. 15

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

The following effusion is given in poetic naturalibus, just as it came seething from the furnace of genius. This is the same that was declined a few days ago, but like the judge in Scripture, with the importunate widow, "because this sent troubleth me" we will avenge him or her, and publish the poetical post card as below:—

To Editor of Post Card Column:

I notice some of our citizens,
Oh, my, they are smart,
They think they can annoy people,
Just with a fart.

And wherever they move,
Be a certain position,
They're sure to show,
Their good disposition.

It's surprising, how clever,
Some people can act,
And then get caught,
In their own trap.

And when they are caught,
Oh, they feel very sore,
And resolve they will not Act the fool anymore.

DISPOSITION,
Peterborough, September 11th.

To Editor of Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—Why don't the police inforce the town by-laws? Loafing on the streets has become ridiculous, especially when accompanied with foul and profane language. Last night a lady friend of mine walking up George street was followed by two young men perfect strangers, who kept saying, "Good evening, is that you?" and when she turned the corner of Brock street, one of the blackguards said in a loud voice, "I hell, that ain't her", and not a policeman in sight. One can find knots of loafers and hear lots of bad language—evidently intended for ladies to hear. If the police were half awake they would make an example of some of these nuisances and then others would be deterred. If the police were as much bent on doing their duty as in getting their holidays then—

Yours sincerely,
PEDESTRIENNE.

To Editor of Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—Last week I took occasion to refer to the loafing around the street corners East City, especially at the corner of Hunter street and Driscoll Terrace. The effect of that little letter has been very good, because the loafing around that place has ceased. Unfortunately the "loafing youths" have transferred their place of operation to other corners. I would again call the attention of the City Fathers and of the Police to this nuisance and urge them to give us better police protection. The conduct of these fellows at the street corners at night is detestable and indecent.

Yours truly,
"ASHBURNHAM."

Peterborough Team May Lose The Championship

Story From Bowmanville to The Effect that Midland League May Discipline Peterborough Team For Failure to Pay Entrance Fee—President Pethick States That He Has Repeatedly Asked The Manager For It—Manager MacEwan's Statement.

Special to The Examiner.

Bowmanville, Sept. 11.—A movement, which, if successful, will oust the Peterborough baseball team from its position of prospective champions of the Midland League, has been much discussed. By the defeat of the Bowmanville team on Saturday, when Cobourg took the leaders into camp by the decisive score of 5-1, the winners were placed on a tie with Peterborough for the championship. But Peterborough will not get the pennant unless the scheme concocted to deprive them of the honour is defeated.

That trouble started over the organization of the Peterborough team for the deposit money put up by Oshawa for the disputed game. Port Hope also has designs on that $25, and has put in action for it, at the same time protesting the game won from them by Peterborough on September 2, on the ground that at that time the Peterborough team was not in good standing in the league through failure to pay the entrance fee of $5, which the constitution of the league calls for, and which should have been paid before May 24.

According to the statement of President Pethick, this fee has never been paid by Peterborough, and it appears that the failure to pay it is likely to cost the team the right to play for the championship. The president has forbidden the manager of the Cobourg team to arrange any final games with Peterborough until after Wednesday night, when a meeting will be held there to decide whether Peterborough shall be allowed to continue in the league or not. The president states that he has repeatedly telephoned to manager MacEwan in reference to the payment of this fee, and that last week the latter informed him that it had been paid, but secretary Lockington says otherwise, and it now looks as if there will be trouble.

It is stated that the representative of the Peterborough Club on the Executive has always been strict in advocating that other teams live up to the rules, and the feeling among some of the members now is that the same policy should be adopted in reference to the Peterborough team.

The feeling is freely expressed here that it is not fair to the other teams in the league, who have paid their entrance fees before the date set by the Executive, that Peterborough should be allowed this latitude, especially when there have been so many warnings given.

At any rate, the matter will be decided at the meeting on Wednesday night, which promises to be a warm one.

With reference to the above despatch, Manager MacEwan was seen this morning, and states that the club's entrance fee of $5 was paid three weeks ago direct to Harry McGuire, Treasurer of the league, Mr. oWm. Rudkins crying him the cash personally while in Cobourg. The money did not thus pass through Secretary Lockington's hands, as is the usual course, and this may be the reason why he is not aware of the payment of Peterborough's fee. At any rate, the local management are not worrying themselves over the matter, and Cobourg is arranging with them to play home and home games for the championship.

Reg. Bloomfield Shatters Records At Toronto

Ridpath and Bloomfield Won the Tandem Championship—Latter Was First in Every Event.

The annual fall regatta of the Toronto Canoe Club was held on Saturday, before a large crowd. The race of the day was the international double-blade, in which there were only two entries, "Reg" Bloomfield, the champion paddler of the Orrie Club, and formerly of Lakefield, and H. C. Minnett of the Toronto Rowing Club. Bloomfield got the better of the start and won by about four lengths. The record of the single-blade fours for the half mile course was broken, the Bloomfield crew taking the canoe over the course in 4.29.

In the Tandem Championship Bloomfield and his partner, Bruce Ridpath, also a former Lakefield boy, carried off the honours. The Kawartha Lakes graduates by fast work in the lead in all the events of the day.

The results were as follows:

International double-blade championship, one mile — 1, Reg Bloomfield, 8.37; 2, C. Minnett, T. R. C., 8.40.

Tandem championship, half mile—D. R. Ridpath and Bloomfield, time, 4.51; 2, Joseph Lewis and Blackburn, time, 4.53; Alex. Elliott and R. McNichol. Herb Kipp and D. Nesmith also started.

Championship single blade fours—1, Bloomfield, stroke, Ridley, Finley, Ridpath, cox, time, 4.29; 2, A. Elliott, stroke, J. Lewis, H. Fullerton, B. Miller, cox. Time, 4.41.

Single-blade championship, half mile — 1, R. Bloomfield, time, 5.48; R. C. Blackburn, time, 5.51.

COBOURG DEFEATS BOWMANVILLE NINE

Will Meet The Locals in Home and Home Games in Finals.

The Bowmanville correspondent of the Mail and Empire furnishes the following account of Saturday's ball game to that journal:

Bowmanville, September 9. — The final game in the Midland League Association was played here this afternoon between Bowmanville and Cobourg, when the latter won, the score being 5 to 1. The pennant thus goes to Cobourg, as Peterborough has been ruled out on account of their not putting up their deposit in time.

Now the management of the locals have heard nothing of their being thrown out of the League, nor have they, as there has been no meeting of the executive to consider such action. Probably Cobourg and the Pirates will play home and home games.

BASEBALL.

Can someone tell us if McWilliams, the veteran manager and short stop of the champion Charlotte Street nine, has had an error placed against him this season. He is a fast and heady player and is always in the game.

• • • •

The All Star Bloomer team from Chicago will play the locals next Monday, Sept. 18. The Pirates have been playing ball with varying success this season, and should pull out a victory from these females.

• • • •

A meeting of the Executive of the Midland League will be held in the Bennett House, Bowmanville, to-morrow night when some very important business will come up.

'Tis Prudent to Prevent Disease

A Little Care and Attention Now May Add Years of Comfort and Happiness to your Life.

Disease does not, as a rule, develop in a few days or a few weeks. When you hear of people becoming victims of Bright's Disease, or dropping dead from Heart Disease, you can depend on it that they have been ailing for months and years.

If you are on your guard against the first symptoms which tell of serious disease you can prevent the painful and fatal results.

When the back aches, when the bowels get constipated, when the liver becomes clogged and inactive, and you suffer from indigestion, you cannot afford to trust to these troubles wearing away.

A few weeks treatment with Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will regulate and invigorate them, and may save you years of suffering.

THE FIRST SOD WAS TURNED

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Begins Second Transcontinental.

HE USED A GOLDEN SHOVEL

Spontaneous and Hearty Welcome to Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier — An Eventful Day in Fort William's History — Canada's Premier Prophesied Great Things For the Town.

Fort William, Sept. 12.—Yesterday will long be remembered by the people of Fort William as the greatest day in the history of the town. Friday morning it became known that Sir Wilfrid

SIR WILFRID LAURIER.

Laurier would stop over here on his way east and turn the first sod of the G. T. P. From that moment Mayor Rutledge and the committee who worked with him, together with President Young of the Board of Trade, have worked incessantly to make the affair a success Favored by Providence with good weather, their efforts were successful in the fullest sense of the word. The town presented a magnificent appearance with its thousands of yards of bunting and British flags.

A Hearty Welcome.

Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier arrived on Saturday evening, and while in town were the guests of Dr. Hamilton. Yesterday afternoon fully 10,000 people were taken to West Fort William, where, within a stone's throw of the spot where the first sod of the C. P. R. was turned, also under a Liberal Government thirty years ago, Sir Wilfrid with a golden shovel turned the first sod of Canada's second transcontinental railway.

LADY LAURIER.

Mayor Rutledge read an address of welcome to the Premier, and was followed by an address from the Board of Trade read by President Young. Speeches were made by Mr. Hamilton, Dr. Smellie, M. P. P., Geo. A. Graham, Joshua Dick and G. A. Knowlton.

The Premier's Speech.

Every appearance of Sir Wilfrid since he arrived in town has been a signal for great cheering, but when he stepped to the front of the open-air platform yesterday afternoon the crowd sent up cheer after cheer.

He thanked his stars, he said, that he had been permitted to take part in this ceremony. He remembered the words of fifty years ago: "All aboard for the west!" He would now say "All aboard for the vaster west! All aboard for the land of the prairie and its vast acres of wheat! All aboard for the Rocky Mountains with its untold minerals!"

He referred to the great country to be opened by this new road, and then spoke of Fort William as the coming Chicago of the north. He had years ago referred to Ottawa as the Washington of the north. He knew that but a few years were left for him now, but hoped to live long enough to see accomplished the great work of making this place the important centre it is destined to be.

He spoke of the present Government's work along the line of reducing wheat rates because of railway building, and intimated that when the Government will have built this railway that they will not fold their arms, but would be alive to the duty of the hour, and another road might be necessary.

Speaking of the new Provinces, he paid a high tribute to the American immigrants as the best class of settlers. He said: "Welcome to all new settlers—welcome to all as fellow citizens—welcome to all citizens of the King."

IMPERIAL LIMITED.

Serious Accident to C. P. R. Train by "Soo" Train — Three Badly Hurt and Many Less So.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—About 6 o'clock yesterday morning the "Soo" train on its way to Montreal ran into the Imperial Limited at Hammond Station, 23 miles from Ottawa Central station. Three railway hands were seriously injured, and several others received cuts and bruises. None of the passengers were seriously hurt. The injured are: John Gaffney, engineer of the Soo train, back injured, fractured ribs, condition serious; D. Cole, colored porter, Detroit, serious internal injuries and left arm fractured; D. H. Cardwell, colored porter, Washington, D. C., fractured skull, condition serious; Mrs. Harriett Keene, Whitman, Mass., face wounds; Mrs. James F. Fagan, San Francisco, slight injuries.

The Imperial Limited, east-bound, is due to pass Ottawa at 4 a. m., and the Soo at 5 a. m., an hour later. The Imperial Limited was running about forty minutes late. When the Limited was within about a mile of Hammond some of the cars got detached. The engineer stopped to pick up the balance of his train, and as he was so doing the Soo train ran into the end of the Limited, smashing the rear sleeper into pieces and ditching the second sleeper. In the rear sleeper was only Cole, the porter. It took over an hour to get him extricated.

The smoking compartment and lavatory of the second sleeper were badly smashed. Cardwell was in the smoking compartment. The passengers, who were injured, were in the second sleeper. They were all in their berths and they dressed in the car as it lay in the ditch. The engineer of the Soo train was well to the Limited before he saw it. It was down grade at this point. The Imperial Limited train hands sent a brakeman back to protect their train with a flag and torpedo, but the question is whether he was far enough back to stop the Soo, in time to prevent the accident.

A rich man died the other day. He died in the very midsummer of life, and he left his family $1,000,000. The doctor's certificate showed that death resulted from typhoid fever. The doctor himself said to a friend: "That man was a suicide. He had a splendid constitution. It could have pulled him through if his stomach had been sound. But he ruined his stomach by hasty meals, snatched in intervals of business and by neglect of symptoms which have been warning him a year past, that his stomach was failing in its duties."

The symptoms of a disordered stomach are, among others, variable appetite, sour risings, heartburn, undue fullness after eating, dull headache, dingy complexion, discolored eye, fluctuations in physical strength, nervousness, sleeplessness despondency. No person will have all these symptoms at once.

The restoration of the stomach to sound health, begins with the first dose of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The cure progresses until the functions of the stomach are in healthy operation. Then the nerves are quiet and strong, the appetite healthful, the sleep restful, the eye bright, the complexion clear.

"Please accept my thanks for the benefit which my child received from your medicine," writes Mrs. W. A. Morgan, of Silica, Ohio. "He had been troubled for nearly a year with liver complaint, indigestion and constipation. I gave him your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' and they did him great good. I gave him the 'Discovery' about eight months, and several vials of the 'Pellets.' He seems to be perfectly well now."

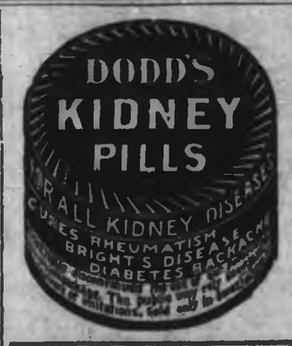
Dr. Pierce's Pellets These ORIGINAL Little Liver pills, first put up by old Dr. R. V. Pierce over 40 years ago, have been sugar-coated ever since, and never equaled. They're made of purely vegetable, concentrated and refined medicinal principles, extracted from native American roots and plants. They gently relieve and cure Sick Headache, Biliousness, Torpid Livers and Bowels and their attendant disorderly ailments. One or two a laxative, three or four a cathartic.



LINDSAY CHEESE SOLD AT 11 CENTS

1685 Boxes Boarded at Yesterday's Meeting.

Patrons Thought Price Too Low—Drop Occasioned by English Fluctuations.

At yesterday's meeting of the Lindsay cheese board, the buyers present were Mr. Fitzgerald, for Hodgson Bros., of Montreal; Mr. H. Clemes, for Flavelles Limited, Lindsay; and Mr. J. Brown, for McLean & Co., Toronto. The following factories boarded the number of cheese placed opposite:

Star	100
Cameron	85
Dunsford	150
Mariposa	90
Cambray	76
Omemee	140
North Verulam	115
North Ops	70
Pine Grove	53
Reabore	138
Bobcaygeon	303
Maple Leaf	110
Palestine	118
Red Rock	160
North Harvey	77
Total	1685

The salesmen had learned that 11 3-16c was paid in Peterborough Friday and they seemed imbued with the idea that they should not accept a lower bid for their cheese.

Mr. Clemes remarked that cheese had sold in London Saturday at 10 7-8c., whereupon Mr. Currins pointed out that Saturday's Globe and the Toronto evening papers gave a much higher figure. "Must have meant the retail figure," ventured Mr. Clemes.

Mr. Fitzgerald offered 10 3-4c., Mr. Clemes raised to 10 13-16c., and Mr. Fitzgerald then jumped to the top figure, 11c. He then called Star, Dunsford, Mariposa, Cambray, North Ops, Maple Leaf, North Harvey, Pine Grove, Cameron, North Verulam, and Omemee, all but the three last named accepting. Taylor Parkin, representing Cambray, would not ship at Lindsay or Cambray — the cheese had to be taken at Cameron or not at all, and as Mr. Fitzgerald wished to ship by the C.P.R. the deal was off. North Verulam factory is only five miles from Bobcaygeon but Mr. Tiers, salesman, said they wanted to ship at Fenelon Falls, and Omemee wanted the bank in that village to have the paying out of the money and refused to receive it through Lindsay. Finally Mr. Fitzgerald called Bobcaygeon, which accepted, and this gave him 926 boxes. The balance of the board was cleaned at the same price by Mr. Flavelle's representative, giving him 759 boxes. The call of the next sale was fixed for Saturday, September 23 — the last day of the Lindsay Central — at ten o'clock. — Lindsay Post.

Wife Forces Assignment.

Montreal, Sept. 12.—A curious case of assignment was registered yesterday. It is the first of the kind on record here.

A merchant assigned on demand of his wife, who claimed $2,000 under her marriage contract. F. X. Deuatie conducted a stationery and tobacco store on St. Catharine street. He became involved to the tune of $9,000, and his creditors wished him to go into voluntary liquidation.

Then his wife put in her $2,000 claim under the marriage contract and demanded his assignment, which followed. His assets amount to about $5,000.

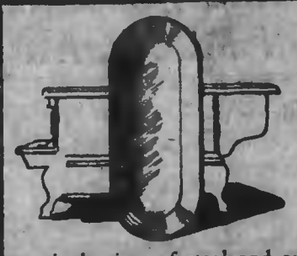
Montreal, Sept. 12.—The Newfoundland Government has completed the laying of a cable from Canso, Nova Scotia, to Port aux Basque, Nfld., connecting with all land lines on the island. This will give the Canadian Pacific Railway Co.'s telegraph a direct connection with all parts of the island.



The Pandora Reservoir

The Pandora is the only range with a reservoir stamped in one single piece of steel and enamelled. It is the only reservoir without seams, rivets or places to catch dirt. It has no sharp angles. All angles are made with rounding curves, and the whole reservoir is beautifully enamelled.

McClary's are the only range makers in Canada with a plant for making enamelled steel reservoirs, and that is why the Pandora is the only range that has a one-piece reservoir.

Early indiscretions, later excesses, exposure to contagious diseases all helped to break down my system. When I commenced to realize my condition I was almost frantic. Doctor after doctor treated me but only gave me relief—not a cure. Hot Springs helped me, but did not cure me. The symptoms always returned. Mercury and Potash drove the poison into my system instead of driving it out. I bless the day your New Method Treatment was recommended to me. I investigated who you were first, and finding you had over 25 years' experience and responsible financially, I gave you my case under a guarantee. OLD THEORIES ARE UPSET IN MOOSEJAW

Belief That This Section Was Not Wheat Producing Proved False—Some Concrete Examples of the Abounding Prosperity of the Canadian West.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Moose Jaw, September 0th. — A few years ago, the best that anyone would say of this town was that it was a good railway town, and the terminus of the "Soo" line of the C.P.R. At that time Moose Jaw made no pretentions to agriculture and few believed that the time would come when it would be the centre of a wheat-growing district, and those who did express that belief were looked upon as over-enthusiastic, though well-meaning optimists.

New Conditions.

Five years ago, when the writer last visited Moose Jaw, the people were beginning to think that after all, perhaps, the time might come when the land in that vicinity might become wheat-producing, but at that time the settlers were few, and be-sional point on the C. P. R., there is the more important fact that it is the centre of one of the finest wheat-growing districts in the world. There are a number of large elevators here, and a casual observer will easily find many evidences of the gins marked almost the western limit of the grain farmers. To-day, however, a transformation has been effected, and instead of the prairie around this prosperous town being unsettled, it is all under cultivation, and between Caron and Pasqua, the stations on either side of Moose Jaw, western truth of the statements volunteered by the enthusiastic citizens, that Moose Jaw is one of the best little cities in the West.

Theories in respect to the land between Moose Jaw and Portal (on the boundary) on the "Soo" Line have also proven to be fallible, for while it was generally considered by many that this section was practically useless, and until a few years ago was almost unsettled, to-day there is hardly an acre of land to be bought in that whole district, and there are hundreds of fine farms being worked, to the entire satisfaction of the happy owners.

From Their Own Lips.

Additional interest is lent the stories of successful western farmers when one runs up against one of these men themselves, and hears from his own lips the story, which from others, would be accepted with some limitations. The writer saw one of the farmers in the Caron district the other day. He was on the train going to Regina to attend the inaugural celebration. His garb would have proclaimed him as a Westerner, if he had walked down George street, Peterborough. He wore the regulation cowboy hat and top boots, and in addition to a white turned down collar he wore a black silk handkerchief around his neck. A month's unshorn beard covered his face. His appearance was a minor consideration—to him—and therefore we may well afford to ignore it. He was quite willing to talk — what Westerner is not? — and told with considerable pride (not personal, but pride in the country) how that seven years ago he had come to the West from Nova Scotia with a few dollars, (very, very few) and a team of horses with a few settler's effects. He had taken up, first a quarter section of land, and later, had increased his holdings until now he owned about 500 acres, all paid for, and this year he had 300 acres of wheat, which would go over 25 bushels to the acre, or 12,500 bushels, which at the ruling price, 60c. per bushel, would net him $10,010, not a bad year's income for a man who started seven years ago with practically nothing.

This man's success is not uncommon. There are hundreds of others who have met with as equal a degree of success, by the application of the only qualification necessary to success in the west, that of industry.

Wheat-cutting here, as in Manitoba is practically completed, and the conditions have been most favourable. The weather has been practically perfect, for harvesting, and the only danger now is from snow and rain, which, while it will not spoil the grain, may lower its quality, by discolouring it.

Threshing operations have been commenced, and for the next two months this will engage the attention of the west.

Harvesting Machinery

The American manufacturers of harvesting and threshing machinery have apparently obtained a strong hold upon the trade of the west and in some places they have almost forced the Canadians out of the field. They early appreciated the extent and value of this trade and have gone after it hard. In the west the "J. I. Case" threshing engine and separator are the most generally used, and the company's trade in the west is so extensive that there is a very strong probability of their establishing a Canadian factory, at Fort William to handle this trade. These machines have been built to meet the conditions of this country, and the result is that they are favourites.

In harvesters the general impression is that while the Deering machine is the smoothest running, the Massey-Harris is the more strongly built, and better able to stand the heavy strain to which binders are subjected in this part of the country. The different companies have large distributing depots in Regina, from which point the trade is supplied.

No Talk of Failure.

The people of the west do not stand in such dread of a failure of the wheat crop, for three or four months in the year, while the wheat is ripening, as they did a few years ago. No one talks of failure now. They are too busy telling about their successes. There are several reasons why the conditions which were conducive to this anxiety do not now exist. The most fruitful cause of failure in the past has been the frost, and it has been found that happily with the opening up of the land, and its cultivation the danger from this source is practically past, and frost no longer has the terrors it once had to the people of the west.

Then the country has been so extensively settled that there is little danger that there will be a general failure, and while there may be sections in which there may be a partial failure of the crop, the other parts of the country, will, in all probability, escape without injury.

Just now it seems pretty hard to conceive of any circumstances or chain of circumstances which can prove a set-back to the prosperity of the west, but everything seems to point to a continuation of the present most satisfactoty condition of progress. M.J.H.

At the conclusion of the programme refreshments were served by the Social Committee and a few words from the pastor, Dr. Crouthers, brought the evening to a close.

Pretty Wedding Was Solemnized Last Evening

Took Place at Residence of Bride's Father—Mr. and Mrs. Dornbush Will Reside in Pittsburg.

An extremely pretty house wedding took place last night at the residence of Mr. Matthew Smith, 15 Walton street, when this eldest daughter, Miss Anna Ida, and Mr. George Albert Dornbush, of Pittsburgh, Pa., celebrated their tenth in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. J. Jolliffe, B.C.L., pastor of the Charlotte street Methodist church, at six o'clock, and took place in the drawing-room, which was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and asters.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a gown of white satin de chine over white taffeta silk, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Stella Smith, sister of the bride, who was beautifully attired in white shirvelled silk, and carried pink roses. The groom was assisted by Mr. E. K. Mahon. Miss Mabel Cleary, organist of the Charlotte street church, played Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

Among many out-of-town guests who were present at the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Dornbush, father and mother of the groom, of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smythe, of Lindsay; Mr. and Mrs. James Leitch, of Millbrook, and Miss Marion and Mr. Trew, of Golden Hill.

The contracting parties were the recipients of a shower of congratulatory drawers and a sparkling array of wedding gifts from their friends, both here and in Pittsburgh, testifying to the esteem in which they are held.

Mr. and Mrs. Dornbush left on the nine o'clock G. T. R. train for a trip to New York City, Rochester, and other American points, before their return to Pittsburgh, where they will take up residence at 409 Lloyd street.

"That Mortgage" Was Burned; Combustion Occurred Last Night

Congregation of the Park Street Baptist Church Witness, With General Rejoicing, The Reduction to Ashes of The Undesirable Indenture—Rev. Dr. Thomas Makes a Short Address—Large Audience Witnessed The Impressive Ceremony—"New Church" is Now the Watchword.

"That mortgage has been burned!" Last night at about 10 o'clock the Park street Baptist church was the scene of a conflagration which, it is believed, did not occasion the slightest regret in any quarter, for the mortgage upon the Park street church has been of late a piece of property upon which even the fire-underwriters have not cast covetous eyes.

The celebration of last night was a fitting culmination of the events of the two preceding days, and it may also be said is a gratifying culmination to the years of patient effort on the part of the congregation to escape from the menacing gibbobes of the gnawing monster — debt. While the blazing mortgage was undoubtedly the climax of the proceedings of last night, a subsidiary feature of great interest was the graphic presentation of the history of the church during its years of trial under anything but the brightest prospects by Deacon Gillespie. A short address was also delivered by Rev. Dr. Thomas, formerly pastor of the Jarvis street Baptist church, Toronto, who, upon the previous evening, lectured in the church.

A large audience was present to witness the reduction to ashes of the undesirable piece of script, and the celebration, if such it may be termed, was in every sense a pleasing one.

History of the Church.

At the conclusion of the opening devotional exercises and hymn, a concise, but highly interesting, history of the church from its early days was presented by Deacon Gillespie, as follows:

During the pastorate of the Rev. F. Clifton Parker, Murray street, in 1888, the Rev. Alexander Grant, Superintendent of Home Missions, spent a few days in down. While

POST-MORTEM EXAMINATION OF THOMAS EDWARD HILL'S BODY

The postmortem examination of the body of Thomas Edward Hill, who was shot and killed at his home in Dummer on the night of August 24, was conducted at Norwood yesterday by Drs. Bradd and Young, Dr. Grear being present in the interests of the defence.

Of course the doctors are unwilling to give out information pronunciatorily, but, but it is learned that the vital organs were found in a healthy condition; that the bullet, which entered the chest — doubtless as the child was leaning forward to look out of the window — entered at an acute angle, and, as if fired from above, passed through the heart, coming out at the back, near the spine, and on a level with the eleventh rib—was the cause of death.

COUNTY COUNCILS WILL BE MUCH REDUCED IN SIZE

The Toronto News says that from 1907 County Councils will consist of the reeves of townships and mayors of the towns, but they will be smaller in number than they were previous to 1897. Since then the direct elective system has been in force. A bill was introduced by the Government to that effect last session, but final consideration was deferred until next session. As some councils might decide to adopt this year the option provided by the late Government, Hon. Nelson Monteith has sent out a circular apprising them of the intentions of the present Government. He says in part: "It is the present intention of the Government to introduce and to pass at the next session of the Legislature a bill providing for the repeal of the present County Councils Act, and to provide that henceforth County Councils shall consist of reeves and certain deputy reeves of townships and the mayor of towns not separated from the county."

FOREIGN MISSIONARY SOCIETY TO MEET IN PETERBOROUGH

The Board of Managers of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, of the Methodist Church of Canada, will meet in the George Street Church, Peterborough, on Tuesday, October 17th. There will be a meeting of the Billeting Committee at the close of the Prayer Meeting on Wednesday evening. All ladies of the congregation who are willing to entertain delegates are asked to send their names to Mrs. A. W. Crossman, secretary of the Billeting Committee.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH DID NOT GET A QUORUM

A meeting of the local Board of Health was announced to take place this morning at 10 o'clock, but only three members showed up at the place of meeting at the appointed time, and the result was that no meeting was held.

The activity of the local Board during the last few weeks is a matter upon which some comment is made. During the months from February to August, no meeting of the board was held, but recently the members have evidently suddenly become impressed with the importance of their office and they are calling meetings every few days.

One gentleman to-day referring to the matter said that the first thing the board knew they would be bringing on an epidemic of scarlet fever or measles.

STREET RAILWAY WILL CONDUCT SKATING RINK

The summer enterprises of the Peterborough Radial Railway Company have proven so satisfactory that the management has decided to establish a skating rink this winter, most probably at Jackson Park, and a toboggan slide will probably be one of the features in addition to the rink. Mr. Lasmonth stated to the Examiner that the experiment of last year at the river, where a rink was operated, was satisfactory, but the condition of the soil there was not conducive to ice-making, and it has been thought that Jackson Park would be more suitable. It has not been definitely decided to make the rink at the park, but it is altogether likely that it will be located there. The company is thoroughly satisfied with the summer operations, and the crowds still continue to patronize the cars to the park. The rink will undoubtedly prove to be a popular undertaking, and there is room to believe that its location at Jackson Park will prove more satisfactory than at the river.

ST. JOHN'S W. A. HAVE FIRST MEETING OF SEASON

St. John's Women's Auxiliary held their first meeting of the season on Monday last, September 11th. There was a good attendance. It was found that the amount realized through the Thank-offering Boxes was $60.00. Arrangements are being made for an afternoon tea, to be held at the residence of Mrs. K. Eardley-Wilmot, 278 Hunter street, on Tuesday, Sept. 19th, to which a cordial invitation is extended.

CRAWFORD'S

"THE FRAMERY" WILL ENLARGE

Mr. H. Dunslow Enters into Manufacturing of Show Cases.

Arrangements Being Made to Secure Factory Site—First Production is Handsome.

Mr. H. Dunslow, proprietor of The Framery, Hunter street, has established the nucleus of what promises to become an important manufacturing industry, and one of which the products will undoubtedly command a ready market.

Mr. Dunslow has decided to extend his framery business to include the manufacture of show cases, and the first production along this line has been placed in Mr. S. Ray's clothing store. It is a handsome six foot case of standard height, the wood-work being of fumed quartered oak. The glass is throughout of British plate, bevelled, the fittings being oxydized copper. It contains three plate glass shelves, and has in this respect many advantages over the ordinary case of similar design, in allowing six inches more of glass space. It is built in the mission style, which is less ornate at the base than other styles.

Mr. Dunslow informed the Examiner that he is at present negotiating for a local factory in which to manufacture cases, as a large number of orders have been received, which, with his present facilities, he is unable to meet. He has already the woodworking machinery, but will install a motor when he secures sufficient space. A second case is also in course of construction.

Mantel Grates and Tile.

The Coughlin Monumental Works have added mantel grates and tiles to their business, and have already filled quite a number of orders. Parties requiring anything in this line for new or old residences are invited to call at our showrooms, 214 Hunter street, where several modern styles of mantels, etc., may be seen. Prices the lowest.

Brock St. Lady's Pilgrimage to Bacchus' Shrine

On Her Return The Mundane Surroundings Were Too Quiet.

Large Crowd Assembled to Witness Incident Last Night—Vaudeville Was Continuous.

Brock street, between George and Water streets, took on for a time yesterday afternoon, a metropolitan appearance, and all kinds of excitement was provided for the crowd of spectators which was attracted there by an incident which was in progress.

A woman residing upon the street and the mother of a family of sixteen children, who had been quaffing too copiously of the flowing bowl, evidently decided that the street was too Port Hopesque in its serenity to suit her tastes and forthwith instituted rough house proceedings with an enthusiasm worthy of Carrie Nation, though her efforts toward the curtailing of the visible supply of intoxicants was of a different nature from those of her contemporary.

It required considerable effort on the part of by-standers and a member of the police force to induce her to abandon her pugilistic tactics and return to peaceful seclusion of the fireside.

After the curtain had been rung down upon the Bacchanalian scene, a balky horse appeared to occupy the centre of the stage for a brief interval. The animal evidently had no desire to create long-distance records, and after refusing to proceed under repeated chastisements, a little judicious management restored its good nature.

FLING CHILDREN TO DOGS

Neither Age Nor Sex Prevails Upon Fanatical Warriors to Stay Their Bloody Work—Thousands of Tartars Have Crossed the Borders From Persia — Social Democrats Shot Down.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 13.—A holy war has been proclaimed in the Caucasian districts of Zangesur and Jebrail, where the Tartars are massacring the Armenians without distinction of sex or age.

The country is swarming with bands of Tartars. Many thousands of Tartar horsemen have crossed the frontier from Persia and joined the insurgents in destroying Armenian villages.

At the village of Minkend three hundred Armenions were slaughtered.

Despatches say that the mutilated children were thrown to the dogs and that the few survivors were forced to embrace Islamian in order to save their lives.

Naphtha firms are cut off from the delivery of oil fuel to the shipping companies, who are now confronted with the necessity for suspending their services and discharging their employes, which would result in leaving thousands with no means of subsistence.

The salt works at Baskunchak have been obliged to close owing to the scarcity of fuel and this will paralyze the fishing industry.

Social Democrats Shot Down.

Tiflis, Caucasia, Sept. 13.—A hundred Social Democrats were killed or wounded yesterday in a conflict with Cossacks at the Town Hall, and many were trampled to death in a subsequent panic.

Two thousand Social Democrats had forced an entrance into the Town Hall. Revolutionary speeches were made and the chief of police ordered the meeting to disperse. Part of those present obeyed, but the remainder refused, and some revolvers were fired.

A large force of Cossacks drawn up outside the building then fired repeated volleys into the crowd, killing thirty and wounding upwards of seventy. In the ensuing panic many persons fell and were trampled to death by their comrades and the pursuing Cossacks.

M. Witte Has Sailed.

New York, Sept. 13.—The Russian commissioners, who successfully concluded a treaty of peace with the envoys of Japan at Portsmouth, started on the return to St. Petersburg yesterday.

The party, headed by Sergius Witte, the chief Russian plenipotentiary, sailed on the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II. at 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Before leaving the city M. Witte and Baron Rosen made a farewell call upon the Japanese diplomats, who expect to leave for home later in the week. Baron Komura was unable to see the Russians because of his illness, but through Minister Takahira he sent them a cordial message of farewell. Mr. Takahira and other members of the Japanese party entertained the Russians for half an hour.

Leave or Be Drowned.

Helsingfors, Sept. 13.—The customs authorities yesterday seized 5,500 rifles in the possession of persons in neighborhood of Jakobstadt, on the Gulf of Bothnia, which were believed to be from an unnamed steamer sunk by her crew Sunday. When the customs officers boarded the steamer they were received by 20 of the crew armed with revolvers. The chief customs officer was permitted to visit the cabin, where, after negotiations, lasting an hour, he was told that he and his fellow officers had the alternative of leaving the ship or being drowned with her.

KINGSTON'S BIG FIRE.

Car Shops Are Gutted and Magnificent Machinery Destroyed.

Kingston, Sept. 13.—The contents of the car works were burned yesterday forenoon, including some magnificent machinery, about to be moved to the K. and P. roundhouse.

Besides these, four box cars, the patterns of the railway, the snow plow and flangers were also totally destroyed, as well as engine No. 1 of the K. and P. Railway. The cartage sleighs of the company were stored in the works and were consumed.

The estimated loss is $50,000, and the insurance $15,000. The C. P. R. formerly carried $22,000 insurance, but a short time ago dropped considerable of it.

Whiskey Was Drunk in Port Arthur

Evidence in the Port Arthur Election Case.

ARGUMENT NOT FINISHED

Aitken's Visits to Sutherland's Boarding House — He Admits Treating and Loaning Money, But Says It Was Not Done With Corrupt Intention—Mr. Hellmuth's Argument Unfinished.

Port Arthur, Ont., Sept. 13.—At the hearing of the Kennedy-Preston election protest which opened Monday afternoon A. E. Aylesworth, K. C. and W. McBrady appeared for Mr. Kennedy, and I. F. Hellmuth, J. E. Elliott, and F. J. Keefer for Mr. Preston. Justices Teetzel and Maclennan presided.

James Thatcher of Gallas gave evidence, saying he got whiskey on election day to vote for Kennedy. Frank Roe testified that he was promised $10 by Liberals to use his influence, and that a dollar was given him for cigars. Alonzo Sutherland, who keeps a boarding-house at Hymer's, stated the Liberals filled the house up with liquor. Sutherland got $2 from Liberals. He also got $30 for rigs. James Sutherland swore he got $10 for rigs.

The greatest stress laid by Mr. Preston on his hundred or more charges against Mr. Kennedy was on the incidents surrounding the visit of Wm Aitkens and Jas. Greer to Hymer on the evening previous to the election. To support this charge of bribery and corruption with whiskey, Mr. Preston produced several witnesses, two of whom swore to having received money. One got $4 for a rig and the other $5 for driving a party of voters to Hymer's Crossing. Another, Capt. Rowe, was to get $10 from Greer for influence, but he had never received this. Witness admitted that he had been asked by Coulson and Mulcahey, Preston detectives, to give this evidence at the trial. Another was to receive $50 on a contract. Settlement had been made, but he had not got the money nor had he said anything to Greer about it.

Sutherland, a boarding-house keeper, swore to Aitkens bringing a dozen bottles of whiskey to his house and three of four dozen being drunk. He didn't know where the extra bottles came from, but he had nothing. Though he received a cheque from Greer for $52 for accommodation, this witness admitted that beds in his house were let for 25 cents, and Aitkens and Greer stopped only one night.

Aitkens denied having such a quantity of liquor. He went out on his own business and had in all five bottles. One was emptied. They got to Hymen's and they carried away three in the morning, one bottle only being drunk at the place. He had not said a word to a man at Hymer's about voting for Kennedy. A witness named Roe had sworn to having a dollar put in his hand to buy cigars. Aitkens said Roe had asked him for the loan of a dollar, and he had lent it to him, but has not yet received it back. He contradicted Sutherland's evidence that he had used his (Sutherland's) rig. Had never spoken to him about a rig. He had paid Sutherland for whiskey and cigars. It was his custom to treat when it was possible to do so, and he always took liquor when he went into the country. Aitkens admitted that he might have paid Saunders $5, but was in no condition to remember it. The crowd at Sutherland's was pretty jolly when he arrived. There were about twenty. He made no distinction among them in his treating. He did not know their politics. He lent McCool ten dollars and got it back. Had paid out other moneys for a carload of wood he bought.

Mr. Kennedy, respondent, in the box said he had not engaged Aitkens to work for him, nor had he asked him to work. He had left some agency appointments signed in blank, and the appointments were made by the local associations. He had only given general instructions, which were that nothing illegal should be done on his behalf.

Blake Sutherland, son of the boarding-house keeper, corroborated his father as to receiving two valises from Aitkens. He had also received four dollars for a rig. Nothing was said what the rig was for. Drinking was free in the house, though he did not know where the whiskey came from.

Daniel McColl, a farmer, saw the drinking and got four dollars. He drove voters, though he was not paid to do so. John Hatfield, also a farmer, got drunk and crawled into a cutter.

Deep mystery surrounded the source of the whiskey, upon which he could shed no light. Greer asked him how he was voting; upon answering for Kennedy, Greer instructed him to come down in the morning and he'd fix it. Witness did not accept the invitation. He was not feeling well, after the night before. This witness stayed sober until after the meeting, when all hands who wanted to joined in the jollification—voters and non-voters.

Daniel McColl while in the box said he divided his evening between Sutherland's and the hall, and between the eloquence and liquor he was away up. "You bet I had something to drink," said the witness, "so much that I didn't feel good the next morning." This witness said he got $10 from Aitkens on a transaction. He bought a bottle of liquor from Sutherland and got pretty well shot. He told the men that he was not going away till he got his price.

Mr. Hellmuth, in summing up, contended that the charges had been sustained. He had not finished his argument when the court adjourned.

ROBBERS BEAT HIM.

Montreal Merchant Locked in His Refrigerator and His Money Stolen.

Montreal, Sept. 13.—Thieves entered the office of James Hamilton a produce merchant on St. Paul street, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Hamilton was alone at the time, and the thieves, after knocking him into insensibility, locked him up in his refrigerator and made off with $75 which they found in the office. Mr. Hamilton, who was badly injured, regained consciousness several hours afterwards, and succeeded in getting out his imprisonment.

THE CHANGE OF LIFE

INTELLIGENT WOMEN PREPARE

Dangers and Pain of This Critical Period Avoided by the Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women realize that the most critical period in a woman's existence is the change of life, and that the anxiety felt by women as this time draws near is not without reason?

If her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy or congestion of any organ, it is at this time likely to become active and, with a host of nervous irritations, make life a burden.

At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to begin their destructive work. Such warning symptoms as a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, dizziness, headache, dread of impending evil, sounds in the ears, timidity, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period of life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the world's greatest remedy for women at this trying period, and may be relied upon to overcome all distressing symptoms and carry them safely through to a healthy and happy old age.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound invigorates and strengthens the female organism, and builds up the weakened nervous system as no other medicine can.

Madame Louis Belleau, of 17 Ramsay St., Quebec, Que., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound assisted me to pass the change of life with but very little sickness and pain, and I am pleased to give it my endorsement, for I feel that it is the medicine which every woman should take. I am the mother of three children, and when I reached the age of fifty naturally my health was none too good, and I feel sure that if I had not taken your Vegetable Compound I should not have passed the climax safely. I took it off and on for two years and now find that I am in splendid health and strength and feel younger and better than I did ten years ago. Much praise to your medicine, and may all suffering women learn of its value."

For special advice regarding this important period women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

SCIENCE SCORES AGAIN.

A Preparation That Will Destroy the Dandruff Germ Discovered.

Finally the scientific student has discovered a certain remedy for dandruff. When it first became known that dandruff is the result of a germ or parasite that digs into the scalp and saps the vitality of hair at the root, causing falling hair and baldness, biologists set to work to discover some preparation that will kill the germ. After a year's labour in one laboratory, the dandruff germ destroyer was discovered; and it is now embodied in Newbro's Herpicide. It prevents baldness, stops falling hair and speedily eradicates dandruff. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit Mich. Ormond & Walsh, Special Agents.

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women

Make Healthy Women.

Whether you believe it or not, this incontrovertible fact remains. These tablets will change weak and diseased organs into strong, healthy organs; fast with some, more slowly with others, but sure and absolutely certain with all who persist in their use, except the few beyond the help of medicine.

Disease, even chronic, will then disappear as these organs are restored to their normal conditions.

These tablets are now recognized beyond doubt or question as best adapted to the special needs of women.

THAT MORTGAGE WAS BURNED.

visiting in this part of the town he at once saw a good opening for mission work, and said to our pastor, why not open a mission school here? Immediately steps were taken to do so, and on the second Sunday in August, 1888, a Sunday school was organized in the building now occupied as a dwelling on Dalhousie street, between Stewart and Rubidge streets, with the following officers: Mr. R. J. Kidd, Superintendent; Mr. W. E. Mann, Secretary-Treasurer; Mr. Stock, Miss Maggie Mann, Mr. E. A. Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. Cuoco, Miss Fitzgerald, Miss Grissie Mann, and Misses teachers. The attendance first Sunday was 20.

Many were the prayers, and hopes, and fears of those who had the interests of this school at heart during its infancy.

During the summer and fall of 1889 Sunday evening services were carried on by the brethren from the church and others.

In November, 1890, the Rev. P. C. Parker resigned the pastorate of Murray street church, and in March, 1891, the Rev. J. H. Trotter assumed charge of the church.

Just at this time comes in something very interesting and important to our school. Just about a week after the organization of our school, a legacy of $500 was bequeathed to this school (along with other schools of the town) under the will of the late Charlotte Jane Nicholls. Three years after the will was made and one year after the death of Mrs. Nicholls we came into possession of our legacy. It was doubtful for a time whether we could claim this legacy as the ground that we had not been organized as a school before the will was made. Consequently, an affidavit was made that we were organized on the 28th August, 1888, and the mold was made on the 28th August, 1888.

A committee was appointed to look for a building lot, and this one was chosen and $170 paid for it.

During the summer of 1892 the building was erected, and on Sunday, October 2, 1892, was opened and dedicated for Sunday school and preaching services, the Rev. Mr. Trotter preaching in the morning. The Rev. John Craig gave an address in the afternoon and preached in the evening.

During the summer of 1893 we had the faithful and earnest labours of Mr. Reeves, a student from McMaster University. During the summer a number of scholars received Jesus as their Saviour and united with the church. After Mr. Reeves left, the meeting service was dropped, and all our strength put into the evening service. Average attendance 54; prayer meeting, 23.

In May, 1894, Mr. W. J. Pady came to us, and immediately the work took on new life. The morning service was resumed. The evening service during the summer reached 164.

During the month of September the meeting congregation reached 96, and the evening 157. In Bro. Pady we found an earnest, consecrated and wise leader. He failed not to hold up Christ as the only Saviour for sinners and the only Master for the Christian. During the year 22 were baptized. This now brings me to about the time when a special meeting was called to discuss the advisability of organizing the Park street mission into a separate church. The result of that meeting was the motion that I shall read to you. Moved by Miss Maggie Mann, seconded by Miss Hunt, that that relying on God's help in this undertaking, we, members of Murray street church, residing in the South Ward, believing that the time has now come when it would be for the glory of God and the spread of those truths which we as Baptists hold dear, be organized into a separate organization, and, in accordance with this belief, we hereby decide to ask the Murray street church for letters of dismission to effect such organization.

A copy of the resolution was handed to Mr. Trotter and brought before the church at their quarterly business meeting, held May 8th, 1895, with the following result:—

This certifies that the brethren and sisters whose names are herein stated are members in good standing with the Murray street regular Baptist Church, Peterborough, and in compliance with their united requests are affectionately dismissed to organize the Park street regular Baptist Church with the unanimous consent of the church and earnest prayers and hearty God speed in the accomplishment of a most powerful and eminently successful work for the Master.

Then follow 34 names only 14 with us.

On May 10th a meeting was called to organize and elect officers.

The following officers were elected:
Deacons—Mr. A. E. Grover, Mr. T. G. Gillespie, Mr. F. E. Hunt.
Clerk—Miss M. E. Magee.
Trustees—Mr. Hunt, Mr. Gillespie, Mr. Barrie, Park street; Dr. Scott and Mr. B. Matthews, Murray street; Mr. Pady, pastor.

Two articles were passed about this time to which I wish particularly to refer, and which have since been faithfully adhered to by the congregation. These were as follows:—

Art. 3.—This church agrees that no plan for raising the money for the carrying on of its work, other than the ordinary gifts of its members and friends shall be permitted.

Art. 4.—Believing in the Baptist principle of the absolute separation of church and state this church hereby decides to refuse any state aid in the shape of exemption from taxation.

During the summer of 1896 we enlarged the building to its present dimensions, borrowing for that purpose $400.00 from the Church Edifice Society and was re-opened Sept. 15th, 1897, Prof. Farmer occupying the pulpit.

During the winter months we held special services, conducted by Rev. J. B. Moore, when a number of the Sunday School scholars and others received Jesus as their Saviour, were baptized and added to the church.

months. Immediately on leaving the field in the fall to resume his studies in McMaster, the Rev. F. Lapsett was invited to the pastorate which he accepted and remained with us until Feb. 18th, 1897, when he tendered his resignation, which was accepted, and on March 14th, 1897, a unanimous call was extended to C. C. Elliott to become our pastor, which was accepted.

The annual meeting of the church was held May 12th, 1897, when the following reports were presented:—

Received by Baptism, 5; by letter 5; by experience, 1. Total 14. Dismissed by letter, 3; by exclusion, 2. Total 5. Increase 9. Present enrolment, 73.

Borrowed from bank during year, $60.00.

During the summer and fall of 1897 Pastor Elliott conducted prayer meeting one evening each week at Riverdale, which was very much enjoyed by the people in that neighbourhood. Prayer meeting was also conducted in Ashburnham during the summer of 1897, but a request was sent in from Mr. Dykeman, pastor of Murray street, that we withdraw from mission work in that place.

It was during the fall of this year that we borrowed from the Yelland Estate the sum of three hundred and seventy five dollars ($375) in order that we might pay to the trustees of Murray street the amount due them by us, and for which we gave the mortgage, that we are so soon to see go up in smoke.

The annual meeting was held May 12, 1898, and the result of the year's work was as follows:

In the spring of 1898 Mr. Cornish a McMaster student, was invited to come and work in connection with our mission at Indian River. He accepted the invitation and laboured in that neighbourhood all summer in conjunction with our pastor, Rev. C. C. Elliott. The outcome of the season's work was the erection of a suitable building to worship in, a contract being signed by the trustees of Park street church for this purpose. Building cost $747; dimension, 45x28. Mr. Andrew Shearer, a resident farmer, generously gave the lot, 60x160, upon which the building stands. It was formally dedicated on New Year's Day, 1899, Rev. Dr. Welton, of McMaster University, conducting the services.

From reports of annual meeting the result of the year's work was a net increase of 15; ending April 30, 1899.

Rev. O. C. Elliott resigned as pastor of Park street church May 8, 1901, after four years' faithful service in this part of the Master's vineyard, as a result of which many were led to see themselves sinners in God's sight and accept of Jesus, and His own people were brought to feel the need of a closer walk with God.

At the annual meeting held on May 9th, 1901, it was decided to invite Mr. J. H. Hannah, B.A., to take charge of the work here. Mr. Hannah accepted the invitation. Mr. Hannah was ordained September 17th, 1901, in the Park street Baptist church, and set apart for the work of the Gospel ministry.

Our present pastor took charge of the work here on the first Sunday in June, 1903, and we have reason to thank God that he was led to this place.

At the conclusion of this interesting story of the church, Mr. Gillespie referred briefly to the excellence of the work which has been accomplished by Rev. Mr. Brace since he took charge of the ministerial duties, which, in addition to the great financial success achieved, included the addition to the membership roll of the church of over one hundred names.

The Mortgage is Consumed.

Rev. A. H. Brace then spoke briefly. The congregation had come, he said, to a moment looked forward to for ten long years. Year after year they had been forced to borrow to meet their indebtedness. The mortgage was now paid off, and the paying of interest would cease.

Then followed the event of the evening — the consignment of the indenture to the flames. The ceremony was of a most impressive character, and was witnessed with undivided interest by all present. Rev. Mr. Brace, and Rev. Dr. Thomas, surrounded by Deacons Gillespie, Kemp and Barrie, occupied the platform, and as the matches were applied to the paper, and the flames soared aloft, the audience with one accord gave an enthusiastic manifestation of its pleasure and gratitude. Everyone arose and joined heartily in singing the Doxology, which was, indeed, upon this occasion, a paean of rejoicing.

Rev. Dr. Thomas Speaks.

Rev. Dr. Thomas then added a few remarks appropriate to the occasion, commenting upon the unique character of the event, and upon the pleasure it gave him to be in attendance, not only in view of the close sympathy which existed between Rev. Mr. Brace and himself, but because he liked to come into touch with those who are rejoicing.

The Church was God's institution on earth, and has stood the upheavals of successive centuries. Kings have risen up against it, but it has survived their efforts at destruction and it continues to be the greatest and the grandest of realities. It has been a conserving power, and like the Ismaelitish Nile, has thrown out its influence upon the arid wastes surrounding. The influence which it has exerted can scarcely be estimated.

Now, what, the speaker inquired, is the mission of the church? To bring the glory of Jesus Christ upon the varied communities in which it is established. The speaker then referred to the early struggles of the Park street church, and also of his personal experiences in connection with his former Toronto pastorate. The same omnipotent God was over all. He was certain of the development within the Church of individuals who would become enthusiasts in the work. What is necessary here, as in every church, is that every individual should become "filled with a divine fire, yet not consumed," as a burning similar to Moses' "burning bush." God perfects His achievements in this world out of the common place. The greatest mission of the Church was, he believed, to make men not only better, but happier.

Be strong, have courage, was the speaker's concluding admonition; the unseen influences around us are such as we have no conception of. Great works have depended upon the individual; not the multitude. God gives grace, wisdom and fidelity to go forward.

The speaker then expressed the wish that he might live to see another mortgage burned—that upon the new church, which the congregation now propose to build. He had seen another such burning in Dunnville, while Mr. Brace was stationed there, the latter appeared to have a partiality for such conflagrations. He closed by encouraging the congregation assembled towards the still larger achievements now in prospect.

Letters of Regret.

Rev. Mr. Brace then added a few closing remarks, reading two letters of regret, one from Rev. W. H. Martin, superintendent of Home Missions, who was to have been present, but who was unavoidably detained by illness. Rev. Freeman J. Scott of the Murray street Baptist church, also expressed his regret at his inability to be in attendance, but conveyed the hearty congratulations of the congregation of the mother church, as well as the assurance of their continued interest.

The service was brought to a close by the usual devotional exercises.

LOYALTY TO HOME.

A Mr. F. C. Garbutt, of Toronto, has applied to the City Council of Peterborough for appointment as auditor. Here we have an evidence of the evil influence of the example of Hon. Mr. Hanna, Provincial Secretary in the Conservative Government of Ontario, appointing and paying with good British-Canadian coin a Yankee financial expert from Michigan to audit the books of our public institutions. Also of Hon. Nelson Monteith, Minister of Agriculture in the Conservative Government of Ontario, importing two Yankee professors over the heads of scores of capable Canadians to professorships in the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph. Also of Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Mines, in importing a Yankee "student" from the Michigan Mining School to investigate and report upon the cobalt mines of New Ontario. Mr. Garbutt, of Toronto, evidently reasoned that if the Conservative Government, in the face of all its assumptions of loyalty to Great Britain and things British, feels justified in looking to Michigan for civil servants, the city of Peterborough might feel itself justified in appointing a Canadian from Toronto to a civic position. No: the City Council won't do anything of the kind. We have in Peterborough quite enough qualified accountants, who pay taxes, creditably perform all the duties of citizenship, help build up the city, and generally stand by it, and the city will stand by them. No; we couldn't make Mr. Garbutt an auditor, even if he lived in Michigan.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Quebec Conservatives talk of forming themselves into a distinct political unit. Take a new party of seven Conservatives and Mr. McLean's new party of one, and we shall have our political conditions unmeaningly bedevilled.

Some sarcastically inclined taxpayers are inclined to regard the resolution proposed at last Monday night's council meeting, to revert to the ward system, as a proof that the present council, in its methods, represents the failure of the present system of election.

We do not know, says the Toronto News, that the charge is well-founded that Labour Day was an unusually drunken holiday, but we think that the compulsory closing of saloons on all holidays is a reform well worth considering. The rational enjoyment of the holiday, so far from being spoiled, would be immensely improved by such a measure. There would be more money to spend on sightseeing and excursions, and the family would get the money that is now handed over the bar. All the purposes of the holiday for rest and recreation would be promoted. As the saloons are now closed on Sundays, election days and Saturday evenings, there is nothing alarmingly radical in the proposal. The municipal elections sometimes fall on New Year's day, and everyone notices the improvement in the manner of spending the holiday.

Mr Byron E. Walker, General Manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, has been through the Gilbert Plains district of the Northwest, and he says that he found there the largest crops and the finest wheat in the Territories. This is one of the districts which Professor Mayor has reported upon to the Imperial Government as unfit for settlement. Prof. Mayor is a survival of the arm-chair generals who pin-pricked the British War Department with their criticism during the progress of the Boer war. The possession of college breeding, and literary culture, does not prevent a man from being most dogmatic upon subjects upon which he knows very little, especially if they are conjoined with insular ignorance, and patronizing attitude, pursued towards the colonies by a certain kind of Englishmen, time out of mind.

Lord Grey, the Governor-General is to be congratulated, thinks Ottawa Events, on the speech he made in opening the summer carnival in Sydney, in the province of Nova Scotia. He expressed his dislike at sending letters to Great Britain by way of New York, and added an expression of some surprise that this should be necessary when Nature had endowed our own country with such magnificent harbours, situated much closer to Great Britain than is New York. A really fast service can be established between the United Kingdom and a harbour in Nova Scotia, if that harbour was chosen, not for political but for economic reasons. Events is glad to see that the daily press throughout the country reported His Excellency's remarks on the subject, as they cannot fail to bend public sentiment in the right direction. Canada cannot afford to be exclusive — it wants population too badly for that — but it is a laudable ambition to try to become self-contained.

The Anglican Synod took altogether necessary action in deciding not to celebrate marriages between divorced persons, that is if experience had not proven that mankind — and, especially, womankind — will not profit from experience. One man indulges to excess in strong drink, and brings on a train of evils — loss of position, loss of money, loss of business, loss of health, loss of character, loss of self-respect, loss of life and, the preachers tell us, loss of soul. Yet another, seeing all this, will follow in his footsteps, and meet something like the same fate. One would think that persons who had experimented in matrimony, and found it a dismal failure, would be warned by experience, and be careful in repeating so dangerous an experiment — but they disregard all warnings and, again, at the first opportunity, take another plunge into the dark. The Synod could take no more effectual and practical way to impress its opinion of the enormity of the crime of divorced persons remarrying. Holy Scripture recognizes only one justifiable cause for divorce, and it also declares that the divorced person re-marrying commits the very offence that made divorce justifiable. The divine law is above the canons of Synods, and the statutes of states.

THE OPERATION OF THE BUSINESS TAX.

The Toronto World has been investigating the operations of the business tax in Toronto, and in this connection gives the statement of Assessment Commissioner Forman that in four wards the business assessment shows an increase of over $6,000,000 over the personal property rated last year. Contrary to expectations, the larger concerns, especially those coming under the wholesale ratings, have not, save in rare instances, been relieved by the operation of the new system. In fact, the wholesalers will have to meet an increase of several thousand dollars in taxation. As to the position of the retailers, Mr. Forman says:

With several of the retailers, the old argument is brought forward that they have not the money in their business that is represented by the business assessment.

"This is not the basis of assessment, and in such cases, because of their assessment being increased, as compared with last year, they became quite dissatisfied with the new act. If it were possible to get at the exact monetary position in such cases, I doubt if much, or any, injustice is being done on the amount they now have to pay on as compared with their actual assets. For instance, the occupant of premises rated at $3,000, $5,000, or, say, $4,200, will pay for such premises as are occupied in part, for living apartments, taxes at 19 mills on the dollar. On $500, $600, or $700, equivalent to $9.50, 11.40 and $13.30 respectively. Their old assessments show from $300 to $500 personality, or $5.70 and 9.50 in taxes.

"The larger retail establishments have not appealed, and it was here that they were to be looked for. Their premises in Toronto are situated in the most valuable section of the city, and the assessment is along from $35,000 to $100,000, with the land steadily increasing in value."

Upon the whole, the complaints regarding the operation of the Business Tax, are, the Brantford Expositor remarks, comparatively few. That there will be anomalies under its operation may be taken for granted; instances will abound of persons carrying on large businesses in comparatively cheap premises and thus escaping with light taxation. But will a system of assessment ever be found which does not contain anomalies, and even injustices? We do not think so. It is to be said for the Business Tax that it is simple, that it is not inquisitorial, and that it reaches many persons who would otherwise escape taxation. It may also be said that it is fairly equitable in its operation, seeing that there is usually a pretty close correspondence between the value of the premises occupied and the importance of the business conducted therein. The system as at present being worked in Ontario may be faulty in some of its machinery, but that there will ever be a return to the old method of assessing the plant and stock of manufacturers and merchants, is extremely improbable.

RELATIVE DANGER FROM STEAM AND STREET RAILWAYS

The unusually large number of electric railways now being constructed all over the continent suggests an examination of the comparative risk of travelling by this means and by steam railways. In a report of the accidents on street railways in the United States for the year 1902 it is shown that 1,218 persons were killed and 47,429 injured. Of the total number of killed 205 were passengers, 122 employees, and 831 others. The latter group included pedestrians, people on waggons, bicycles or other vehicles, and all persons except those employed by the company or riding on the cars. Of the total number of persons injured, 26,900 were passengers, 3,694 employees and 17,040 others. Since, as a rule, the street railway has not its own bed, but operates upon public highways, not employees or passengers, but outside persons incur most danger. Of the total number killed by the street railways in 1902, 68 per cent., or over two-thirds, were persons who were neither passengers nor employees, while in the case of the steam railroads, the proportion, despite the greater speed at which the trains are operated, is smaller, amounting to 61.4 per cent. in 1902. The number of employees killed also bears a small percentage to the number of passengers. Unlike the steam road, the street railway does not endanger the employees much more than the persons riding within the car. While in 1902, 8.6 employees were killed to each passenger killed on steam roads, but one street railway employee was killed to each 2.2 passengers. In other words, the ratio of fatalities among passengers was nearly nineteen times as great on steam as on street railways. In 1902 the number of employees killed on street railways was one-tenth of the total number of all persons killed.

In view of these records it can hardly be stated that the death rate from accidents upon street railways is unduly high, and the occupation cannot be marked as exceedingly dangerous. The danger to life on the street railway is small as compared with that on the steam road. In the year 1902, for instance, one of every 401 steam railroad employees and one of every 135 trainmen were killed, while on street railways the death rate is only one out of every 1,095. The chance of being killed is 173 per cent. greater, therefore, for a steam road employee than for an employee upon a street railway, and the chance of death for the trainman employed on a steam railway is 7.11 per cent. greater than for the average wage-earner employed on the street railways. The greater immunity of street car men from fatal or disabling accidents is reflected in the lower rates of insurance which they are enabled to pay. The insurance companies make a special charge for what are termed extra hazardous risks. A brakeman, for example, is obliged to pay $20 per thousand extra, owing to the great risk of accident which he runs. Street car men, on the other hand, are considered first-class risks by the insurance companies, and as a consequence do not pay extra rates.

A WRONG PRINCIPLE.

At a recent convention of the League of Municipalities held in Toronto a resolution emanating from Ottawa was carried recommending the Legislature to make the election of aldermen in cities for a term of two years instead of one as at present, and have it so arranged that the two year term would expire with one half of the council one year and the other half the following year. The union of Canadian municipalities may aggregate considerable wisdom but in this case the desire for change and the extreme liking of individuals composing a body of men to propose resolutions have led to a recommendation which is distinctly opposed to the public interest. The system is in vogue in the city of Winnipeg where they not only made the mistake of adopting it, but made the other mistake of reducing the number of aldermen to 12. The way the two year term worked in Winnipeg was such as to make in morally impossible to reform any maladministration of the city's affairs. At the annual municipal elections if the electors desired to punish the council for errors committed during the year to the detriment of the city, only one half of the council were up for sentence and of these six personal popularity or manipulating skill would return two or three, and what was called the "new" council would consist of the six who had not to offer for re-election for another year and the other two or three who had to offer and managed to get back. There would thus be a so-called new council of twelve consisting of eight or nine of the old council and only, say, three or four new men. These three or four men would represent the public protest against the acts of the council during the year just closed.

It is obviously impossible under such a system to dispense with a gang that has mismanaged affairs. These remarks would apply to the Ottawa city council of 24 members. A more sensible resolution for the municipal union would have been one that was introduced into the city council of the capital, to consider the placing of the city under a government commission. But to elect a city council and then to proceed to protect them from punishment at the polls would be the height of folly.—Events, Ottawa.

RE-UNION OF CONGREGATION
COMBINED WITH A PLEASING SOCIAL EVENT

Murray Street Baptists Met Last Night to Tender Reception to Mrs. (Rev.) F. J. Scott—Music and Addresses—A Social Re-Union Which Was Much Enjoyed—Presentation of Silverware to New Pastor's Wife—A Pleasing Function.

Murray street Baptist Church has recently been experiencing a decided and varying regeneration. The church has been materially renewed in a very effective and handsome manner. It has a comparatively new pastor, and the pastor has recently taken unto himself a wife and that accounted for the large and happy gathering at the church last night, the occasion being a welcome to Mrs. Scott, the pastor's wife. If the warm welcome she received last night, is to be regarded as a measure of the future cordiality of the relations hereafter to exist between the congregation of Murray street Baptist Church and the pastor's helpmeet, Mrs. Scott's residence in Peterborough will be a most pleasant one.

The Reception.

Early in the evening the basement of the church was filled with a happy gathering, assembled to meet and welcome Mrs. Scott, and it was characterized by the joyous air of a bridal. The infants' class room had been fitted up as a reception room and beautifully brightened with flowers. For an hour or so Mr. and Mrs. Scott held reception, assisted by Mrs. (Dr.) Scott, and was introduced to, and welcomed by, the members of the congregation, who had not previously had the good fortune to meet her. Hundreds took advantage of the opportunity and Mrs. Scott must have been as much pleased with the warmth of her reception as those of the congregation were charmed with the genial grace of her personality. A pleasing incident of the reception ceremony was the presentation to the bride of a bridal bouquet by Miss Florence Scott, and the gift to Mrs. (Dr.) Scott of another bouquet by Master Kenneth Routley.

Murray Street Baptist Church Which Has Lately Undergone Extensive Improvements.

Verbal Welcome.

Succeeding the reception Mr. E. B. Edwards, K.C., Superintendent of the Sunday School, took the chair and explained that the object of the gathering was to have a social reunion, to welcome the pastor's wife and also to extend a welcome to the many new members who had recently associated themselves with the congregation. On behalf of the congregation he welcomed these strangers—to be strangers no more—and would, both Mrs. Scott and himself believed, be very amply justified. In reference to the chairman's remarks as to Mrs. Scott's usefulness to the church, he felt that if she would be of value to the people it would be through himself, whose influence she would strengthen and promote. He concluded by again cordially thanking the congregation for the encouraging welcome that had been extended them.

Dr. Bagshaw in a humourous speech of the tu-quoque style, in relation to Mr. Scott's references to bachelors, confirmed the welcome that had been given.

Mr. Benjamin Matthews, "the oldest deacon in the church," endorsed the welcome that had been given and added a few sober words of advice and injunction as to the duty of the congregation in connection with the usefulness of the pastor and his wife, and the benefit of the church.

Hon. J. R. Stratton, who was introduced by the chairman as "the son of a former pillar of the church," spoke of the pleasure it gave him as a citizen, on behalf of other citizens, to welcome Mrs. Scott to the city. In the course of his reference to the prosperity of the Murray street church, he incidentally spoke of the progress of the Park street church, whose prosperity and enterprise were reflected in the fact that they had mortgages to burn—they were at that time burning the mortgage that had previously rested upon the church building. While the parent church was flourishing, it would have to be on the look-out lest its child in the south end should win in the rivalry of good works, which at present marked them both. The city was growing, and would continue to grow, as he had reason to know that the population would be increased through a large local industry, which was preparing to double its capacity. Increased population would impose increased responsibility upon the church.

Short addresses of welcome were also made by Dr. Scott and Messrs. Wm. Aldridge and C. B. Routley.

A Musical Programme.

During the progress of the meeting the chairman introduced a very pleasing musical programme, for which Mrs. Mowat, in her invariable excellent manner, furnished the accompaniments.

Mr. Edward Hooker gave the baritone solo, "The Yeoman's Wedding Morning," by Prince Poniatowski.

Miss Florence Hall sang Pontet's "This and That," in so excellent a manner that the audience would not waive its demand for a repetition, which was effectively given.

A quartette, "Peaceful Night," by Lyon, was sung by Messrs. F. W. Miller, J. P. Cunningham, A. J. Raddon and Dr. Bagshaw.

Mrs. Miller, choir leader of the church, used her rich, contralto voice with musicianly skill in the singing Gatty's "Life's Up-Hill."

Refreshments.

The charming social element, so much in evidence during the course of the evening, was greatly promoted by the dainty and tasteful serving of delicious refreshments, including coffee. The entire company grouped around five o'clock tea tables, enjoyed a delightful season of material as well as social refreshments.

The next event was the presentation to Mrs. Scott of a service of sterling silver. The presentation was made by Dr. Bagshaw on behalf of the members of the congregation, and Mrs. Scott made a suitable and graceful reply. The happy evening then concluded by the hearty singing by the company present of "Blest be the tie that binds."

REV. F. J. SCOTT,
Pastor of Murray St. Baptist Church.

and also Mrs. Scott to the home and hearts of the congregation, to the Church and to the Sunday School, where he expected to have the benefit of her assistance. All would now feel that the pastor's relation to his congregation was complete, and that he would, thus equipped, be equal to a larger degree of usefulness even than he had developed in the past.

Rev. Mr. Scott in replying, for himself and his wife, said that he now felt that he was a double-header and more able for his duties. In a most humourous, little speech he dealt with the circumstances leading up to his change in social condition, and incidentally used the occasion to impress upon some hardened old bachelors in the congregation, the enormity of their offence in persistently postponing the assumptions of matrimonial responsibilities. He repeated the welcome of the chairman to the new members of the congregation and thanked the people for their welcome to his wife. He had told her of the warm hearts and kindness of the Baptists of Murray street as he had learned of them by experience, and had commendations.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years the doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

TELEPHONE TALKS.

TO TELEPHONE USERS AND THE GENERAL PUBLIC,—

During the almost continuous discussion of telephone matters which has been going on in Canada for a number of years, no country has been so frequently referred to as Sweden, and it may be added, regarding no other country have the conditions been so little comprehended.

Sweden has been the scene of the keenest telephone contest that has probably ever been witnessed—a contest absolutely unique, inasmuch as it is between the general Government operating a complete local and long distance system, and a private company operating practically a local system only. The usual conditions are therefore reversed. This will render a study of the results particularly interesting.

The contest has centred about Stockholm, the capital and chief commercial centre of the country. The Company charges in Stockholm a flat rate of $27.00 or a partial service rate of $21.60 and $16.20, under which the subscriber pays $13.50 as installation fee. The Government charges in Stockholm a flat rate just one half of the Company's rate.

With all the prestige of the Government, with the advantage of a general connection by its long distance lines with its exchanges throughout the country, it would naturally be expected that the Government exchange in Stockholm would greatly outnumber its competitor in the number of subscribers. Not so, however. The Company has 24,000 subscribers to its exchange and the Government but 12,000. The fight has been going on for a number of years with little advantage on either side, but organized administration and good service is seemingly at last giving the Company the victory.

That the Government recognizes that its rate in Stockholm is an artificial one is shown by the fact that it charges a higher rate in its small exchanges where it has no competition than it does in Stockholm.

The conditions for service in Canada cannot fairly be compared with conditions in Sweden. The purchasing power of money is more than double in Sweden what it is in this country. Labor, material, everything, is cheaper there. When the fight is over and normal rates and other conditions resumed, it will be time enough to draw lessons from that country.

The development of the telephone in Sweden has been enormously exaggerated. It was stated before the Special Committee to be one telephone for 14 of the population of the country, but it now transpires that this average applies only to Stockholm, which is not as great as the development at Winnipeg and not much higher than Montreal and Toronto.

We have not a great deal to learn even from much-misrepresented Sweden.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

I noticed in last week's Examiner a letter written by James Dewart in reply to some assertions made by the Hill family, with regard to the recent shooting.

This letter, owing to the manner in which it is signed might be attributed to me. I wish to state that I am not in any way connected with the family feuds or quarrels, between the Hills the Murphy's and the family of John Dewart and take this means of pointing out that the letter was not written by me.

SUCCESSFUL PICNIC HELD BY REV. FATAER McGUIRE AT DOWNEYVILLE YESTERDAY

A Most Enjoyable Function Was That Held Yesterday—Rev. Father McGuire, The Popular Parish Priest of Emily Held Successful Picnic—Number of Addresses By Prominent Gentlemen—An Interesting Event.

Many and successful have been the picnics which have from time to time been given by Rev. Father McGuire in the various parishes to which he has ministered but it is doubtful indeed, whether the Rev. Father has ever been more successful in his efforts in this regard, than yesterday when the first picnic given by Rev. Father McGuire in his new parish of Downeyville was held.

It was an ideal day for an affair of the kind. The weather was superb, the roads in excellent condition for travelling, which, together with Rev. Father McGuire's well known reputation as a successful organizer of picnics brought together an immense crowd, estimated in numbers at over two thousand people.

Those present were not all from the parish of Downeyville. The popularity of Rev. Father McGuire in his former parish of Hastings was evidenced by the fact that about fifteen of his former parishioners from that village came all the way to Downeyville to attend the picnic. The parish of Ennismore was well represented whilst Lindsay, Peterborough and Ormemee citizens participated in the enjoyment.

REV. FATHER McGUIRE,
Parish Priest of Downeyville, under whose auspices the picnic was held yesterday.

A Beautiful Grove.

Rev. Father McGuire's picnic was held in Herlihey's grove, a beautiful spot a short distance from the church. From early noon to late in the evening the grounds were crowded and many and varied were the forms of enjoyment provided. The dancing platform as usual attracted a great many of the younger people and a field close at hand served as a most suitable place for the running off of the various sports. A feature of the day was the excellence of the supper served and provided by the ladies of the parish of Downeyville. The ladies of the parish certainly excelled themselves in this regard and many complimentary references were made by the visitors on the excellance of the good things provided.

Patriotic Addresses.

A picnic given by Rev. Father McGuire would not be complete without a few speeches and a number of the public men of the district who had been invited to attend delivered short and patriotic addresses.

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick the popular parish priest of Ennismore acted in the capacity of chairman and amongst those on the platform were Hon. Senator McHugh, Hon. J. R. Stratton, Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., Mr. E. J. McLaughlan, barrister, Lindsay, and Reeve Hunt, of Emily.

The first speaker was Hon. Senator McHugh, who congratulated Rev. Father McGuire, and his committees upon their success and expressed his pleasure in being present. He referred to the greatness of Canada's resources and the need for their proper and energetic development.

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick in introducing Mr. R. R. Hall, the member for West Peterborough, spoke in complimentary terms. We in Peterborough, he said, know his worth and fully appreciate the good work he is doing. He had only to be known to the people of Emily to be appreciated as he is in his own riding.

Mr. Hall congratulated Rev. Father McGuire on the magnificent success of his picnic. It reflected great credit on the energy and ability and on the ladies and gentlemen who assisted him in the enterprise. Mr. Hall said that it was a pleasure for him to be present and meet many of the old familiar faces of those he had known in his native county. He endorsed the patriotic sentiments uttered by Hon. Senator McHugh.

The people of Canada have every reason to be proud of the remarkable growth and development that has taken place during this decade. Our population is increasing. Our trade with foreign countries has more than doubled. Our total foreign trade per head is greater than that of any other country in the world. The most active and enterprising young men in Canada are not now going to foreign countries to seek employment and advancement in life, but instead of that they are going to different parts of Canada where much more profitable fields for the accumulation of wealth are to be found than in any other country. The rich and fertile plains of the North-west are attracting thousands of people yearly from all parts of the world where happy homes are being established with comfortable surroundings. Many miners from foreign countries are making their homes in Canada, and are assisting in the development of our mineral resource. The building of the Temiscamingue Railway in New Ontario has been the means of opening up one of the richest silver mines that has ever been found. It is attributed to the energy and foresight of Hon. J. R. Stratton, that he was an important member of the Liberal Administration who undertook, and successfully carried out, that great work; and which has been the means of drawing the attention of foreign capital to the great natural resources of New Ontario.

It is a great satisfaction to know that although Canada is composed of different races and creeds, that we all live together in peace and harmony, and mutually respect each others' rights, sentiments and conscientious views. So long as we do this there is no doubt that Canada will increase in population, in wealth, and in strength, until she will become one of the great dominant nations.

A Popular Member.

Mr. E. J. McLaughlan the next speaker, received a hearty reception and made a capital speech. He dwelt at some length upon the great possibilities of our country and pictured a glowing future for Canada.

Reeve Hunt, of Emily, also addressed the gathering and expressed his pleasure in being present and meeting with so many people from various parts of the township.

Hon. J. R. Stratton.

Hon. Mr. Stratton, who was the last speaker, congratulated the parish on the beautiful weather, the splendid crowd and the general success attending their efforts. Father McGuire's guests were noted events as Bracebridge. Some of our best entertainers had attended and spoken. He referred to the beautiful Township of Emily, which had good farms and well-tilled lands—good homes well kept; good basements well managed by better wives; good and pretty girls being wooed by gallant swains. He had not come as a politician, but as a citizen to assist his friend, Father McGuire, in the good work he was endeavoring to perform, and with great success. We had all different opinions and ideas. While the world lasts there will be different opinions in politics, in religious beliefs, and as to growing grain, and as the saying all interesting subjects. But in all these things we can agree to differ and still be good friends and good neighbours. Whatever be our religion or politics we must live together and help each other. No matter at what shrine we worship we must remember we are all Canadians. He referred to the patriotic remarks of Senator McHugh and Mr. Maharghkan. There was a time when the old Roman citizen was proud to exclaim that he was a Roman citizen, but Canadians felt it a greater honor to know that they were Canadians and all working together to build up Canada, with the best chanter, the best civil institutions, the best laws and best kept, and with the widest civil and religious liberty. He did not think that Canadians felt sufficiently thankful for their great heritage, for prosperity, peace, and happy homes. Each province had its great natural wealth. Canada had millions of acres of the good land on the sunnyshine upon; lakes and rivers teeming with fish, deep, and broad, to carry our wealth of produce to the sea. He referred to the tremendous wealth of resources in Canadian mindows and resources. The Maritime provinces, with their coal and iron; Quebec, with its timber, silver and copper; Manitoba and the Northwest, with its wheat sufficient to fill the barns and granaries of any empire; British Columbia, with its gold and silver, and lead and coal and salmon; Ontario with its timber, iron, gold, silver and nickel, the latter the greatest deposits in the world. Canadians had good reason to be proud, and her sons could devote in such spots as best suited their ideas and conditions within their own borders. Canadians were a hardy and enterprising race; new provinces had just been created, and in time would create others. He congratulated all present on the splendid proceeding and hoped all would be satisfied with the day's enjoyment. He was glad to see so many of the old settlements from [illegible] present with their respective pastor, Rev. Father Fitzpatrick. He almost felt the audience was a Peterborough County one, so many happy and bright faces could be seen.

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, the chairman, in calling upon Rev. Father McGuire to address the gathering, stated that the parish priest of Downeyville was one of the best and most noble-hearted priests anywhere to be found. He considered it a blessing from Almighty God to the people of Downeyville that Rev. Father McGuire had been placed to assist in their pastor.

Parish Priest Welcomed.

Rev. Father McGuire was warmly received when he arose to address the gathering. He thanked them all for their attendance, and particularly thanked his friends from Peterborough, Lindsay, Hastings and other places. He hoped that he would meet them all again under such happy circumstances.

Three hearty cheers were given for Rev. Father McGuire, Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, the chairman, and Hon. Mr. Stratton.

Altogether the picnic was a grand success and was most enjoyable.

Amongst the visiting priests in attendance were Ven. Archdeacon Casey, Rev. Father F. O'Sullivan, Lindsay; Rev. Jas. Cassidy, Victoria Road; Rev. Father Phelan, Trainer's Point; Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, Ennismore, and Rev. Father Carroll and Rev. Father Galvin of Pla[illegible]

Reckless Shooting Not Confined To Dummer

East City Youth Discharges Rifle Too Promiscuously.

And The Weapon Was Gathered in By P. C. Stewart—Boy Will Appear To-Morrow.

For some time complaints have been received by the Chief of Police regarding shooting within the corporation limits in East City. The discharge of firearms has been principally by youths and yesterday a boy named Neal was discovered in the act of shooting, by P. C. Stewart, who promptly relieved him of possession of the weapon, which was a .22 calibre rifle.

The father of the boy came over for interview the representative of the law last night, and registered, it is understood, a strong protest against his action. A summons has been issued for the boy to appear to-morrow at Police Court, when the matter will be dealt with by the Magistrate. The police are to be warmly commended for their prompt action in the matter as this variety of dangerous amusement has become altogether too prevalent.

Sunlight Soap is recommended, by those who have investigated the different kind of soaps, as being the best and purest on the market. Those who have gone still farther and tried the different methods state that the Sunlight way of washing is greatly superior to ordinary methods because it requires much less work and makes the clothes whiter and cleaner. Because Sunlight Soap is quite pure and free from adulteration it will not injure delicate fabrics or the user's hands.

Mr. Joseph Mitchell Returns From Long Vacation in England

Labour and Social Conditions in the Old Land—The Coming Winter Will be a Great Trial to Poorer Classes, and its Approach is Greatly Dreaded—The Grain and Fruit Crops Are Well Up to the Average.

Mr. Joseph Mitchell, the well known tonsorial artist has just returned from a two months' visit to his friends and relations in old England, and when seen to-day by an Examiner representative expressed himself well pleased with his trip and has returned home in much improved health. Mr. Mitchell left Canada in the first week in July by the new Allan liner "Victorian," and the passage over occupied twelve days. The weather was rough and unfavourable and at one time they were fog-bound for several hours, while on another occasion they had the misfortune to break a propeller shaft thus causing considerable delay.

Mr. Mitchell made but a short stop over in Liverpool, and proceeded direct to London, where he met his friends. Everything that has been said of the city is true, but there have been alterations and improvements in it which, have given the city a more modern appearance than it had when he left, there over 35 years ago. In the great metropolis he saw nothing that would show that there was any great distress among the working classes, but he understands that the situation in the north is acute and the masses dread the approaching winter. In the coal mining districts there are many out of employment owing to several of the mines being inundated with water and the cottiers are feeling the consequent results of unemployment.

In the southern counties through through which Mr. Mitchell passed the grain crops have been good, but even there the farmers have had great difficulty in securing harvesters and lucrative offers have been made to the unemployed in the cities, but they have been refused. The fruit crops with the exception of apples are also heavy, but there has been very little rain in the southern districts during July and August, only four light rains being experienced in that time.

When asked as to the people's attitude towards Mr. Chamberlain's protective policy, Mr. Mitchell said that those with whom he had spoken about it seemed to favour the scheme and, as far as he could learn, the enlightened classes generally favoured protection.

Mr. Mitchell was at Portsmouth at the time of the visit of the French fleet, and was much impressed with the size and power of the great ironclads. He was also a witness of the International motor boat races for the King's Challenge Cup, and for one who has never witnessed such a contest before, it was intensely exciting.

The return voyage was made on the Allan Liner "Virginian" and again very rough weather was experienced, but Mr. Mitchell was not afflicted with "mal de mer," nor was he ever wanting at meal times.

The Western People Are Well Satisfied

Political Situation is Acute Only in The Minds of Eastern Agitators.

Irrigation and its Beneficial Results—Calgary Can Show Peterborough Some Things.

(Special Staff Correspondence)
(Delayed in Transmission)

Revelstoke, B.C., Sept. 8.—My last letter was written while I was in the new Province of Saskatchewan, and before leaving it a reference to the political situation there may be of interest to the people of the east, though conditions both politically and otherwise are so satisfactory here that the people are not worrying about the "outrage" which some of the eastern papers refer to. One has to see a copy of one of the sensational Toronto papers to learn that an "outrage" has been committed, and the people of the west know nothing about it.

Electors Satisfied.

That the electors of Saskatchewan are perfectly satisfied with the action of Lieutenant-Governor Forget in calling upon Mr. Walter Scott to form a Cabinet is evident to one who seeks in a consistent manner to ascertain the feeling of the people of the west.

Doubtless there are some in the west to whom the terms of the Autonomy Bills were not satisfactory, but the writer failed to run across such a person, while he met scores who testified to their entire satisfaction with the bill creating the new provinces. One man in speaking about the educational clauses was firmly convinced that the system of schools in the Northwest was perfectly satisfactory, and the great majority of the people evidently resent strongly the misplaced interest which the "agitators" in the east are taking in their affairs.

Since the Autonomy Bill was satisfactory to the people, it follows that the action of Lieutenant-Governor Forget in calling a man to form a Cabinet who was in sympathy with its terms, in preference to one who had pledged himself to oppose them, has met with the approval of the people, and as far as I was able to learn there is a feeling of general satisfaction among the people of Saskatchewan at the action in placing Walter Scott at the head of the Government in that province.

Pointers From Calgary.

Travelling west from the last stopping place, one is in notices that great changes have taken place during the last five years. Calgary at that time was a nice little city of perhaps 6,000 people, while to-day it is equal in size to Peterborough, the population being about 16,000 and a busy, pushing city it is too. While the people of Calgary feel that theirs is the better city in which to locate the capital of the new Province of Alberta, they are not worrying, because Edmonton has been chosen as the provisional seat of Government, and should the permanent capital go to someplace outside of Calgary, it will not be a very serious matter to them. They argue that there are enough natural advantages possessed by Calgary to ensure its permanent prosperity outside of the benefits which the location of the capital there would confer. In some respects Calgary, which compares in size with Peterborough, is a much more progressive city than this town, and the Aldermen might see some things there which would make them open their eyes.

Possibilities of Irrigation.

The C. P. R. is spending several million dollars in an effort to reclaim 500,000 acres of the Alberta prairie, by irrigation, and their efforts are likely to be crowned with success. The marvellous results which have followed the irrigation works in Southern Alberta have been revelations to even the people of the West, while the application of water by artificial means to what was formerly considered as arid land has produced results which, to the people of the East, are almost incredible.

Irrigation has opened up new and wonderful possibilities to the West, and it now seems probable that the whole of the country from the foothills of the Rockies east to Swift Current, may be made wheat-producing by the use of water, and with the natural richness of the soil, there is good reason to believe that this part of the West, which has hitherto been regarded as suitable only for ranching, will equal Manitoba in the production of wheat.

The success which has attended the application of irrigation on the plains south of Lethbridge to Cardston, a district which five years ago was totally unsettled, except for a few ranchers, has opened the eyes of the world. To-day the whole section of country served by the Lethbridge Irrigation Company, is settled. A railway has been constructed to Cardston from Lethbridge, and three or four thriving towns have grown up, while fall wheat equal to that grown anywhere, is being raised there.

Fruit in B. C.

In the Okanagan valley, in British Columbia, south of Revelstoke, irrigation is being used to effect a transformation of another sort. A newspaper man, a Mr. Robertson, formerly of Brandon, went into that part of the country a few years ago, and conceived the idea that with the climate in the valleys of the Rockies, fruit should be successfully grown, if water were available. He organized a company to secure land, and put in irrigation works, and the result is that to-day nearly the whole Okanagan valley has been made into a veritable paradise. The climate there is simply superb, and the fruit grown equals that of the California valleys. A crop of plums averages $250 per acre per year, and the average fruit farmer grows ten acres of such fruit each year. The labour question is comparatively easy of solution, the Chinese making admirable helpers, and a man, with the assistance of one Chinaman, can do the work on ten acres of fruit land quite easily. The market for the fruit there grown is practically unlimited, the whole of Manitoba and the Northwest, with the towns and cities in British Columbia, taking all that can be grown, and then the demand is not nearly satisfied.

A great many Manitoba farmers have retired from their farms, and have taken up ten acres of fruit land and are invariably meeting with gratifying success. M. J. H.

"No joy or pleasure on this earth quite equals that which comes into the home when baby arrives. Who can describe the happiness of man and woman, joined in wedlock, as they look upon the fragile, delicate mite that is blood of their blood and flesh of their flesh? And who can depict the hopelessness and dejection that hover about the home where the wife is incapable of becoming a mother? Barrenness proceeds from some derangement of the distinctly feminine organs. Many of the common ailments known as "female troubles" cause it. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription overcomes barrenness by stamping out diseases of women, and by healing and curing ulceration. It tones up the system, stops drains, and restores strength. During gestation it modifies morning sickness, gives elasticity to the overstrained parts concerned, makes the hour of baby's coming short and almost painless, and gives wonderful recuperative power to the patient. By making the mother strong and cheerful, it makes the little one healthy, vigorous and good natured. Insist upon the medicine dealer giving you Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription when you ask for it. Substitutes are often dangerous.

Mrs. James W. Hacker, of 69 Catherine St., Syracuse, N.Y., writes: "Your medicines have done wonders for me. For years my health was very poor; I had four miscarriages, but since taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Favorite Prescription I have much better health, and now I have a fine healthy baby."

PRETTY WEDDING IN DUMMER

A pretty September wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. John Tucker, 2nd concession of Dummer, on the 6th inst., when his daughter, Mary Lena, was married to Mr. Wilmott Bell, of Essex County. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. L. Atkinson, Warsaw.

Promptly at 6 o'clock p.m., while the wedding march was being played by Miss Bertha Bell, of Smith, the contracting parties took their places under an arch of evergreen and flowers. The bride wore a gown of cream voile and carried a bouquet of carnations. Miss Annie Wanamaker, of Lakefield, was bridesmaid, and Mr. Jno. Nelson, also of Lakefield, supported the groom.

After the ceremony over one hundred guests sat down to a sumptuous repast served on the lawn.

The presents were numerous and were costly and elegant, testifying in a tangible form to the high esteem in which the young couple were held in the community.

PETERBOROUGH SUGAR FACTORY

TO BE COMPLETED AND

IN OPERATION DURING 1906

Mr. J. W. Garvin Informs Those Interested in The Industry That Mr. D. A. Gordon Will Complete The Factory—Directors of The Wallaceburg Sugar Co. Will Revive The Industry—Decision To Be Reached By Second Tuesday in November---Creditors To Be Paid One Hundred Cents on The Dollar---Pleasing Intelligence if Correct.

The intelligence contained in the following letter received from Mr. J. W. Garvin, late managing director of the Peterborough Sugar Company, and addressed to the stockholders, creditors and patrons of the Company, will be received with pleasure by all who are interested in any way in the enterprise.

Mr. Garvin, writing through the Examiner says:—

"Two weeks ago I had another interview with Mr. D. A. Gordon, of Wallaceburg. He assured me that the Peterborough proposition would be taken up by the directors of the Wallaceburg Sugar Company, not later than the 2nd Tuesday in November, and definite arrangements made to purchase the property of the Peterborough Sugar Company, and complete the factory for the fall campaign of 1906.

"The verbal agreement between Mr. Gordon and myself is that the new Board of Directors shall take over all our assets and give our stockholders their stock at par and our creditors 100 cents on the dollar.

"As Mr. Gordon has shown exceptional ability in managing the Wallaceburg Sugar Company and as his word can be relied upon, let me urge the farmers to prepare the soil this fall for next year's crop.

Proposed Factory For the Manufacture of Beet Sugar Which Mr. Gordon Promises to Revive.

"The probabilities are that Peterborough shall have as fine a sugar factory as that possessed by Wallaceburg."

In conclusion Mr. Garvin asks other newspapers in the Trent Valley to copy his letter, and diffuse the information as widely as possible.

He is firm in his belief that the sugar proposition is a good one, and has never ceased to work for the revival of the industry here.

In connection with the above, an interview which the Examiner recently had with Mr. Caron, ex-mayor of Aylmer, is timely. Mr. Caron is well acquainted with Mr. Gordon, and with the position of the Wallaceburg sugar factory. He stated to the Examiner that Mr. Gordon is a thoroughly responsible man financially, and that the operation of the sugar factory and other industries, including the Sydenham glass works, with which he was identified, were most satisfactory.

He was of the opinion that if Mr. Gordon could be induced to interest himself in the Peterborough factory it would be a success.

The promise of Mr. Gordon that the creditors will be paid one hundred cents on the dollar will be welcomed by those who happen to be creditors of the concern.

A MID-SEPTEMBER TORONTO WEDDING

Miss May Alexander Becomes Bride of Mr. Alex. Weddell.

An interesting wedding ceremony is being performed to-day in Toronto, the principals being Miss May Alexander, and Mr. Alex. Weddell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Weddell, of Almeda, Sask.

The bride and groom are both popular young people, and are both lifelong residents of Peterborough, where they are very highly respected.

Mr. Weddell has been for the last fifteen years on the staff of the district offices of the Sun Life Assurance Company, under Mr. W. H. Hill, the district manager, and he with his bride start out on their married life with the heartiest good wishes of their large circle of friends. They are both identified with St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, the young people of which will be especially interested in learning of their marriage.

Miss Julia Eastland Honoured on Wedding Eve.

The Members of Apsley Presbyterian Church Present Her With Clock—Other Apsley News.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Apsley, Sept. 13th.—The members of the Presbyterian Church called on Miss Julia Eastland, who so kindly filled the vacancy of organist in their church, on Tuesday evening, September 5th, at 8.00 o'clock, the eve of her wedding, presenting her with a handsome Morris chair, when the following address was read by Rev. Mr. Taylor, Presbyterian minister:—

Dear Miss Eastland,—It is with mingled feelings that we come, on the eve of your departure from our community, to bid you good-bye.

We are glad to know that you are about to enter a sphere where your many amiable traits of character will have a wider field for their exercise and we bespeak for you many happy years in your new home. And yet we cannot conceal our regret at losing from our midst one, who has in so many ways laid claim to our respect and appreciation. In many unassuming kindly services you have engaged the gratitude of all our Protestant congregations and it is with a measure of reluctance that we part with one who can ill be spared.

In presenting this slight token of our appreciation we wish to convey with it our heartiest wishes for your future welfare, and that kindly Providence will still bless and make you a blessing among your new associates is the sincere desire of your friends in the Presbyterian Church, Apsley.

Signed in behalf of the Presbyterian congregation.

Mr. Hazel Tasker presented the chair at the appropriate time. Miss Eastland was utterly taken by surprise and completely overcome. Her father made a very suitable reply in her behalf.

Mr. Anderson, of Brooklyn, held services here in the Church of England on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Shairp received word on Friday of the serious illness of her son at Bamboa, suffering from a sunstroke.

Mr. and Mrs. Webster, of Montreal, were guests at Mr. Thos. Eagland's last week.

Midnight Blaze Checked in Time To Save Property

Fire in Grateful Macdonald's Drug Store Last Night.

Result of Careless Practice, Which, if Continued, is Certain to Terminate Disastrously.

A blaze in the grating in the pavement outside Macdonald's drug store, corner of George and Hunter streets, formed the nucleus of what might have, had it been allowed a brief space of time in which to expand, become a most disastrous conflagration.

The fire originated under the grating, evidently from the careless dropping of a cigar stub or ignited match fully upon the accumulated litter, and portions, when noticed by an Examiner representative, who at once rang in an alarm. The brigade, upon its arrival, extinguished the rapidly spreading flames, which by this time were licking their way to the floor above, after having passed through the window of the basement.

The careless practice of loiterers upon the streets of throwing ignited cigar stubs into the street gratings can scarcely be too severely condemned, as it does in many recent instances been the cause of many fires in which disastrous consequences were only averted by the merest chance. The practice is one resulting from sure carelessness, and is certain, sooner or later, to result in a fire of large proportions.

Brock Street September Wedding

The Nuptials of Mr. W. VanEvery and Mrs. Hodgson.

Quietly Celebrated This September Afternoon at 4.30 o'Clock.

A quiet but interesting wedding was celebrated at the bride's residence, 180 Brock street, this afternoon at 4 o'clock, when Mr. William VanEvery, retired merchant, 208 Rubidge street, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mrs. Bois Rush Hodgson, daughter of the late Thomas Rush, Esq. Though the wedding was a very quiet affair, those in attendance being limited to the immediate relatives of the contracting parties, yet it aroused much interest in their very wide circle of friends, both being so well and favourably known in the community, where they have resided so many years. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William Major, Rector of All Saints. The bride, who was, of course, unattended was quietly but richly attired, in a white silk waist, ornamented with embroidery and petite-trous, with skirt of navy brown ladies' cloth. At the conclusion of the ceremony the usual wedding dejeuner was served and Mr. and Mrs. VanEvery, dispensing with a wedding journey, repaired to their future residence, 208 Rubidge street, followed by the congratulations of numerous friends who attend to them the most cordial wishes for many happy years of wedded life. Both are well known, the bridegroom having been a highly respected resident of Peterborough for nearly a quarter of a century, and the bride having spent nearly her whole life in this city. Mrs. VanEvery is an ardent musician, and is a finished pianiste. In her earlier years of residence in Peterborough she was leading soloist of the choir of St. John's Church, and to her love of music and her musical skill she adds a love of flowers and rare success at their culture. Her popularity was evidenced by the large number of handsome presents sent in. Both of the bridal couple enter upon married life under the happiest auspices, which all unite in hoping may be happily realized.

Late Stories Fabrications

Mr. John Landry, Brock street, in reference to whom a story appeared in an evening paper yesterday, called upon the Examiner to-day to request this paper to deny the truth of the statement made. He never made the assertions credited to him, and states that the whole story is a fabrication. The story of the ghost as first recorded in the Examiner is correct, but the latter stories are hearsay only, and are unwarranted by the facts. Mr. Landry will in due course make a public statement of the facts through a medium which he has already decided upon.

Stole From Jesse James.

History was reversed to-day when the pawn shop of Jesse James in Kansas City, son of the famous bandit, was robbed of $300. The thief has not been arrested. James says he knows him, but refuses to add anything more except that he is a bartender out of work. The money was taken from a cash drawer during the temporary absence of a clerk.

CONSTRUCTION OF SEWERS BY DAY LABOUR BY THE CORPORATION

An Important Civic Departure is Decided Upon by The Board of Works—Mr. Martin Eary Will be Engaged to Oversee The Work—Contract To Be Let To J. E. Hayes For 1876 Feet, While Tenders Were Called on a Total of 3.37 Miles—The Council Will Make The Experiment of Doing Sewer Work by Day Labour.

The greater part of the time of the Board of Works meeting last night was occupied by a discussion on sewer matters, and, a radical departure was decided upon. It was decided to establish the custom of laying sewers by day labour, as this already been done with respect to constructing sidewalks.

Three contractors had tendered on the sewers in answer to the advertisements and the Board of Works at a previous meeting apportioned the work off, giving each of the three contractors a part of the work, the division being so devised that each contractor got the work upon which his tender was the lowest. Messrs. Sheehy and Robson objected to taking part of the work, and refused to accept the contract unless they should be awarded the whole work, which the Board did not feel free to do, as it was feared that the work would not be completed this year. The result was that at the meeting last night Mr. J. E. Hayes, the third tenderer was awarded the contract for the sewers on Simcoe, Reid and Park streets, the sections on which his figures were the lowest, and he will have the privilege of doing what other work he is able to complete, the price to be that of the lowest tender. The contract calls for 1,876 feet, and the cost will be $2,054.14, while the whole amount upon which tenders were called was 3.37 miles.

By Day Labour.

It was also decided that in addition to the work which Mr. Hayes will perform, the city will construct other sewers by day labour, and Mr. Martin Eary, who has for several years been foreman for sewer contractors, will be engaged by the City Engineer to have charge of the work, the understanding being that the work which he does shall not cost above the figures of the lowest tender for that particular part of the work. He will first start on the section on Stewart street from McDonnell to London street, and the contract price for this section was 82 cents per foot, the lowest price quoted in any of the tenders. The length of this stretch is 450 feet, and it is understood that if the price of the work by the system of day labour is low enough to warrant it, the work will be continued under the same system during the rest of the season, but it is up to Mr. Eary, if he wishes to hold his position, to keep the cost of the first section below, or at any rate not higher than the price of the tender, 82 cents per foot.

A Test Case.

There was considerable discussion as to the advisability of adopting the policy of doing sewer work by day labour, and it was pointed out that while the experiment of laying sidewalks had proved quite satisfactory, the sewers was another proposition entirely, and there was some doubt expressed as to whether the results would be as satisfactory, but the general opinion seemed to be that no very serious mistake would be made by giving it a trial, and, it was pointed out that if the work in the first section proved to be costing more than it should it could be abandoned, after that section had been completed. At any rate it was believed that if there was to be much progress made with laying sewers this year, and supplying the demand which the citizens are making for sewer connections some such policy would have to be adopted.

ANNIVERSARY OF VISIT OF PRINCE OF WALES TO PETERBOROUGH, 1860

Forty-five Years Ago Last Week, the King, then Prince of Wales, Paid a Visit to Peterborough---Some of the Incidents of That Day Recalled---The Town Then With a Population of 2,500, did Honour to the Prince of Royal Blood---Few in the City To-day Who Remember the Occasion.

This morning a local paper stated that it was forty-five years ago today that the Prince of Wales paid his visit to Peterborough. Considerable interest was aroused by this statement, and the Examiner by consulting its files learns that instead of it being on Sept. 14th that the present King paid this town a visit it was one week earlier, or Sept. 7th. In view of the interest aroused in the statement, false though it proved to be, the Examiner recalls some of the incidents of that visit.

Of those who are alive to-day, there are comparatively few who remember that memorable day. Mr. Jas. Stevenson to-day, when asked as to the date of the royal visit, recalled the event, and related some interesting incidents in connection with the visit. The year preceding that visit, Mr. Stevenson occupied the office of Mayor, and refused to accept it again, though it was offered him, and Mr. A. Sawers was the gentleman chosen.

The story frequently told of man standing on stumps on Hunter street on which to see the Prince pass by are characterized by Mr. Stevenson as fabrications, for Peterborough at that time had passed the stump stage.

George street, however, in those days presented a very different appearance from what it does to-day, and only a very few of the splendid structures seen here now were in existence then. A history, referring to the visit of the Prince forty-five years ago, says in part:

"In September, 1860, occurred the visit of the Prince of Wales to Peterborough. It was natural and fitting to receive with honour and courtesy the son of one who, both as a woman and a Queen has set examples rarely seen in "that fierce light that beats upon a throne." The Prince was a youth, of whom it was possible to hope that if he were not to display the brilliant military talents of his ancestor, the Black Prince of Wales, he would at least inherit the unblemished morals of his father. The people of Peterborough made great preparations for his reception. The town and County Councils placed $2,400 in the hands of a committee, who were given full charge of the arrangements. There were three arches erected by the committee, one in Ashburnham, nearly opposite Mr. Rogers' store, one on Hunter street, nearly opposite St. John's church, and one on George street, opposite McGreggor's Hotel. The Ashburnham arch was of Roman design, that on Hunter street was in the Tudor style of architecture, with towers, battlements, etc., while the third, the finest of the three, was built in the Gothic style; a lumbermen's arch was also erected on George street. Besides these, poles, surmounted by flags and festooned with evergreens, were erected at several points. The streets presented a handsome appearance, every building being decked out with bunting, flags, streamers and evergreens. At half past eleven the train bearing the Prince and his suite arrived at the station in Ashburnham, and as soon as possible the procession was organized and started in dazzling order.

"The procession moved forward in this order through Ashburnham, under the arch on Hunter street, and on to the Court House grounds, where a handsome pavilion had been erected. As soon as the Prince appeared on the platform the voices of a thousand children, who occupied seats in front, broke forth in 'God Save the Queen,' a verse being added in honour of His Royal Highness. The sloping ground in front of the pavilion gave the 15,000 people assembled there an excellent opportunity of viewing the scene. After the singing had been completed, addresses were read by William Lang, Esq., Warden, and by Augustus Sawers, Esq., Mayor. To these the Prince replied as follows:

"I thank you sincerely for the addresses which have been presented to me. In the Queen's name I acknowledge the expressions of your loyalty to her Crown and person; and for myself I am grateful to you for this welcome to your neighborhood."

"A deputation from Cavan township, headed by John Swain, reeve, also presented an address. After the presentation of these addresses the procession re-formed and passed through the principal streets. In less than an hour after his arrival the prince stepped on board the train leaving behind him thousands of hearts, beating not only with a warm loyalty to his Royal Mother, but with a whole-souled personal attachment to himself."

What Doctors Report Will Make Public

Doctors Bradd and Young and Their Report on Hill Post Mortem.

Found the Organs in Healthy Condition Prior to Shooting.

Dr. Bradd and Dr. Young, on Tuesday afternoon, September 12, made a post-mortem on the body of the late Thomas E. Hill, said to have been killed in Dummer Township by a bullet, on the midnight of August 24th.

Their report of the autopsy is not yet officially made, but it will state in effect when made that the body was five feet in length, weighing 100 pounds, and in regard to external appearance the body was in a putrid condition, with a small circular wound presenting on the posterior of the external wall of the thorax, between the tenth and eleventh ribs, one half inch to the left of the spinal column, one half inch in diameter. In front of the thorax (cavity of the chest), immediately below the clavicle (collar-bone), and one half inch to the left of the sternum (breast-bone), a circular wound was found, five-eighths of an inch in diameter.

Internally—On opening the chest cavity and tracing the wound from above, downwards and backwards, it was found to extend from a point at the lower margin of the clavicle, one-half inch to the left of the breast-bone, a distance of ten inches—a continuous perforation of pericardium (sack enclosing the heart), left side of heart, left lung and diaphragm. The tenth rib was fractured where it joins the spinal column. The opening in the back was opposite the space between the tenth and eleventh ribs. The right lung was normal, left lung collapsed. The heart was empty, and normal in all other respects.

From this it would appear that at the time of the bullet piercing the boy's body he was leaning forward in a procumbent position, and that this would reasonably account for the bullet having taken a diagonally longitudinal course from the point of entrance to the point of exit, that is, providing that contact with the internal tissues of the thoracic cavity did not cause any considerable deflection.

—The Christian Guardian pays the following tribute to the late Joseph Sutcliffe, sr., formerly of Peterborough: We deeply regret to learn of the death of Joseph Sutcliffe, Esq., a well-known business man of this city, and a greatly esteemed and honoured officer of Carlton street church. Mr. Sutcliffe's illness was comparatively brief. But a few days ago he was in his accustomed place in the church and was showing little, if any, evidence of failing health. He bore lightly his weight of seventy-seven years, and his vigour of mind and body would easily put the shame men of considerably less age. Mr. Sutcliffe had for some years retired from active participation in business, but took a keen and constant interest in current happenings. In Carlton street church, where his hearty and constant services were given to every good work, he will be greatly mourned and missed. His piety was deep, mellow and practical, and his kindly and genial personality endeared him to all.

Red Hot Flashes Off the Wires—Canadian and Foreign Despatches

Graft in Winnipeg.

Sensational charges of graft are published by the Winnipeg Tribune, which declares corruption to be rampant in the city works. One man, a Hebrew, testifies that he has been in the habit of handing city foremen $3 a head to put men of his own nationality on the rolls, and paying for drink for them besides, to keep in their good graces.

Dead Man at Wheel.

A dead man held the wheel of the schooner Charles Levy Woodbury during several hours of the night of August 8 on her trip to Honolulu from Layman Islands. He was a Japanese member of the crew, and died clutching the wheel. He was still holding it, and the vessel, though greatly damaged by a hurricane, which is supposed to have caused his death from over-exertion, reached port in safety.

Baron Komura ill.

Three physicians who are attending Baron Komura, the chief of the Japanese peace envoys, decided to-day that the baron has typhoid fever. His intended home trip to Japan via Seattle to-morrow has been postponed, and nurses were hastily summoned to his apartments in the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York, to-day. The baron's temperature was 102 degrees to-day, and he was said to be very ill, though only in the first stages of the fever. The decision as to his illness was reached after a consultation of Drs. Delafield, Brewer and Pritchard.

Two Years For a Kiss.

John Fedderman, a negro waiter in a Baltimore suburban hotel, was sentenced to two years in jail by a police magistrate yesterday for forcibly kissing Mary White, an Irish nurse maid. The maid is employed by a guest at the hotel, and was giving the children supper, when the negro came up behind her, threw his arms about her and kissed her cheek. Miss White became hysterical. Another negro wagered that Fedderman would not kiss the young woman. The affair caused great indignation among the hotel guests.

CURIOSITY.

Leads to Investigation and Truth.

"What shall we do to be saved?" was the title of one of Robert Ingersoll's lectures. People of faith, and people of no faith, flocked to hear it. Thousands are asking, "What shall I do to get rid of dandruff?" The answer is, "Kill the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness; and the only thing that will do it is Newbro's Herpicide. That is the very latest discovery of the laboratory, and it is the only preparation that claims to, or that will, kill the pestiferous dandruff germ. It is also a delightful hair dressing, free from all oil or grease or sticky substances. Try it and be convinced of its actual merit. Sold by leading druggists. Send ten cents in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Company, Detroit, Mich. Ormond and Walsh, special agents.

Russ and Jap Meet--Terms of The Armistice--Demarcation Zone Between The Two Armies--Maritime Captures Shall Still Be Lawful--No New Reinforcements by Either Side Shall Be Despatched To Theatre of War --Komura's Condition.

London, Sept. 14.—Gen. Fukushima, representing Field Marshal Oyama, and Gen. Ovahovski, representing Gen. Linevitch, met at Shaboth station, north Chantufu, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. They probably will take several days to arrange the details of the armistice.

First—A certain distance as a zone of demarcation shall be fixed between the fronts of the armies of the two powers in Manchuria, as well as in the region of the Tunan River, Corea.

Second—The naval forces of one of the belligerents shall not bombard territory belonging to or occupied by the other.

Third—Maritime captures will not be suspended by the armistice.

No Reinforcements.

Fourth—During the term of the armistice new reinforcements shall not be despatched to the theatre of war. Those which are already on their way there shall not be despatched north of Mukden on the part of Japan, nor south of Harbin on the part of Russia.

Fifth—The commanders of the armies and fleets of the two powers shall determine in common accord the conditions of the armistice in conformity with the provisions above enumerated.

Sixth—The two Governments shall order their commanders immediately after the signature of the treaty of peace to put the protocol into execution.

The protocol was signed by M. Witte, Baron Rosen, Baron Komura and M. Takihira.

Consternation at Lloyd's.

The announcement that by the terms of the Russo-Japanese armistice protocol maritime captures will not be suspended created consternation at Lloyd's yesterday, owing to the fact that some insurances had recently been effected at "peace" rates. It has been suggested that the underwriters hold a meeting and send a protest to the Japanese Government.

Nine Killed, 487 Hurt.

Tokio, Sept. 14.—According to the Metropolitan police estimate of casualties during the recent rioting, 388 constables, 16 firemen and two soldiers were wounded.

Among the mob and bystanders nine were killed and 427 wounded.

Admission Fee Charged.

Yokohama, Sept. 14.—The meeting held at a theatre Tuesday to protest against the terms of the peace treaty was followed by an anti-police demonstration. Fourteen police boxes were burned, 37 policemen injured and two civilians severely hurt. Many arrests were made.

The police say that the meeting was the private speculation of a professional agitator, who charged an admission fee. The disappointed audience denounced the swindle and demanded the return of their money. The trouble finally developed into rowdyism outside the theatre.

At 5 o'clock yesterday morning two companies of troops from Tokio arrived. They have been posted as guards at all the consulates and other points and quiet has been restored.

7,000 at Protest Meeting.

Yokohama, Sept. 14.—Seven thousand persons attended a meeting Tuesday, called for the purpose of protesting against the terms of the peace treaty. A resolution was adopted favoring the resignation of the Ministers and the safeguarding of the future by more careful use of the ballot. The meeting dispersed quietly.

BARON KOMURA'S ILLNESS.

Physicians Not Sure Whether He Has Typhoid Fever.

New York, Sept. 14.—Baron Komura, the Japanese peace envoy, who was reported yesterday to be suffering from typhoid fever, although the consulting physicians are not a unit on this point, was said last night to be in a satisfactory condition. His return to Japan has been indefinitely postponed, although most of the members of his suite will set out for home to-day, the original date planned for his departure. Last night Mr. Sato, spokesman for the Japanese party, issued this statement:

"Drs. Delafield, Brewer and Pritchard saw Baron Komura in consultation again at 6 p. m. They announce the baron's condition to be favorable, no new symptoms having developed, and the patient having passed a comfortable day. They are unanimous in the opinion that the baron's condition indicates nothing alarming or serious at present."

The physicians were not sure that the baron had typhoid fever, and that he might be suffering from complications from gall stones.

THE HAPPY CELESTIAL.

Welcomes Conclusion of Peace With Beaming Eyes.

Lidziapudze, Manchuria, Sept. 14.—Whatever may be the feelings of the Russian or Japanese soldiers regarding the conclusion of peace, one man welcomes it unreservedly and with beaming smiles. This is the Chinaman on whose land the war was fought for nearly eighteen months. To-day the road around here are filled with happy, smiling Chinamen and women, old and young, who, occupying clumsy carts loaded with their household goods are proceeding in long lines back to their old homes.

The Chinese greet the Russian soldiers with the one word, "Peace," which is repeated over and over again. Many of their homes have been devastated, but notwithstanding this they express their joy at getting back to peaceful and industrious occupations.

It is no exaggeration to say that the Chinese are now the happiest people in Manchuria.

It is reported here that the Japanese have disbanded the Chinese bandit organization with which they operated during the war.

WILL SUBMIT LEGISLATION.

Sir Wm. Mulock Promises to Continue Telephone Enquiry.

Ottawa, Sept. 14.—From an interview with Sir William Mulock yesterday the inference is drawn that the Government will submit telephone legislation at the next session of Parliament.

In answer to a question regarding the Parliamentary Telephone Committee, Sir William stated that no doubt Parliament would continue the enquiry next session.

Since prorogation communication are being daily received touching the various telephone systems in operation throughout the United States and continental Europe. These will form a very valuable addition to the statistical data collected by the Parliamentary committee last session, and by the time the House meets it is expected that all possible information of this character will be forthcoming to submit without delay to the committee. This will doubtless enable the committee to reach conclusions at a sufficiently early stage in the session to admit of legislative action.

EVERY COLLIERY CLOSED.

President Mitchell on Tour Cheered by 10,000 Miners.

Mahanoy City, Pa., Sept. 14.—Five thousand mine workers paraded here yesterday in honor of President John Mitchell, who was given a rousing reception. Every colliery in the Mahanoy Valley was closed and 10,000 employes made a holiday of it. There were only two banners in the procession. They bore these inscriptions:

"We honor our two good presidents, Roosevelt and Mitchell," and "We demand recognition of the union and an eight-hour work day. Come Mr. Baer, let us reason the ground."

"The union," said Mitchell, "is now stronger than at any time in its history, and is prepared to move in one solid phalanx to victory in its fight for right as it did in 1902. We shall demand a decrease in hours and an increase in wages."

EVIDENCE IN MINING DISPUTES.

Commissioner Price Hands Report on Cobalt Cases to Minister.

Toronto, Sept. 14.—Mr. Samuel Price of St. Thomas, who went to New Ontario to take evidence in a number of disputes as to the ownership of mining claims, handed his report to the Government yesterday. He investigated 15 disputes, taking evidence in all and submitting a report as to the rightful ownership in four cases which arose before Temiskaming was made a mining division. The disputants in these four cases were: Haines, Kay and Harvey; Hennessey and Hindson; Handy and Scully; Graham, Bowen and McChesney. In the eleven other cases only the evidence was taken to be submitted to George T. Smith, the mining inspector for the district. The decision of Hon. Frank Cochrane will be final. The disputes were as to priority of location and as to discovery of valuable ores.

Woman Burned to Death.

Toronto, Sept. 14.—Burned from the flames from her oil lamp by the light of which she was reading her Bible, Mrs. Beale of 49 Shannon street, was found dead in her room early yesterday morning. She was subject to epileptic fits and it is possible that in one of these her clothes caught fire from the lamp. Coroner Greig held an inquest last night at the residence and the jury rendered a verdict of accidental death by burning. Mrs. Beale was 62 years of age and had been married twice. Both husbands are dead. She lived in the house with her only son, Thomas Goldsmith. He works night work in the C. P. R. Telegraph Office.

Can't Hire a Hall.

Montreal, Sept. 14.—The efforts of the Salvation Army to open up operations at Ste. Louis de Mile End, a northern suburb of the city, which were at first disturbed by hostile demonstrations, have again received a check through the action of the owner of the hall cancelling the arrangement. The army officials are considering legal steps. Available halls are a scarce article in the neighborhood, the majority of the population being French-Canadian.

There is more real oxygen in a liquified form in the "solution of Ozone (the coupon kind)" than in any other preparation of a similar nature. As a prompt cure in the killing of all inside germs of thirst, lungs, stomach or bowels, it has no equal when coupled with "Celery King" the famous laxative. That the stringent Ozone needed a tonic of this nature to procure the best results was so apparent that the Public Drug Co., of Bridgeburg, Ont., offer through your druggist a free package of "Celery King" with every fifty cent or one dollar bottle of "solution of Ozone (the coupon kind." TURBINER VICTORIAN AFLOAT.

After Eleven Days' Rest—She Will Be Repaired at Quebec.

Montreal, Sept. 13.—The Allan Line Turbine steamship Victorian was floated yesterday morning at 8 o'clock from the mudbank in the St. Lawrence, near Cape Charles, where she has been stranded for eleven days. The liner was taken to Quebec, where she will enter drydock.

The latest word from the stranded and submerged Leyland liner Virginian at Crane Island is that she is lying easily on a mud bottom and can be easily raised and floated.

Boy Recovers From Lockjaw.

St. Catharines, Sept. 13.—Little Willie Lafferty, aged 10 years, of Merritton, was removed to his home from the city hospital entirely cured of lockjaw. Doctors around here are greatly astonished. The boy trod on a rusty nail about three weeks ago and the disease soon manifested itself. His jaws were so tightly locked together that in order to give him nourishment his teeth had to be pried open. He had lived principally on milk.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Local Man's New Invention Now on Market

Mr. M. W. Pierce Now Engaged in the Manufacture of Cement Burial Vaults.

Material Possesses Many Advantages Over Old Varieties—Made Entirely of Portland Cement.

The manifold purposes for which Portland cement is to-day being utilised, are scarcely realised by the general public, and that its infinite possibilities are as yet to a very small extent known, is certain. Its position in the manufacturing world is an unique one.

An entirely new use for the material, and one which in manufactured form promises to fill a "grave" necessity and to command an extensive use, has been embodied in an invention recently placed on the market by Mr. H. Pierce, of Peterborough. This is a new variety of burial vault, manufactured entirely of cement, which a little consideration will suffice to show, is a material particularly well adapted for this purpose.

"The Pierce Patent Burial Vault" is made of Portland cement and sand, together with steel braces imbedded therein and buttressed with metallic reinforcings. It takes the place of the commonly used outside box, and is an improved substitute for brick-ing-up or otherwise preparing graves, and is said to be much better and cheaper than vaults made of steel, slate or marble. It is so formed that when the lid is cemented to the vault it becomes practically a stone chamber, absolutely air and water-proof, and able to resist any pressure to which it may be subjected. It cannot rust, crack or decay, hence it will last as long as the earth itself. It being thus hermetically sealed, the contents will be preserved for all time.

The vault can be set in five minutes and sealed in three minutes. It has steel loops on the bottom outside so that it can be lowered by hooks without danger of chipping, and, being in one piece, is easy to handle. The lid has steel loops imbedded therein, so it can be lowered with straps or hooks. The vault, it is believed, will remove all danger from contagious diseases or polluting of water near cemeteries. It is endorsed by all boards of health.

A NEW ENGLISH CHURCH HYMNAL

Special Hymnal For Use of Church of England.

Compilation Committee is Decided Upon.

At the meeting of the English Church Synod in Quebec the subject of the compilation and publication under the auspices of the Synod of a special hymnal for the Church of England in Canada was the principal business considered this morning. Although the delegates had spent practically the whole of Monday morning and afternoon in discussing clause 2 of the resolution of Mr. J. E. Jones, the house very quickly disposed of it when it was again brought on to-day. The clause in question reads: "That the General Synod do authorise and direct the compilation and publication of a hymnal," and in Monday's debate some objection had been taken to the Synod incurring any financial liability in the matter.

This morning Mr. Jones announced that it had been agreed to add to the clause the words "provided in the contract with the publisher the Synod is not to become responsible for the cost of publication of such hymnal."

This addition met with general approval, and the clause was at once adopted unanimously.

The remaining clauses of the resolution, which dealt mainly with the constitution of the compilation committee, provoked a good deal of discussion, and some objection was taken to the clause proposing to submit the draft hymnal for suggestions and criticism to diocesan committees authorized to act in the matter and to every member of the General Synod. Some of the speakers appeared to think this would give cranks an opportunity to make all kinds of objections, and would greatly delay the publication. However, the clause was allowed to pass after the whole resolution had been considered clause by clause.

COPPER COMPANY REFINING PLANT.

In Course of Erection at Copper Cliff.

Sampling Works to Be Erected Near Cobalt.

The Canadian Copper Company, having decided to build a plant for the treatment of the auriferous mispickel ores coming from the "Big Dan" and "Leahie" properties in the Temagami Lake (East Lake) region, have lost no time in putting this decision into practical form. A stack is now building of a capacity to treat 100 tons of ore daily, as a minimum, and the condensation chambers for recovery of the arsenic values are also under way. The framing of the building to cover the furnace is completed, and the work of putting on the iron covering is well advanced. The plant is located at Copper Cliff, and, when completed, will represent an investment of rather over $50,000. For the gold and silver values in the mispickel the company will pay 95 per cent. of the assay value, and will also pay for arsenic contained at the price of one cent per lb. For nickel and cobalt values no permanent scale has been made, but it is understood that the basis of Mr. E. P. Earle's offers will be adopted, viz.: For quantities above 5 per cent., 12c per lb. for nickel, and 85c per lb. for cobalt. The connection between Mr. Earle and the International Nickel Company, which has been conjectured for more than a year, is now admitted. It is also certain that Ledoux & Co. will attempt the erection of sampling works near Cobalt if the miners give the firm encouragement.—Mining Review.

ALBERTA'S NEW PREMIER

FORMERLY A RESIDENT OF PETERBOROUGH COUNTY

Hon. A. C. Rutherford Born in This County--Attorney-General Cross Also Known in This City---Was a Native of Madoc and Was Prominent Lacrosse Player in The Earlier Days--Two Young Ontario Men Who Have Won Fame in The West.

Peterborough men seem to have a faculty for getting ahead, and it is a significant fact that two of the members of the Alberta Cabinet, including the Premier, Hon. A. C. Rutherford, were at one time residents of the vicinity of this town, one of them being a native of this county. The other man who has won success in the west is Hon. C. W. Cross, the Attorney-General of the new province, and is well known to many of the older lacrosse players in this city, as "Charlie" Cross.

Premier Rutherford.

Mr. A. C. Rutherford, the new Premier of Alberta, was born on a farm in Eastern Ontario, not very far from Peterborough. He is still a farmer, as well as head of a leading law firm in Strathcona. His elder brother, James, has for years been the successful manager of the Big Blenheim flour mills in Kent County.

As a citizen of Alberta, Mr. Rutherford stands midway between the old-timer and the new-timer. It was about ten years ago that he went to Alberta and hung out his shingle in the then dingy wooden town south of the Saskatchewan. There was then no Strathcona. The terminus of the Calgary and Edmonton Railway was called South Edmonton. In those days South Edmonton was anything but a promising place. A wooden hotel, a station, a few stores, three trains a week, Galicians, half-breeds, and whiskey were its chief characteristics. There was no railway into the old town of Edmonton, and no bridge across the river. Naturally Edmonton did its best—labouring under a heavy handicap—to attract settlers across the river. Quite as naturally South Edmonton did its best to keep the settlers from crossing. There had once been a ferry between the south and the north towns over the possible removal of the land-office across the river. The feud was not forgotten.

In the politics of the country, the Premier has always been steadily interested. In the general election campaign of 1900 he took a prominent, though never demonstrative part. He was always known as a tireless worker, as a man who never croaked and never said lurid things in counsel he was consistently moderate. As a citizen of the town he was progressive. As an Albertan he was a representative man, who had pinned his faith to the possibilities of Northern Alberta.

On the north side of the river, Mr. Rutherford was never very conspicuous before the year 1901. But one thing he had prudently ignored which many men chose to emphasize—the rivalry between Strathcona and Edmonton. His call to the Premiership will not be resented in Edmonton.

Attorney-General Cross.

The Attorney-General for Alberta, Mr. C. W. Cross, hails from the gold township of Madoc, and is most respects "Charlie" as he is known to his Varsity classmates of '93, is as good as gold.

A pupil of Upper Canada in the old school, Mr. Cross entered the University of Toronto in 1891. An ardent lacrosse man, he played for several seasons with the Tecumsehs, among whom he was known as "the Slugger." At Varsity he became a Leta Fraternity man and was always particularly fond of a sociable hour with his friends who didn't belong to the chapter.

After his call to the bar Mr. Cross, then in his 29th year, went to Edmonton, which was then in the midst of the Klondike rush. The old log town looked to "Charlie" like "Something-Doing Town." Wisely, however, he refrained from going on the grand tour to the Yukon. He saw a future for Edmonton. As partner with Mr. Short he became member of the firm with the queerest name in Canada—Short and Cross. Mr. Short is a Conservative.

Getting on in the West.

The firm soon became prominent and now includes half a dozen lawyers. Mr. Cross has been a successful man. He stuck closely to work; he married a year after going to Edmonton, built a fine house on the river bank in 1901 and in 1903 went on a trip to Egypt, with his wife and family. Last winter he was in Toronto and Ottawa as one of a delegation to push the claims of Edmonton as the new capital.

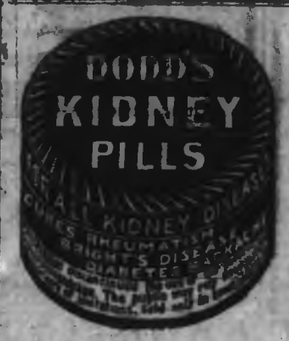
The success of Mr. Cross in Alberta is not due to brilliancy. "Charlie" was never an orator, but he has a head as level as the sky-line, fine organizing ability and a love of work. Moreover, he was as fond of politics as the average Easterner can be.

BRAVED PERILS OF THE CHASE

Lost Hunter Wanders Across Vancouver Island.

He Was Lost For Five Days in the Almost Unexplored Wilderness in the Heart of the Island.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 8th.—With his clothing in rags and his shoes dropping off his feet, Antonio Delponte dragged himself to the door of a farmhouse at the head of the Albernie valley, and sank exhausted to the ground. He was taken indoors and it was found that he was simply suffering from fatigue and hunger, having been lost in the woods for five days, during which time he had crossed Vancouver Island from sea to sea. Delponte, a miner residing at Cumberland, had left home on the first day of the hunting season for the almost unexplored wilderness in the interior of the island. He lost his bearings on the second day when he was about to return, having consumed such food as he had with him. Panic-stricken at the discovery that he was lost in the woods, he hurried frantically on, only to become more hopelessly entangled in the virgin forest. For three days he was quite without food. A few rotten potatoes found in an abandoned camp, and a grouse which he had managed to shoot, kept him alive when he was about to give up hope. Almost at random he turned south, and towards the evening of the fifth day he found himself in a clearing, the first sign of civilization he had seen since leaving home. Exhausted as he was, however, he had to swim the Stamp River before he could pursue his course down the valley, at the foot of which he found the lonely farmhouse—and safety.



Burglar Shot A Prominent Society Woman

Derperado Also Attacks The Nurse.

Bullet Struck Mrs. Morrell on Chin—Man Suspected of Crime Under Arrest—Denies All Knowledge of Burglary.

Greenwich, Conn., Sept. 13.—Mrs. C. W. Morell, daughter of E. C. Converse, of New York, an officer of the United States Steel Corporation, was shot in the face by a burglar who entered her residence here early to-day. The bullet struck her chin, shattering the jaw-bone, and imbedding itself in her shoulder. A nurse who has a room on the second floor of the Morell residence, was awakened by a flash from the burglar's lantern. She screamed, and the man attacked her with the butt of a revolver, bruising her arms and shoulders and breaking two of her fingers. A lady guest of Mrs. Morell heard the scream, and when she entered the room the burglar, while still struggling with the nurse, fired at her, but the bullet went into the ceiling. Mrs. Morell then appeared, and the man aimed a shot at her, the bullet taking effect in her face. As she fell, the burglar dashed past her and made his escape.

Several hours later the police arrested a man on suspicion at the Greenwich railroad station and locked him up. As the burglar wore a mask the women in the Morell house could give no description of him, except that he was a short man. The man under arrest is less than medium height. His clothing was soaked with rain as if he had been out of doors all night. A letter from a servant cook at the Morell residence was found on him. He said his name was John Brown, and that he lived in New York. He said he went to the Morell residence last evening to see the cook, but did not find her, and started back to the station. He denied any knowledge of the burglary.

Not Our Warsaw.

Smoke was seen issuing from a goods train laden with packing cases at Warsaw, and upon the cases being opened two infernal machines were discovered. They were promptly rendered harmless.

Is your Coal Wasted or Used?

It is comparatively easy to build a range that will make a lot of heat, but it requires the exact science of Pandora range building to produce a range that will use all the heat in the coal without waste.

A common range may burn twice the coal that a Pandora will, and yet do only half the work.

If you use a Pandora range you can be certain that your coal money is not wasted, but used.

IMAGINARY "OUTRAGES."

The firebrand journals of Ontario are striving to create the impression that the West is seething with rebellion in respect of the action of Lieut.-Governor Forget, in omitting to select Mr. Haultain to form a Government. The Toronto News, in mood hysterical, is piling Pelion on Ossa in berating the Laurier Government, and seems to be still in the throes of a long-drawn-out hysterical spasm. It says that "Mr. Scott was selected (to form a government), because Lieut.-Governor Forget is under the absolute control of a party machine." Of course this is rank nonsense, but that does not prevent the News reasoning from such premiess, in its attempt to commit journalistic arson by setting the Northwest on fire. All the wild-cat stories we hear in the East as to the indignant dissatisfaction in the West, over the terms of the Autonomy Bill, and over the selection of a man to form a government in Saskatchewan, are largely figments of the brain. The Examiner yesterday published a letter, from a staff correspondent, from Saskatchewan, which puts matters in quite another light. He used particular effort to sound public opinion, and reached the conclusion that conditions were "as satisfactory, politically, that the people were not worrying over the 'outrage,' which some of the eastern papers refer to." At the inauguration ceremonies, when it was known though not specifically announced, that Mr. Scott would be called upon to form a government, our correspondent, who moved about with a purpose of eliciting public opinion, only heard Mr. Haultain's name once mentioned, and that was when a man casually inquired if Mr. Haultain were upon the platform. No burning denunciation of the outrage, no apotheosis of Mr. Haultain as the heaven-born premier, who was to save Saskatchewan, from the grinding of the wheels of "the machine." Our correspondent says:

"Doubtless there are some in the West to whom the terms of the Autonomy Bill were not satisfactory, but the writer failed to encounter such a person, while he met scores who testified to their entire satisfaction with the Bill creating the new provinces. One man in speaking about the educational clause, was firmly convinced that the system of schools in the Northwest, was perfectly satisfactory, and the great majority of the people evidently resent strongly the mis-placed interest which the 'agitators' in the east are taking in their affairs."

If the Saskatchewanners are oppressed and outraged, they seem not to know it. It is left to the firebrand organs of Ontario to invent the "outrage", and thrust it upon their blinded northern brethren.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It would look, says Events, as if the last "Great Scott" has been discovered, he is the first Premier of the new Province of Saskatchewan.

If one-tenth of the dissatisfaction and sense of "outrage", which some Ontario newspapers attribute to the Northwest existed, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the accredited author of these "outrages," on the occasion of his recent visit, would have been "booted" instead of "feeted," been mobbed instead of admired, been hooted instead of applauded. For the breezy westerners wear their hearts on their sleeves, and haven't the knack of bottling up their feelings. If they felt "outraged" somebody would know of it in very short order.

The controversy is still going forward in the United States, as to whether the money of Rockefeller is "tainted," and whether it can be consistently accepted in aid of a righteous cause. There is a general agreement, however, that Rockefeller's millions were made, to some extent, by a disregard of the precept of the Golden Rule. The controversy seems to turn on the point as to whether this rich man's gifts are an act of restitution of (in the broad sense) ill-gotten gains, or an act of vanity. The newspapers would, perhaps, be better employed in condemning the fiscal system, and legislative conditions that permitted the heartless robbery of the widow and orphan, the oppression and crushing of the financial weakling, and the corruption of legislatures, that have tainted the Rockefeller method of making money. Money, in itself, is inanimate, and cannot be affected (outside the counterfeiter's art), by the manner in which it is made. The money itself cannot be tainted, and the matter turns on the point whether it is justifiable to endorse, by the acceptance, for good purposes, the illicit and uneconomical means, by which it was accumulated.

Zambesi Bridge Opened in The Heart of Darkest Africa

Remarkable Engineering Feat Approaching Completion—Members of the British Association Travel Through Heart of Africa in Electric Lighted Cars to Witness Ceremony—Prof. Darwin Touches Button.

Victoria Falls, Zambesi River, East Africa, September 13. — The bridge over the Zambesi River was formally opened to-day in the presence of the visiting members of the British Association. Professor Darwin made the opening speech. He commented on the remarkable achievement which permitted a party travelling in electric lighted saloon cars to visit a place which explorers had spent months of fruitless endeavours to reach. Professor Darwin quoted the forecast written by Erastus Darwin in 1785:

"Soon shall thy arm, unconquered, steam, afar Urge the slow barge and draw the flying car."

He said how little could the writer of these lines have foreseen for his great grandson the honour of opening a railway bridge in the heart of equitorial Africa.

At the conclusion of his speech, Professor Darwin touched an electric button which fused a wire stretched across the track of the bridge, and an engine decorated with Union Jacks, passed over. The party then proceeded on an excursion to Livingstone Island.

The total length of the bridge is 650 feet, consisting of a main span of 500 feet and two side spans. There are two lines of rails, and the weight of the structure is 1,650 tons. The height is about four hundred feet from the water. The work was commenced in October, 1904, and the bridge was linked up on April 1, 1905, on the very day estimated a year previously. There are still some finishing touches required before it can be said to be actually complete, but in the meantime railway material is passing over it, and 130 miles of line north of it have already been laid, and construction is being carried on at the rate of over a mile a day.

STAGE AMBITION IS SINCERE

Warm Commendation of Mr. W. H. Cluxton, Formerly of Peterborough, Now on American Stage.

Detroit News Comments Upon Success Scored—Now Playing "Unkissed One" in "Piff, Paff, Pouff."

The Detroit News of a recent date, contains the following reference to Mr. W. H. Cluxton, formerly of Peterborough, whose successes upon the stage have been recently the subject of much comment in the United States:

In these theatrical days of I-must-be-the-leading-man-or-starve attitude of the young actor, it is refreshing to meet with a young man whose stage ambition is so sincere that he is willing to accept any engagement, and to profit by the experience. W. H. Cluxton, who plays the "unkissed one," Lord George Pifle, in "Piff, Paff, pouff," at the Detroit this week, is this anomaly. Mr. Cluxton is a young Canadian, born in Peterborough, Ontario, who went to England eight years ago, got an opening on the London stage, and became a member of such first-class companies as those of Edward Terry and Beerbohm Tree. He returned to America about eighteen months ago, joining Nance O'Neill's company to play light comedy and juvenile roles. He remained with Miss O'Neil throughout her Boston engagement, winning much success in that city, especially in Suderman's "Fires of St. John," in which he played opposite to Miss O'Neil. Last fall Mr. Cluxton was especially engaged for the English Algy, in the short-lived "Baroness Fiddlesticks," seen in Detroit early last October, in all the glory of her millinery. Last spring he joined the Glaser stock company, and played in several of the productions by the Glaser company at the Lyceum. Determining to remain the summer in Detroit Mr. Cluxton studied voice with Boris L. Ganapol, and was offered an engagement by B. C. Whitney.

"It is an odd fact that when I was in England they always cast me for American roles, and now that I am on this side again they want me for English roles," said Mr. Cluxton, who is handsome and modest — another anomaly. "I played the American Horace Breen, in Edward Terry's 'Sweet Lavender,' in England, and yet, as soon as I applied to an American manager for an engagement he figured me out as an Englishman. I learned a great deal in England, but I prefer America. Beerbohm Tree, is without exception, the most marvellous theatrical producer in the world. David Belasco perhaps comes nearest to him on this side of the water. Tree is the idol of London and his theatre never has an empty seat, no matter how old the piece. He has not been out of London for several years owing to his popularity. His Shakespearean productions are like an Arabian Nights dream of splendid magnificence. The smallest detail is perfect. It was the greatest kind of an education to be of his company, but I longed for home, and left it to come to America to musical comedy. Sublime to the comic, isn't it? Of course I like straight dramatic work best, but one must eat and live, so I am glad to take the best the gods offer, and am really very happy in my present work."

Mr. Cluxton has a sweet and well-trained baritone and sings with artistic finish not often found in musical comedy. His songs, "The Melancholy Sunbeam and the Rose," and the love ballad at the opening of the second act are among the best numbers in the piece and he sings them charmingly."

Two Local Preachers at Convention

Annual Convention of Otonabee Sabbath School Convention.

Rev. J. G. Potter and Rev. W. McD. MacKay Will Give Addresses.

To-day the Annual Convention of the Otonabee Sabbath School Association is being held in the Zion Methodist Church, in that township. This Association is a branch of the county organization, of which Rev. J. G. Potter is president, and the prospects are that there will be a large attendance at the annual convention.

There will be two sessions, the opening meeting this afternoon, and the evening session. From this city Rev. J. G. Potter and Rev. W. McD MacKay will be present and both will deliver addresses to-night.

There are about ten schools in the township and each of these will send representatives to the convention, which will be of special interest to all who are engaged in Sunday School work.

In other years the convention in the different townships have been held about the same time in the year, and advantage is taken of this fact to secure the services of some speakers from a distance, who could attend the whole series of township conventions. But this year some latitude has been allowed the township associations and they have arranged their conventions on dates to suit their own convenience.

This afternoon the programme will be as follows:—

Devotional exercises.
Report of Secretary-Treasurer.
Appointment of Nominating Committee.
Reports of Schools through their delegates.
Address.
Address—"The Cultivation of the Missionary Spirit in the Sunday School."—Rev. D. D. McDonald, of Keene.
Collection and Benediction.

To-night addresses will be given by two Peterborough pastors, and the session promises to be very interesting, the programme being:—

Devotional exercises.
Report of Nominating Committee.
Introduction of President-elect.
Address—"Glimpse of the International Sunday School Convention."—Rev. W. McD. MacKay.
Collection and Benediction.

The officers of the Association are: President—Mr. Alex. Stewart. Secretary-Treasurer — Miss Laura Bennett.

FIRST FROST GIVES A COLD LOOK-OUT

Mercury's Little Preliminary Drive Towards Zero Last Night.

Last night was the first really genuine frost. The thermometer came down a peg below the freezing point, registering one degree of frost. Last night's little freeze did not, however, do much damage. The coleens in bed—the tenderest of bedding plants—were pretty well discouraged, but as a rule no considerable damage was done. The weather wise promise a little stronger frost, so that persons who want to save in bloom and growth a little longer some outdoor plants, will drive to blanket them.

Some Strong Objections to This By-Law

Merchants Feel That They Have Been Discriminated Against.

Supervision Committee May Have to Meet Some Objections To-Night.

There will be "doings" at the meeting of the Supervision Committee to-night at least it looks like it now.

The some of contention will be the bylaw recently passed by the council regulating the use of the streets by merchants for temporary accommodation for boxes of goods, etc.

Anumber of the merchants of the city are feeling considerably agrieved at the council for passing a bylaw which they claim works a hardship on them. And more than that they assert that they were broken faith with by the aldermen, who, while they knew that a petition was being circulated among the merchants settingforth what they considered would be a fair bylaw, passed the original bylaw through the council, imposing conditions which are almost impossible to carry out, and which entail considerable hardship upon the class of the community which pays the big share of the taxes.

Some of the business men are strong in their denunciation of the clauses of the bylaw, and point out that it is inconsistent. One case is referred to in proof of this. A Hunter street barber had a pole standing at the edge of the walk, and on one side of the old telephone pole, while on the other side there stood a tie-post. The barber was compelled to remove his pole, which was not nearly as offensive as either of the other two poles, which were eyesores, but which were allowed to remain.

The provisions in reference to exposing fruit is also objected to, and one merchant pointed out to-day that if the by-law were carried out the farmers on the market would be prevented from display of fruit and vegetables on their wagons, a custom which has prevailed for years, and which is still permitted by the police, though merchants are not allowed a similar privilege.

This is believed to be an injustice to the latter, and one of those affected by this apparent discrimination stated to the Examiner to-day that he would not object so much to observing the by-law if everyone else made to do likewise, but he does object to being made to do what others are exempt from.

These views will likely be represented at the meeting of the Supervision Committee to-night, when there is every possibility of a warm discussion on the by-law, which some believe will have to be repealde.

Neat Ties That Tie Neat.

Mr. Angus McPherson, the Men's Furnishing window-dresser in R. LeBrun & Co's store, has put in a very effective display of men's fancy silk ties in the north show window on George street. There are many skillfully arranged patterns of new fall styles, and all are the production of the Novel-Ti Company of this city. The window dresser has made a strong appeal to the men passing by. A feature of the display is a well executed window card with maple leaves worked in artistically.

Town Engineer Reports Upon Much Discussed Barnardo Sewer

The Board of Health met this morning at the City Clerk's Office, the following members being in attendance: R. Neill, chairman; Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer, Chief Roziel, Drs. Burnham and McNulty, Messrs. Parker, Schneider and Eyres.

A communication was received from M. A. McNamara, stating that he has two reidences on the west side of Water street in which the plumbing cannot be used because of there being no sewer. He did not wish to put in a cess-pool, as this would be beneath the kitchen. Other owners of property farther north upon the street also desire sewer connections.

The council gave notice of its intention to build a sewer on the street, but a majority of the owners had petitioned against it. The sewer was badly needed for sanitary purposes, and the Board was asked to recommend its construction.

After some discussion by the members it was decided to construct the sewer on Water street from Smith street to Hiller street.

A communication was received from Dr. Hodgett's, the secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, regarding the Barnardo Home, and also the complaint regarding the emptying of the sewage of the Lakefield House into the river. He would notify the Clerk of the Municipality of Lakefield that the same is illegal and must be prevented. He advised the Board to keep a watch, and, if necessary, take legal action to prevent the pollution of the river.

Town Engineer Reports.

A report was received from T. A. S. Hay regarding the practicability of constructing a sewer on Barnardo avenue, west of the public school. Mr. Hay reported as follows:—So far as providing a means of drainage from the two most important premises on the street are concerned, viz., the Public School and Barnardo Home, it will be sufficient to construct a quick sewer from Church street, eastwards to George street.

If, however, it is required now or at any time to extend this sewer, further west, the grade set for the part mentioned will allow of this, level having been taken as far as the city limits at the old Chemong branch of the G.T.R.

From Church street west the property is only sparsely built on at present, there being only five houses on the south. The length to be built from George to Church street is 460 feet which at $1.10 per foot would cost $506.00. The extension to the north boundary would be 840 feet more which at the same rate would cost $920.00. The annual rate to property owners would be about four cents per foot frontage for 30 years, and the connections $1.10 each.

T. A. S. HAY,
City Engineer.

Accounts Received.

The following accounts were received and ordered to be paid:—

Hold-up in the Soo.

Dunn Ridgeway, an employee of the Algoma Steel Company, at Sault Ste. Marie, was held up yesterday by three masked men, who demanded his money at the point of a gun. He handed over $150 and the men disappeared. The police are unable to locate the criminals. It is thought that they were professionals.

WM. WHITE APPOINTED INSPECTOR OF SEWERS

The question of appointing an inspector for the sewer construction under the Hayes contract was considered at the meeting of the Board of Works last night, and Mr. Wm. White was given the position, his wages to be at the rate of $3 per day for each day that actual work was performed by him. Ald. Johnston moved his appointment, seconded by Ald. Tovey. Ald. Batten, seconded by the Mayor, moved that Mr. S. Belcher be given the position, but the first motion was carried.

PETERBOROUGH TO PLAY SUDDEN DEATH GAME

The Midland League moves in a mysterious way. Last night a meeting of the executive was held in the Bennett House, Bowmanville. It was attended by the president and a representative of the Port Hope club, and some peculair decisions were handed out.

The $25 deposit of Lindsay was given to Cobourg for defaulted game, and Oshawa's 25 bucks goes to Port Hope. Peterborough's manager, according to Secretary Lockington, is willing to waive all claim to the money. Peterborough and Cobourg, the two teams tied for first place, were ordered to play a sudden death game for the championship, in Port Hope on September 23, a week from Saturday.

There is considerable opposition in town to playing a sudden death game and in view of President Pethick's statement recently that the League had no authority to order the final games, it is considered singular that two men, constituting the executive, should have ordered the game without consulting the Peterborough team as to its wishes in the matter.

LOCAL HORSES CARRY OFF MONEY

Mr. Martin Connors Returned This Morning From Ottawa.

Mr. Martin Connors returned this morning from Ottawa, where he has been attending the races in connection with the exhibition. Mr. Connor's two horses Lady Gotthard and Blucher, were successful in carrying off some of the prize money. In the 2.35 class race Lady Gotthard took second, while in the 2.24 Blucher secured third. Mr. Connors' prizes will arrive to-morrow, it is expected, and will be placed upon exhibition at the City Hotel.

Dr. Johnston's Donna Bello is also participating in the events.

The following rinks played yesterday afternoon:—

Dr. Caldwell	J Fitzgerald
Dr. McKinnon	W. Talbot
Dr. Greer, sk 16.	R. Waddell, sk 14.

The draw for the first round of the men's handicap match for the Captain's prize has been made. It is to be finished by Saturday, 23rd Sept. Members will find the list posted in the club house.

Several members of the club go to Lindsay to-morrow to play a return match with the Lindsay Club—it will be the first game played on Lindsay's new links.

* * * *

A golf match between Peterborough and Lindsay will be played on the Lindsay links near the Hospital on Friday, September 15th, at 2.30. This will be the first match ever played in Lindsay, former games having been played at Sturgeon Point.

LACROSSE.

A despatch from New Westminster, B. C., says:—

The senior lacrosse boys are in high glee over the prospects of having Mr. Fred. Lynch again on the Oval with them in their next game. Mr. Lynch has for the past two months been laid up with a lame leg, as the result of coming in contact with a stick swung by one of the Vancouver boys some time ago, but he is now over the injury and last night put in a good practice with the team. He will be a tower of strength on the home in the next game.

Capt. Berlis Tells of The Russ Troubles

Interesting Address at The Salvation Army Barracks.

A Converted Russian Who Had to Leave His Native Land.

Last night at the Salvation Army Barracks a good crowd gathered to hear Capt. Berlis, of Millbrook, in his talk on Russia, the land of his birth. The address was of the most interesting character and was much enjoyed by those who were privileged to hear it.

Previous to the Captain's address the band rendered a number of selections. A couple of welcoming speeches by members of the local corps and a song were given.

Lieut. Gordon, of Millbrook, spoke first and gave a short account of the work he and Captain Berlis were doing in that village. Then followed an interesting history of his early life and of his conversion in a mining camp in Montana. From a drunken sailor he had been saved and was now working in the army.

Capt. Berlis was given a good reception when he was introduced. He spoke for about an hour and from beginning to end he held the attention of his audience. The captain is an educated man and comes from a good family. He has travelled a great deal and has a wide and practical knowledge of the people of the world and the different countries in which they live.

In opening the speaker made a comparison of Russia and Canada; the many respects in which they are similar and some of the trials and temptations which the people of both countries meet with. Speaking of Russia's population, he said there were 130,000,000 people and 20 nationalities under the one crown. The established church of Russia is the Greek Church, with the Czar at its head. No freedom of religion is allowed in that country. No public meetings can be held without the permission of the police, and the latter are present at every assembly. Thousands of people are forced to depart their own religion and adopt that of the established church. Thousands are imprisoned, tortured and murdered because they refuse. In entering an established church in Russia one is struck with its magnificence. The decorations are of gold, silver, diamonds and precious stones of every description. But there is no sincerity in their worship.

In the political world the same conditions exist. No one is allowed to express their opinions. Few are allowed to have an opinion. In describing the heartlessness of the Russian police and officials, the Captain told of many of his own experiences. While a student at a university the intelligent youth yearly rose up in rebellion and fought for the rights of the people, and yearly the police and officials massacred hundreds and thousands of them. One particularly touching story was that of a young lady studying medicine. The police suddenly became suspicious of her and she was thrown into prison where she was burned alive by her jailor. Her fellow students rose up in rebellion and many of them lost their lives before they were repulsed. Such acts as these are of daily occurance in all parts of that country.

Capt. Berlis, like many of his fellow countrymen, was driven from his native land. He was discontented with the Russian religion, but when 17 years of age he was a member of the Roman Catholic faith. He joined them and studied for the priesthood. He passed the necessary examinations and was preparing to receive his theological certificates, when the police interfered. He had to stop his studies. Eighteen months later he left Russia for England. It was on the streets of London that he first met the Salvation Army. He was attracted by a [illegible] followed the Army to the [illegible] and afterwards attended night after night. Then he went to Germany, France, and Holland and back to England. Finally he was attracted to Canada. He went to Winnipeg and there met the Salvation Army again. It was in that city he was converted. Soon after he left for Toronto, to the training school, and after completing the course he was sent to Millbrook as Captain.

Capt. Berlis took for his text "My thoughts are not your thoughts, my ways not your ways, saith the Lord of Hosts." He referred to the lives of many of the great prophets of old, who at different times in their careers were all but lost, but the guiding hand of God brought them safely through the trials to live and accomplish the work He had set apart for them. God's ways are not our ways. He has given us work to do. We must pin our faith on Him or we shall never accomplish our task.

Gored By Bull.

James Wintrop, a Gainsboro, Saskatchewan, farmer, was crossing a field with his grandson, when a savage bull attacked them. Winthrop attempted to stand off the enraged animal whilst his grandson escaped under a fence, but was gored to death.

A Mysterious Death.

A man named William Roberts has met with a mysterious death at London, Ont. Mr. Robert Payne, for whom Roberts worked, is of opinion he was killed by a kick from a horse, but the police have not been able to obtain satisfactory evidence on the subject. In the meantime, the deceased has been buried. He was well connected, and received remittances from his brother, a manufacturer, in Yorkshire, Eng. A short time before his death Roberts had a large sum in his possession in gold, said to amount to $2,000, which has not been found.

Incidents in Port Arthur Election Case

Mr. Kennedy Not Responsible For Aitkens or Freer.

THEY WERE NOT HIS AGENTS

Judgment Dismissing the Hymer Charges in the Port Arthur Election Case — Strong Point in the Case of the Petitioner Fails— Nothing in the Personal Charges Against Mr. Kennedy.

Port Arthur, Sept. 14.—The impression prevails, after the outcome of the Hymer charges, that Mr. Kennedy will retain his seat. Mr. Justice Maclennan and Mr. Justice Teetzel, in a judgment clearcut as could be, decided that neither Aitkens or Freer were agents of Mr. Kennedy's. Aitkens held an appointment as agent to act for Mr. Kennedy in his behalf for the polling booth at Hymer's. The appointment was for a specific duty, and outside of that duty Aitkens' acts were wholly upon his own responsibility, and not as agent for Mr. Kennedy. Aitkens personally was guilty of corrupt practices, but the charges as they effected Mr. Kennedy must be dismissed. It was upon these particular charges, in which whiskey appears to have flowed as freely as water, that the petitioner based his principal hope of unseating the member. Those fallen through, the general impression prevails that the charges of technical errors by election officers will have no effect in dissolving the election.

The lawyers for the petitioner next turned on the personal charges of corruption against Mr. Kennedy. It was alleged that the candidate had personally offered to secure a liquor license for one Alonzo Sutherland at Hymer's if Sutherland would vote for him. It was also alleged that he offered Sutherland a dollar with instructions to "treat" the boys." Sutherland made statements in the box to this effect and was contradicted flatly by Mr. Kennedy, whose evidence was corroborated by William McBrady, who was present when the interview took place.

Sutherland had asked Kennedy to obtain a license for him, and Kennedy's reply was that he would have to secure a petition in the regular way. Mr. Kennedy left a memorandum of his expenses during the election. This memorandum showed he had paid Sutherland three dollars for accommodation. This charge petered out and was withdrawn.

Next a young man named Rawlson, from Lavalley, on Rainy River, was put in the box to prove a charge of personal corruption against Mr. Kennedy by having given witness two dollars. Rawlson said he had stated that Kennedy had given him two dollars to vote for him. This story he had retailed to various persons, but was only in fun. He had not seen Mr. Kennedy until after he had voted. Mr. Hellmuth, for the petitioner, put this witness through a severe cross-examination, inasmuch as his evidence was not what he expected it would be.

David Mills, who was serving as a clerk of the peace at the time of the election, and had the preparation of the poll books, went into the box in answer to a summons from Mr. Preston, the petitioner. A number of names added to the voters' list at the Court of Appeal had been left off the poll book. Mills said the names had been omitted by his clerk accidentally, and when his attention was called to the matter on election day he had endeavored to correct the mistake by adding the names at the booths.

Mr. McBrady, one of the deputies, refused to allow his poll book to be altered, and as a result nine tendered ballots were deposited, three being for Kennedy and six for Preston. Mr. Hellmuth contended that this would reduce Kennedy's majority by three.

GOUIN TO WHITNEY.

Asks Exchange of Views on Increased Subsidies For Provinces.

Toronto, Sept. 14.—Premier Whitney yesterday received a long communication from Premier Gouin of Quebec, on the subject of the readjustment of the Provincial subsidies. Before he read it the story got about that it was an invitation to Mr. Whitney to participate in another conference of premiers.

The letter, however, merely asks for an exchange of views on the subject. Premier Whitney has acknowledged its receipt and will discuss the question with his colleagues before he joins in the demands of the Province of Quebec for an increased subsidy. It is quite possible that Ontario will not participate in the contemplated raid.

SEPTEMBER 14 FATEFUL.

Meanwhile Norway-Sweden Crisis is Still Rather Acute.

London, Sept. 14.—Despatches from Christiania represent the situation between Norway and Sweden, as serious, owing to the determined attitude of the Swedish commissioners. Despatches from Stockholm, however, are less pessimistic and express the hope that a modus vivendi will be arranged. Apparently nothing definite will be known until to-day's conference at Karlstadt.

Much interest has been aroused by the presence in London during the last few days of Fridtjof Nansen, the Arctic explorer, who has been spoken of as the probable first Minister of Norway to Great Britain.

Spare Old, Destroy New.

Stockholm, Sept. 14.—An authoritative statement referring to erroneous reports circulated abroad is published this morning, in which it is declared that the Riksdag has not demanded the dismantling of the historic fortifications near Fredriksteen and Konsvinger, but has asked only for the demolition of the new fortifications erected during the past ten years, which are believed to be intended as a menace to Sweden.

INTENTIONS ARE PEACEABLE.

Sweden Disavows Intention of Opposing Treaty With Norway.

Stockholm, Sept. 14.—Political circles disavow any desire on the part of Sweden to oppose the arbitration treaty demanded by Norway, but they point out that only the preliminary negotiations in regard to the form and contents of such a treaty can be discussed at present, as the conclusion of a treaty is impossible until Norway has accepted Sweden's conditions and the latter has recognized Norway as an independent sovereign state. The Swedish intentions, it is declared, are wholly pacific.

The Dagblatt yesterday printed a private telegram from Christiania saying that the second to the sixth year classes of the Norwegian conscription have been mobilised.

A semi-official denial was given from Christiania last night to the statement printed in The Dagblatt. It is stated that only a few of the guards of the Norwegian army near the frontier have been called to arms.

The Hoban Inquest.

Toronto, Sept. 14.—By the tone of the evidence produced at the John Hoban inquest last night, the police arrested and charged the wrong man with the offence. Three people said that Charlie De Marco, who has been held in custody for over a week, is not the man who did the stabbing. Neither is he identified as one of the two men who are suspected of committing the murder.

By the evidence submitted last night before Coroner Powell the murder was committed by a strange Italian who had never been seen around the Ward up to that night, and never since. He is about five feet, six inches in height. He had curly hair, and as he ran up Chestnut street after the murder he carried a large clasp knife in his hand.

What the Oil Men Want.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 14.—Representatives of the principal oil industries in the Caucasus, including those of the Nobel Co., called yesterday on Finance Minister Kokovsoff and asked that the troops be kept at the works, that the police service be improved, that the unruly elements be removed, and that a long term loan without interest be granted. The Minister in reply said he sympathized in principle with the requests made by the deputation, and said he was ready to co-operate in every possible way with the oil men.

POACHER CAPT. POST.

Tells Story of His Surrender to Canadian Cruiser Vigilant.

Cleveland, Sept. 14.—Capt. Thomas Post of the fishing tug Bertha M. Cockrell, owned by A. Booth & Co., has arrived, and made an official report regarding the confiscation of the boat by the Canadian cruiser Vigilant Tuesday on the charge of poaching.

The tug carried a crew of six men, and is valued at about $7,000. She had on board 5,000 pounds of herring and 100 nets. The members of the crew were released, and the tug turned over to the Canadian customs authorities.

The tug attempted to escape and led the cruiser a lively chase for half an hour. Finally, however, the Vigilant fired two shots over the fleeing tug, and Capt. Post decided to surrender.

GENERAL OUTBREAK PLOT.

Includes the Intention to Assassinate King Peter of Servia.

Vienna, Sept. 14.—According to telegrams received from Belgrade, a plot has been discovered there and at Sofia to foment a general outbreak in the Balkans, with a view of compelling the interference of the powers in the hope that the Macedonian autonomy would be proclaimed.

The alleged plot, the telegrams say, included an intention to assassinate King Peter of Servia and Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria. Those engaged in the plot at Sofia have been imprisoned.

ANGEL CHILDREN.

Is there any happier woman in this world than that mother whose each successive little one seems to her but one more darling angel to continually lift her thoughts toward the sunshine of perfect happiness? But sorry is the lot of that poor mother to whom motherhood has ceased to be a cause of rejoicing, but has become instead a burden to be dreaded and looked forward to with melancholy and apprehension.

"About three months before our last baby was born (which is our fourth), writes Mrs. Nellie Carl, of Myrtlepoint, Coos Co., Oregon, "my health was very poor. I had been troubled for about eight years with female disease. I doctored with good physicians but obtained no relief, so I wrote to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, and was advised to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I did so, and am happy to say my health began to improve and I did my work up to the last, and felt splendid.

"I got along finely during confinement, and have the healthiest baby I ever saw. When he was three months old he weighed eighteen pounds; he is now seven months old and weighs twenty-four pounds. I can say I have had no return of my old troubles. I thank you very much for the good you have done me."

Any woman may write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., a statement of her case, which will be considered in absolute confidence by this physician who stands among the foremost specialists of the century in the treatment of women's diseases. He will send her (in a plain, sealed envelope) sound, sensible, valuable advice free of all charge.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page, illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of mailing only, or cloth-bound for 50 stamps.

Counterfeits.

Read what one of the GREATEST NEWSPAPERS IN AMERICA has to say on this subject:

"The manufacturers of Castoria have been compelled to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars to familiarize the public with the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. This has been necessitated by reason of pirates counterfeiting the Castoria trademark. This counterfeiting is a crime not only against the proprietors of Castoria, but against the growing generation. All persons should be careful to see that Castoria bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, if they would guard the health of their children. Parents, and mothers in particular, ought to carefully examine the Castoria advertisements which have been appearing in this paper, and to remember that the wrapper of every bottle of genuine Castoria bears the fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, under whose supervision it has been manufactured continuously for over thirty years.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

MANY MATTERS DISCUSSED
AT LAST NIGHT'S MEETING OF THE BOARD OF WORKS

The Question of Making All Sewer Connections Compulsory Considered—Streets Will Be Repaired and Sidewalks Laid—Alleged Carelessness of The Plumbing Inspector and its Result—Aylmer Street Drain at Last to be Repaired—Other Matters Under Discussion.

At the meeting of the Board of Works last night Alderman Hicks brought up the question of placing all the connections in the sewer to the street line at the time of laying the sewer, and thought that if some plan to carry this out could be devised it would ensure a much better quality of streets, and Ald. Tovey was of the same opinion. He contended that the city would never have good streets as long as they were torn up to put in sewer connections, because they were never left in as good a condition as they were before. It was pointed out that there were some objections to that plan, desirable even though it were in many ways, and one of them was that in passing vacant property it would be hard to determine where the connections should be laid. It was also stated that in the early days there were a number of persons who objected to having the sewer laid on the street opposite their property, and their objection had been overcome by promising them that they need not have the connection made to their property until they wished it, and all they would have to pay would be their proportion of the cost of the main sewer. It was felt that to some it would be a hardship if they were compelled to pay for the connections made at the time the sewer was laid, because they might never use it. No action was taken in the matter.

Repairing Victoria Avenue.

The city engineer reported as to the estimated cost of repairing Victoria avenue, and placing it in good condition. His estimate of cost was $282, and the committee recommended that he proceed with the work, as outlined by him in his report.

In response to a petition for a sidewalk on Barnardo Avenue, a sidewalk will be laid on that thoroughfare.

The Plumbing Inspector waited on the Board and requested that a ladder to enable him to make the smoke tests be purchased, and Ald. Batten was authorized to purchase a thirty-five foot ladder for that purpose, the same to be the property of the city.

Carelessness Alleged.

While the members present were discussing plumbing Ald. Hall called their attention to a matter wherein he thought the inspector had caused him unnecessary expense by alleged carelessness in inspecting a sewer connection, and he threatened unless a refund was made to take legal proceedings to collect the amount which he had had to pay. No action was taken in the matter in the meantime.

A petition was received for a sidewalk on Simcoe street from Rubidge to Reid streets, and the request will be granted, while in response to a petition from residents on Sherbrooke street that a drain be filled in, the engineer was instructed to report as to the best way of carrying off the surface water, which the drain is at present there for.

Aylmer Street Drain.

Ald. Johnston called the attention of the Board to the condition of the Aylmer street drain, and said that something would have to be done towards repairing it this fall, because if it were allowed to remain as it is during the winter there would be a repetition of the troubles of last spring, with the probability that there would be even more serious difficulty. He finally moved, after considerable discussion, that the engineer be instructed to repair the drain temporarily in the meantime, which was carried. The Board felt adverse to spending any more money than was necessary on it now pending the decision in reference to the proposed diversion of the water into the Otonabee river, a question which has been under consideration for some time, and which, awaiting the action of the G.T.R. which Company is expected to co-operate with the city in diverting the water if such course has not been definitely decided upon.

The bylaw fixing the fire limits will probably be amended to provide that the lot upon which the Peterborough Cereal Company, is erecting its elevator shall be excluded from the provisions of that bylaw. The engineer explained that a portion of the building was on lot 4, south of Simcoe street and east of Water, which is included in the fire limit, and, since it would be practically impossible to construct an elevator to conform with the provisions of the bylaw it was decided that it would be advisable to amend the bylaw.

Those present at the meeting of the Board last night were Ald. Adams, Chairman; Mayor Best, and Aldermen Johnston, Tovey, Batten, Hall and Hicks.

From Country Boy to Engineer; Leazier Babcock's Wild Exploit

Lindsay Man Who Had an Escapade Last Night on a C. P. R. Engine--Climbed Into Cab of Yard Engine and Ran it Through an Open Switch--Was Charged To-Day With "Having Taken, Stolen and Carried Away" a Locomotive--Was Probably Intoxicated.

"Did take, steal and carry away one locomotive engine, No. 2230, the property of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, contrary to the provisions of the Criminal Code."

Such was the startling indictment which Lezear Babcock had to face this morning at the police court. Lezear is a product of the classic precincts of Lindsay, and after spending the day in Peterborough, he evidently decided to end up the unwonted excitement, incident to being alive for one day, in a fitting manner.

Just how, or for what reason, he wandered to the C. P. R. yards last night about 11 o'clock is inexplicable to him to-day, but while there he embarked upon a journey at once thrilling and dramatic. What Lezier doesn't know about engines would probably make an excellent text-book for a correspondence school. But he has ambitions, and a certain amount of perseverance, and it is probably not his fault that, despite his inexperience, he is not running an engine to-day. In an evident desire to see the wheels revolve he promptly boarded the yard engine, which was standing upon the track with steam up. In some unexplainable manner he discovered the undercarriage of the throttle, which he opened with a jerk, and the engine was off, headed for the Golden West on a wild career. But, alas! Lezier's engineering knowledge, which was largely confined to directing the course of a plough between the ranks which dot the Lindsay landscape, was inadequate to meet the demand of the situation, and his ambitions in the way of long-distance records were rudely disturbed by an open switch. Lezier was nothing daunted, however, but it was his courage that resulted in his downfall, for in a hair-raising attempt to negotiate the feat of running without a track, the engine was brought to a sudden stop.

It was considered by some of the witnesses of the event that this method of obtaining a knowledge of practical science was rather too expensive, and the engineer in embryo was taken in charge by P. C. Stewart, and this morning made his appearance before Police Magistrate Deamble upon the charge mentioned above.

The prisoner pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by a jury. The preliminary examination will take place on Tuesday morning next. When seen this morning Babcock stated that he had no recollection of the events of last night. Just when he was arrested was a mystery to him, but he affirmed with utmost positiveness that he "had not been on the engine."

Three boys also faced the court on a charge of bathing without the amount of clothing considered necessary during the present cold weather. They were allowed to go.

An English tailor, who resides on Smith street, was the centre of interest for a time. He, it appears, on Tuesday night had an altercation at his residence of a nature which drew the attention of his neighbours, one of whom was annoyed to such an extent by the internal dissension that he could not sleep. Several female residents of the locality tendered their evidence, which was, in some respects of a divergent character, and threatened to result in a female imbroglio, with hair-pulling possibilities. The prisoner was assessed $2 fine, and $2.40 costs.

Mr. T. P. Coffee Died Yesterday In London, Eng.

Prominent Toronto Man Well Known in Peterborough.

Was in England on Business—Death Due to Blood Poisoning.

(Toronto Star.)

The sad intelligence was received in Toronto this morning that Mr. Thomas Patrick Coffee, the manager of the Trusts and Guarantee Company, Limited, Toronto, had died in a London, Eng., hospital of blood-poisoning.

The cablegram came from Father Lynch, of the Farm street Jesuit church, London, who has been looking after Mr. Coffee since he was taken ill on August 28, at the request of Father Coffee, of Guelph, a brother of the deceased.

Had Many Warm Friends.

The late Mr. Coffee had hosts of friends in Guelph and Toronto, and also in Peterborough, which he has frequently visited, who will sincerely mourn his untimely death. He was a big-hearted, whole-souled, lovable Irishman, and put the characteristic enthusiasm of the Celt into everything he undertook. His loss will be keenly felt in local Conservative circles, where his devotion to the cause always made him one of the hardest workers in campaign times. He was one of the old school Irish Catholic stock, and was right side of Sir William Meredith's right-hand men when the latter was leading the Ontario Conservative party.

In club circles Mr. Coffee was quite prominent, being a member of the Albany, National, Granite and R. C. Y. C. Clubs, in all of which he took great interest.

One Little Child.

Perhaps the most pathetic side of Mr. Coffee's death is that a baby girl, a year and a half old, is left alone in the world without a father or mother to look after her bringing up. The little one is named Madeleine, after her mother, who died shortly after the child's birth. Mrs. Coffee was a daughter of the late E. B. Hughes, of this city, and was married to Mr. Coffee on the 8th of April, 1901.

A Native of Guelph.

The late Mr. Coffee was born in Guelph, and was in his 46th year. He received his early education in that city, and afterwards took up the practice of law there with his brother, John, with afterwards studied for the priesthood, and became a member of the Jesuit Order. He was an alderman in Guelph for many years, and held different offices in the Conservative Association. Coming to Toronto in 1897, he became manager of the Trusts and Guarantee Company, which post he had since successfully held.

Mr. Coffee went to England in the early part of June on business for the Trust Company. He was then enjoying splendid health as was his wont. Consequently the news of his serious illness came with a great shock to his friends here.

The surviving members of the family are his father, Mr. Benais Coffee, who lives in Guelph; two sisters, Mrs. Kehoe, who lives in Kansas, and Miss Coffee, of Guelph, and a brother, Father Coffee.

Body to be Brought Here.

The body will be brought home, and the funeral will probably take place from his late residence, 41 Maple avenue, Rosedale, to Mount Hope Cemetery, where the remains of his wife are interred. Father J. M. Cruise, of Our Lady of Lourdes, of which church Mr. Coffee was a member, will likely have charge of the services.

Red Hot Flashes Off the Wires—Canadian and Foreign Despatches

Woman Fur-Gatherer.

Mrs. E. R. Roberts, furrier, Dawson, has been on a fur-buying expedition in the Yukon and Alaska, picking up a large quantity of which she took by way of St. Michael to Victoria, for shipment. She sent off a number of silver-top fox skins to England, realizing a good profit on the venture.

Texas' Fat Boy.

Willie Stout, "the Texas Fat Boy," is exhibiting at Ottawa, Kansas. He is 26 years old, and weighs 722 pounds, is 84 inches around the waist, and 42 inches around the thigh. At the age of 11 he weighed 330 pounds. He eats two meals a day and takes no more nourishment than the average man.

Eels in the Water.

A Springfield, Mass., despatch to the New York World says a woman of that city, while washing, found a live eel in the tub. Soon two more came through the water pipe. She fried the eels and ate them. There had been a shortage of water, and a pond was used to furnish the city supply. It is supposed the fish were drawn into the mains.

Ton of Paint Each Trip.

To keep the big Allan turbine steamer Virginian in shipshape appearance takes about a ton of paint for every single going over. The operation is completed once in two voyages, and the painters commence as soon as the liner docks in port, doing about half the work before she sails, and finishing it when she reaches the other side of the Atlantic.

Gold in Ireland.

Lew Reynolds, a mining engineer of Washington, and Ira D. Robinson, of New York, while on a recent visit to Europe, visited Donegal, Ireland, where traces of gold were recently said to have been discovered. They obtained specimens of clay, which they took with them to New York to test. The Earl of Shaftesbury is landlord of the property, and syndicates, it is said, are being formed to acquire mining rights.

Ask Heavy Damages.

Premier Gouin as Attorney-General of the province of Quebec, to-day entered action for $40,000 damages against the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Company. The ground for action is that the building of a power dam by the company over the Richelieu River, near Chambly, caused ice to form so that the government bridge was swept away on two successive springs. Previous to the dam being built the current ran so swiftly at that point that the ice did not form near the bridge.

Girl Missing, Suicide Feared.

Miss Schroeder has been missing from her home in Michigan City, since Sunday, and it is believed that she drowned herself in the harbour while mentally deranged. Miss Schroeder has been in ill health for several months and at times has been so despondent that she threatened to take her life. Three weeks ago she was prevented from jumping over a bridge rolling into the harbour. Sunday she eluded her relatives, who have been watching her closely of late, and since that time no trace of her has been obtained.

Young Elopers.

Young elopers these, sixteen-year-old Claude Bradshaw, and his adopted sister, Nina Bradshaw, aged twelve, of Norfolk, Va., have been mysteriously missing from their home near Seaman, Va., since yesterday morning and are known to have headed for North Carolina, the Gretna Green of Southern Virginia, with matrimonial intent. The two left home on bicycles and carried with them a revolver. Those interested hope the youth of the pair will occasion delay in securing the marriage license, and that the wedding may be stopped.

A Chicken Theif Trust.

To fight what they call a chicken thief trust, the farmers of Warren and Hunterdon Counties, New Jersey, have banded themselves into a mutual protective association. The stealing of chickens has been going on lately on a wholesale plan. M. C. Mulligan, had 150 fowls stolen and Mrs. Sarah Cummips 180 in one night. Four adjoining houses were visited the same night. John Hayes heard prowlers around his barn the other night, fired a revolver and saw twelve men run from the barn. The belief is that the thieves have gone into the business of stealing chickens by the wholesale, shipping them in large quantities to the city markets.

The Conference On Education At Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Geo. Gregg, of New York, Speaks Interestingly.

The Local Work and its Necessities—The Movement Spreading.

There was a good representation of different interests relating to the educational work for men, at the conference at the Y. M. C. A. building last evening, conducted by Mr. Geo. A. Gregg, of New York City, secretary of the International Committee, Y. M. C. A., for the educational department.

Mr. Gregg, with the aid of charts admirably arranged, illustrated the need of such work, pointing out that the large percentage of young men left school before the age of fourteen.

He then went on to show how the Y. M. C. A. had adapted itself to meet these needs, evident by the fact that thirty-three thousand students were in educational classes in the Y. M. C. A. of North America last year.

He showed the wide scope of the educational department, embracing as it does, evening classes, literature, practical talks and educational classes.

The conference concluded with a short study of the local work—what had been accomplished and what it was possible to do. Several new subjects for study were decided upon.

Mr. Gregg, of Toronto, who was for many years a professor in Knox College.

The address to-night will be in a popular style, and young men and citizens generally are invited.

Warm Welcome Was Tendered To The Bishop

Bishop Sweatman Given Reception Last Night.

Replies Feelingly to Welcome of Congregation and Diocese—Regrets That His Health is Still Impaired—A Large Attendance.

The many friends in this city of Bishop Sweatman, who was to have performed the rite of confirmation at St. John's church some months ago, but who was prevented through illness, will learn with pleasure that he has returned after his trip, improved in health. The Globe, referring to his return, says:

A heartfelt and joyous reception was tendered to Right Rev. Bishop Sweatman last night on the grounds of St. Alban's Cathedral, when, together with Mrs. Sweatman, he was welcomed home from his trip abroad in search of health by both his congregation and diocese. A large tent, pitched in the rear of the cathedral, was ablaze with light and colour, and there were gathered a representative body of the Episcopalians of Toronto to congratulate the Bishop on the improved state of his health and to shower good wishes upon him.

On behalf of St. Alban's Cathedral Rev. Canon Macnab stated it a duty crowned with pleasure to extend the heartiest felicitations and a welcome home to the Bishop and Mrs. Sweatman. The Bishop was assured of the undiminished personal loyalty of his congregation, and all tendered the earnest hope that he might be spared for many a year, that they might be privileged to help him long in his godly work.

Rev. Canon Sweeney expressed welcome on behalf of the Diocese of Toronto, one of the greatest in the colonies. That the Bishop might successfully carry out the responsibilities of this vast jurisdiction the prayer had gone up that his health might be restored, and that he might go on from strength to strength.

When the Bishop arose to respond to these hearty greetings he was welcomed with no uncertain sound by all present. He was visibly touched by the reception, and expressed satisfaction that he was once more in his own diocese. For the words delivered on behalf of St. Alban's and the diocese he was deeply grateful. He assured his congregation that he had always received from them the utmost co-operation, and that he was firmly bound to them by the ties of affection. To the Diocese of Toronto he heartily acknowledged his thanks for the great representation of clergy and laity present. It was his great regret that he had not returned in full vigour and able to at once return to active duty. Only about four weeks ago had he begun to recuperate, but he cherished every hope that a short rest would accomplish much.

The musical programme was supplied by Mr. R. S. Pigott, who sang several songs and created with great taste and with his usual success. Miss Brodigan, Miss Smellie, Miss Blackmore, Miss Ridout, Miss W. Evans, and Mrs. Massey assisted.

Development of the Trade With Canada

Japanese Business Interests Form Organization.

PROTEST OF PEERS OF JAPAN

Premier Katsura Addresses Wise Words to the Local Governors—Asks Their Assistance in Developing the Country—Delay in Making Public Text of the Anglo-Japanese Treaty.

Tokio, Sept. 15.—In spite of the strong undercurrent of indignation pervading all classes over the terms of peace arranged with Russia, typical business men here are following a wiser course without repining over an accomplished fact. An important organization representing 81 leading business interests has been formed under the presidency of M. Iwade, a millionaire, which aims to work for the development of home industries and foreign trade with redoubled energy. A significant feature of the organization is that it consists of a wealthy and conservative element, representing an enormous combination of capital. Its interests and energy will be principally directed towards the exploitation of trade with Corea and China. The organization is prepared to co-operate in this direction with foreign capitalists.

Advice to the Governors.

In a speech before the local Governors Premier Katsura said: "Now that peace has been restored your further efforts are desirable in dealing with post bellum measures so as to afford full play to the enterprising energy possessed by the nation in so remarkable a degree.

"The national energy must be so guided as to realize an expansion and development commensurate with the extent of its victories.

"In enforcing restrictive measures over the press promulgated by an urgency ordinance, you are required to be guided by moderation."

Peers Protest.

Eleven peers, headed by Prince Nijo, memorialized the Government yesterday, criticising its failure to prevent the recent disturbances where the Emperor resides, and asking why the chief of the Metropolitan Police should have been degraded, while the Home Minister, his superior, is permitted to retain his post.

Yokohama Quiet.

Yokohama, Sept. 15.—The city was quiet yesterday, under military occupation. There were several rowdy outbreaks during the night, but no damage was done. Thirteen arrests were made.

Will Postpone Publication.

Paris, Sept. 15.—The Foreign Office has received a despatch from the French Minister at Tokio saying that calm has been re-established, and that it is the present intention to postpone making public the text of the treaty between Great Britain and Japan for a month, when it is expected the texts of the treaty of alliance and of the Portsmouth treaty will be communicated to the public at the same time, as the two documents are expected to counterbalance each other with the Japanese public. It is said that the alliance does not contain surprises, but that in addition the agreement covers secret clauses to be known only to the contracting parties.

Baroness Komura Safe.

New York, Sept. 15.—A cablegram has been received from Baroness Komura, inquiring as to her husband's condition. The Japanese were much pleased at the receipt of the cablegram as despatches had been received in this city reporting Baroness Komura and her children to have been murdered.

The Armistice Negotiations.

Godsandi, Manchuria, Wednesday, Sept. 13.—Another letter from Field Marshal Oyama, with regard to the armistice, arrangements, was received in the Russian lines yesterday. The communications of the commanders-in-chief were written in French by the Russians and in English by the Japanese.

Capt. Kosakevich, who delivered Gen. Linevitch's first reply to Field Marshal Oyama, was stopped at a Japanese outpost, a mile to the southward of the Russian advance post, where a Japanese, speaking perfect Russian, requested him to await the arrival of a Japanese officer.

On the latter's arrival the letter from Gen. Linevitch was handed over and Capt. Kosakevich returned to his own lines.

Chinese Rise Against Germans.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 15.—Oriental advices received yesterday say that disappointed Japanese threaten the assassination of Baron Komura and Count Katsura over the peace treaty.

Japanese police have prevented Prof. Terigony, released from Sakhalin, where he was serving a life sentence for complicity in the assassination of Alexander II., from remaining in Japan, and he is coming to America.

Tientsin newspapers declare that the Chinese will rise against the Germans in Shantung on Saturday next.

Rojestvensky Recovered.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 15.—A letter received here from Japan says Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky has completely recovered from the wounds which he sustained at the battle of the Sea of Japan, but that he will not come home until the peace treaty is ratified.

Says Report is Untrue.

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—A despatch sent from St. John's, Nfld., announcing that Hudson Bay people are in danger of starvation, owing to the Canadian Government steamer Neptune being tied up on account of a dispute between the Marine and Mounted Police Departments, is described by Fred Whitehead of the Mounted Police as untrue. The steamer Neptune has left St. John's and is steaming north to meet the steamer Arctic, waiting off the coast of Labrador. There was a delay due to accident.

Dr. James Neish Dies in Jamaica.

Kingston, Sept. 15.—Dr. James Neish, a former Kingstonian, died at Old Harbor, Jamaica, on August 28, aged 71 years. He was born in 1834 at Dorchester, England. He was a graduate of Queen's in 1865, and in early times was editor of The Kingston News, when it was the Reform paper here. Over thirty years ago he went to Jamaica, accepting the position of district medical officer at Old Harbor.

OPERATIONS AVOIDED

Two Grateful Letters from Women Who Avoided Serious Operations.—Many Women Suffering from Like Conditions Will Be Interested.

When a physician tells a woman, suffering from ovarian or womb trouble, that an operation is necessary it, of course, frightens her.

The very thought of the operating table and the knife strikes terror to her heart. As one woman expressed it, when told by her physician that she must undergo an operation, she felt that her death knell had sounded.

Our hospitals are full of women who are there for ovarian or womb operations!

It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but such cases are much rarer than is generally supposed, because a great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after the doctors had said an operation must be performed. In fact, up to the point where the knife must be used to secure instant relief, this medicine is certain to help.

The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who, by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, have escaped serious operations.

Mrs. Robert Glenn of 454 Marie St., Ottawa, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so well and widely known that it does not need my recommendation, but I am pleased to add it to the many which you have in its favor. I have suffered untold agonies from ovarian troubles for nearly three years, and the doctors told me that I must undergo an operation, but as I was unwilling to do this, I tried your Vegetable Compound, and I am only too pleased that I did so, for it restored me to perfect health, saving me the pain of an operation and the immense bills attending the same. Pray accept my hearty thanks and best wishes."

Miss Margret Merkley of 275 3d Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Loss of strength, extreme nervousness, severe shooting pains through the pelvic organs, cramps, bearing down pains, and an irritable disposition compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor, after making an examination, said that I had ovarian trouble and ulceration, and advised an operation as my only hope. To this I strongly objected—and I decided as a last resort to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"To my surprise the ulceration healed, all the bad symptoms disappeared, and I am once more strong, vigorous and well; and I cannot express my thanks for what it has done for me."

Ovarian and womb troubles are steadily on the increase among women—and before submitting to an operation every woman should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and write Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. for advice.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been curing the worst forms of female complaints, all ovarian troubles, inflammation, ulceration, falling and displacement of the womb, leucorrhœa, irregularities, indigestion and nervous prostration. Any woman who could read the many grateful letters on file in Mrs. Pinkham's office would be convinced of the efficiency of her advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Day Labour System To Be Abandoned

Ald. Adams, chairman of the Board of Works, informs the Examiner this afternoon that Mr. Richard Sheehy has also agreed to sign the contract for his portion of the sewer work, so that the probabilities are that the system of day labour will not be tried by the corporation.

Yesterday Mr. Robson informed Ald. Adams that he was prepared to accept his contract, and now that Mr. Sheehy is also in line the whole work will be carried on according to contract.

The principal ingredient—the one that stops the headache, is a vegetable ingredient, imported for us from Japan. It wont hurt you any more than will the soda.

The other ingredients of Zutoo are just as harmless.

If you knew what the drug cures contain, and their ultimate effect on the system, you would discard them at once and take Zutoo, which is harmless as

Police Force Will Not Now Be Increased

Suggestion to Add a Man Meets With Opposition.

Chairman of The Opinion That The Force is Large Enough.

A suggestion was made at the meeting of the Supervision Committee last night that another policeman should be added to the staff. Ald. Hall fathered the suggestion, and said that a number of ratepayers had spoken to him on the matter, and he believed that there was enough work in this city for a larger staff than that at present employed. He pointed out that in reality there was one member less than there was before the union of Peterborough and Ashburnham, because the latter village employed one before the union. The suggestion did not meet with much sympathy from the other members of the council present, the two Ald. from the east ward stating that there was no general agitation there for a policeman, and the other members were of the opinion that next year would be early enough to think of increasing the force. One alderman stated that at the time the members of the force were given their increase in salary it was understood that this action was taken in preference to increasing the force, and he thought it would be bad policy to employ another man at the present time.

The chairman, in giving one of his reasons for advocating the employment of an additional man said that frequently when he suggested to the Chief some work which the police could be detailed to do, he was met with the statement from the chief that he had not enough men to do the work, and that at present the force was too small. It is not at all likely, however, that there will be any increase in the staff during this year.

An Increased Attendance at Trinity School

Number of Peterborough Boys Who are Attending Port Hope College.

This Popular Boys' School Will be Well Attended this Year.

The Trinity College School, Port Hope, which a number of Peterborough boys are attending, opened yesterday, says the Port Hope Guide, and the students are arriving on all trains. Many of the old boys have returned, and there are numerous new faces. The headmaster, Dr. Rigby, is to be congratulated on the growing success of the school. Last year the attendance was about one hundred and twenty-five, but this year it is expected to reach one hundred and forty, which will probably be the largest attendance in the history of the school. During the holidays the school has been thoroughly renovated and everything is in excellent condition. A new furnace has been installed and the plumbers have been busy for weeks past. The hospital has undergone numerous repairs, and everything has been well attended to for the comfort of the students.

It will be remembered that Mr. Nightingale left at the conclusion of the last term, and his place will be filled now by Mr. Broughall. There have been two additions to the teaching staff, Messrs. T. W. Lawson, B.A., and E. H. Kerr, B.A., both from Trinity College, Toronto.

Saw Queen's Coronation.

A man of 95, who witnessed the coronation of Queen Victoria, is John Turner of Paola, Kansas. At the age of 16, he was body servant of Lord Thomas Dundas, and he served six years in the Royal Navy. He bought a fruit store in London with his savings, and one of his customers was Charles Dickens. He looks like a man of 60, works in his garden daily, and, when the weather is fine, walks from his home to the business part of town, a distance of five blocks and back. Until a few years ago he was a director of the Miami County National Bank of Paola.

ALL IT NEEDED

There is more real oxygen in a liquified form in the "solution of Ozone (the coupon kind)" than in any other preparation of a similar nature. As a prompt cure in the killing of all inside germs of thirst, lungs, stomach or bowels, it has no equal when coupled with "Celery King" the famous laxative. That the stringent Ozone needed a tonic of this nature to procure the best results was so apparent that the Public Drug Co., of Bridgeburg, Ont., offer through your druggist a free package of "Celery King" with every fifty cent or one dollar bottle of "solution of Ozone (the coupon kind." Sold by W B. WARNE.

THE "BOX" BY-LAW HAS AT LAST BEEN MADE SATISFACTORY

Much Discussed By-Law Again Amended and Merchants Will Have Until Three O'clock to Open Their Boxes on The Street—Must Remove all Nails and Boxes Promptly—Considerable Discussion on Matter—Exception Made in Case of Fruits and Perishable Goods Bill Boards Must Also Come Off The Streets.

As was predicted by the Examiner yesterday, the bylaw regulating the placing of boxes, etc., on the streets, proved to be a knotty proposition at the meeting of the Supervision Committee last night, and, after working over it for nearly two hours, it was at last transformed into a very harmless piece of legislation. It will be remembered that the bylaw was re-introduced by the council because of a ruling by Police Magistrate Dumble, to the effect that a prosecution under it could not be made, in certain cases, the reason being that since it said that goods should not be on the streets in boxes after "12 o'clock in the forenoon," instead of "12 o'clock noon," there was no time in the day which could be said to be "12 o'clock in the forenoon," and in view of this decision by the Magistrate, the council thought it better to change it, so that a conviction could be secured.

With this in view it was brought up at the last meeting of the council with the correction made, but it was not passed, there being considerable opposition to it, and it was then decided to refer it back to the committee, to see if it could not be licked into such shape that it would be acceptable to the merchants, and, at the same time, safeguard the interests of the city. Strong objection was taken to the clause which provided that no boxes could be opened on the streets after noon, the contention being that there were occasions when it would be a hardship to the merchant if he were compelled to have all boxes off the street at that hour, and last night the opinions of the merchants who thought this way, prevailed, and the time was extended to three o'clock in the afternoon, and they must not start to open them until after five o'clock in the morning, the council evidently believing that night work is not advisable. While in the petition presented by the merchants to the council, it was set forth that to place a specific time limit was not exactly in line with their ideas, it is not expected that this provision will be very strongly objected to by the business men.

A clause in the petition referred to above will be embodied in the bylaw, when it is next presented to the council, that which provides that all boxes, etc., shall be opened, and the contents removed into the stores promptly, and that the boxes shall be removed from the streets, and nails, etc., shall be gathered up from the streets.

Exception will be made in the case of perishable goods, which may be taken in at any hour of the day, and on Saturdays. A provision will be added to the bylaw which, in addition to the other obstructions which are prohibited on the streets, bill-boards will be added.

The amended bylaw will be put into the hands of the City Solicitor to put into shape, and another attempt will be made to pass it.

HEAVY TRAFFIC IN WOOD UPON THE TRENT CANAL.

A good indication of the amount of traffic upon the river and canal was furnished yesterday by the fact that thirteen boats and barges yesterday passed through the lift lock, bearing in all over three hundred cords of wood, 250 of which were for the Peterborough Pail and Cartage Company.

Mr. Frank Moran's tug, the Lakefield, had in tow three scows of wood. The amount of wood being received from the northern country in this year abnormal, and there is every prospect of a continuance of the heavy traffic till navigation closes. This is some slight indication of the tremendous rush of traffic that would ensue upon the completion of the Trent Canal from Georgian Bay to Lake Ontario at Trenton.

Resolution of Condolence to Mr. Robert Weir

Passed at Meeting of R. T. of T. on Tuesday Evening.

A resolution of condolence was unanimously passed at a meeting of Dan Spence Council R.T. of T., held on Tuesday evening last, to Mr. Robert Weir, who for many years has been a valued member as well as a prominent worker in the interests of the Society. The resolution which was forwarded to-day is as follows:—

Robert Weir, Esq., Peterborough:—

Dear Brother,—At a meeting of Dan Spence Council, Royal Templars of Temperance, held last evening, a resolution was passed expressing deep sympathy with you on account of the death of your son, Mr. H. S. Weir. We know that in cases of close bereavement, it is little that friends can do to soften the affliction but we wish you to know that so far as sincere sympathy can share your sorrow we share it with you, and we wish, also, to assure the members of your family and the family of your son that we deeply sympathise with them in the bereavement they have been called upon to bear.

Yours in Hope, Love and Truth,
W. A. FIFE,
Select Councillor.
JAMES B. BELL,
Secretary.

Few Births in Pittsburg.

In spite of a large increase in the population of Pittsburg, Pa., the last fourteen years, there has been a startling decrease in the number of births. Between 1891 and 1905 there was a falling off in the birth rate of from 36.61 per thousand to 21.74, more than seven per cent. The figures for the past three months of this year are surprising. In 1891 the excess of births over deaths was 1355, while already for only three months this year there have been 23 more deaths than births.

New Style in Forgery.

Something new in the forgery line is reported from Stratford. A stranger presented a postal order purporting to be payable to the bearer for $70, which he asked Mr. John Brown, the C. P. R. agent, to cash, deducting the cost of a steamship ticket from New York for England. Mr. Brown gave him the ticket, but declined to part with money until he had cashed the postal order. The man promised to return next day for the balance, but did not do so, and the steamship ticket has been stopped by wire. The postal order was forged on a blank drawn stolen from the post office.

IN MEMORIAM.

(Published by request.)

In loving memory of William Rutherford, Otonabee, who departed this life 30th of August, 1905.

Death has been here and borne away
Our father from our side,
He was a kind and tender friend,
Likewise a faithful guide.

He's gone from earth, God called him home.
We sorrow, His ways are best;
That up in Heaven father is safe,
Forever with the blest.

But, Ah! The empty, aching void
That's left within our home,
Since death's cold hand was laid upon
Our dear one for the tomb.

We seem to listen for his voice,
We miss his kindly thought,
And willing help about the place,
Which he gave all unsought.

And so we try to murmur not,
And underneath the rod,
We seem to see the beckoning hand
That leads us up to God.

Oh, sad and lonely is our home,
The long, long weary day,
Life seems but dust, a weary load,
Since father went away.

We loved him, yes; we loved him,
But Jesus loved him more;
And so He sweetly called him,
To yonder shining shore.

The golden gates were open
A gentle voice said "come;"
And with farewells unspoken,
He calmly entered home.

Peterborough, Sept. 14th, 1905.

Facial Paralysis

Mr. W. J. Brennan, Western Hill, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "My face was all twisted out of shape with facial paralysis, and five doctors failed to cure or even relieve. By the persistent use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I have been entirely cured, and have returned to work strong and well. I have gained in weight, and feel that I have a new lease of life."

Great Things Predicted.

That Canada will in ten years have the largest iron industry in the world is the prediction of Dr. Hergult, of La Prax, Finmng, doctor of the French Metallurgical Society, who is here to conduct smelting experiments in Canada. He believes that pig iron can be made for ten dollars a ton and steel for fourteen dollars a ton. He will superintend a series of experiments at Sault Ste. Marie under the supervision of the department of mines of the Dominion Government.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years the doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP.

Uncle Sam's public printing, the Hamilton Times points out, done by government ownership and operation, costs about $7,000,000 a year, plus interest on capital invested, etc. It is now computed that it could all be done by private offices on contract for $1,000,000 a year. Score again for the fetish of public operation.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Could insanity surpass such rot as this from the Toronto World?—

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier has by no means exhausted his resources of vengeance against Manitoba. He has only to say the word and Hon. Sydney Fisher will convert the fertile prairies into a desert waste."

Speaking of the action of the Canadian Anglican Synod, on the divorce question, the Cleveland Plain Dealer says: "Though the action at Quebec will not, of course, be binding upon the large dissenting population of Canada, its moral influence is more than likely to be felt, and the cause of divorce reform thereby accelerated."

When we Ontarians read of the frightful cyclones in the southern and western states, of the devastating floods in China, the awful earthquakes in India and Italy, the volcanic eruptions in South America and the West Indies, and the deadly epidemics in New Orleans and Asiatic cities, we ought, the Hamilton Herald thinks, to be more content than ever with our blessed country.

The fight that the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Pacific Railways are putting up over paralleling lines in the Northwest, is a delight to the Westerners. The energetic protest entered by the Canadian Pacific against the Grand Trunk Pacific location, because it parallels the former's line, shows how railways dislike competition, and are more anxious for their own interests, than for those of the community they serve. Railway competition may minimize dividends, but it does affect freight and other rates. In the game of competition the people stand to gain, and the people should be the first consideration.

Never in the history of Canada, says the Vancouver Province, never in the history of any civilized country, we imagine, has gone up such a wolfish cry as that which now resounds in the pious and virtuous province of Ontario. And the cry is becoming menacing to the government, which, it is understood, is making an honest effort to resist the demands of its hungry adherents. What a delightful spectacle is presented by the aggressive members of the Conservative party in that province to-day, threatening to tear their leaders unless the bones which the other dogs are gnawing, are thrown to them.

CHICAGO OF THE NORTH.

(Ottawa Free Press.)

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was never happier than in his address to the people of Port William and Port Arthur on Monday. One phrase in it stands out more vividly than the rest of the speech, and will help to keep the minds of the people of that potentially great community fixed upon their possibilities. "The Chicago of the North" will be to them what the Washington of the North is to the people of Ottawa. A phrase that is in the air, uttered on an important occasion, has vitalizing force.

Of late the majority of people have been declaring that Winnipeg would be a rival of Toronto and Montreal; but there are those, and the Premier is evidently among them, who can see that the prosperous city of the plains may have a competitor in the cities on the far western lakes. That Winnipeg should become a huge city in the sense in which New York, Chicago and Montreal are big cities is, it would almost seem, contrary to nature; that Port Arthur should become the Chicago of the North would seem to be according to precedent at any rate. There are few large inland cities. A water front would appear to be necessary for exceptional development. The inland cities of the United States are examples of this: Denver has but 144,588 people; Indianapolis, 191,033; Des Moines, 65,754; Kansas City, 55,348; Omaha, 113,361. The big western cities remote from the great lakes are little more than distributing centres for farming, mining and ranching communities. There is a tremendous rush at first, until the machinery for distribution is in operation and then the boom bursts, and after a time the cities settle down to a steady, quiet, prosperous existence. Those who anticipate a half million inhabitants in Winnipeg within forty years will probably be greatly disappointed. They are basing their judgment on the building boom that is at present there. But when the wholesale establishments—and wholesalers employ but few workmen—sufficient to supply the needs—of the West are erected, when there is abundant hotel accommodation, when the railway construction has come to a standstill the growth of Winnipeg will doubtless, as in the case of other western cities, be slow but healthy. It does not seem possible that the city will ever be a manufacturing centre, and without factories a city the size of Toronto or Montreal is an impossibility.

It is otherwise with Port Arthur and Fort William. They are situated at the end of lake navigation. They have a great water trade as well as a land trade. Already vessels from Europe laden with goods for the establishments of the West enter the harbour, and this commerce is only in its initial stage. Abundant power is within convenient distance and flour mills and factories could be more cheaply operated there than in either Toronto or Montreal, and from the point of view of distribution the community has an immense advantage over the eastern cities.

Any visitor to Winnipeg during Fair time, or when there is a commercial travellers' convention being held there, must have been impressed by the concourse of representatives of American houses gathered in the city. The representatives from the east are a mere drop in the bucket. The factories of Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Michigan, have so far, through contiguity of market, had an advantage over the eastern factories. Last us hope that when the C. P. R. is double-tracked to Winnipeg, when the G. T. P. is completed, when the other lines connecting Port Arthur with the West are ready for traffic that numerous and busy factories in that region will be supplying the articles that now come from Chicago, Minneapolis and St. Paul. The haul from Port Arthur to the distributing centre, Winnipeg, will be as short as from any of the factories in the United States. With the aid of a moderate tariff Canadian manufacturers in Port Arthur should control the Western market.

* * * * *

There was another part of the Premier's speech that is worthy of note in this connection. He said that before it (the G. T. P.) is completed, we shall perhaps have to commence another. Perhaps before it is completed we shall have to open a new canal to get the wheat to the seashore." This coming from such a source on such an occasion would seem to indicate that the Government was seriously contemplating the construction of the Georgian Bay Canal. This would vastly increase the prosperity of Port Arthur, and would, incidentally, be of much interest to Ottawa.

These are growing days; and the tree that we have been thinking so large is evidently but a sapling. The Chicago of the North promises to be one of its sturdiest branches.

Why should Sir Wilfrid not have been thinking of the completion of the Trent Canal — a proven feasible enterprise, instead of the expensive dream of the Georgian Bay canal?

BROTHERLY KINDNESS.

Are the Christian grace more fully developed in interdenominational relations in Nova Scotia than they are in Ontario? It would seem so from the accounts given of the proceedings at a notable Roman Catholic academic function which took place several days ago in Antigonish, N. S. This function was the celebration of the golden jubilee of St. Francis Xavier College. There were present, not only a numerous company of distinguished Roman Catholic prelates and priests, but also a number of Protestant clergymen and educationists. These latter, who were present by invitation, who were accorded special honours, and received the highest honorary degrees in the gift of the university, gave congratulatory addresses, and the spirit of their speeches was not more kindly and cordial, than the spirit in which they were received. The venerable president of St. Francis Xavier's, introduced the principal of the Baptist University College, at Wolfville, as "not only a distinguished educationist, but also a very dear, personal friend."

For the time the theological differences that separate Protestant from Catholic were forgotten, and only the bond of a common Christianity was felt.

Commenting on this notable function, the Ottawa Journal says: — "The good done by such a gathering as at Antigonish, is simply incalculable. It means the breaking down at barriers of prejudice, distrust and jealousy. It means the elevation of the standard of Christian citizenship, and civic and academic virtue."

It means all this in Antigonish. But the knowledge of that Antigonish gathering may help to foster the spirit of interdenominational brotherly-kindness elsewhere in Canada.—Hamilton Herald.

Fair's Tile Entrance.

The main street entrance to Robert Fair & Co.'s newly remodelled store is daintily decorated with an effective design of ceramic Mosaic tile, in a pleasing combination of white and green blocks. The name "Fair" is effectively set in green tile in the centre of the white blocks in fang gothic lettering. This work was entrusted to the Coughlan Monumental Works, city, who have recently added tile laying to their business. The execution of this sample of work has been much admired.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post Card Column,—

Sir, — Our specimens of concentrated aldermanic wisdom, will soon be wrestling with the snow problem. I have no wish to hurt their feelings, but as one of those who pays the piper, I venture, with all necessary humility to make a suggestion:—Instead of cleaning (pardon the untruth) the walks with a so-called snow-plough, let each householder remove the snow in front, or at the side, or both, of his house. If not done within two hours after the snow ceases falling, let the city do it, and charge it against the defaulter. This is done in other cities and is the only satisfactory way of getting passable walks. A great many citizens cleared their walks last winter, but a great many did not, and the result was most uncomfortable to pedestrians, and also most unsightly. Mr. Editor, will you not use your mighty voice against compulsory walking in Indian file, and advocate decent comfortable sidewalks in winter?

PROGRESS,

Editor Post Card Column,—

Dear Sir, — I notice in your paper that the town and county put $2400 at the disposal of the committee to decorate the town on the occasion of the Prince of Wales' visit in 1860. Now, as the population of the town was not very large then — only about 2500, as Mr. Jas. Stevenson tells me—that was about $1.00 each for every man, woman and child — a pretty liberal donation, in view of the Prince's visit only lasting about one hour. Now-adays, with the population at 15,000, it's hard for the council to squeeze out $300 to entertain the Dairymen's convention, which is to last three or four days, and bring in thousands of outsiders to town. I don't say that $2400 was too much in 1860, to honour our future King, but $300 looks a little measley for a city of 15,000.

Yours, etc.,

WIDE-AWAKE.

Editor Post Card Column,—

Sir, — I notice in the reports of the city council that accounts of $2 and $5 were paid Henry Best. Is that Henry Best our mayor? If so, I am told that these accounts were to reimburse him for sums spent in entertaining the guests of the town. Well, don't we pay the Mayor an allowance of $400, larger than that paid any previous Mayor, for such a purpose—to meet just such expenses. Paying $400 in a lump sum to the Mayor is more dignified than having him send in a bill, like a carter or a merchant.

Yours, etc.,

CONSISTENCY.

Editor Post Card Column,—

Dear Sir,—Has Peterborough a chairman of the Board of Works? If so, what experience has he had? What is being done to keep George street in any reasonably good condition? Has he a horse or rig? Has he ever been required to keep his rigs in repair? If so, did he ever figure up what it cost him in repairs? Take the sewer manholes and the telephone manholes on George street alone. Take the one at the corner of Macdonel and George, the corner of London and George, and the corner of Murray and George; they stick up like a sore tooth, and you cannot drive on the street without hitting them, and the iron perforates and separates the rubber tire immediately, if there is any load and you are going at any speed. I was driving steadily on George street the other day and at the corner of Macdonel and George street I hit a telephone manhole and cut a rubber tire clean through. It costs almost as much for repairs as would pay taxes, apart from the inconvenience. If the Chairman of the Board of Works performs his duties he will see that around all these obstructions there is at least put sufficient gravel to prevent all such accidents occurring.

Yours truly,

LIVERYMAN.

To Editor of Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—I think it is dangerous to have street railway trailer No. 5, running along George street as it was doing last night with no fender on in front. Of course, there is a man there with a gong, but that won't prevent somebody going under the wheels in case of collision and a collision is more likely to take place in the evening, when the people returned from the day's duties frequent the streets more numerously. Lock the stable before the horse is stolen. Put on a fender anyway or put the trailer in the barn. A coroner's inquest and a funeral are more trouble than putting on a fender.

Yours truly,

SAFETY.

Editor Post Card Column.

Dear Sir,—Please inform me if it is the rule of the elders of the Presbyterian church to wash and oil their buggy on Sunday morning before going to church.

EAST WARD APPARENTLY DOES NOT WANT THE POLICE

The statement from the alderman from the Ward over the river, at last night's meeting of the Supervision Committee, that the people of that Ward were not asking for more police protection hardly coincides with the views of a "ratepayer," who writes to the Examiner complaining that "the residents of the northeast portion of the city on Concession street are annoyed nearly every evening by the hideous screeching by a large gang of rough rowdies ranging from the ages of ten to seventeen years of age."

The writer continues, asking that the "police look into the matter as soon as possible."

It would appear from the letter quoted above that in spite of the position taken by the aldermen that there are enough police, there are sections of the city where their services are required, but where the blue-coated guardians of the peace are a minus quantity they are needed.

Doubtless when the chief's attention is called to the matter he will detail a man to the section mentioned, and probably the matter will be remedied.

DAY LABOUR SYSTEM ON SEWERS MAY NOT BE TRIED

The decision of the Board of Works to try the system of day labour in its application to the construction of sewers may not be acted upon after all. Last night Ald. Adams stated that Mr. Robson had offered to sign his contract for the work allotted to him, and Mr. Sheeby was considering accepting his section. He was to make known this morning his decision. These two contractors have evidently reconsidered their decision not to accept any contract unless they got the whole of the work, and the probabilities are that after all the sewers will be constructed by contract, which is considered by some of the aldermen to be the better plan, because they know then just what the work will cost, while by doing it by day labour there is a certain element of chance.

Y.M.C.A. Ladies' Auxiliary is Leaderless

Mrs. (Dr.) Hunter, its President Has Resigned.

Meeting of The Auxiliary Was Held Yesterday Afternoon.

A fairly well attended meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Ladies' Auxiliary, was held in the building yesterday afternoon, to consider the resignation of the president, Mrs. Dr. Hunter, who has, for several years, performed the duties of this responsible position with an energy, ealdnity, and success, which her condition of health absolutely forbids her to continue. She, therefore, was compelled to tender her resignation, which, yesterday afternoon, was very regretfully accepted, and with expressions of warm commendation of the capable and zealous manner in which she had discharged its duties in the past.

The acceptance of her resignation, constituted the sole business of the meeting. No one was at the moment available for appointment as a successor, and the matter of appointing a president was deferred for a fortnight.

It was stated that this is an unfortunate time for the office to be vacant, as the absence of an efficient head necessarily, and practically paralyses the work of the Auxiliary, whose services at the present time are in urgent demand. The renovation of the building has been the work of the Auxiliary, and now the completion of the furnishing of the dormitory demands immediate attention.

Harvest Service At St. John's Last Night

A large congregation attended the Harvest Festival last night at St. John's Church. An eloquent and convincing sermon, of a character appropriate to the occasion, was preached by Rev. R. J. Moore, M.A., Rector of St. Margaret's Church, Toronto. The special music and decorations emblematic of the gladsome harvest season were of a beautiful character, and emphasized the significance of the occasion. The service was conducted by the Rector, Rev. J. C. Davidson, M.A., assisted by Revs. Wm. Major, of All Saints' Church, and W. Archbold, Rector of the Leamington Anglican Church.

Rev. Mr. Moore spoke from the text, St. John vi., 51, "I am the living bread (which came down from Heaven; if any man eat of this bread he shall live forever; and the bread that I will give is My flesh, which I will give for the life of the world."

This chapter has ever been regarded by Bible students as one of the most difficult chapters in the Bible yet one of the most interesting. If we study the preceding chapter we shall see why our Lord spoke these words, and shall see that He worked two great miracles. He had fed seven thousand people, and He had fed five thousand people. Other great multitudes were dogging His footsteps that they might see a further manifestation of His glory. Instead of another miracle He gave unto them a light, He gave Himself.

Our Maker, as He uttered these words long ago, was looking down the ages, and His words come with equal force to this congregation. In speaking the words, "I am the living bread," that is to say, I am a necessity. As bread is a necessity to man, so to our spiritual life is the living bread. Long after our Lord uttered these words, St. Augustine wrote his confessions, the circulation of which is as large as that of John Bunyan. In his confessions he gives utterance to the words, "My heart is restless till it rests in Thee." Men and women rush into society to stifle the "still, small voice." A heart without Christ is indeed an aching heart. As we reach home let us ask ourselves a very practical question. Is He a necessity to us? Can we do without Him, this Living Bread? Is there anything coming between Christ and me? Let us realize that if anything material is coming between us we are passing from the Living Bread.

When entering some churches, the preacher remarked, I see the silver crucifix before me. I do not like it. It is the symbol of the dead Christ. I like the cross. It is to me the emblem of the Living Christ—the Living Bread. There is no trouble that comes into any family,—there is no cloud, that it will not dispel. A man tells me that Living Bread has done wonders for him. He stands in sunlight; I stand in darkness — I have not the experience. There is only one way in which the soul can get this Living Bread—it must take his troubles, trials, or whatever besets, right up to Christ. You have to go into the world and live the Christ, if you wish to get the Living Bread. And, if, as Christ tells us, He is the Living Bread, why do we not seek that Bread? Men attend church on Sunday morning, and in the space of one hour think they gather enough manna to last them a whole week. Men and women fall away from the Christ and then put the blame on the church. There is something wrong! There is Bread for the soul in the worship in the house of God.

I dislike intensely the teaching of the Roman Catholic Church concerning the Lord's Supper, but it must be acknowledged that that church puts us to shame in the attendance at the dispensation of the Sacrament. Every Sunday morning we see their churches crowded with congregations waiting to receive the Living Bread. Why do men turn aside Sunday after Sunday from the Bread given us to eat eternally. The privilege is ours, not only of eating, but of passing the Bread to others.

What has God given us in giving us this Bread? He is making us a co-worker with Him in the greatest of all schemes—the scheme of the Redemption. May we through God's spirit be fed on and on eternally!

During the service, a solo, "Come Unto Me and I Will Give You Rest," was sung with exquisite effect by Mrs. K. Eardley-Wilmot.

Heavy Penalty Imposed on East City Boy

For Discharge of Fire Arms Within The Corporation Limits.

Wm. Heal's Offence Was Considered a Serious One and Fine of $10 Was Imposed by The Court.

The case of Wm. Heal, the eleven-year-old East City boy who was a few days ago summoned to appear at the police court for discharging a 22-calibre rifle within the corporation limits, was dealt with this morning at the police court by Magistrate Dumble.

The boy pleaded guilty to the charge and a fine of $10 or twenty days in jail was imposed by the court, who, in delivering judgment, commented upon the serious nature of the offence and the danger it involves to life and property.

The man Healey, who was arrested yesterday in a condition in which he was considered physically and mentally incapable of managing the horse which he was driving, will appear to-morrow.

TELEPHONE TALKS.

TO TELEPHONE USERS AND THE GENERAL PUBLIC,—

Before we close our review of Telephone conditions in Europe we wish to add a few general statements which will tend to a fuller comprehension of the situation.

In England owing to the number of long distance lines, no one is allowed to hold a conversation of more than six minutes duration. This is a harrassing condition which would rob the long distance telephone of a great deal of its usefulness and would not be submitted to by the business men of this country.

In Great Britain telephone subscribers are required to make a deposit in advance to guarantee payment of long distance tolls. When the deposit is exhausted it must be renewed before further service will be given.

Calling for long distance connections is entirely by number and the full charge is exacted whether the party wanted is obtained or not. If the number asked for is in use locally at the moment, an enquiry charged is enforced.

In Canada, a particular individual can be asked for and if the party is not obtained there is no charge.

The conclusion of the expert testimony before the Special Committee was that Government operation of the telephone in European countries has been a blight on development, has maintained rates higher by far than the rates charged in Canada; and generally resulted in poor service. The limited license system adopetd in Great Britain has restricted growth, for the reason that capitalists would not invest in a Company whose right to do business expires within a few years. It was stated in evidence that $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 additional capital per annum might have been employed profitably in the extension of the telephone business in Great Britain for years past, but capital could not be obtained in view of the expiring Government license.

The Government itself, apparently will not provide the capital to increase long distance facilities, although there is, admittedly, a great deficiency of lines to meet the demands of the public. There can be only one of three conclusions—either the Government is purposely driving the business to the telegraph service, or it will not invest more capital in an unprofitable business, or it is indifferent to the requirements of the public.

Judging by the results of the Government operation in France and elsewhere, matters in Great Britain will be worse instead of better when the whole telephone service of the country is taken over by the Post Office Department. This seems to be the view of the Chairman of Edinburgh Municipal Telephone Committee, who in his evidence before the Special Committee expressed his concern at the prospect of the Government taking over the telephone exchange service throughout the country, as it meant increase of rates He might have added, prospective inefficiency.

CAPTAIN DUNCAN ROSS TO MEET THE DRAGOONS

Capt. Duncan Ross, the famous wrestler and swordsman, and all-round athlete has returned to the city after having been through New York and some of the New England States, and the object of his visit is of special interest, as will be seen by the challenge which follows. He is here for the purpose of meeting any two men of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, who will be in Peterborough on the occasion of the Peterborough Industrial Fair. Mr. Ross' challenge follows:

I, Duncan C. Ross, of the State of New York, one of the States of the United States of America, do hereby challenge any two men of the Royal Canadian Dragoons visiting Peterborough during the great fair to meet me in a mounted sword combat in steel armour, same conditions as I met Rough Rider Jack Atkins, R. C. D., and Sergt. T. McDermott, of Strathcona's Horse, at the Victoria rink, Montreal, viz., I to meet any two of the Royal Canadian Dragoons as one man, for any reasonable sum of money. Any communications to the Examiner will receive my immediate attention.

Duncan C. Ross,
Champion mounted swordsman of the world.

Peterborough, Ont., Sept. 15, 1905.

P.S.—I am not out of the wrestling business, and will agree to throw any man three times in one hour, for money. No more exhibitions for me.

BASEBALL.

The Night Owls are after higher honours, and a game has been arranged between the city champions and the Peterboroughs, to be played on Riverside Park to-morrow afternoon. The birds have defeated everything in sight. Last Saturday they took the Guild League champions into camp by the score of 4-1, shutting them out after the first innings. The Owls have some men who would look well on the Peterborough line-up, and men who now think the Parkes will have their hands full to keep the birds from flying away with them. Manager MacEwan's bunch, however, think otherwise, and a fast game can be expected. The Peterboroughs will have their strongest line-up. The Night Owls will line up as follows: Long, c; Brennar, 3b; McDonald, lb; Adamson, 2b; Pilling, p; Dusty, ss; Gordon, rf; Rochon, lf; Campbell, cf. Umpire, D. McCabe. Gents, 15c; ladies, 10c; boys 10c.

Leo Downs, the southpaw pitcher for the Cobourg team, celebrated his twenty-first birthday on Saturday last, and he worked hard to mark his anniversary with a victory in the game at Bowmanville. He was in grand form, and it was very seldom that he ever batted out of the infield. After the game the Cobourg boys presented him with a well-filled purse.—Post.

TURF.

Mr. Geo. Linsett, of Peterborough, was in town to-day on his way to Kinmount with his horse "Miss Paisley." Mr. Elmhurst, of Keene, also passed through with his horse "Little Henry." Mr. Geo. Powell, the veteran from Orillia, is taking to the races, "Little Johnnie," "Orillia Belle" and "Rob Roy," the horse formerly owned by Mr. W. H. Simpson, of this town. Mr. Wm. Fanning, town, is taking back north "Brown Gyp," the fast horse he recently purchased from Mr. J. Brown, and is also taking out "Big Timber." Mr. John Gerow's big bay stepper.—Lindsay Post.

Celebrated 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. George Needler of Millbrook Have Golden Wedding.

Were Married in Otonabee in 1855—A Prominent Millbrook Merchant.

On Monday, Sept. 11th, Mr. and Mrs. George Needler celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage, which took place at the home of Mrs. Needler's parents in Otonabee on the 11th of Sept., 1855, the Rev. Mr. Rogers being the officiating clergyman. For a number of years they resided at Needler's Mills, near the boundary line between Cavan and South Monaghan, where Mr. Needler followed his occupation of miller, removing to Millbrook in 1864, after purchasing the mill property here, which Mr. Needler has personally managed until within a few years, when the increasing burden of years warned him that to preserve a hale and vigorous age, it was necessary to turn over the cares and toils of business to younger and stronger shoulders. There were present Mr. Samuel Stewart and Miss Stewart of Otonabee, brother and sister of Mrs. Needler; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Needler, of Lindsay; Dr. and Mrs. Burrows, (sister of Mrs. Needler) and Miss Burrows, Lindsay; Ven. Archdeacon and Mrs. Allen, and members of their own family. After an excellent dinner had been partaken of, congratulations and speech-making were in order, and enough of pleasant and whole-souled good wishes were expressed to Mr. and Mrs. Needler to keep them in happy memories of the day for many years to come. The Ven. Archdeacon Allen, (almost a life long friend) spoke in deserved terms of their many years of friendly intercourse, and the high value of Mr. Needler's assistance and example in church and business relations. Dr. Harry Needler replied on behalf of his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Needler were the recipient of a number of suitable and costly presents, among them being a handsome gold-headed ebony cane from his brother, Mr. Wm. Needler, which gave special pleasure. It is good to chronicle such a pleasing event—a couple approaching the evening of their days, surrounded by their family and near relatives to celebrate their fiftieth anniversary of wedded bliss, enjoying the comforts that should accompany mature years, conscious of a life well spent, and cheered by the knowledge that their children are pursuing honourable and useful careers.

To all appearance Mr. and Mrs. Needler have still many years of useful life before them, in offering our congratulations we include those of our readers and are assured of their hearty approval.—Mirror.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS AT ORMOND & WALSH'S

Visitors to Ormond & Walsh's drug store, corner of George and Simcoe streets, have been greatly struck by the charming interior effect resulting from the extensive alterations which have been in progress there for some time.

The improvements include a new metallic ceiling of handsome design, the walls have been re-decorated, and the effect of the new paper, which is green in colour, is striking. The interior fittings have been polished and treated to a new finish, while entirely new lighting fixtures are also being installed. The work upon the ceiling was under the direction of Mr. W. R. G. Higgins and the painting and decorations by Mr. Ralph Carton.

The patrons of the store will doubtless greatly appreciate the change which makes it one of the brightest and most modern in the city.

DESTROY THE CAUSE.

You Cannot Cure Dandruff Without Destroying the Cause of it.

Many people wash their scalps Saturday night or Sunday to try to keep the dandruff down for the week, but on Monday night the scalp has begun to itch, and Tuesday morning will find a good supply of dandruff when the hair is brushed. There is but one real scientific way of curing dandruff, and that is to kill the germ that causes it, and falling hair and finally baldness. There is only one preparation that will destroy the germ, and that is Newbro's Herpicide. It is an entirely new discovery and the only hair preparation that is based on the new scientific principle. In addition Herpicide is a very refreshing hair dressing for regular toilet use.

Hunting in Temagami.

The advent of the shooting season this year has brought a large number of Americans and other sportsman, to the newer sections of Ontario and the Temagami district. With them have come arms of all kinds, and these are being seized and taken in charge by officers of the Game Department. No firearm with a barrel longer than four inches is allowed in the Temagami District at any season of the year, other than the moose season, which begins on November 1st. Notwithstanding these regulations, Americans have been taking in arms of various dimensions all summer.

Mr. Kennedy Holds Safely Port Arthur

Collapse of the Port Arthur Election Petition.

MR. PRESTON'S CHARGES FAIL

Question of Costs to Be Settled in Toronto—It is Stated That Mr. Preston Will Appeal Decision As to Aitkens' Agency—Aitkens' Vote Annulled For Corrupt Practices—Sutherland and Saunders.

Port Arthur, Sept. 15.—The election trial collapsed yesterday afternoon. Mr. Hellmuth, counsel for thepetitioner, Mr. Preston, late in the afternoon, after many of his charges had failed, said that he would not continue the case. In view of the discussion already reached in the charges submitted, he could see no use continuing, as there was little hope of accomplishing anything. The justices then dismissed the action, sustaining Mr. Kennedy in the seat.

Argument occurred between the counsel as to the validity of Aitkens' vote, and it was decided that his vote should be nullified for corrupt practice.

In the case of Sutherland and Saunders, the justice did not agree as to annulling of these votes. Justice Maclennan was of the opinion that Sutherland did not have a corrupt motive in mind when he supplied liquor. His object was to make money, not to influence votes.

As for Saunders, he was guilty of accepting a bribe.

Justice Teetzel agreed that both men were guilty of corrupt acts, and that it did not matter what the motive was back of the supplying of whiskey. The final consideration of this question will be given in Toronto.

Mr. Aylesworth, for the respondent, Kennedy, on the collapse of the petition, stated that he would not proceed with the cross-petition. It had not been entered in a spirit of vindicativeness, and he had no desire to disqualify Mr. Preston. Mr. Hellmuth asked that costs be given Mr. Preston in the cross-petition, as they had brought numerous witnesses a long distance at a heavy expense. The question of costs was reserved for consideration in Toronto, where the costs will be proportioned to each party.

It is generally understood, in fact so stated, that Mr. Preston will take the case, so far as the charges affecting Aitkens are concerned, to the court of appeal, in an endeavor to establish agency.

Aitkens was found guilty of corrupt practices personally in supplying whiskey and money to voters at Hymen's Crossing. The charge of agency failed of proof, he having a certificate of a scrutineer in blank, the name of the polling place not being named. This omission the judges held was fatal in the charge of agency.

Mr. Preston hopes to have this decision reversed by the court of appeal.

WILL GLADLY ACCEPT.

Ontario and the Proposed Keewatin Distribution Discussed by Premier.

Toronto, Sept. 15.—Premier Whitney was asked yesterday if the Ontario Government intended to make a demand on the Dominion Government for a portion of the Territory of Keewatin. To this he answered: "If the Dominion Government offers Ontario, along with other Provinces, any share of any territory owned by the Dominion, the Government of Ontario will gladly accept it."

To a further question as to what steps, if any, were being taken by the Government, Mr. Whitney replied: "A search is being made for the purpose of collecting any papers and correspondence on the subject on file in the Provincial departments through which such would pass. I am looking these up, and cannot say anything further as to what action this Government will take until we have had a chance to get our bearings."

DETERMINED FINNS.

Breaking Up of Representative Gathering is Warmly Resented.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 15.—The breaking up by troops Wednesday at Helsingfors of a meeting of 500 delegates from all towns in Finland, called to discuss the political situation, has aroused great indignation throughout Finland. The meeting was an orderly one, and was composed of representatives from all the cities and towns in Finland. Many of the best citizens and even women were in attendance.

The action of the Government in dispersing the gathering has fanned the dissatisfaction felt by the Finnish people, which yesterday even went so far as to bring forth threats to throw a bomb at the Governor-General, Prince John Obolensky.

Serious developments arose in connection with the recent death of the prince. The revolutionists threatened the local priests with death if they attempted to offer prayers over the body, and no one dared to approach the house. Troops were eventually despatched to bring the body to Tiflis, and it was feared that disorders would occur at the funeral.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 15.—A proclamation signed by Assistant Minister of the Interior Trepoff, has been posted throughout St. Petersburg, again prohibiting the sale of revolvers or ammunition to the public generally, and also forbidding army officers to purchase revolvers or ammunition without the permission of their superiors.

Bounty Helped Oil Men.

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—Canada produced 24,000,000 gallons of petroleum last year, on which was paid $250,000, being the bounty at one cent and a half a gallon. Poaching Tug Fired Upon by Cruiser's Guns

Canadian Cruiser Vigilant Fires Upon Fishing Tug.

BUT YANKEE GETS AWAY

Tug Wm. J. McCarter Was Fishing In Lake Erie When the Canadian Boat Came Along—Sustain's Small Damage From Her Encounter With the Dominion's Water Policeman — Returned For Nets.

Erie, Pa., Sept. 15.—While fishing near the boundary line in Lake Erie yesterday the fishing tug Wm. J. McCarter, a small boat of 15 tons, was struck twice by shots from the Canadian cruiser Vigilant in the efforts of the Canadians to compel the tug to stop and surrender.

Capt. Frank Handy, the engineer, and four men were on the tug, but they were determined to escape, and made the run home in their damaged boat. The tug was struck once near the water line, but the hull was only dented. The second knocked over the "iron man," a piece of machinery used in hauling in nets. None were hurt.

The boat sustained such small damage that just before dark Capt. Handy started out again to pick up the nets he left behind. The captain said that he was in American waters when the shots were fired, but many of the fishermen admit that they go over on the Canadian side regularly to fish at this season of the year.

The Vigilant, it is claimed, comes down inside the Canadian line and intercepts all tugs that are not speedy enough to get away.

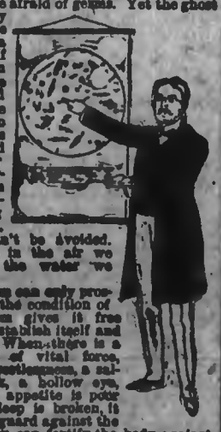
Corfield is Free.

Stratford, Sept. 15.—Harold Corfield, on whom judgment was reserved Wednesday in the preliminary hearing in the charge of murder of the Indian, Seneca, was yesterday discharged by the magistrate. His discharge marks the closing chapter of the investigation into a mystery which will probably never be solved.

Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terrors it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon.



Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, hanger, restlessness, a sallow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or other intoxicant.

"Your 'Golden Medical Discovery' is a sick man's friend," writes Geo. H. Turner, Esq., (Ex. Financial Secretary International Brotherhood of Teamsters), 2328 California Street, Denver, Colo. "For the past seven years my health gradually failed. I lost my appetite, became nervous and debilitated, very despondent and unable to sleep. No medicine helped me until I tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It put new life into my veins and increased vitality until I could once more enjoy life and attend to my business. Eight bottles effected a complete cure and gladly do I recommend it."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets—only one or two a day will regulate and cleanse and invigorate a foul, bad Stomach, torpid Liver, or sluggish Bowels.

Missions in The Otonabee Sunday School

Subject Dealt With At The Convention Yesterday.

Address by Rev. J. G. Potter, County Superintendent—Rev. W. McD. Mackay Also Spoke.

Yesterday as stated in the Examiner a most successful convention was held at Zion Methodist church. The gathering was a very representative one, and included Sunday School workers from all parts of the township.

The Otonabee Association is the most active of all the Associations in the County of Peterborough, and contributes very largely to the Provincial Sunday School work. Faithful presidents and convenors of departments, together with a most efficient Secretary, in the person of Miss Laura Bennett, account in some measure for the progressive and successful condition of this Association.

The Convention opened at 2.30 p.m., with devotional exercises, conducted by the Rev. Mr. Steedman, of Indian River Baptist Church, Mr. Alex. Stewart, the president, in the chair. Then followed the report of the Secretary-Treasurer, showing that contributions from the schools amounted to $47.00; collections from meetings, $16.16. Out of this was paid $50.00 to the County.

The Nominating Committee appointed was as follows:—John Lancaster, Convenor; Wm. Berland, Jas. McNeil, Walter Dickson, Mrs. (Dr.) Harrison, Miss Minnie Long and Miss May Bainbridge.

The reports from the various schools were then received and it was interesting to hear eleven out of the twelve schools answer to the roll.

Mr. James McNeil a veteran in Sunday School work, referred in very warm terms to the delight it gave him in noticing the constant increase in the number of schools contributing to Missions. It was a most hopeful sign, and it was a rare example on to find a school not taking an interest in Missionary activity. He urged system in the raising of missionary funds.

The Rev. D. D. McDonald, of Keene, followed with a very forceful and inspiring practical address on the "Cultivation of the Missionary Spirit in the Sunday School." Mr. McDonald is in a position to give good counsel.

Mr. McDonald's congregation has undertaken to support a missionary in the foreign field, and his Sunday school for many years has taken a monetary interest in missionary work, and, apparently, takes a pleasure in it, so his words are with greater power when he talks missions.

Mr. McDonald emphasized the fact that the spirit of missions was necessary, if we were followers of Christ. He, in the deepest sense, impressed the whole world, with His infinite zeal for a needy world. Therefore, this spirit ought to be cultivated, because it is the primary work of the Church; it is the business of the Church. It ought to be the controlling work of every Sunday school. It was an inspiration to every young life, for it had as its object reaching all mankind. It was, in a true sense, the real test of Christian character and faith. 2. It should be cultivated, because of the great blessings that in consequence flow to the heathen world. In very impressive language the speaker contrasted the conditions of life in Christian and heathen countries. 3. It ought to be cultivated, because of the reflex influence on the Church, the school and the individual life.

He suggested the wisdom of getting the entire school interested as a missionary society, with teachers and officers as executives, adopting systematic mission study, and having the school addressed by a returned missionary.

The convention then adjourned for tea, provided by the ladies, in the basement of the Foresters' Hall.

Evening Session.

The evening session opened with devotional services, led by the Rev. Mr. Brinkeley, of Hiawatha.

The report of the nominating committee was then presented, and was as follows: President, Mr. Sam. Armstrong; Vice-President, Mr. Wm. Borland; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Laura Bennet; Normal Secretary, John Lancaster; Primary Secretary, Mrs. B. Kindred; Home Class, Miss M. Bainbridge, representative to County Executive, Mr. John Lancaster.

The report was unanimously adopted.

The recommendation of the committee to renew the pledge of fifty dollars for Provincial work was heartily adopted.

In the absence of the president-elect, Mr. Wm. Berland, vice-president, was introduced, and made a very neat inaugural speech—full of hope and faith.

The Rev. J. G. Potter, B.A., president of the County Association, and delegate to the International Sunday School Convention, then gave a "Glimpse of the Toronto Convention." He stated that the Toronto Convention was the largest triennial convention that had ever been held in connection with Sunday school work. In Boston, 1896, 1,063 delegates were present; Atlanta, 1899, 844; Denver, 1902, 1168, and at Toronto over 1,700 accredited delegates and a large number of visitors from a distance. There was a time when the Sunday school movement was considered a "fad," but when you see gathered together in the counsels of this great work, chief justices, governors, magistrates, physicians, lawyers, college professors (arts, science and theology), clergymen of all branches of the Christian church, editors and princes in the commercial world, you are impressed with the important character of it, and that it has taken hold upon the conscience and life of all thinking and practical men.

In referring to the personnel of the convention, the name of Rev. Cuthy Bonner, of London, England, was mentioned. Mr. Bonner, in responding to an address of welcome, said, "The fellowship of men and women who meet at God's altar is closer than those bound by any other tie. Not Canada, not America, not Britain, but Calvary, is the common fatherland of all Christians." Eulogistic terms were used in referring to the new president, Hon. Mr. Justice McLaren, who, for so many years, has been deeply interested in Sunday school work.

In speaking of the address of the convention, Mr. Potter thought that in their character they were distinct from the usual convention "talks." Care had been taken to get men representing the whole realm of Bible education, and to prove the important advance that has been made in allying with the great world wide movement the power, force and culture of the consecrated College Professor.

Sunday schools in North America, 155,007.
Teachers, 1,556,947.
Scholars, 12,076,232.
Total Sunday school membership, 14,127,541.
Number of Home Departments, 10,871.
Membership of Home Departments, 392,859.
Cradle roll membership, 198,288.
Scholars received into churches during the past year, 217,162.

The message to us is clear:

1. A more earnest recognition of God's work, of God's Word, and of God's day.

2. The value of adopting the very best principles and methods to this, the greatest of all human enterprises.

3. The call to old as well as young to take a practical interest in the Sunday school, as being suited to training for Christian service as well as educative.

4. To remember that the work was that of the real artist, not fashioning in marble, or in oils, or poetry, the character of some ideal, but by God's help moulding characters that will be living realities of the highest ideals—the character of Christ.

Rev. W. McD. MacKay, B.A., assistant pastor of St. Paul's, followed with a most practical address on "Failures in Sunday school work; Suggestive Remedies." Mr. MacKay's diagnosis of the Sunday school of to-day, was exceedingly minute and telling. As he viewed the work he noticed a great lack of reverence for God, for church, for seniors, for parents and claimed that the fault lay very largely with the lack of proper Sunday school management and discipline.

2. There was a lack of reverence for God's word and God's day, and this, he thought, was due to the fact that our teachers are always giving and thus developing the receptive aspect in the life of the children, instead of the responsive. The ability and readiness to test the word of God is waiting, and that is the cause of the unwillingness of older scholars to take up the work of teaching or leadership. In consequence, man and women when young drop out of the work when they should have harness power, and to-day a man is absent in the echo, if on a public platform he announces himself as interested in Sunday school work. Some suggestions might be offered:

1. Secure the very best capable officers and teachers.

2. Teachers ought to give more time to the study of the lessons.

3. Teachers ought to be more thoroughly consecrated to this work.

4. Greater pains ought to be taken to carry out the principles of reverence.

5. We ought to urge regular and punctual attendance.

A resolution of thanks was unanimously carried to the speakers, and also to the choir, after which the convention closed with singing "God be With You Till we Meet Again, and the benediction.

WHEN DID THE PRINCE VISIT PETERBOROUGH?

Editor Examiner:

I noticed in yesterday's papers references to the visit of the Prince to Peterborough in 1860. Two of the papers stated that yesterday was the anniversary of that visit, while the Examiner stated that the visit occurred on September 7, 1860, so that the anniversary would have been a week ago yesterday.

It seems strange that the papers should disagree on a matter of history, and I have been wondering which was right. In looking up Dr. Scott's history of Peterborough I see that he simply refers to the visit as having occurred in "September, 1860."

Will you kindly advise me as to which of the papers was correct in their statement as to the date of the royal visit.

Inquirer.—In reference to the above letter the Examiner reiterates its statement of yesterday that the visit occurred on September 7, 1860, and the papers which stated that the anniversary of the visit was yesterday were in error. While neither of the historians of Peterborough give the exact date of the visit, a search back among the files of the Examiner gives the information that on September 7 the Prince spent an hour in this town.

POWER INTERESTS THREATENED AND CITY'S INDUSTRIES AFFECTED
BY DIVERSION OF THE WATERS

Dominion Bridge Company Are Taking Water From Balsam Lake, Making it Flow Into Lake Simcoe, to The Detriment of Otonabee Power Owners----Local Interests Seriously Affected----Power Owners Held a Meeting and Matter Will be Reported to Government ----Every Dam on Otonabee Deprived of 250 Horse Power----A Serious Matter at Low Water Season----Who is Responsible?

The power owners of Peterborough recently held a meeting at which a most important question affecting the whole industrial interests of this city was discussed. This is nothing less than a diversion of a large part of the head waters of the Otonabee River supply, and unless they are able to bring pressure to bear upon the Dominion Government to have the matter remedied, the result will be most serious to this city.

It has been learned that the Dominion Bridge Company, which has the contract for the superstructure of the Kirkfield lift lock, has taken from the canal on the stretch from Balsam Lake to Kirkfield water with which to operate their extensive plant, used in boiling, drilling, etc. The quantity of water which is being diverted for the purpose is sufficient to generate 250 horse power, and represents about one-sixteenth of the normal flow of the Otonabee River.

It may be explained to those who are unfamiliar with the conditions, that Balsam Lake is the summit water of the system, and from it the waters flow south to the Otonabee River, while the connection between Balsam Lake and Lake Simcoe is purely an artificial one, so that none of the waters of the lake should be diverted in that direction.

The lake is about twenty-four miles in extent, and it can easily be understood that, since it is the head body from which the water forming the flow of the Otonabee has its source, its careful conservation is a matter of the most vital importance to Peterborough and the whole valley through which it flows. The diversion of the quantity of water mentioned above means that at each of the dams on the whole system southwards, there will be 250 horse power less available for development than would be the case if the flow were not interfered with.

At this season of the year, with the approach of the time when, under ordinary circumstances, the river is low, the matter assumes an importance which it could not at another season. From October to March is the time when the water is the lowest, and it is during this time that the utmost care must be taken to insure to the power-owners as large a flow of water as possible. Consequently the prospect of losing the flow represented by 250 horse power is a serious matter, especially, if it is taken in connection with the consideration that, if the Dominion Bridge Company is confirmed in the permission to divert the water flow from its normal course, a precedent will have been established, which could not consistently be ignored in relation to other applications for power privileges of a similar character. And in this largely consists the necessity of the action contemplated to restore the status quo ante.

It is understood that the Bridge Company will be using the power for at least a year, and will be working all winter.

Recently Mr. J. H. Larmonth, representing the power owners of the city, took a trip to Kirkfield, to ascertain just to what extent the water was being diverted from its natural flow, and the report that he brought back was of such a nature that it was decided at a meeting subsequently held, and attended by Messrs. E. G. Patterson, representing the Canadian General Electric Company; J. H. Larmonth, representing the Hydraulic Power Co; and the Peterborough Light and Power Company; and W. H. Meldrum, of the Otonabee Power Company, to make representations to the Government through Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P. that the diversion of the water is detrimental to the interests of the power-users on the Otonabee. It is stated that there is no legal right by which this water can be diverted from Balsam Lake to Kirkfield, for the purposes stated, and there is a probability of legal proceedings unless the diversion is stopped.

The question now is, by whom was this condition permitted. It is not to be presumed that the Minister would be in a position to understand unless he were advised, the conditions which the diversion would create; and he should have been advised by the superintending engineer.

Peterborough's interests depend, perhaps, more fully on its power possibilities than upon anything else, and any interruption to the source of supply will be a very serious matter.

The Canadian General Electric Company would never have located here had it not been for the prospects of ample power at a low price, and it is understood that they will not proceed with the proposed extension of their works until they are assured that there will sufficient power to ensure their steady operation. It is by no means assured that it has been definitely decided to locate their new works here, and it may be taken as a fact that they will not, if the water which should naturally flow over the Otonabee dams is allowed to be diverted to other channels.

The closing down of the factories of this city, for even a day, means thousands of dollars loss to Peterborough, and in this matter, the result of which may mean the closing of our industries, temporarily, even though it may be, will be very serious.

The matter is one deserving instant attention, and the person by whom the recommendation was made should be given to understand that the interests of Peterborough should be maintained before those of persons who are getting privileges to which they have no moral or legal right.

Peterboro' Flyer Killed Young Man

Ellis Campbell, a young man 20 years of age, was driving over the railway crossing near the station at Unionville yesterday morning, when he was struck and instantly killed by the Peterborough flyer — the Grand Trunk train due in Toronto at 10.10. The horse was killed and the wagon pretty well demolished.

The victim of the accident was the son of Robert Campbell, a farmer near Unionville.

DOUBLE TRACKING OF G. T. R. ANNOUNCED AT OTTAWA

At the session of the Board of Railway Commissioners in Ottawa on Thursday last, the C.P.R. made application to cross the Grand Trunk near Coldwater. This led to the announcement from Mr. McGuigan of the Grand Trunk, that as the Midland branch would be the heaviest grain carrying road in Ontario, it was the intention of the company to double track it in the near future.

This announcement is of great importance to the district, and if the proposed plans of the Grand Trunk are carried to a successful issue, Millbrook will see a portion of the grain output of the great West pass its door. The proposed double tracking of the Midland branch has been under contemplation for some time, and a plan was under consideration of using the system known as the Nash line, between Omemee and Millbrook, thus avoiding the Missing Link Line and tapping the main line of G.T.R. at Port Hope.—Reporter.

Completion of Work on Wharf At Bensfort

Mr. R. R. Hall, M. P., Has Been Mindful of His Constituents.

Mr. J. H. Yelland Returned Yesterday —Wharf is Regarded as a Boon by Navigation Men.

Mr. J. H. Yelland has returned to Peterborough after completing the construction of a new wharf at Bensfort Bridge.

The work was commenced on Aug. 7th. The wharf is an "L" shape, running out for a distance of sixty-four feet from the Monaghan shore and thence south giving a frontage upon the river of 46 feet. It bears stone and gravel approach carried on a level with the wharf to where it intersects the bank.

The building of the new wharf is the result of the efforts of Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., who on this occasion has been as tireless in his efforts on behalf of his constituents as usual. The necessity for the work commends the notice of Mr. Hall, who lost no time in securing the necessary appropriation that the work might be proceeded with.

Herbert Symonds, formerly of St. Luke's, will speak on "Church Unity."

It is pleasing to note that the local members of the Anglican College stand so high in the spiritual and educational work of the church that they are asked to address such an influential body as the Alumni Association.

Newsboys' Scholarship.

A plan to establish a newsboys' scholarship at Harvard University is endorsed in a letter received to-day from President Charles W. Eliot by Henry Channen, president of the Newsboys' Protective Union, Boston. President Eliot says he will be much pleased to have a scholarship established at Harvard University; but it should be the friends of the newsboys and not the newsboys themselves to contribute the money for this purpose.

Liquid Bait is Better.

Postmaster M. Schoonover, of May, a village in Burnett County, is believed to have been blown to pieces with dynamite, which he took with him on a fishing trip. Schoonover started out Friday armed with the explosive, and has not been seen since. Wreckage from his boat has been picked up, and bits of his clothing have been found hanging to trees near Clam Lake, where he went to fish.

"Artic" in a Bad Way.

A letter from Paul Levasseur, one of the crew of the SS. Arctic, received by his father, Major Levasseur, of Quebec, states that the supply of coal on board had run very low when the vessel reached Port Burwell, Ungav Bay, and up to the time of writing, Aug. 16, the Neptune, with coal and supplies for the Arctic, had not arrived. The crew of the Arctic were surprised on arriving at Port Burwell to find the British cruiser Scylla with Gov. McGregor, of Newfoundland on board. The Scylla brought down a mail for Canada for the men on the Arctic.

EXPRESS TRAIN HAD A VERY NARROW ESCAPE

Mr. W. H. Moore, who is acting for the C.P.R. in the case in which the man Babcock was charged with stealing the engine, has received instructions from the Company to push the case.

The local officials of the Railway are authority for the statement that the man was not intoxicated when he made the attempt to "swipe" the locomotive, and it is stated that he had previously tried to get away with a G.T.R. engine.

The seriousness of the offence is perhaps not appreciated fully, but it was only by an extremely fortunate circumstances that a serious accident was not recorded. The switch by which the siding upon which the engine stood was connected to the main line by one of the old fashioned switches, and it is to this fact that those affected have to congratulate themselves upon the averting of an accident. Had the switch been one of the new "Spist" switches the engine would have rode onto the main line safely, and would not have been ditched, as was the case, and if it had once got onto the main line undoubtedly there would have been trouble, because the midnight express was speeding towards Peterborough, and it is calculated that they would have met near Cavanville. There was no light on the yard engine, and consequently the probabilities of the engineer on the express noticing the engine until too late to avert an accident would be slight.

It is a most fortunate circumstance that the man succeeded in derailing the engine before greater damage was done..

COMMITTEE ORDERS THE PAYMENT FOR PIERS

This afternoon the Roads and Bridges Committee of the County Council is holding a meeting for the purpose of opening tenders for the construction of the superstructure of Indian River bridge, the concrete piers for which have been made, and Mr. Conroy was ordered to be paid the $800 for their construction, and his deposit check for $400 returned.

At the time of going to press the committee had not awarded the contract, but they were considering the tenders.

Later. — The tenders received were as follows:

Dominion Bridge Company, Montreal, $2140.

Hamilton Bridge Company, Hamilton, $1920.

The Hamilton tender was accepted.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS AT RICE LAKE POINTS

Although September is half gone, the season has by no means closed at Rice Lake. A number of hunters have arrived in pursuit of the feathery tribe.

Mr. Holland and Mr. McLaughlin, of Cobourg, the latter, license inspector for Northumberland, have been spending a few days at Idyl Wyld, fishing and hunting ducks.

Mr. D. Corkery, mine host of the Lake View House is entertaining a number of American gentlemen who are also fishermen, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Marsh, of Toronto, is spending a few weeks at Rainy Point, duck shooting. Mr. Marsh has been fortunate enough to capture a good sized bag of ducks during the last few days.

Mr. James Wedlock and friends, took a trip to Keene recently on the Mermaid.

A number of Bailieboro people ran an excursion to Idyl Wyld recently. Mr. Hutchinson prepared a special supper for the party and an enjoyable time was spent.

THE INDUSTRIAL FAIR DIRECTORS' MEETING

Last night a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Peterborough Industrial Fair was held, when there were present Messrs. D. Hughes-Charles, president; H. C. Winch, R. Fair, E. M. Elliott, R. J. Munro, J. H. Garbutt, Alex. Elliott, and G. W. Fitzgerald.

The list of judges was completed and approved by the Board. The judges are all men of the strictest honour and the directors feel satisfied that every exhibitor will be justly dealt with.

Mr. Larmonth reported that he had completed arrangements for the amusement features, and they will be the best of any agricultural fair in Ontario, outside of the large cities. The entertainments will be given on the afternoons and evenings of Tuesday and Wednesday. A platform, 35 x, 60, will be erected in front of the grand stand for the purpose and the grounds will be brilliantly illuminated.

The secretary reported that the entries were coming in well and the race entries are already full.

This afternoon a number of the directors are making a tour of inspection of the grounds with a view of deciding on the improvements which will be made to the grounds and buildings. Another visit will be made to the grounds on Monday at 2 o'clock.

Art Culture Club Held First Meeting

A Most Interesting Program Presented Last Night.

A Delighful Evening Spent at The Conservatory of Music.

A very interesting and instructive evening was spent by the members of The Art Culture Club at The Conservatory last evening, when the first meeting of the course was held. The President, Rev. J. C. Davidson, was in charge of the evening with Mrs. Eardley-Wilmot as secretary and Miss Dobbin as librarian. The first division of the evening was the "Life and Works of Felix Mendelsohn Bartholdi which was given by Mrs. (Rev.) Lewis, and which proved an interesting effort. Mrs. Mowatt played one of Mendelsohn's favourite "Songs without Words", "The Spring Song" in a sympathetic manner, while Prof. Milner's solos were "The Wedding March from "Midsummer's Night's Dream" and the Pilgrim's march from the "Italian Opera", both well known numbers.

Miss Florance Covenney read the characterizations of the three solos which made them even more interesting to the members.

The second division "Poetry" was in charge of Rev. F. J. Scott, whose subject was "Goethe" and a full and interesting account of the life and works of Goethe was given. Rev. Mr. Scott told the story of "Faust", which, as a poem, is well known. The unusual belief in magic and the many legends in connection with Faust, which were believed by the German people at the time of the Renaissance, formed an interesting subject which was well handled by Rev. Mr. Scott.

The members are given an opportunity of reading each poet's works and Goethe will no doubt be a favourite study.

Rev. Mr. Davidson read an exerpt from the "Map of Life" by Lecky, referring to Goethe which gave some light as to his character.

The last division of the programme was effectively given by Miss Madelon Wilson. "Holbein" the great Dutch painter, and decorator, whose works are so well known and of whose life so little in known, was the artist selected. Reproductions of the most famous of his works were handed around for inspection of the members.

The evening certainly proved an instructive and interesting one and the members are quite enthusiastic about the winter's programme. The next meeting will be held on September 29th, when Miss Alice Roger will be in charge of the music "Beethoven", being the composer to be studied. "Dante" will be taken up by Miss Halliday and Rev. Mr. Jolliffe will have charge of the art section, M. Angelo being the subject.

Those who wish to become members may do so as a limited number of active members will be admitted and also a number of associate members. All who wish to join should notify either the President or Secretary — Rev. J. C. Davidson or Mrs. E. Eardley-Wilmot.

John R. Reed Passed Away Last Evening

Esteemed South End Resident Succumbs to Attack of Typhoid Fever.

Father of Mr. Fred. Reed, of Examiner Staff, Who Now Lies Critically ill at Nicholl's Hospital.

A very sad death occurred last night when John R. Reed passed away at his home on Perry street. He had been complaining all summer of not feeling well. It was just five weeks ago last night that he took to his bed, suffering from typhoid fever.

Deceased was 56 years of age, and was born in the State of Georgia. When a boy he moved to Canada with his parents and settled in Hamilton. While there he was married to Miss Maria Nicholson seventeen years ago. When the Canadian General Electric Works were started in Peterborough, about 14 years ago, the deceased moved with his wife and family to the city, where he has since resided. He was a member of the Park street Baptist Church, and also the A.O.U.W.

Besides a loving wife, two sons, Fred, a member of the Examiner staff, aged 16, who is now very ill with typhoid fevere at Nicholls Hospital, and Herbert, aged 15, and one sister, Mrs. Nicholson, of Hamilton, are left to mourn his loss.

The funeral will take place on Monday morning at seven o'clock. Services will be conducted at the house by Rev. A. H. Brace. The remains will be taken to Hamilton on the 8 o'clock C.P.R. train, for interment.

Prospective Transfer of Real Estate

Negotiations Are, it is Understood, Underway to Purchase City Hotel.

Demetre Bros. Will Purchase Property if it Can be Secured—No Definite Arrangements Yet Concluded.

Negotiations are, it is understood, in progress regarding the purchase of the City Hotel property by Demetre Bros., the well-known Greek confectionery firm, corner George and Charlotte streets.

While it is stated that no definite arrangements have as yet been concluded, a member of the firm stated to-day that the company would purchase the property if it could be secured on suitable terms. In case the transfer is effected, many alterations will be made and the building thoroughly overhauled.

A Peculiar Case.

Daniel G. Rogers, of Milwaukee, Wis., made a will leaving his estate to his son, Charles Rogers, conditioned on the latter leaving his wife, Daisy Rogers. On the father's death a suit for divorce on the ground of desertion was begun by Charles with the consent, it is understood, of his wife, who preferred giving up her husband to preventing his inheriting a fortune estimated at a million. The divorce was granted and the estate has been wound up and is found to be worth less than $2,500 a year.

THE SHOVEL FACTORY IS NOW IN OPERATION

Works of Peterborough Shovel and Tool Company, Limited, Turning Out One Hundred Dozen Shovels, Etc. Per Day—Superior and Solid Character of Implements Produced—First Class Buildings and Mechanical Equipment—Experienced Workman—Splendid Prospects of a Very Successful Future—Products in High Favour With The Trade.

THE SHOVEL, from the very dawnings of man's industrial activity has played an indespensable part in human affairs. After Father Adam's rather unsatisfactory pomological experience resulted in his having to "dig out" of his pleasant diggings in Eden and "dig in" to earn his bread by the sweat of his brow—he no doubt had to use a shovel in some form. It may not have been an "Antrim welded" such as is being made for the first time in Canada by the Peterborough Shovel and Tool Company, but it is certain that he had to use some kind of a shovel, for Mr. Jack Cade, that levelling patriot of the reign of one of the Henrys, was fond of quoting:

"When Adam delved and Eve span,
Who was then the gentleman?"

So that, we have the authority of English history, if not of Sacred history that Adam dug; if he dug he must have used some kind of earth-perforating implement; and if he had lived in Ontario "that Eden of the West," in our time; or if the Shovel Company's Works had in his time done business in the Euphrates district, he would have had access to a shovel which would have represented the best implement of its kind made since Eve ate apples.

But what has all this to do with shovel making in Peterborough? Very much—it leads up to it, and in so doing it helps introduce to the readers of the Examiner one of the most promising and most important of the many important industries of Peterborough.

A Little History.

The Peterborough Shovel and Tool Company, Limited,—"limited" applies only to its name and not to its capacity for turning out the best products of its kind—received its charter of incorporation in October, 1904, was organized by Peterborough capitalists in December, 1904, and a site was purchased from the then town, in the south ward, consisting of an acre and three-quarters of land, situated in the angle formed by the junction of the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Railways, bounded on the south by Perry street, and on the west by Stewart street.

In January, 1905, the contract for the first building was let, Mr. J. J. Hartley contractor, who caught the spirit of enterprise of the company so well that during the bitter cold of a Canadian January, the concrete foundations for a building 68x180 feet were completed well within the month, and on January 25th the brick work was begun and the building completed early in April.

In the first week in that month the installation of the ponderous machinery was begun. The building, as stated is 68 by 180 feet in area, one story in height, with clere story, provided with concrete floors affording foundations for machinery that does not produce the slightest vibration under the terrible impact of its operation. The erection of the second building was begun about the middle of last May, and completed on July 1st, by Mr. Wm. Langford, contractor. This building is 68x100 feet and continuous with the first constructed, making a continuous stretch of structure of 68 feet in width, 280 in length—from Perry street to the boundary of the C.P.R. tracks. The second building contains the offices of the Company and the Board room also the warehouse for storing finished products and also the lavatories for the employees. Along the eastern side of the buildings on the Company's own premises is a siding from the C. P. R. and, prospectively, through transfer arrangements from the G. T. R. This gives excellent transportation facilities, the raw material can be delivered at one end of the building, and the completed goods shipped from the other. There are other subsidiary and smaller buildings necessary to the work. The main buildings are heated by a forty horse power boiler, which also serves other purposes in connection with the manufacture, such as steaming the handles of shovels and spades, etc., etc.

The Making of Shovels.

The making of shovels is an interesting process, nearly every operation except some details of finishing being done by machinery, and the company is fortunate in having secured one of the best equipments of shovel-making machinery upon the continent. One machine, the ponderous screw press, used in shaping and giving the mandrel finish up the blades of the Antrim welded shovel, being one of the largest of its kind in America, having been built by Mr. Frank Forsyth, the superintendent of the works.

The shovels manufactured are all made of steel. This steel plate of the required thickness comes in the form of sheets. It is first subjected to the operation of a blanking machine, which strikes out two blanks at an operation—the shovel or spade in the rough outline. The next step is to treat the strap for the handle, which is dressed to the required length of the kind of shovel under manufacture. Another blanking machine cuts the rough blank to the required size, whether for round or square point shovels. Then for hollow-back shovels the rivet holes are punched by machinery. The cutting edges are next ground on emery wheels. The blank is then heated, and passes under a second press, with dies adjustable to the kind of implement. Next, a rounding machine forms the socket for the handle, and the rough edges, or "buckles" of the edges of the blade, left from the blanking operation, are dressed away. The blade is then transferred to the pickling room, where it is treated in a bath of some kind of acid solution, which removes all scale and makes the blade ready for the polishing, which is done by emery wheels. Meanwhile, the wooden handles, made, by the way, in Lachute, Quebec, are steamed ready to be forced into the shank, which is done very rapidly by ingenious machinery. The handled shovel is then passed to an operator who, with a sand belt, polishes the shank and handle. The shovel is next passed on to the varnishing room, where it receives its final process. The shovels are then labelled, packed into half-dozen packages, and placed in the warerooms, ready for shipment—the completed article. This refers simply to the hollow-back shovels, some of which are polished and others of a cheaper grade finished black.

The Antrim Welded.

This grade of shovel is of superior strength in that the front and back handle shank are by welding incorporated into the blade, the several parts thus practically constituting one piece of best carbon steel. The plates for these shovels are cut to exact size, and the top of the blade "scarfed" to form a point on which to weld the back strap. This done, the process of rivetting follows. This part is then thrust into a furnace raised to welding heat, and placed under a drop-hammer, and through a flattening process before it reaches the screw press, where the plain plate is pressed into shape by a die whose upper face, opposite the juncture of the blade and strap, is counter sunk. While the plate is thus held, a square pointed mandrel is thrust between the straps and driven home with a sledge-hammer, thus forcing the heated steel into the angle in the upper half of the die, thus forming the boss seen on the front of the blade, and also the handle socket. The blade then goes through the ordinary polishing processes, and the handles are fitted. The shank end of the handle of this kind of shovel is curved, and has to be fitted in a different way from the hollow back kind.

The Rolled Shovel.

Another feature of this factory is the rolled shovel, no prepared steel plate being used. The plates used are rolled from bar steel, 3 1-4 x 1 inch, in a rolling mill made by the William Hamilton Company, installed on the west side of the main shop. These plates are so rolled, as to guage the thickness of the plate, so that it will be thicker at the centre of the plate, where the greatest power of resistance is required. Indeed, every point in the construction of all spades and shovels, leading to strength, is provided; and durability is also looked after. All shovels are made with a socket strap, instead of, as is usually done, leaving an opening for the admission of water at the junction of the handle and the blade. The works are provided on this floor, with a small, but sufficient machine shop, where the necessary tools, dies and punches are made by the company's own machinist staff.

A Few Details.

The factory at present gives employment to thirty hands, all adults, and all skilled mechanics, with long experience in their several duties, and all drawing high wages.

The present capacity of the works is a hundred dozen per day, of all kinds of spades and shovels; and all sorts of these are manufactured, for every special use to which shovels and spades are adapted — solid steel shank shovels, hollow-back shovels, the Antrim welded shovel — the only one of its kind made in Canada — draining spades, scoop shovels, of all sizes, mining shovels, etc. The scrap, or small pieces of steel plate, is utilized in the making of pavement scrapers, garden trowels, and other similar implements.

The manufacturing department is in charge of Mr. Frank Forsythe, as superintendent, a gentleman who has sixteen years' experience, and is a practical workman, of skill and resource, who can plan the tools and machinery that make for most effective work. The products of this factory are characterized by strength and good style of finish, and cannot but give satisfaction to the users of them.

The Outlook.

Mr. R. H. Fortye, the manager, informs the Examiner, that the trade so far has been very satisfactory, and the outlook is very encouraging, seeing that the factory has only been in operation since the middle of July, and, as is inevitable, in establishing a new special industry, there is necessarily some friction before the general machinery of production "gets down to its bearings." Thoroughness and good products seem to be the central aim of the establishment.

It does not appear that, with the excellent character of the articles produced, the facilities for their manufacture; with the excellent transportation facilities, with the demand which the activities of development operations, the construction of railways must create; with a rational tariff, providing not only reasonably cheap raw material, and preventing illegitimate competition — with all these advantages it is not being unduly optimistic to predict a prosperous and expanding future for the Peterborough Shovel and Tool Company, Limited, of Peterborough.

County Jail Was Too Slow For John Stewart

But His Aspirations Towards Central Prison Were Rudely Checked.

Charles Healey Was Fined $5.75—Young Man Pleads Guilty to Using Profane Language.

Charles Healey of East City, was the first man to answer a charge at this morning's police court. Healey was arrested a few days ago while attempting to drive a horse on Hunter street, when he was in a condition in which he was considered incapable of doing so. The prisoner pleaded guilty to the charge and was assessed $2 and costs, or $5.75. The magistrate took occasion to remark upon the dangers of driving in the crowed thoroughfares of Peterborough in the condition in which the prisoner was found.

A young man charged with using profane and unseemly language, in a public place, was fined $5.00. He pleaded that he was drunk at the time, and had no knowledge of the circumstances.

John Stewart, is a "vag.," with a strong Scotch accent, and who yesterday took on a broad-gauge load presumably also "Scotch," of the Japanese brand. John had ambitions, and expressed the wish that he might be allowed a period at the Central rather than at the local jail, to which the court committed him for five months. One witness, Mr. Sims, sr., testified that the prisoner had yesterday morning appeared at his front door, and after ringing the bell walked in and without any further formality made himself at home. He made himself quite familiar and requested a donation of two cents. Mr. Sims went out to notify the police, and while absent Stewart availed himself of a sofa in the room and sank into a blissful repose. His happy dreams, however, were rudely shattered upon the arrival of the police. The Magistrate considered that John would possibly be a more useful man in Peterborough than at the Central. His aspirations towards the delights of that place were thereby crushed.

May Adopt The Roller Bearings

—Arrangements are being made to have the Henderson roller bearings tested on the Canadian Pacific Railway with a view to their permanent introduction on the system. These bearings have for the past two years been successfully applied to electric rolling stock, and it is claimed that their application on railway trains will result in an increase in the hauling power of the locomotives by sixty per cent. Should practical demonstration establish this claim, or rebould it be shown that a much less economic saving, say fifteen or twenty per cent., can be effected by this device, it will mean a new railway departure of a very radical nature.

SUFFERED MANY YEARS WITH A COMPLICATION OF FEMALE DISEASES.

Two Robust Women Who Owe Their Restored Health and Usefulness to Pe-ru-na.

Mrs. J. E. Finn.

Miss Ruth Emerson.

MRS. J. E. FINN, 86 East High St., Buffalo, N. Y., writes:
The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:
Gentlemen: "A few years ago I had to give up social life entirely, as my health was completely broken down. The doctor advised a complete change and rest for a year. As this was out of the question for a time, I began to look around for other means of restoring my health.
"I had often heard of Peruna as an excellent tonic, so I bought a bottle to see what it would do for me, and it certainly took hold of my system and rejuvenated me, and in less than two months I was in perfect health, and now when I feel worn out or tired a dose or two of Peruna is all that I need."—Mrs. J. E. Finn.

Pelvic catarrh is a phrase coined by Dr. Hartman, covering all that large class of diseases that used to be known as female weakness. The lower portion of the abdomen is called by anatomists the pelvis. The organs contained in this portion of the body are known as the pelvic organs. There are several of them, very delicate and very subject to catarrh. Few women escape entirely catarrh of these organs. While each case presents some minor difference as to detail, they are all in reality alike. Peruna does not relieve these cases by temporarily mitigating some symptom, but by a removal of the cause. Many a woman can testify that local treatment does not permanently cure. A large multitude of women are constantly going from doctor to doctor to receive local treatment, with little or no result.

Thankful Women Who Have Been Cured by Dr. Hartman's Free Treatment.

Miss Ruth Emerson, 73 Sycamore St., Buffalo, N. Y., writes:
"I suffered for two years with irregular and painful menstruation, and Peruna cured me entirely in six weeks. I cannot tell you how grateful I feel. Any agency which brings health and strength to the afflicted is always a welcome friend, and to-day the market is so filled with useless and injurious medicines that it is a pleasure to know of so reliable a remedy as you place before the public."
Miss Ruth Emerson.

Imitations of Peruna.

Peruna has come to be recognized as the greatest remedy for catarrh in the world. At first competitors tried to deny this and insisted that their remedies were just as good. This was found to be impossible, however, and now imitations are springing up everywhere.

To successfully palm off an imitation of Peruna even for a short time is sure to be a money-making scheme, but the man who has ever taken Peruna can be fooled. No conscientious druggist would sell one of them. Every purchaser should look carefully at each package of Peruna he buys, to be sure that he is getting only genuine Peruna.

Who Gets the Most Out of Life?

Not the wealthiest, not the most learned, nor the idler—but the man who has good health and works for his living. This truth is trite, but not trivial.

Every man should guard his health as his most valuable possession. The more so because health is easier to retain than regain.

Keep your grip on health by regular exercise, reasonable care in eating and requisite sleep. Take Beecham's Pills occasionally, to tone the stomach and keep the liver and bowels in good working order. And don't worry.

Observe these simple rules and you will agree that the one who gets the most from life is

GENERALLY SPEAKING

THE SUPERVISION Committee of the Council in their wisdom have decided that it is not necessary to increase the police force and that, too, in face of daily evidence of the necessity of such a course. It is stated that in Toronto, outside the officials of the police force, there is one policeman to every 800 of the inhabitants. In Peterborough outside the Chief of Police there is one policeman to every 5,000 of the inhabitants. When things go wrong; when rowdyism that interfers with the rights of the citizens, and with their comfort, is committed, the police are blamed. It stands to reason that while they may sometimes be at fault, three policemen, without eyes in the backs of their heads and as many feet as a centipede, can't cover the whole wide area of the city, nor see every wrong act that is committed. There is no desire to increase city expenditure unnecessarily; but some fairly adequate machinery for enforcing the town bylaws should be provided in the interests of the ratepayers.

* * *

THERE ARE 1,175 bylaws upon the civic statute books, 500 bylaws for each policeman to enforce. It is safe to say that many bylaws are largely not worth the paper they are written on, especially when they are not enforced. The bicycle bylaw is broken thousands of times for every offence against it that is punished. Yet the city fathers go on piling up bylaws to be broken, largely through lack of adequate means for their enforcement. Some of the bylaws, however, cannot be enforced and their compilation seems to be the work of dementia. Take the boulevard bylaw for instance. It provides only for punishment for injury committed on boulevards where the walk is outside the tree line. Such a walk may join at a street corner a boulevard inside the tree line. Yet a rowdy can injure, deface, tramp and dance jigs upon the latter, within a foot of the protected boulevard, and the bylaw lets him go scot free. Who was the genius who devised this brilliant distinction?

* * *

TO SHOW how much consideration is given bylaws, what is known as the box bylaw, was passed with a provision applying to "12 o'clock in the forenoon"—a wonderful chronological innovation. It is all well enough to protect our streets from encumbrances; but take George street at its busiest point, would it not be wise to pass a bylaw to abolish the mudholes, which abound on this street, especially between Hunter and Simcoe streets. There is more danger than from merchants obstructing the walks. There is danger in opening out fine goods on the streets—of being splashed with the mud—concentrated in the holes on George street—by passing vehicles. Another pin-pricking bylaw is represented by the proposal to abolish bill-boards which do not constitute a very serious offence—far less than the obstructions in the shape of holes and bumps that strew our streets as thick as leaves in Valambrosa.

* * *

OUR STREETS are threatened with more obstacles. Tenders were invited for three miles or so of sewers, and in keeping with the usual aldermanic cleverness, these tenders were only invited at a date when the sewer work should have been completed. The consequences will be that the work will be done in the midst of frost and ice, and the streets built upon will be piled high with masses of frozen soil, and for months will be impassable. Why were not tenders invited sooner so that the work could be done under favourable conditions and completed in good time to prevent inconvenience to the public?

* * *

It may be argued that too much fault is found with the aldermen. Well, the aldermen have our interests in their keeping, and if they fail to protect our interests they should, as public servants, be called to account in the interests of the public. An alderman per se has no individuality in his relations to his constituents. He is to be regarded as a part of the machinery of civic administration, and the people who own the machine have a right to see that it works properly.

* * *

"KICKERS" was the subject of a prayer-meeting address by a local minister on Wednesday night. His text was the Post-Card Column of the Examiner, and the moral drawn was that that column showed that there was an abundant number of "kickers" in Peterborough. The minister objected to "kickers." They were opposed to peace. We want peace in the community, but we want peace with honour. We don't want recreant watchmen on the watch towers of Zion or in the newspaper sanctum, who cry peace when there is no peace. Of course, a minister is sore when his shortcomings — assuming that there are such things—are noted by either press or parishioner, and the cry of "kicker" is raised. The Post-Card Column of the Examiner is designed to elicit public opinion on local objects, and in this sense it serves a useful purpose. Some of our best citizens make use of it.

The Harvest Festival will be continued at St. John's Church to-morrow. Prayers and Hymns will be appropriate to the occasion. The Harvest Anthem will be sung in the morning and during the offertory in the evening an appropriate solo by Mrs. K. Eardley-Wilmot.

"THE OLD SCRATCH."

How the Evil One Came to be Popularly Known as "The Old Scratch."

One of the many familiar names of his satanic majesty is "The Old Scratch." It is undoubtedly due to the fact that scratching is so disagreeable that people thought it no worse than the evil one. A scalp full of dandruff keeps one scratching all the time; not only disagreeable but considered very inelegant in polite society—as it should be—because one ought to keep the scalp so clean that it would not itch. To cure the scalp of dandruff effectively, use Newbro's Herpicide. It kills the germ that creates the dandruff, which is preliminary to falling hair, and, finally, baldness. No other hair preparation kills the dandruff germ. Herpicide also is a very delightful and effective hair-dressing.

RUMOURS OF CHANGE IN THE CORONERSHIP

There is a rumour in political circles to the effect that in a short time there will be a change made in the occupancy of the position of coroner of the County of Peterborough. It is stated that the local leaders of the Conservative party have recommended to the Attorney-General's Department, at Toronto, that Doctors Greer and Coughlan be appointed to the position, which, in the past, for some years has been filled so satisfactorily by Dr. Gray.

There is no official confirmation of the rumour available, and, as far as the Examiner has been able to learn, a decision to take the office from the present occupant, has not yet been definitely arrived at; but rumour has it, that such is the case, and it is pretty certain that if the office is taken from Dr. Gray it will be given to the two gentlemen named, one of whom doubtless will be given the title of associate coroner.

It is hardly probable that there will be any charge made that the work of the present coroner has not been satisfactory, because his desire to deal justly with every case which has come under his attention is a matter of public knowledge, but the policy of appointing men from the Conservative party to public offices in the province will be the only reason for the change, if made.

MID-NIGHT MOB SHATTERS PLATE GLASS WINDOWS ON CHARLOTTE ST.

That Dummer Township is not the only place where mobs assemble about the witching hour of midnight and fire into occupied houses, was demonstrated last night, when the corner of George and Charlotte streets was the scene of a bombardment of a decidedly Port Arthur-esque character—the only difference being that the missiles were stones instead of "dum-dum" bullets.

The trouble arose shortly before twelve o'clock, when two young men who are well known in town, entered Demetre Bros. confectionery store, and proceeded, it appears, to create "rough house." After ordering ice-cream of "Pete," the well known clerk of the store, the men engaged in a tour of inspection of the premises, taking possession of a number of peaches and other small fruit, to which access was easy. "Pete" naturally administered a rebuke, telling them to "behave themselves or go to ——" the sunless valleys beyond the Styx. As neither alternative appeared to be entirely satisfactory to the visitors, it was found necessary to eject them.

This failed, however, to restore the desired peace. The young men as soon as they had reached the roadway armed themselves with stones with which a bombardment of the corner was commenced from a point a short distance west of the corner of Charlotte street.

The aim of the assailants was somewhat out, however, and one of the missiles went crashing through the plate glass window of Mr. G. O'Brien's grocery. Another stone struck the doorway of Mr. E. G. MacKenzie's grocery, next door, and glanced, breaking a large pane of glass in the front door. Passers-by were for a short time time in a state of terror and a number of narrow escapes were reported.

Some residents of the locality hearing the disturbance were aroused from their beds, but upon their approach the young men beat a hasty retreat, and made their escape to the west end where they reside. They are well known and will undoubtedly be called upon to give an account of their seemingly unaccountable actions. The damage will be heavy, as a hole has been made in the glass of Mr. O'Brien's window.

Capt. A. S. Laing Goes to Montreal

The St. Catharines Journal says:—Their many friends in the city will regret to learn that Captain A. S. Laing and family are about to leave St. Catharines. Captain Laing, who is very popular in the 19th regiment, and Collegiate Institute and in social circles, leaves on October first for Montreal, where he will go into business.

Mr. Lang has taught the commercial class in St. Catharines Collegiate Institute for the last five years and before going to Montreal he will spend a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Laing, Water street.

An Address On Education At Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Geo. A. Gregg Spoke on Extent of Y. M. C. A. Work.

An Interesting Meeting Was Held Last Night.

A fair sized audience gathered in the Y.M.C.A. hall last night to hear Mr. Geo. A. Gregg's lecture on "Educational Work for Men." Mr. Gregg is from New York and the object of his visit here is to give a helping hand to the local branch of the Association.

His lecture was full of interest from start to finish. Aside from the excellent talk every feature was practically illustrated with views. Pictures were shown of some of the largest and finest of the Association buildings in America, one in Hong Kong, and one in St. Petersburg, of the interior of many of the larger buildings and classes at work at the study of the 90 different subjects taught in the various branches.

Mr. Gregg began by giving some statistics which would give some idea of the vastness of the work carried on. In Canada and the United States the Y.M.C.A. buildings alone are valued at $36,366,470, with 380,000 members. In all the branches classes are held for physical culture, study of languages and for the moral development. What does all this mean? So much activity all over the world. An association that carries on gymnasium, athletics, commercial, mechanical and art classes and yet is a Christian organization. It is a wonderful monument and its influence is felt in every walk of life. The motto of the Y.M.C.A. is "Spirit, Mind and Body", all three have to work together for the perfection of each other.

In the Bible classes last year there were 70,000 members and a total of nearly 5,000,000 members in all the religious branches.

It has been said by one of the greatest authorities in America that the Y. M. C. A. physical instructors were the best and finest army of men in the world. They have in their classes 133,000 young men.

In the educational line it is said that only one man out of a hundred who has only a common school education makes any marked success in the world. The Y.M.C.A. is endeavouring to provide the means whereby the young men can lift themselves out of the trench and get on the road to success.

Special attention is paid to railway men and sailors, besides the town and city young men. A study is first made by the authorities of the subjects most beneficial to their membership and then such subjects are taught.

In the Peterborough branch it is proposed to begin this year, if enough members to support a teacher can be secured, classes in electricity and steam engineering. These are entirely new subjects to be taught in addition to the regular subjects.

In closing Mr. Gregg urged every young man to give up two nights a week to study. To take up some subject and join one of the classes and make this winter count in his future career.

The best way and only way to rightly judge a man is not by what he does in the working hours, but how he spends his spare time. It matters not what a man's occupation is. Some of the best men in the world work in overalls and some of the best men are in banks. It's the man and what he makes himself, and not his particular calling.

A vote of thanks to Mr. Gregg for his excellent lecture was moved by Rev. Dr. Crothers and Rev. J. G. Foster, and unanimously carried.

BABY COVERED WITH HUMOUR

Ears Looked as If They Would Drop Off—Body Entirely Covered with Sores—Three Doctors Could Not Cure—Child Grew Worse.

CURED BY CUTICURA IN TWO WEEKS

Mrs. George J. Steese, of 701 Coburn St., Akron, Ohio, tells in the following letter of another of those remarkable cures of torturing, disfiguring skin humours daily made by Cuticura, after physicians and all else had failed: "I feel it my duty to parents of other poor suffering babies to tell you what Cuticura has done for my little daughter. A humour broke out all over her body, and we used everything recommended, but without results. Three doctors all claimed they could help her, but she continued to grow worse. Her body was a mass of sores, her little face was being eaten away, and her ears looked as if they would drop off. Neighbours advised me to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and before I had used half of the cake of Cuticura Soap and the box of Cuticura Ointment, the sores had all healed, and my little one's face and body were as clear as a new-born babe's. I would not be without it again if it cost a fortune instead of the small sum it did cost us to cure our baby, after spending much money on doctors and medicines without any benefit whatever."

SLEEP FOR BABIES

Rest for Tired, Fretted Mothers in Cuticura.

Instant relief and refreshing sleep for skin-tortured babies, and rest for tired, fretted mothers, in warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, the great skin cure, and purest of emollients. A single set of Cuticura Soap and Ointment is often sufficient to cure the most distressing cases.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are sold throughout the world. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Australia, R. Towns & Co.; Sydney, Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, Mass. Props.

Inspection Committee of The Horticultural Society Defers Judgment.

Lawns and Gardens of The City Evidence Much Greater Taste and Care Than In Any Previous Year.

The Committee of the Peterborough Horticultural Society yesterday made a tour of the city for the purpose of inspecting the lawns and grounds which are entered in the competition for the prizes given annually by the Society.

The Committee was composed as follows:—Messrs. D. W. Dumble, President; W. H. Hill, S. Jordan and Dr. Burnham.

After a careful inspection of the lawns and gardens, in which their respective merits were adjudged, the committee decided to withhold the announcement of its decision until this evening or Monday, owing to the great difficulty in arriving at a conclusion, due to the many extensive improvements which have been made. Individual reports will be presented by each member of the Committee based upon his own selection, from which the final allotment of prizes will be made.

Mr. Peter Campbell, owing to a business engagement was unable to be present at the inspection by the committee, of which he is a member.

A gratifying feature of the present season to local Horticulturalists is the increased interest in the art of the landscape gardener, ample evidence of which is given in the great improvement in all parts of the city. The lawns and gardens surpass by far in artistic arrangement those of all previous years.

Afternoon Tea

An afternoon tea under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. John's church will be given at the residence of Mrs. Eardley-Wilmot, 273 Hunter street, on Tuesday, September 19, from four to six. A good musical programme has been arranged. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Admission 15 cents.

We invite artistic inspection of our beautiful stock of purses, shopping bags with dinner straps, envelope purses, dainty in form and artistic merit. Large variety of gentlemen's purses, wallets, card and ticket cases in leather.

BASEBALL.

The Lindsay Post remarks:—

If Peterborough wins the Midland League rag there will surely be rivalry with its sister town, Lindsay. One rag apiece will not satisfy either towns and no next year both will be out strong for the championship. But not so fast—the Porridge City hasn't won it yet.

What I Saw In Turnbull's Mantle Room

Impressions of a Shopper Who Came to Criticize.

Some of The Leading Fall Outer Garments Euphoniously Described.

For some time the collection of new fall models in imported Mantles, Coats and Jackets, has been growing day by day at The Turnbull Company's stores, George street and Simcoe street. Yesterday morning, by invitation, a visit of inspection revealed a display larger and more versatile than we have yet seen in the city at any one store. The numberless smart effects for street wear, shown in such a variety of designs, for Fall and Winter, was a delight to the feminine eye. The wonder grows how each season can bring forth so many new styles, or such marked modifications of recent ones, as place them among the novelties.

Coats this year will be worn three-quarter, seven-eighths and full length, both full and close fitting. The colours, evidently, will be plain. The prevailing styles in the popular 42-inch coat are well represented. They are made from a superior grade of covert cloth, loose, or tight-fitting models.

Empire coats are the most stylish wraps, and are made up in a very fine covert cloth, and very loose-fitting, and box-pleated, from the short-waisted Empire effect, with its stylish flare.

The seven-eighths coats are made with fawn covert fabric, strictly tailored, and semi-fitting. Two box plaits down the centre of the back, defined, and fall loosely from below waist line. The sleeves are shirred over the shoulders. This coat is enhanced by stole collar and self-covered buttons.

A Tourist coat is made of light, plaid-back tweed, with straight front and full pleated effect, finished with pipings of broadcloth, in green, on collar and cuffs.

A child's loped coat — a cosy concelt — is made in reversible covert, with large sleeves, three small capes over shoulders, and belted back. Two-toned buttons and contrasting colours, in brown, on this shade of fawn, add much to the jaunty appearance of this garment.

Samples of Kimonas that charm you with their unique beauty are also shown by The Turnbull Company. These, I was told, are exclusive patterns, and, it was remarked, can be seen nowhere else in the city. They come in very daintily decorated Japanese designs on a fancy crepe texture with silk trimmings. They are shown in short and full length garments.

There is also displayed an excellent range of Children's White Bearskin Coats in complete sets, which mothers will admire with eager eyes. This is really a very meritorious range of these popular warm winter coats for little girls.

The firm is giving renewed attention to dressmaking this season. Mr. Wight was quite enthusiastic over the large number of orders already booked, and it is reasonable to surmise that they will have a very busy season. It seems they have been particularly fortunate in securing the services of Miss Bunch, the head dressmaker. She has been in charge of similar departments in some of the leading cities, and comes highly recommended.

The combination of high quality and moderate pricing is quite marked throughout Turnbull's whole display.

A Glance at the Millinery.

Since last season the second floor has undergone a change in departments. The large front parlours, formerly occupied by the millinery department, has been converted into a cloak and dressmaking section. The millinery occupies the adjoining north section of the second floor. With good light and handsome accessories, the change is an improvement which ladies will appreciate. A handsome quarter-oak showcase is the newest acquisition to the millinery room furnishings. The fascination of new millinery never palls on the feminine taste. This season The Turnbull Company have so much that is beautiful to tell about that it is hard to begin—much better for my feminine readers to be their own judges of the charming creations brought from across the sea. I may say, however, that the "Baker," the "Boat," and the "Trison" turbans promise to be the leaders in the smaller conceits. Next Thursday and Friday, September 21st and 22nd, will be the dates for their millinery opening event.

Pictures and Picture-Framing.

We have secured the services of a practical picture framer, one who understands thoroughly the art of artistic framing. Bring your next picture to the Peterborough Bookstore and see how neatly and cheaply we frame. Just received 25 new lines of mouldings in gilts, wax oak, polished oaks and art novels. Call and see them. We have a lot of framed pictures in newest styles. A. H. STRATTON & CO.

CANADA NOW ASSUMES DIGNITY OF A NATION

Sir Wilfred Laurier's Eloquent Speech at The Turning of The First Sod of The Grand Trunk Pacific — The Glorious Future of The Dominion Calls For All The Energies of Its People—A Hearty Welcome to Americans and An Appeal to Canadian National Pride.

Fort William, Ont., Sept. 11.—In his reply to the city's address of welcome at the turning of the first sod of the Lake Superior branch of the Grand Trunk Pacific this afternoon, Sir Wilfrid Laurier said:—

"I thank my star that a happy combination of circumstances has permitted me to be present with you on this occasion, and to take my part in the ceremonies which have brought together to-day such a large concourse of people. What shall I say to-day, ladies and gentlemen, remembering the occasion which brings us together, that is, the opening of a new railway? I do not know that I could say anything to you more than repeat words uttered on this continent more than 50 years ago, 'All aboard for the West,' not as it was understood 50 years ago, but 'all aboard for the vast West' we can conceive to-day. Not only the West of the land of the prairie, to-day groaning with a golden harvest; not alone for the West of the Rocky Mountains, with their inexhaustible treasure of minerals, the most useful and precious at the same time; not alone for the West of the Pacific Ocean, which was hitherto hard to reach; but all aboard for the West, for Japan, China and the Orient, for the old civilization of ancient nations, for the trade, commerce and civilization of Europe and America.

"We are to-day called together to open a new railway which shall be a sort of a system which shall connect the waters of the Pacific with the waters of the Atlantic. It seems to me fit and proper that the first sod should be turned on the shore of the western end of Lake Superior. Let me remind you that the ground upon which we stand is consecrated ground, consecrated in the history of the trade of this country. It was here the first early voyagers of French origin, Duluth and De la Verandraye, first set foot to find a passage to the western ocean. This was the meeting point of those early Scotch traders who systematized the fur trade. It was here they brought the provisions and merchandise of the East. It was here the furs of the interior were collected. It was here they spent days and days planning the operations of the next year and surveying the operations of the past year. They were great men, full of ambition, of enterprise, and the fur trade which they did was simply done in birch canoes, as they were the only mode of conveyance. No one of them in his widest dreams could dream of what we see to-day. The men who at that time paddled the waters in a birch canoe did not realize the vessels of 9,000 tons now ploughing in your waters. They did not realize the great advancement made in your doorage, and that three railways should come here to find an outlet on the shores of Lake Superior. They did not realize that before many years are over we shall see here on these shores a Chicago of the North.

"Some years ago, on coming one day to the city of Ottawa and being tendered a reception by the city authorities, I ventured to say I would see Ottawa the Washington of the North. The dream was not a vain hope. I say to you, fellow-countrymen, yet I think and hope that Providence may spare me a few years more that I may see that hope realized and Fort William and Port Arthur become the Chicago of the North.

The Value of the Railway.

"Ladies and gentlemen, of all the inventions characterizing the nineteenth century (a century famous among all others and above all others in the laying out of forces and secrets hitherto hidden in nature,) which have been turned out for the use of man, there is none of greater importance than the railway. The railway has joined distances; not only that but made trade possible where before it could not have been thought of. The mode of transportation before the railway, between countries distant from one another, was water communication. Between two countries which were not connected by water, trade was impossible, though one might have produced a commodity the other was ready to buy. The railway has done away with this. The railway has made a record for giving every production in our land the same value in the land of production as in the land of consumption, with this difference only—that the transportation has to be taken into consideration. To-day the large prairies of the West, which are growing wheat, have the wheat sold locally at the same price it is sold for in Liverpool, less only the cost of transportation.

"It was the feeling of the Americans going towards the noble Queen, and two years afterwards when the rebellion was at last crushed and when President Lincoln was felled by the hand of an assassin, the late Queen, remembering she was not only Queen, but a woman, a wife and a widow, sent a letter of condolence to the wife and widow of the late American President. To-day I am glad to say that there are no two nations so tied in friendship as the American people, the British and Canadian.

Canada a Nation and a Colony.

"It is true there are some people about who are afraid of American immigrants coming into Canada. For my part I have no such fear. The American has no hesitation to become a British subject, because he finds here as much liberty as ever he could find in his own country. The mystery to him is this, that Canada is still a colony. The average American, before he comes to Canada, cannot realize how there should be so much freedom in a colony. To the American it means a sense of inferiority. If there was at the time when America was a colony a sense of inferiority, one of the present day have no shame in calling ourselves colonists, because we know that Canada is a nation, and Canadians are the subjects of the King of England. Our relations with the Motherland have been well explained by a famous writer, Rudyard Kipling, in these lines:

"'Daughter am I in my mother's house,
But mistress in my own.'

"The young bride who leaves her mother's house to become a wife, takes in her heart an abiding affection and love for the house in which she has been born and cradled. She may become old, a mother and a widow in her own home, but the house of her mother is always dear to her. While she remains a daughter in her mother's house she becomes mistress in her own. If I were speaking in my Province of Quebec I would say she not only becomes the mistress, but the boss, as the husband realizes. I speak only for myself and my own people, but perhaps there is a touch of nature which makes us all akin, and perhaps there may not be much difference between the Province of Ontario and the Province of Quebec. I do not say this to discourage the young men present from getting married, because home rule has some good points in it. Canada is the mistress of her own destinies, but while we are mistress in our own house, we proclaim to our brothers on the other side of the line and to all our brothers that we are a daughter in our mother's house.

The Future is Magnificent.

"Let our American neighbours come. There is a field for their labour, a vast field for their arms, a vast field for their capital. Let them come with their brain, brawn and money. Canadian citizens will be glad to share with them our laws, our lands and our civilization. We are to-day called upon to realize one of the privileges of a new people. We must go ahead to-day. We cannot afford to delay. We are building a new railway. Before it is completed we shall perhaps have to commence another. Perhaps before it is completed we shall have to open a new road to get the wheat to the seashore. The future is great and magnificent. It compels us to act at once. No Canadian here will call a sacrifice what is a necessity to be prepared for that future which lies before us.

"Let me thank you, Mr. Mayor and Mr. Young, for the feelings expressed in this address. They are altogether too flattering for me. I have not originated anything. I have been only that executor of what was in the minds of all. When we started this new railway we knew we were simply touching a chord which was in every Canadian heart. We knew that every man was of the opinion that a time had come when we should have another transcontinental railway.

"The future calls for our efforts and I know every Canadian, the young men especially, will not fail to rise up and face the opportunities before us. Let me thank you in my own name and in the name of my wife, here present with me. Let me thank you for the privilege before us. Let me say that I have an abiding faith in the heart of my fellow-countrymen, whatever his origin. I have an abiding faith that here in Canada we shall build up a nation which shall be as free, as true and as happy as any of the other nations that have preceded us."

The Transportation Problem.

"I say, gentlemen, and you will agree with me, the chief problem with which the Government and the people have to deal at this time is the problem of transportation. It is a problem that never dies. People are always trying to make transportation cheap. Since you have been good enough to refer to the Government, of which I am a member, let me say that we have been able by our railway policy to decrease the cost of transportation to the Eastern shores. By the construction of the Crow's Nest Pass Railway we diminished the freight on wheat three cents per hundred pounds. By the Canadian Northern Railway we further diminished the price. By the construction of this railway we shall further decrease the cost of transportation of wheat to the seaboard.

The Task Before Canada.

"Let us not believe that we shall have accomplished this task when we shall have finished this railway. We shall not have come to the end. We shall not be ready to fold our arms in peace and see the result of our labour. Nothing of the kind. Another task will again lie before us. The Canadian people will stand up again to the duties of the hour, as they do to-day.

"It has been my privilege with the last week to assist in the inauguration of two provinces, the Province of Alberta and the Province of Saskatchewan. I have been astonished at what has been done in these two provinces. If there is a section of our people who deserve praise, it is the people of the province of Ontario, those that have been the pioneers of civilization west of Lake Superior. You find more of the people of Ontario there than any other nationality, but it is not due alone to them. It is due to the immigrant, of whom you have spoken in the address. It is due to those who have come from other lands. It is due to say yea kith and kin from the old lands beyond the sea. It is due to the immigrants from the other parts of Europe. It is due, still more, perhaps, to the Americans who have come from the Republic to the south of us.

"I say, welcome, to all these new fellow citizens, these new subjects of the King. If there is a class to which I would give a special greeting it is the Americans. I will tell you why. For sixty years or more the tide of immigration on this continent has been flowing from the north to the south. For sixty years or more the Americans have got the best of our brains and our brawn. Now the tide of immigration is changed. It is no longer flowing from the north to the south, but from the south to the north. Canadians are no longer going to the Americans; the Americans are coming to the Canadians. I take delight that such is the case. Our American neighbours will not find fault if we take the best of their brains and brawn, as they have done so long from our people.

Anglo-American Relations.

"Another reason why I welcome them is that England is the parent state of them all. England is the parent state of the United States as of Canada. Though the relations between them became very strained in 1776, and ended in violent revolution, and we remember that the bad feeling was projected for a long time into the nineteenth century, and there was between the two countries a spirit of enmity, yet we are glad that this time has passed. We live in more happy days. Better and freer relations now exist between Great Britain and the United States. If this is true, we who are British subjects, we who are proud of our British institutions, are glad that the relations between us have become more friendly than they were. The initiative for this was largely due to that great and wise woman, her late Majesty, Queen Victoria. At the time of the Trent Affair in the early days of the Civil War, when two envoys had been removed from an English ship by an American cruiser, England believed the United States had violated the law of nations and that they were entitled to claim these envoys. It is a matter of history that Queen Victoria took insisted on a policy by which the United States might comply with with the request of England without any loss of dignity. This went to the American heart. Two years later, when relations had become very strained, Whittier could write these two lines:

"'We bow the heart, if not the knee,
To England's Queen, God bless her.'

SOME EXAMPLES OF ACTIVITY NOTICED IN LOCAL REAL ESTATE

Within Half an Hour After Lot is Sold Preparations Are Made to Erect a House—Elias Burnham Property Has Been Practically All Sold—Nine Houses Are Erected or in Course of Construction—All Good Quality of Houses Which Are Being Constructed.

Since the Elias Burnham property was placed on the market on May 10 last a large number of sales of lots have been recorded. Recently there has been considerable activity noticed in this property, and, of the two blocks which were placed on the market for sale, there are very few lots left. Every lot facing on Park street has been disposed of, and during the last few days some other important exchanges have taken place. The last lot on Park street to be sold was that purchased by Mr. A. Brown, the well-known real estate dealer, who bought the corner lot at a price slightly over $1,000. This lot is over 75 feet wide at the rear, and over 50 on Park street, with a depth on Charlotte street of 165 feet.

The activity in this property furnishes a concrete example of the general activity which prevails throughout the whole city in real estate. When the land was placed on sale in May there was not a house on the whole property, and at the present time there are constructed, or in the course of construction, no less than nine houses, all built according to the conditions imposed when the lots are purchased. The agreement provides that all buildings shall be for residential purposes, and all must be constructed of brick or brick veneer, two storeys high. They must be erected on stone or cement foundations, and the distance at which each house shall be built from the street line is fixed arbitrarily at 20 feet, so that between the lines of the houses there will be the width of the avenue, 66 feet and 40 feet, a total distance of 106 feet. When the avenues have been graded and trees planted the appearance of the streets will be very greatly improved, and this property will be one of the finest residential sections in the whole city.

An evidence of the enterprise which is possessed by purchasers of these lots is furnished in the case of Mr. Brown. The deal for the lot was closed at half past five on Thursday night, and at six o'clock he had a man at work tearing down the old fence, and he worked well on into the night at it. A new house has already been staked out on the lot, and work will be commenced on it in the near future.

Among the lots which have been sold since the public sale in May are lots 28, 29 and 30 facing on Pearl avenue, purchased by a gentleman from out of town; lots 24 and 25, facing on Boswell avenue, the purchaser being Mr. John Williams; one lot on Boswell avenue, bought by Rev. Mr. Ross; lot 24 on Pearl avenue.

Rev. Mr. Ross has commenced the construction of a large house on his lot, as has also Mr. R. Gordon. Mr. John Williams has moved the house known as the Elias Burnham residence, on to his lots, and he is converting it into a double house. He is erecting a two story addition to it, and the whole to be brick veneered, and concrete window sills are being used. Mr. C. H. Huffman is also erecting a two story house on his lot, No. 19 Boswell avenue.

The managers of the property are not anxious to sell any more of the lots at the present time, as enough have been disposed of to assure a number of good houses being erected, which will have the effect of increasing the value of the lots still unsold. The activity in this particular section is only a reflection of the general activity which is noticed throughout the whole city, and the impressing is growing that good residential property in Peterborough is a good investment, and every year becoming more so.

The scarcity of houses to rent is, with the approach of winter becoming a serious matter, and it is stated by those who are in a position to know that there are several hundred applications for houses to rent, which cannot be filled by the supply of vacant houses. One case came under the notice of the Examiner of a woman who had to pay $10 for four rooms, and the landlord, finding an opportunity to rent them more advantageously gave her notice that the rent would be raised, and she was obliged to get out and hunt for other accommodation, a search which proved most discouraging, because there was no place to which she could turn, with any hope that she would be able to find what she was looking for.

One gentleman remarked to the Examiner to-day that he knew that if there were more houses to rent at a moderate price there would be a number of married men working here who would bring their families to Peterborough to live. They were here working, and because of the fact that it was next to impossible to get a house, they were unable to bring their families here. By the difficulty of obtaining houses the town is losing considerable business which the local merchants should be getting, because the men referred to have to send a good part of their earnings out of town to support their families.

This year the large number of houses which have been built will partially supply the demand, but there is still a great call for houses suitable for mechanics' families.

Many artistic home furnishers have adopted the metal bed instead of the cumbrous and sometimes unsanitary wooden beds. A metal bed adds grace and beauty to a room, imparts an atmosphere of dignity oftentimes hard to secure with a wooden bed. Its lines are light and graceful and if it is an Ives bed it will be handsome and artistic in design.

Ives beds are always beautifully designed because Ives artists are the most proficient metal designers in America. They have made Ives famous for high class metal bank and hotel fittings.

Ask to see an Ives bed and you will like it.

WHEAT GROWERS FOR THIRTY YEARS

Portage la Prairie's Fields Yields Rich Returns.

Mayor Brown Voices Opposition to Increased Tariff—Present Rate of Duty Permits Competition and is Therefore Just.

Portage la Prairie, September 1.—The Portage plains have grown wheat for the last thirty years, and to the present day wheat farms are the almost invariable rule of the district. Prophets say the farmers must inevitably come to mixed farming, but that prediction has been fulfilled in very few instances as yet, and the farmers show slight disposition to make the change. So long as the land yields good crops and a reasonable explanation is offered for partial failure in an off year, farmers are not likely to make radical reforms in their crops. The expense of putting up large barns to carry winter feed, and of stables to shelter the stock, as well as keeping fields for summer pasture, make up a programme too costly for men who are doing well by another plan.

A Good Paying Crop.

Notwithstanding that wheat has been grown on this land so long, this year's crop will be a good paying one, and according to very conservative estimates is likely to run from 18 to 20 bushels to the acre for the Portage District. A fifteen mile drive confirmed that estimate for me. A very small percentage of the wheat was lodged, as was apparent from the straight sheaves, and clean, evenly-cut fields. Less than 20 per cent. of the wheat is now standing. There are evidences easily to be observed of the result of the long period of wheat growing and its effect on the land. The wild oats have got into the soil on so many farms and it is all but impossible to get them out. Barley growing is considered good, for barley ripens before wild oats, whereas wheat is later than the weed. The Hessian fly exists in the district and a reputable farmer estimated that this year it lowered the average yield by at least two bushels to the acre.

Nevertheless, the farmers all round Portage are well off, for the most part live in good homes, have what are considered in the west as good barns, and are generally prosperous. But they have not yet got upon a cash basis. Most of them are heavily involved, either by a mortgage on the farm or a floating indebtedness with the banks. There are scores of farmers in this district carrying from $1000 to $5000 in notes with a bank. Such men are worth from $15,000 to $25,000. With the money they raise by discount not a few invest in land either in the same township, or, as in most cases, buying up farms in the newer districts farther west and north. A bad harvest would seriously embarrass such men, but no such experience seems likely this year. One of the town's bank managers quietly said to-day that he did not have one note over which he needed to lose a wink of sleep. Business men generally are in good spirits, and are preparing for active collections and a brisk trade.

The Strongest Opposition.

Very decided expressions of opinion were given on the tariff in Portage by representative men, in conversation and interview. Mayor Ed. Brown said there would be the strongest possible opposition in the west to any increase in the tariff. The farmers would steadily oppose increased burdens. The best evidence that the present rate of duty was sufficient for protection was found in the fact that the manufacturers in eastern Canada were all busy. On the other hand, the fact that American manufacturers could send in large quantities of goods was evidence that the tariff was about right. A tariff which permitted competition was a just one, and it would be unwise to make a change. In many lines Canadain manufacturers were deficient. Instead of wanting to hide behind the tariff it would be better to get a clean edge on their goods, and in that way hold the trade. In the case of buggies, only Canadian goods were handled in the west. They were superior in make and right in price. The same was true of sleighs.

Only Begging the Question.

Joe Metcalfe, President of the Farmers' Trading Company, a co-operative implement and carriage trading concern, in which stock is held by the farmers, and which is a remnant saved from the Pioneers of Industry in the form of a joint stock company, said it was begging the question to ask for more duty. Beyond any doubt, the West would put up a solid front against any increase. They were not prepared to consider the idea of protection on binder twine. If the Canadian manufacturer would turn out a decent article he could do the trade. Out of 12,000,000 pounds used annually in Canada, only about one-third was made in the country. The whole trade in buggies and sleighs in the West was held by eastern Canadians because they excelled in these lines. A higher price was paid for American wagons, because they were better, not because they were cheaper. Let the tariff alone, and do a better grade of work, use the best material, and the Canadian manufacturer would find a readier sale for his products in the West, was his opinion. As for a duty on lumber, there would be an outcry from everywhere in the West against it.

OMEMEE WANTS ELECTRIC RAILWAY

Agitation For Connection With Peterborough—Other News.

Omemee, September 12th. — A large crowd went to Father McGuire's picnic to-day.

The threshers says there never was a better yield, or better prospects for good price.

The Peterborough Exhibition will doubtless attract a large number from this neighbourhood. The musical ride by the Toronto Dragoons will be an attractive feature. Reduced fares will be in force on the railways.

It is said that Jacobs Island, some 20 miles north of Omemee, consisting of 150 acres, has been purchased by Americans, and this will add to the reputation of this district as a summer resort.

The Alderville Indians and Rice Harvest

Notices Posted by Hiawartha Band Are Disregarded.

Trouble May Result From Indian Friction—Late Keene News.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Keene, Sept. 12th.—Some time ago the Indians of Hiawatha, Scugog and Mud Lake reserves, claiming that under an old treaty they have the sole right to gather rice in Rice Lake, got out notices warning others from gathering the rice. The bulk of the rice has usually been gathered by the Alderville reserve Indians, who, according to their claim, have no right to that privilege. There is such a large crop of rice this year that it does not seem as if the Indians of all four reserves could gather it all and the putting up of these notices seem to be rather a dog in the manger trick. The sale of rice has been a source of considerable revenue to the Alderville Indians and rather than forego the privilege of gathering the rice they have come over earlier than usual and in greater numbers to gather the rice. They say that before legal proceedings can be taken to prevent them they will have harvested the whole crop. There are over a dozen tents on Sugar Island now and by the end of the week will probably be over thirty. On account of the unusual demand for rice for seed the price this year is very good.

The road grader was put at work on the race track in the Agricultural Grounds last week and the track has been put in excellent condition for the fall fair, which is to be held on Monday and Tuesday, October 2nd, and 3rd. Keene show has been getting better and better year by year and the directors expect that this year will show the usual large increase over the previous year. As usual arrangements have been made to bring the crowd from across the lake. Mr. F. Burnet's steamer "Rainbow" has been engaged to call at all points on the lake from Gore's Landing to Robin's Landing. A football match during the afternoon Keene vs. Gore's Landing will be one of the attractions of the show.

All Household Roads Lead to Kitchen Work

NINE-TENTHS of kitchen labor and worry is caused by ill-working cook stoves and ranges; by ranges that draw poorly; that have such complicated drafts that only a skilled mechanic can manage them; whose grates are so constructed that it is a strong man's work to shake them down; ranges which work well when the wind is in a certain direction, but act like a fiend at other times; ranges whose work is so unreliable that the housekeeper is in a constant nerve-racking worry lest the meals be late or the baking spoiled.

The Pandora range is built to make work easy, a child can shake it down; its drafts are so simple that one learns them in a minute; its heat is kept in the range so effectively that you can do a big baking and hardly know there is a fire in it two feet away; it keeps the kitchen cool; it saves you worry; it saves you time and money; it saves you backaches and headaches, because it is so easy to manage and so reliable.

The Pandora makes kitchen work easy.

Aftermath of The Rossmount Elopement Case

Case Was on Trial at Port Hope Recently.

Some Interesting Evidence was Brought Out at The Trial.

The Rossmount affair in which Mrs. Davison and Hibbard figured so prominently has come to a close and both are allowed to go free, says the Port Hope Guide. It will be remembered that last week Mrs. Davison at the request of her husband was bound over to keep the peace and she afterwards returned home with him. The charge of the theft of a bay mare, one set of single harness and a top buggy was laid against Jack Hibbard, Mrs. Davison's partner in this little episode. He was brought up for trial on Sept. 4th and committed for a week. Next time the case was adjourned until Wednesday to secure more evidence and so altogether Hibbard was confined to jail ten days. When the case came up Wednesday afternoon the court room was crowded many being present from the country.

Mr. F. W. Kerr, Crown Attorney looked after the prosecution in an able manner and Mr. D. H. Gilshom appeared on behalf of the defence.

The first witness called was Fulford, who resides on the Dean farm in Hamilton township and his evidence was by no means silent. He stated that Mrs. Davison and Hibbard came to the place on the evening of the same day they left Davison's place at Rossmount. Jack Elliott was at his place at the same time and he and Hibbard talked of trading horses. Fulford shook his head at Elliott not to trade for he felt sure that the horse in Hibbard's possession belonged to Davison. Hibbard wanted to buy Fulford's horse but thought the price too high.

Mrs. Davison, the woman who has received much publicity in the press for the past month, was seated in about the centre of the court room with he husband and did not seem in the least worried about her position. She was the next witness called and her evidence relieved Hibbard from any blame in connection with stealing the horse. Her story was that she and Hibbard drove to Port Hope on the 16th of August. Her husband knew that they were going but expected them to return early the same day.

Port Hope was their first call and they left there sometime during the evening and went to Fulford's, where Hibbard endeavoured to buy a horse. Elliott was there and was asked by Hibbard if he would trade horses. Hibbard was under the influence of liquor and she thought he was talking foolishly and did not intend to make a trade. After leaving Fulford's they went to Newtonville, reaching there early next morning. Hibbard left Mrs. Davison here and she drove west. Hibbard met her by accident later in the same day. They drove together for a few days, Hibbard looking for work. After he gave up the search for work they turned homeward, going towards Millbrook, and when a short distance from this village Hibbard left her. She drove on within two miles of Millbrook, and left the horse on the highway and walked to Millbrook. She intended to have some one drive her home. Mrs. Davison left the horse on the highway because she traded horses and was afraid her husband would be vexed if she took the strange horse home.

The trade was made near Newtonville with tinkers and Mrs. Davison received $15 to boot, Hibbard was with her at the time and praised the horse up, while she was talking trade. They offered $3 to boot at first but she raised him dollar by dollar until she got the $15. During the time she provided for her meals and Hibbard did likewise.

To Mr. Chisholm Mrs. Davison said that she went to town on the 16th, of August at the suggestion of her husband. When they left Fulford's they did not drive in the direction of their home.

Police Magistrate Holland asked if she knew she was not driving in the direction of her home, and she replied she did. Then, remarked His Worship, you went away in the night with a man, with the intention of remaining with him until he found work? And again her reply was in the affirmative.

Mr. Kerr said that Hibbard had assisted in the trading of this horse and he thought the evidence strong enough to commit him for trial.

Mr. Chisholm said it was the old story of the woman tempting the man and he did eat. He felt there was no evidence to convict Hibbard. Mrs. Davison did the trading and received the boot. Suspicions would naturally arise from this affair but these should be overlooked and the woman given the benefit of all doubts.

His Worship pointed out that if the evidence of Mrs. Davison was eliminated from the case, there would not be evidence enough against Hibbard to justify the charge of theft. After considering the evidence of the different witnesses he had no alternative but to discharge the prisoner.

Then Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured His Diabetes.

Startling Case of Thos. Harrison, of St. Mary's Ferry—He Tells The Story Himself.

St. Mary's Ferry, York County, N. B., Sept. 15. — (Special.)—That Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure Diabetes, one of the most deadly forms of Kidney Disease, has been satisfactorily proved by Mr. Thomas Harrison of this place. Speaking of his cure, Mr. Harrison says:

"I began to suffer with severe pains above the region of the kidneys. When I lay down it was torture to get up again. My appetite failed and I lost flesh rapidly.

"I doctored with several physicians but it was all no use. Shortly after this I began to urinate blood, and then I knew that I was in the grip of that dread monster, Diabetes.

"At this time a friend prevailed on me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and they did me so much good that I continued the treatment till I had used three boxes. They cured me completely."

WHY DO THE BOYS LEAVE THE FARM?

Is It Because The City Promises an Easier Life?

Or Do Longings for Chances of Culture Account For The Circumstances?

Why do people leave the farm and flock into the cities? This question the British House of Commons has recently been discussing without arriving at any very satisfactory conclusion. The same question has many times been asked in our own country, and the only answer that seems to be forthcoming is that the country people prefer the attractions of city life, thinking perhaps that they can make a living easier there than in the rural sections. In this connection it is important to note that conditions are being rapidly changed so that country life will in a short time afford about as many attractions and as many comforts of living, as do the cities. Perhaps the three foremost agencies in this work are the daily rural mail delivery, the trolley car and the telephone. In many parts of the rural sections the trolley car to-day takes the farmer and his family to and from the towns and cities, while the telephone enables them to hold discourse with his neighbours and thus assists in relieving the monotony frequently associated with life in the country. In a large section of the South Riding of Oxford the telephone is in very general use and it is only a matter of time until there are more trolley lines in the county. With these two agencies and the daily paper, magazines and other conveniences that are adding to the pleasure of the farmer's family, life is certainly worth living. The sources of civilization are not yet exhausted, and it is not unreasonable to suppose that in a few years life on the farm will be such that the rush will be from the city to the country. With the modern facilities for farming, the work of the farmer is rendered more attractive than the work of the artisan. Moreover the farmer is more independent, and he is enjoying the prosperity of the past few years to the fullest measure. It only remains for him to be brought into closer touch with the towns and cities by such facilities as the trolley and the telephone until his life will indeed be the ideal one.

SAW WOOD.

Let the other fellow spout;
Keep your mouth shut.
What's the use to yell and shout?
Keep your mouth shut.
If you do not talk a lot
Chances are that you will not Get in water that is hot—
Keep your mouth shut.

If you want to get ahead,
Keep your mouth shut.
Trouble's least where nothing's said—
Keep your mouth shut.
Peg away with all your might,
Make an interesting fight,
Climbing Fame's steep hill to spite;
Keep your mouth shut.

Saw your wood and mind your biz;
Keep your mouth shut.
Talking seldom does much fuss;
Keep your mouth shut.
Silence isn't 'gainst the rules,
Talking shows up lots of fools,
Hot air's nothing when it cools;
Keep your mouth shut.

Takes a lot of grit to climb;
Keep your mouth shut.
If you want to save your time,
Keep your mouth shut.
Get a cinch and keep it, too;
Nothing is too good for you,
But, whatever else you do,
Keep your mouth shut.

How They Grow.

It is claimed by scientists that minerals grow. Did you ever notice how much larger your pet diamond looked when you passed it over the counter in return for a small loan? The explanation is that it has grown since you had it out in competition with the sparklers of those who patronize the iceman or who import their diamonds in car load lots from Alaska.

There is another occasion on which the diamond grows as though it had been planted by the side of an irrigating ditch, and that is when some rude, ill-mannered holdup man has captured it as you are describing the priceless gem to the unsympathetic officers of the law. It is always fully ten carats larger on such an occasion.

Just Like a Man.

"Pshaw! I have known men who did that without knowing a thing about it."

Use Armour's Extract of Beef in the Right Way.

Those accustomed to ordinary beef extracts and fluid beef usually use three or four times too much of Armour's. If a recipe called for one spoonful of salt and you put in 4, the dish would be briny.

ARMOUR'S is pure Extract of Beef—highly concentrated. One-quarter teaspoonful is sufficient to make a cup of beef broth, bouillon, tea, etc.

WAYS OF NEW YORK BURGLARS

Seeks the City in the Vacation Period

Country is Too Dangerous—Strongest Vault Built Can be Opened by Expert Cracksman.

When folks are far away,
The burglars make hay.

This ominous bit of parody is especially appropriate at this time of the year when so many citizens have locked up their houses or apartments to spend a while in the country. It is in the vacation months that the burglar seeks the city. The country then has become too dangerous. The nights are so short that he can hardly get to work on a job in the hours when folks sleep soundest before the light begins to break. In warm weather, too, people leave their windows open; and should he have to use a bit of dynamite in overcoming a particularly stubborn lock, the explosion breaking the deep stillness of the country, would be sure of arousing the neighbourhood for miles around. In the city, however, the thief can work more safely. He can hide from the early approach of day in the deep shadows of tall walls, and he will drown the click of his "jack" or the report of his safe-cracking blast in the roar of passing trains or cars.

In certain parts of the city just now the unusual activity of thieves has caused a veritable panic. In East New York, for example, there have been so many burglaries and sneak thieves abroad that men and women sit up nights with all manner of firearms handy to repel attacks. Five thefts in the region bounded by Bradford and Fulton streets, Arlington and Miller avenues, were reported recently in a single night. In the eastern section of Harlem 30 burglaries have occurred in the last 10 days.

In spite of strongest safes, more cunning electric alarm systems and more complete methods of identifying criminals, the burglar seems to be feared nowadays much more than he used to be. An evidence of this is the tremendous growth of the burglar insurance business in this country in recent times. A little more than 10 years ago practically all effort to insure people against theft proved futile. Companies were organized for this purpose, but after many vicissitudes they ended in failure. Since that nearly a dozen corporations have come into existence, and so large is the business they do that in the last year they paid over $324,147 in burglary losses. In the same time they collected $1,836,610 in premiums.

This increasing dread of the burglar is due to the fact that he never was more formidable or more active than at the present time. In these days of greater wealth those temptations which are so alluring to the thief have been multiplied. Consequently there are more diamond robberies, and crimes of a similar character now than in the past. The discovery of more effective tools and more powerful explosives has also aided the robber, and although he does not attempt as often as he did to blow up the big city banks, because of their alarm systems and special patrols, his ravages in country districts have grown to an alarming extent. At the present time four out of five bank burglaries are committed in towns of less than 1,000 inhabitants. In the last eight years 776 banks situated in such communities were attacked, with a loss of $1,250,000. Safes once regarded as burglar proof have been shown to be little stronger than soap boxes in the hands of expert thieves and consequently many companies will not insure country banks at all.

Impressed with facts like these the government officials at Washington decided to instal an electric burglar alarm system in the treasury department in addition to the old-time "strong vaults". As Mr. Taylor, the assistant secretary of the treasury, said at the time:—

The modern burglar is also more wantonly destructive than his predecessors. His use of "dope", or nitroglycerine often causes a greater damage to a building than the loss made by the theft itself. Even when he fails of getting loot he leaves a scene of wreckage behind. Of the $1,250,000 in losses occurred by banks, of which mention has already been made, more than $300,000 represented destruction of property. In robberies of dwelling houses and apartment houses the damage averages about one-tenth of the total loss.

It may be seen, therefore, that if thieves are able to break into armor-clad depositories with such ease, they are far more certain of success in robbing private apartments. There are various sorts of criminals engaged in this kind of robbery. In winter months the sneak thief and house burglar are those chiefly employed in this vocation, and in summer their ranks are swollen by the "hobo" burglars, who return from looting country banks and post offices.—New York Tribune.

MRS. ELIAS A. MORINE, Hortonville, Ont., writes: "I could fill a whole column citing the virtues of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It has been my firm friend for years, and once it saved the life of one of my little ones. I would not be without it."

A MINERAL DEPOSIT IN METHUEN TOWNSHIP

During a recent visit at his cottage at Koshlogamog Lake, Dr. Jos. Holdcroft, of Havelock, discovered a deposit of Molybdenite, a valuable mineral used mainly for hardening steel, and very scarce.

Dr. Holdcroft has applied for the mineral rights on the lots surrounding the scene of the find, and when he has secured them, development will be at once proceeded with in order to obtain an estimate of the value and probable quantity of the metal.

The samples the doctor has on exhibition are very pure indeed. They were obtained on the surface outcroping, being picked out of the vein with a jackknife. They occur as aggregates of minute scales, about the size of fish scales, metallic in lustre and lead-grey in colour, leaving a grey trace on paper.

THE VICTORIAN'S DAMAGES.

Divers Report Hole Thirty Inches Around in the Hull.

Quebec, Sept. 15.—The damage sustained by the turbiner Victorian is much more serious than at first supposed. The divers have completed their investigation of the ship's bottom, and report that, besides the starting of a third strengthening row of her plates, there is a hole in her bottom fully 30 inches in circumference. The lapping plates have been all stated, with numerous indentations, and an aperture running along fully 50 feet in length. The divers are now engaged stuffing cotton bags and wedges in this long seam, together with the performance of other work to stop the water from entering, and yesterday morning the pumps were started to get the water out of the hold of her second compartment, which is the only one affected. After the water is pumped out and the vessel temporarily repaired, in ten days she will sail for England, to be docked for permanent repairs.

DEADLY ANAEMIA

Leads to Consumption Unless Promptly Cured.

Many a young life might be saved from consumption if simple anaemia were promptly treated. Anaemia is the doctors' name for weak, watery blood. When the blood is in this condition the lungs have no strength. The whole system begins to break down. Then the growing girl steps slowly into decline, until at last the cough starts and her doom is sealed. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can cure all weak, anaemic people without doubt or difficulty. They actually make new rich, health-giving blood—they cure anaemia and prevent consumption. This has been proved in thousands of cases. Mrs. Edward Cochran, Merriton, Ont., says: — "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured my daughter Matilda, when I felt that her case was almost hopeless. For more than a year she was a sufferer from anaemia. She gradually grew weak, was subject to violent headaches, and dark circles appeared under her eyes. She was melancholy, had no appetite and complained of being constantly tired. At different times she was treated by two doctors, but with no improvement. As her case progressed, she was attacked by violent palpitation of the heart, and a suffocatin shortness of breath. She had a deathly pallor, took cold easily, and continued to decline in weight, until I felt that she was in a hopeless decline. At this time my attention was called to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I began giving them to her. She had not been taking the pills many weeks when her appetite was greatly improved, and this was the first sign that they were helping her. She continued the pills until she had taken eight or nine boxes, when she was again the picture of healthy girlhood. Every symptom of her trouble had disappeared, she has increased in weight, and is strong and robust. Her recovery is looked upon as marvellous, for the doctors thought her case hopeless."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure any case of bloodlessness just as surely as they cured this case. The pale, anaemic need only one thing—new blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do only one thing—they make new, rich, life-giving blood. That is why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure all common diseases like anaemia, headaches and backaches, indigestion, kidney trouble, palpitation of the heart, neuralgia, nervous troubles, and those special ailments that make the lives of so many growing girls and women miserable. Be careful to get the genuine pills with the full name Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People on the wrapper around each box. If in doubt, send direct to The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and the pills will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50.

Are you now convinced that Red Rose Tea "Is Good Tea?"

I have made an honest effort to convince you that Red Rose Tea is good tea.

I have shown you in these talks that Red Rose Tea combines the good qualities of rich, strong Northern Indian tea with the delicate fragrance of Ceylon tea.

That by this combination of two good teas, Red Rose Tea is better than either—with a "rich fruity flavor" exclusively its own.

I have told you why it is always uniform in flavor and strength, of its selection at the gardens, how it is tested and blended—I have tried to tell you all about Red Rose Tea and why it is good tea.

I want you to try Red Rose Tea because I want you for a permanent customer. I know if you once try it, you will use only Red Rose Tea.

The price of half a pound of Red Rose Tea is small—that small investment may show you how much tea value, tea quality and flavor you have missed. Is it not worth trying?

FREE SAMPLE—We will send a large sample of Red Rose Tea, by post, free, if you will write and tell us the priced tea you are now using, and whether black or green.

A FEW POINTERS FOR PRODUCERS

Manchester as a Market for Canadian Produce.

The Form in Which Fruits Meet With the Best Demand.

In the weekly report of the Department of Trade and Commerce, appears the report from P. B. Macnamara, formerly of Brockville, now commercial agent at Manchester. There are, says the Recorder, some points in it of deep interest to Canadians.

Manchester has direct connection with Canadian ports by means of the steamers of the Manchester Liners, Limited, which convey considerable quantities of live stock, grain, lumber, provisions, starch, apples, wood pulp, cereal foods, hay, etc., from Montreal and Quebec. Regular steamship lines are now operated between Manchester and the principal ports of the world. Canadian manufacturers and shippers on the lookout for new markets for their produce would do well to bear in mind Manchester and the thickly-populated district of which it is the centre.

There are reliable firms located at Manchester who would be willing to enter into communication with shippers in Canada, with a view to business relationship, and the commercial agent will be very pleased to connect parties who are desirous of opening up new business in the manner suggested.

It is conceded that small fruit throughout England has been damaged by weather conditions, and in consequence there should be a greater demand for Canadian canned fruit, and that prices would rule higher. It is essentially necessary that Canadian fruit should be put up in packages and quantity to suit the trade of that country, and packers are urged to study this phase of the question, and by conforming as nearly as possible will be rewarded by increased orders and proportionately better prices.

Apples put up in gallon tins six pounds in each. The fruit must be absolutely sound and not bruised, and cut in quarters. Packed in cases of six tins each. Cases containing twelve do not find sale so readily.

Evaporated apples cut in rings, and of as light colour as possible, and packed in boxes to contain twenty-five pounds, which will find a better sale than if packed in boxes containing fifty pounds. The Pippin variety of evaporated whole-cored apples is the most popular, and it must be of exceptional choice quality and of a light colour. The price realisable will be amply commensurate.

Strawberries, raspberries and peaches are in great demand, put up in pint size. Quarts are too large. Pears must be of an absolutely good quality, and not too hard. Strawberries, raspberries, peaches and pears put up in one pound tins are also in good demand.

These agents are on the ground and know what the consumers want, and Canadian producers can only reap the full benefit of the market by complying with the requests; yes, even with the whims of their customers.

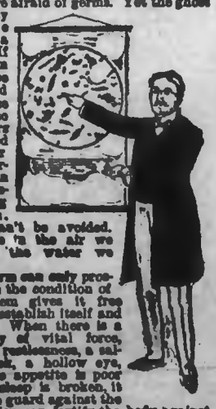
Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terrors it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon.



Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a sallow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germs. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germs finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or other intoxicant.

"Your 'Golden Medical Discovery' is a sick man's friend," writes Geo. N. Turner, Esq., the Financial Secretary International Brotherhood of Teamsters, 2141 California Street, Denver, Colo. "For the past seven years my health gradually failed. I lost my appetite, became nervous and debilitated, very despondent and unable to sleep. No medicine helped me until I tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It put new life into my veins and increased vitality until I could once more enjoy life and attend to my business. Eight bottles effected a complete cure and gladly do I recommend it."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets—only one or two a day will regulate and cleanse and invigorate a foul, bad Stomach, torpid Liver, or sluggish Bowels.

How to be Healthy and Beautiful

by Mrs. Henry Symes

A Bath of Oil Works Wonders

NO DOUBT every woman instinctively yearns for a pretty pair of arms, but the reign of short sleeves has made the possession of a pretty forearm more than ever a thing to be desired.

A well-developed forearm is not only good to look at, it is a very handy possession to have. The grip of your hand is largely dependent on the strength of your forearm; and in case of holding on to a life rope or the rein of a runaway horse sufficient strength may determine your safety or injury.

This part of the body is more often than not neglected, and there are comparatively few sports or exercises designed for its special development. Even among so-called all-round athletes there are few in whom the forearm is perfectly developed.

If your arms are too thin, which is more frequently the case with young women, do not be afraid that exercise will make them thinner. The muscles of the forearm should be invigorated by just sufficiently rigorous exercise. Tennis would be a splendid game for the development of these muscles, but, unfortunately, it only brings one arm into play.

Bag punching is excellent for the purpose, and much can be done by using one of the simple pulley exercisers that are on the market. I am giving a course of simple exercises that may be easily performed, and which, if persevered in, will impart strength and symmetry to the hand and forearm:

Exercise No. 1.

Hold the arm either fully extended or bent at the elbow. Then open the hand widely, using all the available force and spreading fingers and thumb as far apart and as far back as possible. Then, after a moment, close the hand forcibly, clinching the fist. Hold it thus a moment, then open it; and so on, opening and closing the hand until the forearm is fatigued.

For these muscles, indeed for the general development of the forearm, the following exercises will be found most valuable:

Exercise No. 2.

As before, hold the right arm either extended or bent at the elbow. Clinch the fist firmly, thumb uppermost. Now, still holding the hand firmly clinched, bend it downward from the wrist as far as possible, and hold it so for a moment. Then return to position. Repeat again and again until the forearm is tired. Proceed in the same manner with the left hand.

Exercise No. 3.

Hold arm as for preceding exercises. Clinch hand forcibly. Then turn the hand upward from the wrist. After a moment return to position. Repeat until tired.

Exercise No. 4.

This is simply a combination of the two preceding. Turn the closed fist downward, then upward, pressing firmly in each direction until the forearm is fatigued, first with right and then with left hand.

Exercise No. 5.

Hold arm as for preceding exercises, fist tightly clinched. Now turn the hand sharply inward toward the body. Then, after a moment, return to position. Repeat until tired, first with right and then with left hand.

Exercise No. 6.

Hold arm as for preceding movements, turn clinched hand outward. After a moment return to position. Repeat, using all available force, until tired, first with right and then with left hand.

Exercise No. 7.

Combination of exercises Nos. 5 and 6, adding girth and shapeliness to a slender forearm. This is one of the most valuable exercises I know.

Immediately after these exercises bathe the arms in warm water and massage with a good skin food, rubbing from the wrists gently, back toward the elbows. A bath of pure olive oil will also work wonders in the way of softening the skin and rounding out the general contour.

MRS. SYMES' ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS SEEKING HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Moth Patches on Face

I have recently become interested in your talks and now come to you for advice. I am troubled with moth patches on my face, and have had them ever since my little girl came, eight years ago. Is there any help for it? I seem in perfect health.

M. L.

To Remove Moth Patch.

Cocoa butter, 20 grams; castor oil, 10 grams; oxide of zinc, 10 grams; white precipitate, 10 centigrams; essence of rose, 10 drops.

Apply to the moth patch night and morning.

Hair Very Oily

As this is the first opportunity that I have had of writing to you, I would like to ask a few questions:

1. I have oily hair, and would like to know of something to make it dry without hurting it in any way.

2. I am also troubled with blackheads on the nose and chin; would like to have them removed by something that will not hurt the skin.

C. A. H.

Lotion for Oily Hair.

Alcohol, 2 ounces; witch hazel, 2 ounces; resorcin, 15 grains.

Rub well into the scalp daily.

Shampoo for Oily Hair.

Yolk of one egg, one pint of hot water, one tablespoonful of ammonia. Beat the mixture thoroughly and use it warm. Rub it well into the scalp and rinse with several fresh waters.

Blackheads of the Skin.

Boracic acid, 2 drams; alcohol, 2 ounces; rose water, 4 ounces.

Red Face and Freckles

For the last few weeks I have been reading your replies on Health and Beauty. Please in next week's paper have printed a remedy for a red face, as mine is always very red; and a remedy for freckles and one for warts.

A CONSTANT READER.

The redness of your face may come from various causes. It may be that you are too full blooded—in that case you should abstain from blood-making foods. Tight lacing or clothing that binds in any place will also cause the face to become flushed. You should not use water that is extremely hot or cold, if your skin is at all tender. Cleanse with soothing creams instead. The cucumber lotion is excellent. I am giving you formula for wart eradicator and lotion to remove freckles.

Cucumber Lotion or Cream.

Six ounces juice of cucumbers, ¼ pint; denatured alcohol, 1½ ounces; sweet almond oil, 2½ ounces; shavings cocoa butter, 1 dram; blanched almonds, 1½ drams.

This is a fairly lotion, very whitening, softening and cleansing. Take the shavings cream and dissolve in rose water by heating in a custard kettle. Beat the almonds in a mortar, and by degrees work in the soap and water. Strain through muslin and return to the mortar. Stir very quickly in gradually the alcohol, in which you have already dissolved the camphor. Add the oil of almonds, and when thoroughly mixed pour into bottles.

Lemon and Glycerin Lotion.

(For Light Freckles and Sunburn.)

Citric acid (lemon), 4 drams; hot water, 11 ounces; borax, 2 drams; red rose petals, 1 ounce; glycerin, 1 ounce.

Dissolve the citric acid and borax in the water; infuse the petals for an hour; strain through a jelly bag; after twenty-four hours decant the clear portion and add the glycerin. Apply as often as desirable.

Wart Eradicator.

Apply repeatedly for several days. The wart will dry up and drop off.

To Remove Freckles

Would you kindly tell me of a simple remedy to take freckles away?

E. C.

See answer to "Constant Reader."

To Reduce the Waist

Can you tell me how I can reduce the size of my waist and abdomen, either by exercise or by dieting or any other way? I am 37 years of age, am married and have had several children, the last child being very nearly 10 years old. For the last two years I've been getting rather stout or plump. I do not object to that, but my waist and abdomen are getting out of proportion with the rest of my body. I'm short in stature, and the weight looks to me something very ugly. I'm not fat, but would like to reduce it. If you can help me, with the exception of the corset, I will be grateful and nervous for want of food. My heart is not strong.

I would be pleased to know what kind of physical exercise would be most beneficial, and what movements I would have to take. I might mention that I do not wear tight corsets or clothes, but that I like freedom of the body. Could it be well to wear corsets continually?

M. C. E.

[Exercise is absolutely useless for the reduction of the waist measurement. Have been absent from city, hence delay since receipt of your letter. However, if you have heart trouble, you should be very careful to take exercise in moderation. Avoid food which contains large quantities of starch and sugar, such as cake, pastry, bread, puddings, milk, potatoes, etc. No liquids should be taken at meals. The following simple exercise practiced two or three times a day is excellent for reducing the stomach and keeping the waist small.

First, stand erect, with feet and knees close together; then, keeping the limbs perfectly rigid, bend forward and endeavor to touch the floor with the finger tips.

I presume your figure would be much improved if you wore well-made, properly fitting corsets. There is no necessity for tight lacing; wear them comfortably loose.

Bust Too Large

I am young lady seventeen years of age, and I thought I would write to you, for I am miserable. I am a young girl. It years old, and work in a department store, and go to work every day. I have such a large bust, and would like you to advise me what to do to reduce it. Also, please tell me how to use it and for how long.

ONE OF YOUR READERS.

Use the pomade for which I am giving you formula. Frequent applications of warm vinegar or of clear alcohol are also helpful:

Pomade to Reduce Fat.

Iodide of potassium, 2 grams; vaseline, 30 grams; lanolin, 30 grams; tincture of benzoin, 5 grams.

Make into a pomade and rub all over the fat parts twice a day.

Also, you should abstain from food that is especially fat-forming—cereals, potatoes, corn, peas, beans, etc. You should also avoid sweets of all kinds.

Troubled With Eczema

Will you kindly tell me a remedy for dry eczema? I have it on my fingers—on the tips and in between them.

A. G.

Eczema is caused by various conditions, both outward and inward, although it is usually due to a general lowering of the standard of health. I cannot give you specific directions for its cure. It is generally beneficial to take inward treatment in the way of a tonic to purify the system, and apply some soothing ointment outwardly. I have known, of cases where a salve made of mutton tallow and sulphur was most efficacious.

Excessive Perspiration

I have been a quiet, but interested, reader of your beauty columns for some time; but, seeing you have been so helpful to other girls, I have taken the liberty to ask you to help me, as I am almost positive you can. Kindly let me know if you can tell me anything to prevent perspiration, as I perspire freely on the face; and please tell me of something to bleach my face and make it MY white; and, if I'm not asking too much, I would like a recipe for a natural, delicate tint for the cheeks, defying detection. I shall ever be thankful to you.

ANNA.

Excessive perspiration is frequently due to nervousness, and any treatment which will build up your general health and improve the condition of your nerves would help to overcome it. Using a good face powder will improve the appearance of your face. Peroxide of hydrogen makes an excellent bleach. Pour a little in a saucer and apply with a soft cloth. Am giving you formula for Strawberry Blush, which is a very satisfactory and harmless rouge.

Strawberry Natural Blush.

Fresh ripe strawberries, 4 quarts; distilled water, 1 pint. Place in a fruit jar, and set the jar in a saucepan of water over a slow fire.

Let the water simmer for two hours, and strain through a fine hair sieve. When cold, add pure alcohol, 11 ounces; best Russian isinglass (dissolved), 30 grains; pure carmine (first dissolved in the alcohol), 25 grains; attar of roses, 4 drops; oil of neroli, 10 drops; oil of cedral, 4 drops.

Keep in a stoppered bottle, dark place. Apply to the cheeks with a bit of absorbent cotton.

About Use of Henna

Will you kindly tell me in reference to this powdered henna, is it good to color gray hair? Will you also tell me how to make it? Do you make a paste of it or a liquid, and how do you apply it? Will look for answer.

MINNIE.

I do not know about the powdered henna to which you refer. Henna stain gives a reddish or auburn tint to the hair. To color gray hair I think it is better to use a dye especially for that purpose.

To Reduce Weight

Will you kindly tell me how to reduce my weight, also stomach; and, if it is not asking too much, will you tell me how I can reduce my bust?

A READER.

Observe the rules I am giving you for the reduction of flesh, and practice the following exercises two or three times a day:

First, stand erect with feet and knees close together; then, with the knees perfectly rigid, bend forward and endeavor to touch the floor with the tips of your fingers.

Rules for Reduction of Flesh.

Avoid all starchy and sweetened food, all cereals, vegetables containing starch or starch, such as peas, beans, corn, potatoes, etc. Have your bread toasted, sprinkle it with salt, instead of butter. Milk, I regret to say, if it be pure and good, is fattening. Skimmed milk may be drunk. Hot water is an excellent substitute for other liquids. Add a little of the juice of lemon or lemons to it, if you choose. Limit your sleeping hours to seven at the outside. No naps. You must take exercise.

If you cannot walk at least five miles a day, and do not wheel, go to one of the institutions where mechanical massage is given. Several of my correspondents who report excellent results from this method of putting the vigorous exercise they require. The exercise is thoroughly wholesome and not expensive. In reducing flesh, the one fact to recollect is that fat is carbon—oxygen destroys or burns out carbon. You must consume the carbon by the oxygen you take through your lungs. The more exercise, the more oxygen and consequent destruction of fat by the only healthful method of curing obesity.

The more starch and sugar you eat, the more carbon to burn away.

Annoying Trouble

I read your letters of advice to others in trouble, so come to you with mine. Can you give me a permanent cure for excessive perspiration of the armpits? I have tried all local remedies and they have failed. I am not bothered with perspiration in any body or face. I appeal to you in time of trying need. Have tried all brands of deodorant; they only seem to increase the trouble. I suffer so much with this trouble in the winter as in warm weather.

M. C.

Try washing night and morning with carbolated birches soap and hot water in which a few drops of ammonia have been placed. This removes all odor and frequently perfects a permanent cure.

To Clear the Complexion

I have been a reader of your beauty columns for some time, and am very interested. I had a struggle all the winter for the arsenic, flower cream, and lime juice. I bathe my face in warm water every night and apply the cream and rub it in; and then powder. I do the same only bathe my face in cold water. Is that right? I also read in some beauty columns where you give receipts of hydrogen and lanoline as a basis for the same. I have terribly dark skin, and have a few pimples on my forehead. Would it injure the face to use it for a bleach on face, as I am very anxious to get my skin smooth and white? Hoping you will tell me in next week's paper.

A READER.

Try to get rid of the pimples before using a bleach; be careful of your diet; abstain from rich, greasy foods and get plenty of fresh air, if possible. An excellent thing to clear the complexion is to rub the face over just before washing it with two teaspoonfuls of extract of cucumber, mixed in one-half pint of rose milk. This mixture should be rubbed in thoroughly and allowed to remain on the face for a few minutes before washing off with tepid water. Then dry the face with a soft towel.

Face Too Fat

Knowing you have helped many others in such matters, I have ventured to write to you to ask your help. Can you recommend any system of massage which will reduce the face? My face is very fleshy, though my body is thin. Also, the flesh under my eyes and my cheeks are swollen, giving my eyes a dull, heavy appearance. If you will help me, I will be very grateful to you.

TRUSTING.

Use the following massage movement to reduce the flesh on your face. If the puffiness under your eyes is very pronounced, it may be that it is caused by some internal trouble. Disordered kidneys will frequently produce this result.

Use both hands, place the finger tips directly beneath the eyes, press gently around to outward corners and upward, following the contour of the eye. Go all over the face with an upward, outward movement. For reducing flesh firm, hard treatment is required.

Pimples on Her Face

I have read your column for some time, and, as you seem to help others, I will come to you with my trouble. I have pimples on my face. It looks like they come mostly under the skin, sometimes there are five or six at a time; then I don't have any for a few days. Lights, sometimes they leave spots when they go away; I am healthy otherwise. Now, I hope you will please help me, and would you advise taking the blood purifier you had in last week's paper, as I think I need something of interest? They mostly come under the chin. Now, please be so kind as to help one, a broken-hearted girl.

TRIAL.

Try taking a blood purifier and use the cream for pimples for which I am giving you a formula:

Fossati Cream for Pimples.

Lanolin, 6 grams; sweet almond oil, 3 grams; sulphur precipitate, 3 grams; oxide of zinc, 1½ grams; tincture of violet, 15 drops.

Apply a very little of the cream to each pimple.

Stubborn Freckles

I have tried your advice for freckles—the lotion as follows: Bichloride of mercury, 7 grams; witch hazel, 1 pint; rose water, 2 ounces—and find it very beneficial. It lightens the freckles, but does not remove them, so I decided to try your cucumber cream in connection with it. Have I to do? Do you advise me to do so? I have had some of your cream and bought it from my druggist, and it is a cream, white like milk, only thicker—about as thick as a good rich cream. Is the prescription properly filled? I had an idea it would be a cold cream, looking about like lard.

Would you mind advising me just how to use the two, and if they would be safe to use? Or would you advise me to use any other remedy? Dr. Shoemaker's lotion has done wonders for me, and, perhaps, if I give it more time, it will remove the freckles entirely. I have used it a month or so. What would the advice me to do? If you can spare the time and space I'll be pleased to answer all my questions, if I'm so fortunate to you for your kindness.

Your little tales on freckles and sunburn were very delightful, and it seems a shame to bother you again; but I am so afraid I'll be thus what your advice is. Thanking you in advance, I am

EVER GRATEFUL.

I feel almost sure that if you persist in using the Shoemaker bleach it will remove the freckles. However, I am giving you formula for another lotion, which I recommend in obstinate cases. The cucumber lotion should be about the consistency of rich cream, and it may be safely used in connection with any other lotion.

Obstinate Freckles.

Oxide of zinc, ½ dram; subnitrate of bismuth, 2 grains; starch, 1½ drams; glycerin, 1 dram; rose water, 1 ounce.

Mix the powders with the fraction of water and glycerin to form a paste; then remove with rose water with a little powdered borax and sweet oil.

To Keep the Hair Light

Will you be so kind as to tell me what will make my hair that natural? It is now rather light, but I notice it is getting darker, and I think it gives it a reddish tint.

I have seen so many helped by your recipes that I thought, as a constant reader, I would write. What, exactly, is the matter with it? Is it too dry, or is it subject to tarlow mould? If so, what is the remedy to arrest it?

GRATEFUL.

Shampooing the hair frequently with the mixture given below will tend to keep it light. The only other method is by bleaching, and I do not approve of this treatment by an amateur. Better be content with the color nature has bestowed upon you. A little borax in the shampoo water is very good for keeping the hair light, but it should be thoroughly rinsed in cold water afterward.

Shampoo.

White castile soap, in shavings, 1 ounce; water, 16 ounces; potassium carbonate, 15 grains; borax, 120 grains; cologne water, 2 ounces; bay rum, 2 ounces.

Dissolve the soap in a few pints of the water; dissolve the other ingredients in the remainder of the water; mix the two solutions and bottle.

HEALTH THROUGH HYGIENE — THE FAT GIRL

By Dr. Emma E. Walker

Copyright, 1906, by A. S. Barnes & Co.

THE girl who is too fat is nearly always fond of sweets and dainties. Exercise and diet are the two chief lines along which she must work in order to reduce her superfluous flesh.

Every pound of flesh beyond that which is necessary to make the form symmetrical is an additional weight to carry, a burden to overcome, and a hindrance to all normal functions. In other words, it stands ready to destroy both health and beauty.

If you notice this tendency when you are young, and especially if you know that it is hereditary, begin early to keep it down. Look first to your diet. It is not only the things which you eat, but in a great measure that you eat which helps to produce this unfortunate condition. I know a girl now whose form is most ungainly, and it is growing more so every day. I believe that she hardly ever solved beans from a trip downtown without bringing a box or two of candy.

It is generally the calm and phlegmatic temperament, the girl who does not worry, who takes life calmly, who indulges herself in frequent meals, as well as in all things good to eat, who is troubled with an excess of fat.

Such foods as cakes and pastries, ices, creams and candies, taken especially between meals, besides wines and other alcoholic beverages, are very productive of superfluous flesh. It is much easier to prevent this condition than it is to cure it.

In general, sweets and starches, besides milk, creams and desserts, should be, to a great extent, rigorously shunned. There should be no between-meal indulgence. Breakfast cereals, with, of course, cream and sugar, must be abstained from. Many girls who are inclined to be superplump really believe that their appetites are small. It is curious to note how often fleshy people will tell you this fact.

The basis of the diet for obesity consists of lean meat and dry food, but no strict diet should be undertaken without the personal observation and direction of a physician, for there are often other indications which would not allow such a regimen to be followed with benefit.

Fats should not be entirely cut off, because they are needed to a certain extent to aid digestion.

It must be remembered that no cut-and-dried rules can be given for all cases of obesity. The individual must be considered in this regard, just as she is in every other branch of hygiene. You can soon tell by watching yourself carefully what special foods add to your own weight.

As far as possible, according to many authorities, you should abstain from taking much liquid, especially with meals. This holds true only in case that you are in otherwise good condition, for such diseases as gout and rheumatism require an increased quantity of fluid.

One of our leading dietitians gives the following general directions: The girl who wishes to reduce her weight should eat all kinds of sugar, milk, cream, and alcoholic beverages. The little fluid that is taken should consist of clear or aerated water. As far as possible the food should be taken dry. Very juicy fruits and vegetables, such as watermelons and tomatoes, should not be eaten.

A little butter may be taken, but aside from that, fats should be eschewed. Sugar should be forbidden. Starches should be cut down to as low a limit as possible. You may substitute gluten bread, if you wish, for wheat bread. Fruits and the vegetables that grow above ground—fresh green vegetables—are used.

Various systems have been laid down by different authorities for diet in obesity, but it is most unwise to follow out any one of these without the supervision of a competent physician.

As to "anti-fat" remedies, they would better be let alone entirely. There are many quack nostrums which are popularly supposed to reduce flesh. Such preparations are thoroughly unscientific and many of them are positively dangerous. The only sensible treatment for obesity consists of diet and exercise.

To sum up, then, the general directions for the girl who wishes to lose flesh are:

Do not sleep more than seven hours out of the twenty-four; learn to move more quickly; get out of bed instantly on waking in the morning, take a brisk bath, first scrubbing yourself with a brush and then rubbing vigorously with a coarse towel.

AMERICAN CEREAL CO.

BEGAN THIS MORNING ON EXTENSION TO WORKS

The Four Storey Warehouse Will be Raised to Five Stories and the Whole Structure Will be Extended to Hunter Street--Mr. Wm. Langford Started Men to Work This Morning on the Enlargement--Work Will be Pushed Vigorously--Will Provide Additional Manufacturing and Warehouse Capacity.

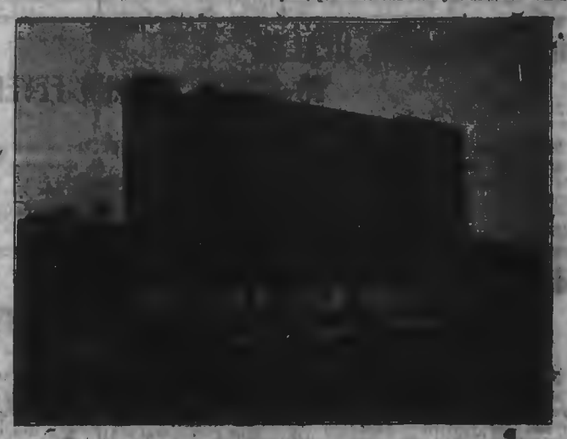
As announced previously in the Examiner, the American Cereal Company has decided upon an extension of their works here, and this morning active work on that extension was commenced.

For some time the company has been considering this enlargement to its works, and as far back as a year ago plans and specifications were prepared. The enlarments will consist of the addition of one storey to the four-storey warehouse building, at the south of the main mill, and the extension of the whole structure to Hunter street.

At the present time the company finds itself lacking warehouse and shipping facilities sufficient to accommodate the rapidly growing trade, and the erection of the new building will afford accommodation for storing the product before it is shipped, as well as providing extra siding capacity for shipping, as at the present time only ten cars can be loaded at one time.

The flour mill in connection with the mill has been completed and is ready for operation. The manufacture of flour will be commenced as soon as the new wheat has been shipped in.

It will be pleasing news to the people of Peterborough to learn that the company has at last actually started work on its new extension, indicating, as it does, that the operation of the company's mill here has been satisfactory, and that generally the conditions are favourable really the conditions are satisfactory.



Works of the American Cereal Company Which Will Be Greatly Enlarged.

It is understood that some property on the south side of Hunter street has been purchased upon which to place the siding of the C. P. R., a change in the location of which will be made necessary by this extension of the works.

The enlarged structure will greatly increase the facilities of the company for turning out their product, as it will give a much larger warehouse capacity, as well as space for manufacturing purposes.

Already a quantity of material is on the ground, and Mr. Wm. Langford, who has the contract for the work of enlargement, has a number of men engaged to-day taking up the platform to the south of the warehouse, preparatory to commencing building operations.

At the present time the company finds itself lacking warehouse and shipping facilities sufficient to accommodate the rapidly growing trade, and the erection of the new building will afford accommodation for storing the product before it is shipped, as well as providing extra siding capacity for shipping, as at the present time only ten cars can be

INJUNCTIONS MAY STOP THE DIVERSION

The Examiner is informed that the power owners are preparing to vigourously defend their rights in respect to the diversion of the water of Balsam Lake by the Dominion Bridge Company, which was exclusively reported in the Examiner on Saturday. It is understood that Mr. Donaldson, acting for the Peterborough Hydraulic Power Company, and the solicitor of the Canadian General Electric Company, will apply for injunctions restraining the Company from taking further water from the lake.

A representative of one of the companies affected, informed the Examiner that it is not the actual amount of the water taken, that they are objecting to, but the principle of diverting water into an unnatural course, which they claim is distinctly against the law and if allowed in this case, must be allowed in others.

The Companies would not object to the water being taken during the summer months when there is a full flow of the water, but at this time, with the approach of the season when the water is low, it is a serious matter, and according to the power owners, something which they will not stand for, if they can prevent it, which they believe they can do.

Electric Works Reported Purchasing More Land

Real Estate Dealer Gives Information That Company is Negotiating For Property on Albert Street--If Deal Goes Through the Company Will Have Whole Block From Townsend to Albert Street--Belief That New Land is for Erection of Additions to the Works of the Company.

Reports of business expansion, are coming thick and fast these days, and, coming upon the head of the statement, that the American Cereal Company had started work on its enlargement to its works, comes the statement that the Canadian General Electric Company is negotiating for an addition to its property in the south end.

A short time ago the company bought some lots on the corner of Park and Albert streets, south of the works of the company and, it is now learned, that three other lots, west of the already purchased, on Albert street, are being negotiated for. One of these is the property of Mr. Walter Stocker, and it is understood from a real estate dealer that there are good prospects of the company acquiring this additional property.

No information is available as to the immediate intentions of the company in reference to the land which they have purchased and that which they are reporting to be securing, but doubtless it is for the purpose of making extensions to their works in the near future.

Unfortunate Injury to Octogenarian

Mrs. John Dobbin Sustains Distressing Accident.

Mother-in-law of Mrs. James Byrne, Who is Also a Critical Condition of Illness.

Mrs. John Dobbin, mother of Mrs. James Byrne, of the Ladies' Hair Works, sustained on Saturday a distressing accident, while visiting at the home of Mr. Wm. Fowler, North Monaghan.

Mrs. Dobbin, who is remarkably hearty and well preserved for her advanced age of eighty-two years, returned on Friday from a visit to her daughter, Mrs. George Steers, of Yellowgrass, N.W.T., making the long journey without the fatigue which might have been expected as a natural consequence. On Saturday while descending a flight of stairs at Mr. Fowler's residence, Mrs. Dobbin slipped and fell with great force against a door at the bottom. Beyond the accompanying shock no injuries, fortunately, resulted except a severely wrenched ankle. The injured lady was removed this morning to the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Byrne, where she is to-day resting easily and doing as well as may be expected.

Mr. Byrne has, as has been learned with deep regret by his many friends been for some weeks in a critical condition from an affection of the heart, resulting from a recent attack of pleurisy. The patient has been under the care of Dr. Young, and his condition has shown considerable improvement during the past day or two, and an early convalescence is hoped for by his numerous friends.

MINISTER OF RAILWAYS AND CANALS DECIDES TO VISIT PETERBOROUGH

Hon. H. R. Emmerson and Deputy Minister Butler Will be in This City Next Monday and Will Take a Trip Over the Trent Canal--Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., Enlists the Minister's Interest in the Canal to the Extent of Going Over the Route Personally--An Opportunity to Impress Him With Its Importance

Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways in Canada, accompanied by his deputy, Mr. J. M. Butler, and his former deputy, Mr. Collingwood Schreiber, will be in Peterborough on Monday of next week, and will make a tour of inspection of the Trent Canal. It is not unlikely that a banquet of some kind will be tendered the Minister when here, and advantage will be taken of the occasion to impress upon the Government the early completion of the Trent Canal system.

HON. H. R. EMMERSON,

Minister of Railways and Canals, Who Will Visit Peterborough and Go on Trent Canal.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson and his deputy are at present making their way down from the Maritime Provinces, where they have been making an inspection of the Intercolonial Railway.

The Peterborough Board of Trade should immediately take up the matter of the Minister's visit, and arrange for some sort of entertainment, with a view of keeping the canal and the navigation and proven interests it represents, in a position of prominence.

Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P. for West Peterborough, has been trying to impress for some time upon the Minister of Railways in Canada, the desirability of coming to Peterborough and going over the canal in order to obtain a personal knowledge of the condition of the work, and be better able to appreciate the importance of the canal.

That Hon. Mr. Emmerson has decided to accede to the request of Mr. Hall to take a trip over the canal, is an indication of the fact that he already appreciates that the canal is of an importance which warrants him taking this action.

WHOLESALE DOG POISONING REPORTED IN THE CITY

There appears to be an almost wholesale practice of dog-poisoning in the city. The Examiner has been informed that in the north and west part of the city a number of valuable animals have been killed, and their death gives every appearance of having been due to poisoning. On Saturday morning a gentleman coming down to work, noticed, while going across Central Park, two large, fine-looking dogs, lying dead; and the same morning another was seen in the western part of the city.

Some of the owners of valuable dogs which have been poisoned, are very much annoyed at the apparent deliberate attempt being made to get rid of some of the dogs in the city, and, if the one who is doing the poisoning, is detected, there will in all probability be serious developments. While it is no doubt true that there are in the city some dogs which are not only vicious, but nuisances, there are other ways of getting rid of them than by this method, and there is always the danger that dogs which are valuable and their owners would feel badly at losing them, may get some of the poison.

There are bad dogs, as there are bad and worthless men, but poison is not the best remedy to apply to either.

Annual Entertainment and Tea at Fraserville Methodist Church.

Special to the Examiner

Springville, Sept. 16th.—Rev. W. G. McCall, of Wellington, Prince Edward County and Mr. W. E. McCall, of Peterborough, were recent guests of Mrs. D. Wilson, and were warmly welcomed back by their many friends here. They found many changes in the villages, particularly among the people.

Miss Lizzie Laurie, of Port Hope, has been visiting in the village, the guest of Miss Baptie.

On Sunday last, in the absence of the pastor of the Presbyterian Church, sermons were preached most acceptably by Mr. M. E. Wilson.

The annual anniversary services and tea of the Fraserville Methodist Church were held on Sunday and were most successful. The attendance, both at the Sunday services and at the entertainment and tea on Monday was large, and the financial results highly satisfactory. On Sunday sermons were preached most acceptably by Rev. J. G. Lewis, of Mark Street Church, Peterborough, and on Monday the annual tea meeting was held. A splendid supper was provided, prepared and served in a manner peculiar for its excellence, with the good ladies of this district, and following the tea a delightful entertainment was given in the church. Among the ministers who were in attendance were Rev. Messrs. Sexsmith, Cavan, N. D. Draw, Pontypool, John Robeson, Jr., South Cavan, and others. A number of much appreciated solos were rendered, the vocalists being Miss Brerton, Bethany, Miss Bryce, Peterborough, Miss Smithson, Bailieboro and Miss Bertha Parnell, Peterborough. Master Herbert Mowat, of Peterborough, also contributed to the programme, and Mrs. Mowat played the accompaniments during the evening most acceptably.

A large number of persons were present from Peterborough, and it is stated that some of the young men accompanying the party were very economical of the coal oil.

The pall bearers were Messrs. W. C. Berry, Bunton, Inkpen, W. Kemp, T. J. Gillespie and M. Mowry.

ENGLISH MANUFACTURERS ARE SUFFERING FROM FOREIGN COMPETITION

Mr. J. J. Turner, Sr., Returns From Trip to England With Canadian Manufacturers and Speaks of His Impressions of Trade There--Believes Some Protective Policy Will Have to Be Adopted--Speaks Enthusiastically of the Hospitality of the English People to the Colonials--The Visit to the King.

Mr. J. J. Turner, sr., head of the firm of Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, who formed one of the Peterborough contingent with the Canadian Manufacturers Association, on their recent trip to England and the continent, returned to the city yesterday morning, having crossed the Atlantic on the Tunisian, which left Liverpool on Thursday, September 7th, and arrived at Montreal on Saturday, after one of the roughest trips that ever been experienced. Mr. Turner is a good sailor, however, and he never missed a meal on either trip. Unfortunately, however, Mr. Turner was ill for about three weeks during his stay in England, and his illness occurred just at a time which prevented him from attending the festivities arranged for the visiting manufacturing colonials.

He was able to attend the reception which was tendered by King Edward, which was one of the most brilliant functions held during the whole trip, and was undoubtedly the most interesting.

Mr. Turner is enthusiastic in his praise of the hospitality shown the Canadians by the English people, and their visit was a continual round of fetes and banqueting.

The trade policy of the English Parliament is, according to Mr. Turner, a disastrous one for the English manufacturer, and the result is that foreign manufactured products are flooding to the market, to the detriment of the home manufacturers. There are, he was informed, 50,000 people out of work, and that number would be increased to 200,000 in the near future. Thousands of the people would be glad to come to Canada if they had money enough to bring them here, for Canada has a great name in England at the present time, and is attracting considerable attention.

He was able to take the trip to Paris with the manufacturers, but had to pay for this indulgence, for he was laid up again after he returned to London. Since he recovered, Mr Turner has been travelling through the country partly on pleasure and partly on business, and reports that in his quest for both he was very successful, and he brings home a number of good orders. He looks the picture of good health, and states that he never felt better in his life.

HELP BOARD OF HEALTH TO CHECK TYPHOID FEVER

Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer, has issued the following letter which the physicians referred to are asked to attend to:—

"As there is an unusual number of typhoid fever cases in the city at present it is the duty of the attending physician to report at once to the Medical Health Officer, the name of patient, with the number of the house and street to enable the Board of Health to investigate the cause of the outbreak and if possible to check it."

MR. HAMILTON ON DEPUTATION TO ASK FOR RAILWAY AID

Mr. Alex. Hamilton, of Warren, superintendent of operations of the Sturgeon Falls' Pulp Company, was in the city yesterday, spending the day with relatives. He went to Toronto, to-day where a deputation is waiting on the Government in reference to securing aid for a new railway, to run through the New Ontario region.

The railway will be 240 miles in length, and will run through one of the richest parts of the new province, and will be a colonization road.

A Gratifying Success Scored At Kinmount

Record Attendance at Galway Township Fair.

Mr. George Lipsett Secures First Money in Three Straight Heats in 2.28 Class—Ball in Evening.

The Galway Township Fair held yesterday at Kinmount, was this year a gratifying success, and was attended by a crowd of over one thousand people.

The exhibits were numerous and surpassed those of all previous years in general excellence.

In the evening a ball was given by the local Lodge C.O.F., which was greatly enjoyed by the large crowd who attended.

The races at the Exhibition were of course, a leading feature and were undoubtedly the best ever seen in the village. The track was in good condition.

2.28 Class.—In the 2.28 class Mr. George Lipsett's Miss Paisley carried off the honours in three straight heats. Little Gyp, owned by Mr. Wes. Fanning, of Lindsay, took second money, and Mr. Arthur Elliott, of Otonabee, secured third place with Little Whi.

Free-for-All.—Mr. George Powell captured both first and second money in the free-for-all; Little Johnny securing first. Mr. W. Robinson, of Gooderham, won third place with John R. Gentry.

Mr. Lipsett returned to the city to-day.

WEAK MEN AND WOMEN

The Most Perfect Restorative Known and Invigorating Tonic Vitalizer —Greatest Health-Renewer

Nature's greatest cure for weak, pale men and women is Ferrozone. It is invaluable for run-down, overworked, delicate people, and will restore them to robust health more quickly, at smaller expense, than any other tonic you can select.

We quote the following cases to show what Ferrozone has done for others. In your case it will act just as efficiently:—

FOR BUSINESS MEN

The Experience of a Well-known Lawyer Proves Ferrozone an Ideal Tonic.

Mr. N. W. Burke, a well known lawyer in Meriden, says:—"When I first took Ferrozone I was in a nervous run-down condition, almost sick enough to give up work. I lacked strength, and felt as if I could not get down to work. Ferrozone at once gave me a good appetite, and drove away the nervous, apprehensive feelings that formerly made my life miserable. As I continued the use of Ferrozone I grew stronger, and am glad to say it has brought me back to perfect health. I know that Ferrozone is an excellent tonic for business men and people inclined to a sedentary life. I can recommend it to such."

FOR NERVOUS WOMEN

Nothing Compares With the Nerve-Strengthening Power of Ferrozone.

Mrs. H. D. Emmerton, of Centreville, says:—"I am glad to think that there is at least one honest remedy for nervous people. No one can imagine what I suffered with my nerves, and I sometimes wonder at the number of useless prescriptions and medicines I took. But Ferrozone acted differently from all the rest. It built up my system, and gradually the irritability left my nerves, and I got well. Ferrozone cured me by removing the cause of my trouble, and by giving me enough additional strength to overthrow the attack of nervousness. I can recommend Ferrozone strongly."

THOUSANDS ANNUALLY CURED BY FERROZONE

If you want to get well and keep well, by all means use Ferrozone. If you suffer from insomnia, nervousness, debility, loss of appetite, poor digestion, or any other symptom of disordered blood, nothing will tone up and vitalize your system like Ferrozone. Price 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50. Sold by all druggists, or sent safely by mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

The Opening Meeting Was Auspicious One

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt Spoke at Men's Meeting in Y. M. C. A.

"The Leprosy of Sin" the Subject Yesterday Afternoon.

Unfavourable weather greeted the opening of the Popular Men's Meetings at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday, in spite of which, however, there was a fair attendance of men.

The speaker was Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, M.A., rector of St. Luke's, who is one of the popular speakers to men. Before the address, Mr. Jno. Miller sang a solo which added much to the enjoyment of the meeting.

Mr. Geo. F. Sahnkider presided at the piano, he having been secured for the season to take charge of the musical part of the meetings.

Mr. Langfeldt's subject was "The Leprosy of Sin," and it was indeed a plain, earnest talk to men. He was listened to with deep attention, and the address was an effective one.

Naaman, the leper general of Syria, was introduced as a type of men of to-day—who were great, had much about them that made them attractive, yet there was a "but" in their lives. This was seen everywhere — men of physical excellence, but no moral power. Others intellectually great, but the victims of the indulgence of their lower natures.

The cause of it was because since sin had entered the world, character had become imperfect, the human creature subject to limitations, and the body subject to weakness and death.

Bible history was full of examples of men in whose lives there was the "but"—as in Naaman's. David, Moses, Elijah and Peter were cited.

Human nature had never changed, and we see this character who lived centuries ago reproduced, a living, moving, palpitating picture of thousands of men here, now and everywhere.

Herein was sadness: of all those those of whom he had just spoken were as criminals, thieves, and murderers. Some of them grand soldiers, law-abiding citizens, ornaments of great professions, yet smitten with disease terrible to contemplate, and, in God's sight, lepers.

It is the "but" which is spoiling men's lives. It keeps men out of the church and its services, and makes them unfit to be associates of the clean and pure.

It need not remain, for God does not desire it. He is waiting for the men to return to Him, as the father did for the prodigal.

In closing, Mr. Langfeldt made an earnest appeal for men to take this step.

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR LATE JOHN REID

Was Held Last Night and This Morning Also.

At the close of the evening service at the Park Street Baptist Church last night, the members repaired to the home of Mrs. Reed on Perry street, where a full service was held. The house was filled and the sermon was preached by the Rev. A. H. Brace from the text "Man Goeth to His Long Home". He referred to the deceased John Reed, as a faithful servant of his earthly Master, and an affectionate father and devoted husband. He was treasurer of the Park Street Church for nearly two years.

A large number of sympathetic friends gathered at 7 this morning for a short service. The body was taken to Hamilton for interment in the family plot. Rev. J. C. Sycamore, M. A., pastor of the James Street Baptist Church will have charge of the service there.

The high esteem in which the deceased was held was seen in the magnificent flowers which covered the coffin. The Gates Ajar, by his fellow workmen a wreath from the Park Street Baptist Church, wreath from the members of the Examiner office staff, of which the deceased's son is a member, and a wreath from the A.O.U.W. of which he was treasurer, with many others.

A TRULY IDEAL WIFE

HER HUSBAND'S BEST HELPER

Vigorous Health is the Great Source of the Power to Inspire and Encourage —All Women Should Seek It.

One of the most noted, successful and richest men of this century, in a recent article, has said, "Whatever I am and whatever success I have attained in this world I owe all to my wife. From the day I first knew her she has been an inspiration, and the greatest helpmate of my life."

To be such a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, to inspire him to make the most of himself, should be a woman's constant study.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness, whites, irregularities or the blues, she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Following we publish by request a letter from a young wife:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope few women ever have, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, backache and wretched headaches. It affected my stomach so I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I feel so grateful that I am glad to write and tell you, of my marvelous recovery. It brought me health, new life and vitality."—Mrs. Bessie Ainsley, 611 South 10th Street, Tacoma, Wash.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ainsley it will do for every sick and ailing woman.

If you have symptoms you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

Bible Class Social Saturday Night

The Saturday Bible Club Social at the Y.M.C.A. was largely attended. The first part of the hour was taken up with a review of the "Travels of Paul," and a summary of his characteristics.

Mr. Geo. Robertson then took the chair for the social hour, which was certainly an entertaining one.

Mr. W. Berry presided at the piano in a masterly style and the Coleman Bros. sang and were repeatedly encored.

Mr. Maitland's readings were splendid renditions. Refreshments and a social chat concluded the pleasant evening.

SOME PROVISIONS OF IMPORTANCE IN THE NEW ASSESSMENT ACT

The Assessment for Income and How it Affects the Young Men--All Who Earn Over $400, and Are Not Householders, Must Pay Taxes on Income--Employers Have to Give Information to the Assessors--The New Act as it Relates to the Business Man--Belief That the Revenue of the City Will be Increased as Result of Act.

This year the assessors appointed by the city are doing their work according to the instructions laid down in the new Assessment Act passed at the 1904 session of the Ontario Legislature, and, in that act the assessors are required to perform some duties which they had not to do under the act which it replaces. Employers of labour also are required to furnish certain information which they were not formerly required to do, and, for the information of many who have not studied the act, and are therefore unfamiliar with its provisions, some of the more important features particularly those in reference to the tax on income, which this year many will have to pay for the first time, may be explained.

A Fair Act.

There is a general feeling, among all classes, that the new act, while it is complicated, necessarily so, by reason of many new provisions, is one which provides for an assessment which is more equitable than any that was previously in force, and when it is more fully explained, this conviction will doubtless grow. There is a general disposition, and perhaps everyone has the same feeling, more or less, to avoid paying taxes as much as possible, but everyone should recognize that it takes money to keep any municipality in business, and all who derive a livelihood out of the municipality should, according to his means, be willing, and if they are not willing, they should be made, to pay their share of the cost of the Government and maintenance of that particular municipality, and this is what the new act aims at.

Income Tax.

In respect to the tax on income, in which, in some respects, perhaps there has been the most radical change effected by the new act, some little explanation is necessary. The act provides that every person earning $400 or over and who is not a householder, shall be assessed for income, and, in cities or towns of a population of 10,000 or over every householder earning $1,000 or over shall be liable for taxation on income.

No doubt there will be some objection to this provision, not so much on account of any injustice, as the fact it will be establishing a new condition, and, as such will be opposed. It is, however, a reasonable position to take that young men, especially who are earning good wages, or working for a good salary, and using the conveniences which the town or city has provided, and has to maintain, should pay his share towards their maintenance, and towards the provision of other necessary public conveniences. Sidewalks are constructed as much for the convenience of persons who are not owners of property as they are for householders, and the same may be said of streets, the maintenance of the police, which protect every citizen, and so on through the whole list of civic expenditures, and if this is the case it seems reasonable that they should be made to bear their share of the cost of these things. Because a man is unmarried, and, therefore has no household to maintain, is no good reason why he should not be made to pay his share of the public expenditures in the city or town in which he may happen to reside. Under these conditions young men will very probably argue that, if they are thus compelled to contribute to the expenses of civic management they should have a voice in selecting the representatives who administer the funds to which they pay a portion. This of course involves the extension of the franchise to this class. Whether or not this is advisable, it doubtless will be felt that that would only be a logical sequence of the new conditions created by this special provision of the assessment act.

Must Give Information.

In order to arrive at information which will enable them to determine who are liable to assessment for income, the assessors are authorized to obtain from all employers of labour certain statistics in reference to their employees. The section of the act dealing with this says:—

17.—It shall be the duty of every person employing any other person in his trade, manufacture, business or calling within 10 days after demand therefor to furnish or cause to be furnished to the assessors information concerning the names, places of residence, and wages, salary or other remuneration, of all persons employed by him whose wages, salary or other remuneration exceed $1,000 per annum in cities and towns having a population of 10,000 or over and $700 in other municipalities in the case of householders and in all municipalities $400 in the case of non-householders.

The assessor is not only authorized to obtain this information, but the employer is bound to supply it, as will be seen from the following section in the same act:—

21.—(1) Any person who, having been duly required to deliver or furnish any written statement or information mentioned in the next preceding five sections, makes default in delivering or furnishing the same and any company which makes default in delivering the statement in writing in section 16 mentioned, shall incur a penalty of $100 and an additional penalty of $10 for each day during which default continues:

(2) Any person knowingly stating anything falsely in any such statement or in furnishing such information shall incur a penalty of $200.

The information supplied thus to the assessor must be considered as confidential by the latter, a violation of which confidence may be punished by a fine of $200, or imprisonment for six months, or fine and imprisonment, both.

Poll Tax.

The system of collecting poll tax has not been abolished, as will be seen by the following section:

4. Subject to the provisions of section 7, every male inhabitant of city, town or village of the age of twenty-one years and upwards, and under sixty years of age (and not otherwise exempted by law from performing statute labour), who has not been assessed upon the assessment roll of the city, town or village, shall, instead of such labour, be taxed at $1 yearly, therefor, to be levied and collected as the council of the municipality may, by by-law, direct.

Section seven referred to above provides that the council of any city, town, village or township may pass by-laws to reduce or abolish the amount of money to be paid in lieu of statute labour, or abolish statute labour and its performance.

Business Assessment.

Another respect in which a radical change has been effected by the act is in the adoption of what is known as a "business assessment," and is computed by reference to the assessed value of the land so occupied or used by the one carrying on the business. The different businesses specified, with the amount at which the shall be assessed are as follows:

(a) Every person carrying on the business of a distiller for a sum equal to 150 per cent. of the said assessed value.

(b) Every person carrying on the business of a brewer for a sum equal to 75 per cent. of the said assessed value of the land occupied or used by him for such business exclusive of any portion of such land occupied and used by him as a dwelling house, and for a sum equal to 60 per cent. of the assessed value as to such last mentioned portion.

(c) Every person carrying on the business of a wholesale merchant, of an insurance company, a loan company or a trust company, as defined by this Act, or of an express company carrying on business on or in connection with a railway or steamboats or sailing or other vessels where such land is occupied or used mainly for the purpose of its business, or of a land company, or of a bank or a banker, or of any other financial business for a sum equal to 75 per cent. of the said assessed value.

(d) Every person carrying on the business of a manufacturer for a sum equal to 60 per cent. of the said assessed value; and a manufacturer shall not be liable to business assessment as a wholesale merchant by reason of his carrying on the business of selling by wholesale the goods of his own manufacture on such premises.

(e) Every person carrying on the business of what is known as a department store or of a retail merchant dealing in more than five branches of retail trade or business in the same premises or in separate departments of premises under one roof, or in connected premises, where the assessed value of the premises exceeds $20,000, or of a yard or wood or lumber dealer, lithographer, printer or publisher, or of a club, in which wines or spirituous or fermented liquors are sold or furnished, or the business of selling, bartering or trafficking in fermented, spirituous or other liquors in any premises in respect of which a shop license has been granted, for a sum equal to 50 per cent. of the said assessed value; but in cities having over 100,000 population, coal dealers shall be assessed for a sum equal to 30 per cent. of the said assessed value.

(f) Every person practising or carrying on business as a barrister, solicitor, notary public, conveyancer, physician, surgeon, oculist, aurist, medical electrician, dentist, veterinarian, civil or mining or consulting or mechanical or electrical engineer, surveyor or architect, and, subject to subsection 5 of this section, every person carrying on a financial or commercial business as agent only, for a sum equal to 50 per cent. of the said assessed value. Provided that where a person belonging to any class mentioned in this clause occupies or uses land partly for the purposes of his business, and partly as a residence, 50 per cent. of the assessed value of the land occupied or used by him shall, for the purpose of the business assessment, be taken as, and constructed to be, the said assessed value of the land so occupied or used.

(g) Every person carrying on the business of a retail merchant in cities having a population of over 50,000 for a sum equal to 25 per cent. of the said assessed value; in other cities and towns having a population of 10,000 or over for a sum equal to 30 per cent. of the said assessed value; and in all other municipalities for a sum equal to 35 per cent. of the said assessed value.

(h) Every person carrying on the business of a photographer, or of a theatre, concert hall or skating rink, or other place of amusement, or of a boarding stable, or a livery, or the letting of vehicles or other property for hire, or of a restaurant, eating house, or other house of public entertainment, or a hotel in respect of which a tavern license has been granted, or any trade or commercial business not before in this section or clause (i) specially mentioned, for a sum equal to 25 per cent. of the said assessed value.

(i) Every person carrying on the business of a telegraph or telephone company, or of an electric railway, tramway, or street railway, or of the transmission of oil or water, or of steam, heat, gas, or electricity for the purposes of light, heat or power, for a sum equal to 25 per cent. of the assessed value of the land (not being a highway, road, street, lane, or public place, or water, or private right of way), occupied or used by such person, exclusive of the value of any machinery, plant or appliances erected or placed upon, in, over, under or affixed to such land.

One of the results to the municipality of the enforcement of the provisions of the new act will undoubtedly be the increase of the revenue, and, unless the expenditures are increased proportionately, there should be a further reduction of the rate. Many, however, are in favour of the policy of a low assessment and a high rate, arguing that this course helps the householders, while it has the effect of making manufacturing concerns and others having fixed assessments, pay more into the treasury of the municipality.

The assessors will have their rolls completed in the course of a month or so, and, with the publication of the results of their work, the citizens will be able to form an idea of the actual results which will follow the adoption of the new assessment act.

CHEMONG YACHT CLUB MEETING

Plans For New Club House Were Received and Discussed.

A meeting of the executive of the recently-organized Chemong Yacht Club was held Friday night at the Peterborough Club Rooms. The chair was occupied by Commodore S. M. Dennistoun. Those present were Messrs. Alex. Elliott, A. A. Hollingshead, and Milne Hamilton.

The plans for the proposed new Club House, prepared by Mr. W. C. P. Heathcote, were received and discussed.

The plans, as submitted, will be altered in some respects, the Executive having decided upon a number of alterations in their original intentions and another meeting will be held next week.

Telephone Girls Lose Jobs

The Consolidated Telephone Company has decided to spend $200,000 in installing girlless plants at Allentown and Hazeltown, Pa., thus depriving more than one hundred hello girls of their jobs. They will be out as soon as the new plants are ready, probably by December 1st. The girls are so cross about it that they left instantly, and the service is now greatly impaired. The directors say they are sorry for the girls, but they calculate that such girlless exchanges will save $20,000 a year.

ABOUT KEEWATIN.

Hon. "Bob" Rogers' outcry as to the "outrage" perpetrated upon Manitoba by disposing of the territory of Keewatin, which results from grouping that district with the Northwest Tenritories, is quite without justification. A firebrand journalistic co-worker adds to the outrage the entirely gratuitous assumption which becomes pasention, that this action excludes Manitoba from annexing a foot of land outside her present boundaries without she grants a separate school law for the whole Province." This is as utterly unfounded as Hon. Mr. Rogers' assertion that Manitoba has any claim upon Keewatin any more than the Province of Ontario. The facts in regard to the standing of Keewatin are simply these, as submitted by the Montreal Herald:

Keewatin has never had any connection whatever with Manitoba. Manitoba has never spent a cent of money on Keewatin, whose entire finances appear year by year in the Federal blue books of the Department of the Interior. The sole basis for Manitoba's claim on Keewatin is that the administrator of that district has for some years past been, under a Federal Order-in-Council, the Governor of Manitoba, ex officio; the Governor of Manitoba being a Federal appointee, and, in regard to his control of Keewatin, obviously also a Federal servant. The Government of Manitoba never had any rights, educational or otherwise, in the district of Keewatin.

The actual present status of the territory is a little more obscure. The Northwest Territories Act, the constitutional basis of all the Ordinances of which so much was heard last session, was amended, but not abolished, almost the only important change being that of the area of its operation. At that time Mackenzie was added to that area, and the district of Keewatin was expressly cited as being no part of the Territories. The ordinances being left in full validity within the new area, there is no doubt that the separate school establishment of the old Territories is applicable over the area of the new Tenritories, although there is no Council to administer it and no schools in operation. The amending act expressly provides for the continuances of the ordinances in spite of the unorganized condition of the present Territories, by giving the Commissioner, even without Council, all the powers of the former Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, and by directing that where these ordinances call for the services of an official not existing in the Territories, the Commissioner shall name a person to perform those services.

This, however, rests upon federal legislation. Whether the effect of annexation, such as that of Keewatkin, made by order-in-council only, would be to pass the permanent application in a territory for which they were not originally adopted, all the ordinance legislation of the old Territories, is another question. It seems possible that the annexation may be simply of the type which previously "annexed" Keewatin to Manitoba for administrative purposes only. In other words we do not regard it certain that the District of Keewatin has been earmarked for the Separate school system. If it has, however, the Federal executive has simply exercised a right which belonged to it from the first days of Confederation, which could have been exercised at any time during the administration of the Lieutenent-Governor of Manitoba, and which was never alienated in favour of Manitoba or any other other authority. Nor is it in the least clear that if a Separate school system has really been declared in Keewatin, Manitoba could not annex it "without passing a general Separate school law for the whole province." Under the currently accepted reading of the B. N. A. Act it is true that if a Separate school system has once been declared in Keewatin, it is installed for perpetuity. But there is nothing in the nature of a Separate school establishment which would prevent a provincial government from ruling two classes of territory, in one of which Separate schools existed, while in the other they did not.

And all this is so plain, simple and self-evident that we cannot believe the people of Manitoba will take Mr. Rogers' and the Tribune's word for it that they have been robbed.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The discouraging feature of the public ownership campaign of Mr. W. F. McLean, of Toronto, is that there is no burning desire for public ownership of Mr. McLean.

The Toronto News says:—"A Lindsay man was charged in Peterborough on Thursday with stealing a locomotive. Peterborough will have to put a guard around the lift lock. Burglars are so bold these days."

The News itself furnishes a proof of the necessity of protecting our lift lock. It carried it up to Kirkfield with a stroke of its pen.

The Canadian cruiser, Vigilant, is justifying her name, she has captured another American pirated craft caught stealing fish in Canadian waters. Our Yankee neighbours are a difficult proposition. They will, not only, not agree to reciprocal measures for the protection of fish ton, but after depleting their own ton, but after depleated their own waters by wasteful methods, steal Canadian fish.

Another suicide, or, at least, its equivalent. A young woman of Toronto foolishly attempted to ride the swells at the mouth of the River Humber, and was, of course, capsized and drowned. She was only 17 years of age, but if she had been only seven, she should have had more sense. In addition she would have been guilty of the death of other girls with her, if they had not been able to swim. Now, that the summer is over, it looks very like locking the stable after the horse is stolen, to point out the double moral of this sad happening. It illustrates the criminal foolishness of persons unable to swim, or without some sort of amateur judgment, taking the slightest risk with a craft so uncertain on its feet, as a canoe. It also illustrates the wisdom of everybody who goes upon the water, or expects to do so, to learn how to swim. In this case a knowledge of swimming saved the lives of three girls. This incident is denied, but that doesn't weaken the reasoning deduced from an accident which might easily take place.

THE LUCID TRUTH ABOUT KEEWATIN

Territory Was Never Part of Manitoba, But Was Administered to By The Lieut.-Governor Personally.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto News, Conservative in its attitude, furnishes the following lucid statement in regard to the state of Keewatin, out of which some rabid politicians are trying to make so much political capital:—

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—The Hon. Robert Rogers in his recent complaint about the withdrawal of Keewatin from the administration of the Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba strictly speaking has no other standing ground than as a citizen of Canada. As a Manitoban Minister, as an adviser of the Lieutenant-Governor in Manitoba, he has nothing to do with the territory to the north of his Province. For some years the Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba has been the Administrator of Keewatin, but this has been entirely apart from his functions as representative of the Crown in Manitoba. His Manitoba advisers have had nothing to do with his Keewatin administration. The Dominion Government, has made him a small allowance as Administrator of the Territory and has given him another small allowance for a private secretary. He has had the right to appoint a council to aid him in managing the district, but that council has not been the Manitoba Cabinet, and, indeed, he has not availed himself of the right. Such rudimentary administration as has been carried on has been at the expense of the Dominion Treasury. The Lieutenantant-Governor has yearly made a report to the Minister of the Interior.

Mr. Rogers thus is in the position of protesting against an action affecting the Lieutenant-Governor in a capacity altogether outside his Manitoba functions. Manitoba has not administered Keewatin, has spent no money upon it, and has received no more benefit from it than it has from the positions of Ontario and Saskatchewan adjacent to her boundaries. So far as the future disposition of the Territory goes Manitoba unquestionably is keenly interested. Apart from any intrinsic value which may attach to the district, there is the question of the Hudson's Bay Railway. Every Western man believes in that project and sooner or later the great experiment will be made. Obviously it will be of interest to Manitoba under these conditions to have her territory extended to the Bay. There is also the probability, at present remote, that sooner or later the Grand Trunk Pacific will build a cut-off from the northern prairies, north of Manitoba lakes, to the main line in Northern Ontario. The district thus is of importance from the standpoint of railway strategy. It will be remembered that in introducing the Autonomy legislation Sir Wilfrid Laurier intimated that a conference of Provinces will be held to discuss the partition of Keewatin, Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan, he suggested, are all interested. The Saskatchewan people are much interested, while the Ontario Government already has put a claim for a share of the Territory. These considerations altogether affect the future. From the standpoint of present administration the Manitoba Government has no more standing in regard to Keewatin than has the Government of Ontario.

The Political Pull Aspect of Public Ownership Idea

The Post Office Department, and especially the British Post Office Department, is the thing usually presented by advocates of municipal or government operation of utilities. But aside from the fact that it is hardly an illustration that can be accepted, because of the nature of the work done, it is far from settled that, given equal monopoly, privileges and exemptions, private management would not secure equal results with greater economy. In England just now Lord Stanley is having trouble with his post office employees, 183,000 of whom have organized to bulldoze candidates for Parliament and influence legislation. The London Times discusses the situation at some length, taking strong ground against the methods they have adopted. It regards the fact that within a dozen years concessions that cost the country £372,000 had been made to them, and still more is demanded. It says:

They have the franchise, and they abuse their trust by using their political power in the most unblushing manner to coerce weak-kneed candidates into promising support of their most extravagant claims. How far the servants of the State have gone in the direction of becoming its masters in respect of their own remuneration may be judged from what occurred yesterday. An amendment was moved to the vote, and the Postmaster-General was roundly denounced for not having accepted the recommendations of the Bradford Committee at a cost to the country of 2 1-2 millions. On a division that amendment was rejected by a majority of 44, but 205 members of the House voted in its favour. . . . A House which gets virtuously indignant if anybody is found voting upon a question in which he can be shown to have any direct personal interest, listens with perfect equanimity to documents showing that the Post Office servants insist upon members voting as they dictate upon the question of their own wages. There is only one remedy for abuse of the franchise carried out in this daring fashion. It is to revert to the practice that obtained before 1874, and to ensure that the servants of the State shall not dictate terms to their master, and shall not, in doing so, poison the very springs of political integrity."

In plain words, the London Times sees that organized "pull" is coercing the members of Parliament and creating a condition so threatening that it actually proposes the disfranchisement of 183,000 persons to mitigate the evil. In view of that showing it is worth while considering what might be the consequence of state and municipla operation of all the public utilities which some would place in the hands of Parliaments and Councils. Would the thousands of employees not seek to influence the management for their personal gain? And would it be practicable to guard against the evils of "pull" by general disfranchisement?—Hamilton Times.

AFTER-SERVICE MUSICAL TREAT

At St. John's Church Last Night.

Dr. Smith of Dublin, Presented a Splendid Organ Programme.

At St. John's church last night there was, in spite of the torrential downpour of rain, had the pleasure and profit of listening to a delightful impromptu programme of devotional organ music, given by J. Percy Smith, Mus. Doc., of Dublin, Ireland. Dr. Smith, who has been the organist of St. Kelvin's church, Dublin, is touring Canada at present, and, in passing Peterborough, stayed over Sunday. His presence being known, he kindly consented to give a brief after-service recital in St. John's. The recital was quite an impromptu affair, and Dr. Smith laboured under the disadvantage of having to perform a programme of seven numbers of classical calibre and difficulty, wholly from memory, for he had not a note of music before him. In spite of what would be a tremendous handicap to a mediocre musician, Dr. Smith produced the following delightful programme with a smoothness, brilliancy and virtuosity which was a rare pleasure to those who heard him, and stamps him as a musician of broad culture and large capability. His numbers were:

Prelude; Fugue; G. Major... ... ...Mendelssohn
Adagio—Violin Sonata... .....Beethoven
Cavatina..... ....Sobondorf
Finale—Symphony in G... ... ...Haydn
Overture—Stradella... ... ...Flotow
Offertoire in G.... ... ...Le-Febure-Wely
Schiller—Marsch... ... ...Meyerbeer

ONE DAY'S DEATH RECORD

Sudden Death on Sunday of Mrs. Bookhout

Prominent Member of Charlotte Street Church Passed Away.

Deceased Was Much Beloved and Her Death Will Cause Deep Regret.

The many friends of Mrs. A. F. Bookhout will regret exceedingly to learn of her death, which occurred Sunday morning at ten o'clock, at her home, 337 Reid street, after a short illness, the cause of her death being septicaemia.

The late Mrs. Bookhout has been a resident of Peterborough for the last three years, her husband occupying the position of chief draughtsman at the Canadian General Electric works, and was 26 years of age. Her maiden name was Ruth Etta MacLowry, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacLowry, reside in Bloomville, N.Y., where Mrs. Bookhout lived prior to her marriage, five years ago.

Besides her sorrowing husband, her father and mother, and two brothers, Mrs. Bookhout leaves an infant son, eight days old.

She was a prominent member of the Charlotte street Methodist church, and was secretary of the Ladies' Aid Society, as well as an earnest worker in the Sunday school. She possessed a most lovable character, and made friends wherever she went. There will be deep regret among her wide circle of friends at her untimely death.

The funeral took place this morning at eleven o'clock from the family residence, 337 Reid street, to the G. T. R. Station, the remains being conveyed to Bloomville, N. Y., where interment will take place. The pallbearers were Messrs. T. J. Mowat, W. Galbraith, H. P. Kennedy, A. B. Cunningham, R. E. Layfield and Dr. Morrison. The service at the house was conducted by Rev. W. J. Jolliffe, B.C.L., pastor of the Charlotte street Methodist church, and he referred feelingly to the loss which the church would sustain by Mrs. Bookhout's death.

TELEPHONE TALKS.

TO TELEPHONE USERS AND THE GENERAL PUBLIC,—

The most interesting information presented to the Special Committee on telephone conditions was the evidence regarding the remarkable development which has taken place in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and some parts of Michigan. The distinctive feature of conditions in these States is that this extraordinary growth is not in the cities and towns but in the rural districts.

The most striking feature is the fact disclosed in evidence, that the extension of the telephone to farmers in those States has been the work of the farmers themselves, and that the development has been very largely in harmony with and encouraged by the affiliated companies of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, commonly called the American Bell Telephone Company.

It has been so often reiterated or implied that all, or most of the Farmers' lines in the United States were connected with the systems built up by Independent Companies that it has been generally accepted as a fact. Promoters of Independent companies have included these lines in their statistics for purposes of comparison, and have classed them as their own. As a matter of fact the Farmers' telephone lines are a distinct class of "Independents," very largely connected with the exchanges and long distance lines of the operating Bell Companies.

An official of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, stated, under oath, that hundreds of thousands of farmers owning, operating and controlling their own lines, especially in the States above referred to, were connected with the Bell systems under mutually satisfactory working arrangements and that the number of such connections are increasing daily.

This official announced that it was the policy of the Bell Companies of the United States to encourage, and, when required, to aid farmers in providing telephone service for themselves, and in every case where the lines and equipment were suitable, and were non-competitive, to give them connection with the Company's lines and exchanges at the bare cost of operating, and the regular charge for Long Distance tolls.

The Bell Telephone Company of Canada has been experimenting for the past twenty years with the problem of rural telephony, and though conditions are different here from what they are in the densely populated States of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, yet we have come practically to the same conclusion as our neighbors—that this is largely a work for the farmers themselves. We have already connected with nearly forty such systems, lending them aid the of experienced men, and in other ways assisting in the improvement and maintenance of their lines and instruments; and we have yet to hear the first complaint that the arrangement given them is not satisfactory.

We shall continue the consideration of this matter.

The Port Hope Guide Again Whacks Peterborough

The Port Hope Guide has again broken out on baseball, the favourite theme of discussion when the sporting writer takes on his fits of temporary unaccountability. Here is his effusion to-day:—

There is a rumour afloat that Peterborough intends to pitch Flaherty against Cobourg in the game here next Saturday for the championship. Had the rules of the league been strictly enforced Peterborough would not have had a chance for the championship. In view of the league Executive being lenient on Peterborough all season that team should at least endeavour to fight out the final on the square. Everyone knows that Flaherty is not eligible under the residence rule as he has been playing with Galt all season. The Cobourg management state that rather than play with Flaherty in the box they will leave the grounds and allow the matter to be decided by the Executive Committee. Any occurrence of this nature however, would prove a sore disappointment to the onlooks which will be present from the surrounding country and to avoid this it might be well for President Pethick to notify Peterborough that they will not be allowed to pitch Flaherty.

This Flaherty affair however, is only a rumour but as it came from a member of the Peterborough club we were led to believe that it was correct.

The Householders Suffer.

There is a depressing outlook for the thrifty housewife in London, Eng., in consequence of marked indications of a further rise in various household necessities. Flour has gone up but the action of bakers who are cutting prices has kept bread down. Potatoes will be high owing to unfavourable weather, thousands acres bearing potato crops being under water in Essex, Cumberland, Lincoln, Connaught and Galway, causing a loss of about $5,000,000. Bacon is also dearer, Irish, Wiltshire and Danish green bacon having risen $4.50 per hundredweight, wholesale, since January. A strike of coal porters is threatened which if it cannot be avoided, will send coal up to any figure.

Peterboroughs Won From the City Champions

Night Owls Defeated by a Score of 5-2 on Saturday.

Several Accidents in Game—Rattary Breaks Finger and Callahan Receives Cut.

Before a small crowd the Night Owls, city champions, were defeated at the Riverside Grounds by the Peterboroughs on Saturday afternoon. The game had many decidedly interesting features and resulted in a score of 5-2.

The teams were as follows:—

Night Owls.—Long, c.; Pilling, p.; McDonald, 1st base; Adamson, 2nd base; Trainer, 3rd base; Gordon Craig, l. f.; Dusty, s. s.; Ryan, c. f.; McFadden, r. f.

The features of the game were Shea's sensational one-hand catch of a drive by Parnall. The fielding honours went to Trainor and Shea.

Shea made a home run with bases full and also a two-bagger. Rattray and Callahan were injured in the game, the former breaking his fourth finger and the latter receiving a nasty cut upon the forehead by a low drive to second. No runs were made in the first three innings, the Peterborough's securing a pair in the fourth.

Beavertons Badly Worsted By Shamrocks

Mr. Ambrose Regan Compelled to Retire From Game.

Score Was 12-1—A Player Engaged Thinks Locals Could Trim Junctionites.

Mr. Ambrose Regan of the National Hotel returned last night from Toronto, where he on Saturday took part in the lacrosse game in the Junior C.L.A., playing with Beavertoon against the Junction Shamrocks.

The Beavertons, who won the semi-final round from the locals in the recent game in Lindsay by a majority of one goal met a disastrous defeat in the Queen City—the score being 12-1 in favour of the Shamrocks.

The first quarter was closely contested and not a single score was registered, but the second proved the undoing of the Checkers. Mr. Regan received a body blow from the knee of one of his husky opponents and was forced to retire for the remainder of the game. This apparently resulted in the disorganization of the team, and during their flight in the air, the Irishmen scored almost at will. The decisions of the referee, Harry Gillespie, of Toronto, have given rise to no little unfavourable comment, as it is claimed that the Checkers were penalized in a manner altogether disproportionate to their opponents. The return game will be played in Beaverton on Wednesday next, when the team of that place will be compelled to go up against what looks like the almost impossible proposition of refusing the Shamrocks' lead of eleven goals.

Mr. Regan expresses the opinion that the Peterboroughs could defeat the Shamrocks, as he does not regard the latter team's victory on Saturday as a fair criterion of their playing abilities. The game was a rough one, five or six men frequently being upon the fence at one time.

BASEBALL.

A large crowd will, from present indications, take in the baseball club's excursion to Fort Hope on Saturday. The announcement regarding fares etc., will be made during the week.

• • • •

A well-known local baseball enthusiast, was this morning discussing this afternoon's game between the locals and the Bloomer-dirls. A by-stander submitted a query as to the identity of the slab artist of the females. The reply was at once forthcoming, "Oh! she'll be a man."

BOWLING-ON-THE-GREEN.

The Bachelors grant another match with the Benedicts and hereby challenge them to one game to-morrow night and two on Wednesday afternoon. The Benedicts will have to give the boys another chance—so get your rinks ready.

FOOTBALL.

What should prove to be a most exciting contest is the game next Saturday afternoon between the Quakers and the O. C. Wanderers for the City League championship.

The Wanderers will have a strong team while the Quakers will have some new men on. The game is called for three o'clock on the Exhibition Grounds.

RUGBY

A meeting will be held in the T.A.S. rooms on Wednesday evening next at 8 o'clock to organize a Rugby Club. A large attendance is requested and expected. The T.A.S. team will probably enter the city league, if one is formed, as there doubtless will be.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post Card Column,—

Dear Sir,—At a recent meeting of the Board of Health, one of the members called the attention of the Board to the disgraceful condition of Townsend street, where all sorts of refuse is being emptied indiscriminately and without any regard to conditions that may be created.

The young man who was reporting for one of the papers, and who resides near that street, I regret to say, is confined to the hospital with typhoid fever, and what is sadder still, his father, who was suffering from the same disease, died Saturday.

When will the Mayor and council wake up to instruct the police officers that is far more necessary to the health of the town that proper conditions are maintained, than it is to fine some innocent person for riding a wheel on the sidewalk for half a block.

Not long ago on Water street the attention of the police was called to a couple of young men who were abusing a horse and indiscriminately driving at a dangerous speed backwards and forwards, up and down the road, until the upset at the ravine, and the ambulance was called.

There are many things in Peterborough that require a strong council. It is to be hoped that the coming year will bring forward men who will have the welfare of the town at heart, and will see that the officers of the town perform their duties.

Yours truly,
A CITIZEN.

Editor Post Card Column,—

Dear Sir,—I notice in your issue of recent date a communication from a liveryman, complaining of the disgraceful conditions of the sewer and telephone iron manholes on the streets. Every day they do injury to vehicles to an extent that would easily repair the road a dozen times, yet the council see fit to allow this condition to prevail and the iron coverings are allowed to project two or three inches above the ground to the detriment of horses, bicycles, and rubber tired rigs that may have occasion to use George street.

I hope something will be done to see that this condition is speedily improved.

Yours truly,
WHELMAN.

Editor Post Card Column,—

Sir,—In reference to a letter appearing in last night's Examiner asking that if two civic accounts—one for $2 and another for $5—paid to Henry Best were for the Mayor—I desire to make an explanation, particularly with regard to the $5 item. This was in connection with an expenditure of a small amount by the manufacturers' committee of which I am chairman. The money was paid by Mr. Best personally for cab hire, etc., in showing certain capitalists the superior advantages possessed by Peterborough as a location for manufacturing concerns and the money should have been made payable to me as chairman of the committee instead of to the Mayor.

With respect to the $2 item, I understand this was a part of the $60 voted to entertain the Peterborough Old Boys on the occasion of their visit here from Toronto. I may add that whatever charges may be made against Mayor Best, they cannot result from an accusation of the reckless spending of the city's money. I make this explanation in order to set this trivial matter right before the public.

Yours, etc.,
R. HICKS,
Chairman of Manufacturers' Committee.
Peterborough, September 16th, 1905.

Editor of Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—"Wide Awake" takes the city to task because it limits its contribution to the Dairymen's convention to $150. If the Dairymen want a convention they must meet where railways can conveniently bring them and where there are hotels that can conveniently house them. They find Peterborough a suitable place. Now the people of Peterborough don't milk cows or churn. The railways like conventions and so do the hotel keepers. But what benefit does the average taxpayer receive from this convention to justify taking $300 of their tax money to give to these dairymen? Is it not time this silly business was stopped? I notice that a prosperous milling property which pays its stockholders 10 per cent. is assessed at one third of the proper amount, while I who scratch for a bare living am assessed for more than I can sell my property for. Is it not time this silly business was stopped. Also, Mr. Editor, it makes me sick, this loading on the rank and file the taxes which concerns that are rich and strong should pay and would pay if the council did its duty in fairness to all.

BYE OPENER.

N. B.—How much did our farming community contribute to this Dairyman's Convention?

Establish Record For Threshing

One of the biggest day's threshing that has ever been recorded is that which Mr. R. N. Scott, of Smith township, did for Mr. Henry Cox, East City, recently, when in 13 1-4 hours he threshed 3,800 bushels of oats and barley. This is considered a pretty big day's work, and Mr. Scott asks if anyone can beat it.

The Hostilities Have Ceased In Manchuria

A Neutral Zone Between the Japs and Russians.

FIGURES OF RED CROSS MARK

Gen. Linevitch Publishes to Russian Army an Order Putting Into Effect the Stipulations of the Armistice as Arranged — Outposts of the Main Positions on Both Sides Move Back 2-3 of a Mile.

Godsyuanya, Manchuria, Sept. 18.—An order by Gen. Linevitch putting into effect the stipulations of the armistice arranged by Gens. Ovanovsky and Fukushima, has been published and distributed to the army. The order directs the immediate cessation of hostilities, the retirement of pickets from the neutral zone and the establishment of a post of communication. It forbids all other communications between the armies.

Armies Move Back.

Gunshu Pass, Manchuria, Sept. 18.—As a result of the armistice which was effective Saturday the outposts of the main positions on both sides will move back about two-thirds of a mile and hereafter will display white flags.

A representative of the Red Cross administration shows that altogether 30,000 beds and twenty trains were supplied, and $11,000,000 were expended during the war.

Komura's Condition.

New York, Sept. 18.—The following bulletin was issued yesterday on the condition of Baron Komura, the Japanese envoy, who has been ill in this city for some time: "The condition of Baron Komura continues favorable in every respect and a prompt convalescence is expected by his physicians."

THE OSTRICH SIGHT.

Prince of Wales Is to See Only One Half of India.

London, Sept. 18.—Owing to famine and plague prevalent in many districts of India, the visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales to India will have many of its splendors eclipsed, although Lord Curson has made great preparations to have the prince impressed with the alleged love and admiration of the natives for the British throne.

Because of the distress in Madras, the royal couple will not be permitted to visit there, as it is not the intention of the Indian authorities to permit them to get a glimpse of the suffering.

The eyes of the royal tourists, however, will not witness any of this distress, for Lord Curzon has arranged that the prince and princess will see only the gilded side of life in India.

KILLED THIRTY-TWO.

Dutch Worsted in Eastern Seas—The Germans Win Battle.

The Hague, Sept. 17.—An official despatch reports a successful raid made by the pretender, Sonnebait, of the Timor Archipelago, who recently invaded Dutch territory, killed 32 persons and carried off 62 captives.

More Fighting.

Berlin, Sept. 18.—An official despatch from Harushas, German Southwest Africa, says: "Major Keisers column of colonial troops engaged the insurgent Hottentots westward of here September 13. After five hours' fighting the natives gave way, leaving 60 dead. Two Germans were killed and 12, including Major Laereker, were wounded.

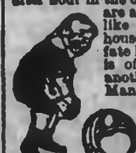
U. S. General in India.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Major-Gen. Arthur Macarthur, who has been the senior United States military attache with the Japanese army, will not return immediately to this country, but has received orders to travel to India for the purpose of inspecting the British military forces in that country.

Coal Goes Up.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 18.—At a meeting here Saturday of representatives of the New Pittsburg, Sunday Creek, Fairmount, Kanawha and other coal companies in Ohio and Pennsylvania, it was decided to raise the price of all grades of coal at the mines from 10 to 15 cents.

Who would exchange the merry noise of children at play, with the childless home where the clock tick can be heard hour after hour in the dull silence? But there are a great many who would like to people the silent house with the children that fate has refused them. Fate is often in this case only another word for ignorance. Many a glad mother dates her happiness from the day she first began the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It often happens that with the cure of female weakness and the establishing of the delicate womanly organs in sound health, the way is opened for the joy of motherhood. "Favorite Prescription" is a specific for the chronic ailments peculiar to women. It cures them perfectly and permanently.



No other medicine can do for women so much as "Favorite Prescription." Do not therefore let any other medicine be palmed off on you as "just as good."

"Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, opium, cocaine or other narcotic. It is strictly a temperance medicine.

"I can truly say your medicine is a friend indeed," writes Mrs. Arthur Brait, of Amherstburg, Ontario, Canada, "I am mother of four children and suffered greatly at times of birth of first three. When three months along with the last one I began to think of trying some medicine to ease those terrible pains, and asked our doctor whether there was anything he could give me to lessen labor pains. He said there was nothing that could help me. I then thought I would write to Dr. Pierce. He advised me to take his 'Favorite Prescription.' I started to take it at fourth month. I was very weak, had heart trouble and would faint away two or three times a day. Our doctor could not help me and life was a drag. I would often say, oh, if I could only die in one of these spells; but I took five bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and felt better every way. Got along well at the time of delivery. I had heard of painless childbirth, and I thought it must be a good medicine that would help those pains, but I know now for myself, and can not tell it plain enough. Your 'Favorite Prescription' is the best medicine on the modern lines. I always say friends to try it. Baby is now three months old and is a strong healthy boy."

"INDEPENDENTS" SIGN.

The Typothetae Is Not Meeting With a General Support.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—The Chicago Typothetae, comprising the larger book and job printing firms in the city, Saturday decided to abandon efforts to secure the aid of the "independent" employers in the fight against Typographical Union No. 16. It will conduct the opposition to the eight-hour movement hereafter alone.

In a meeting held at the Grand Pacific Hotel the big employers adopted this plan after realizing that more than 100 "independent" shops already had signed up with the union. Before the action was taken circulars appealing to the "independents" to take a firm stand were sent to 500 small concerns. Secretary Hamm of the Typothetae said, however, that no important returns were expected.

Printers Win Again.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 18.—The Brandow Printing Co., which holds both the State Legislative and Departmental printing contracts, Saturday signed the eight hour agreement with its striking employes.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years the doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment, Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

INSTANTLY KILLED.

Unknown Man Run Down by Freight Near Port Hope.

Port Hope, Sept. 18.—An unknown man was struck and instantly killed by a freight train betwee 7 and 8 o'clock Saturday night.

The body is that of a man between 35 and 40 years of age, about 6 feet in height, and 200 pounds in weight, and of a fair complexion.

He was rather poorly clothed, in a dark grey tweed suit, and a small coin was all the money found in the pockets, along with several small articles.

The dead man is believed to have been a Frenchman, who had been noticed wandering about the neighborhood during the afternoon. The only wound inflicted was a deep gash on the back of the head.

Facial Paralysis

Mr. W. J. Brenman, Western Hill, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "My face was all dwisted out of shape with facial paralysis, and five doctored to cure or even relieve. By the persistent use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I have been entirely cured, and have returned to work strong and well. I have gained in weight, and feel that I have a new lease of life."

Lynch Law For Chinese.

Johannesburg, Sept. 18.—Owing to the leniency with which Chinese assaulters of white women have been treated by the courts a private meeting of miners was held Saturday night, at which it was decided to apply lynch law and shoot all offenders when they were caught.

Gen. Marits, the only Boer general who joined the German forces in the campaign against the Herreros, in German Southwest Africa, has resigned his position as commander of transports and has returned to the Transvaal. Will Plead Insanity.

Windsor, Sept. 18.—J. H. Rodd, County Crown Attorney for Essex County, has decided to have the trial of Alfred Horton take place at the Fall Assizes which open at Sandwich September 25. Horton is charged with shooting his wife and father-in-law with intent to commit murder.

J. W. Hanna has charge of the defence, and he intimated Saturday that his client was insane when he committed the deed.

Passenger Train Derailed.

San Antonio, Sept. 18.—Piles of iron on the track, supposed to have been placed there by wreckers, derailed a San Antonio & Arkansas passenger train Saturday night near the city limits.

The engine, baggage car and two coaches were turned completely over in the ditch. John Wolf, the fireman, was killed and Harry Martin, the engineer, was injured, and may die.

Two passengers were seriously hurt. All hurt lived in this city.

Miss Lena Clarke Not Dead.

Toronto, Sept. 18.—Miss Lena Clarke, whose death was reported from drowning at the mouth of the Humber, is very much alive, and would like to know who was responsible for the sensation concerning her which was made out of the whole cloth. This sort of practical joking should be made a criminal offence.

Jammed Fingers in Vise.

Belleville, Sept. 18.—The 7-year-old son of Sam Hibbard was playing with some other children with a vise Saturday morning, and in some way got the fingers of one of his hands so badly jammed that one of them had to be amputated.

Flying Tug Was Shot at By Vigilant

Fish Pirate On Lake Erie Fired Upon By Cruiser Vigilant.

RIDDLED H. G. BARNHURST

More Than Thirty Shots Struck the Flying Vessel—Upper Works of the Barnhurst Completely Destroyed—But Capt. Nick Fassel's Vessel Got Away After a Chase of Several Miles.

Erie, Pa., Sept. 18.—The fourth of the fish tug incidents of the past week took place in mid-lake Erie yesterday, when the Canadian cruiser Vigilant riddled the big steam tug Harry G. Barnhurst with small shells from the rifle on the patrol boat.

Capt. Nick Fassel of the tug admitted after he escaped that the Vigilant could have sent her to the bottom if Capt. Dunn had so desired. They ran more than eight miles under full head of steam before they crossed the boundary line and escaped from the Canadians.

More than thirty shots struck the vessel, and of these fifteen of the small shells landed with telling effect on the upper parts, so the boat careened to one side with the mass of wreckage when she came into port.

Having been used for merely a pleasure steamer the Barnhurst is of large size and well fitted with steam equipment.

Fireman Fainted.

The fireman, Magnus Johnson, fainted in the hold from over-exertion in keeping the steamer going ahead. He was reported killed, but revived after reaching shore.

Two fishermen were cut in the face by splinters shot away by the bullets.

The Barnhurst, according to Capt. Fassel, was about five miles over the line drawing nets when the Vigilant appeared. The other Erie tugs the Valiant and the Boyd, were also over the line and ran away when the chase started.

Capt. Dunn ordered the Barnhurst to stop, but instead of doing so Capt. Fassel put on full steam and started for the line. He took a southwesterly direction and could not be headed by the Vigilant.

It has become quite the custom for the Erie fishermen to cross the line, regardless of strict orders from the companies employing them, and having exciting brushes with the Vigilant.

The Barnhurst lost a quantity of nets.

Captures Tug E. C. Oggel.

Detroit, Sept. 18.—An Erie (Pa.) despatch says the Keystone Fish Co. received a telegram from Port Dover, Ont., late Friday, sent by Capt. Morrison of their tug E. C. Oggel, a 65-foot boat, saying the fish tug had been captured and towed into port by the Canadian cruiser Vigilant, while fishing in Canadian waters.

The captain, engineer and four men on the boat were taken to Port Dover, and will be released. The tug, valued at $3,000, will be held pending a settlement of the case.

OCTOBER 21 IS THE DAY.

Whole Empire to Join in Nelson Centennial.

London, Sept. 18.—One hundred years ago last Thursday Nelson embarked at Portsmouth on his ship, the Victory, for the voyage which crowned his marvelous life and made him a British national asset for all time.

That day was the occasion of the launching of a movement for a centenary memorial under the auspices of Lord Brassey, Lord Kinnaird, Sir Thomas Sutherland and many other distinguished people.

Oct. 21 all parts of the British Empire will celebrate the Nelson centennial. In the afternoon of that day there will be a great gathering at the Albert Hall, followed by a big evening concert.

Collections are now being started, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the benefit of the royal mercantile and fishing fleets.

The Canadian West Is,

SAYS ARCHBISHOP MATHESON, AN

"Unpossessed Possession"

Archbishop of Rupert's Land Visits Peterborough and Speaks Enthusiastically of the Canadian West—Was a Visitor Here Over Sunday—Spoke Last Night in St. Luke's Church—The Anglican Church and Its Responsibility Towards the New West—Must Be An Almost Profuse Expenditure of Men and Money in Next Five Years.

Some decidedly interesting, if not altogether pleasing, information was given last night by His Grace, the Archbishop of Rupert's Land, in the sermon which he preached in St. Luke's church, in reference to the condition of the work of the Church in the great West, which he characterized as "an unpossessed possession." The phase of the situation, as presented by Archbishop Matheson, in his sermon, was the fact that, according to his belief, the Anglican Church of Canada, had not yet appreciated its responsibilities, nor its privileges in respect to the West, and, as a result, the field, which should have been possessed by that Church, was either being worked by other churches, or it was neglected altogether.

The congregation which greeted the Archbishop was not large, the decidedly disagreeable character of the night, doubtless, being responsible for the small attendance, but those who were privileged to hear him, were delighted with his sermon, which was characteristic of the man, practical, and straight to the point. His Grace was remaining in the city over Sunday, on his way home to the West, after attending the General Synod of the Anglican Church in Canada, which had been held recently in Quebec, and was the guest of Mrs. (Hon.) Hamilton. Rev. Mr. Langfeldt, the rector of St. Luke's church, took advantage of his presence in the city to induce him to preach at one of the services.

His Theme the West.

As was to be supposed, since His Grace was a westerner, born and raised, the theme of his sermon was the work of the Church in that country, a subject which evidently has a place very near his heart, and, it is safe to say, that before he concluded, his hearers had a different, and a larger, view of the work of the Christian church in that part of the Dominion. He deplored the fact that for some years, and until the creation of the General Synod, three years ago, the Anglican Church had not lived up to its opportunities in the West, and the result was that the other Protestant churches had made greater progress and had a better footing in Manitoba, and the diocese over which he presided, than had the Anglican church.

The speaker pointed out the immense importance of the work in the West, from different standpoints, and urged the people of the East to support the missionary enterprises of the Church, pointing out the benefits which would accrue from such a course.

The Day of Grace.

This, according to the speaker, is the day of opportunity for the Church in the West, and he believed that during the next five years the expenditures of men and money must be on a scale which might be characterized as being almost profuse, in order to place the church on the standing which it should occupy.

The people of the West have money to spend for the erection of churches, and are trying to help themselves, a fact which is evidenced by the experience of the Archbishop, who, during the last eighteen months had dedicated no less than twenty-two new churches, representing an expenditure of about $115,000.

Possess the Land.

The text from which the sermon was preached was Deut. i, 8, "Go in, and possess the land." The text, the speaker believed, was a direct message to the Church to-day, in respect to the great western part of our country, and, as such, should be obeyed. From all quarters of the globe, people are going into the Canadian West, with the object of possessing it, in a material sense, and this is the Church's opportunity to possess it for Christ. The question comes, is the Church going to miss this great opportunity, and awake to its importance, only when it is too late. The Northwest is yet, as far as the Church is concerned, an unpossessed possession, just as in the earlier days, parts of Ontario and Quebec were unpossessed, and the same was true, later, in reference to Manitoba. One of the early workers of the Anglican Church, was left for twenty-six years struggling practically alone in Manitoba, and the result of this indifference is felt there to-day. If the General Synod had been created twenty years earlier than it was, the Church in the West would have double its present strength. The Dioceses of Qu-Appelle and Calgary, present to-day a situation similar to that in Manitoba in the early days of its settlement; and now is the time for the Church to possess these new portions of the country. His Grace said that he was optimistic enough to believe that the answer to the question, as to whether the Church would realize its opportunity, and take advantage of it, would be one which would redound to its credit.

The speaker referred to the great extent of the country, and said that one who had not seen it could form no adequate conception of its immensity, and its value. He was convinced that the West would yet play an important part in the Empire.

A Large Proposition.

Four phases of the work were briefly touched upon by the speaker, the opportunities, the wisdom, the need and the blessing. The opportunity had been referred to, and speaking of the wisdom, he said that he was satisfied that one dollar spent now will mean one hundred dollars at the reaping time. He was confident that in the not distant future the Church west of Lake Superior, which at the present time has to draw heavily from the funds of the Church in the east, would be self-supporting; and, more than that, it would contribute at least two-thirds of the general fund of the whole Church. To use a western expression, it was "a large proposition," and large measures will have to be adopted to deal with it. He had no sympathy with the picayune policy advocated by those who protested against the expenditures made in the West. The Church must apply modern business methods, something which had not been done in the past, and other churches had supplanted it in many places because they had exercised better judgment.

The need was referred to, and an instance quoted will suffice to show the character of the need: The speaker stated that there were in his diocese 31 missions, which this summer had been supplied by students, and which, with the openings of the colleges, would be without anyone to take the work. On each of these missions there were at least three churches of stations; so that there would be nearly one hundred stations at which, during the winter months, there would be no one to conduct services. The greatest need, he said, was for men.

The reverend gentleman, speaking of the blessing which would follow the possession of the land, according to the divine command, said that if the Church did its duty the blessing would be sure to follow. The whole Church would not only be blessed, but the individual parishes would be blessed. The Anglican Church was second only to the Roman Catholic Church in carrying the word of salvation to the Indians, and the early settlers in the West, and up to 1850 it was the only Protestant Church there.

Annual Outing Was Enjoyed at Rice Lake

Mr. A. B. Byers, of Byers' Landing, Entertained a Party of Friends.

Took Supper at Idyl Wyld—Some Features of the Day's Outing.

Perhaps one of the most pleasing events of the excursion season was that of Saturday, being the annual entertainment given by Mr. A. B. Byers, of Byers' Landing, Rice Lake. At one o'clock, Mr. Byers, in company with about thirty-five of his friends, with ladies, embarked on Wedlock's yacht for Idyl Wyld, where the afternoon and evening were very enjoyably spent in dancing and other amusements, luncheon being served in a very pleasing manner by proprietor and Mrs. Hutchinson, the table being presided over by the affable host, Mr. Byers, and charming hostess, Miss Byers. The music was furnished by Mr. M. C. Hotchkam's orchestra, of this city.

Everything passed off very enjoyably except the escorting to their place of abode of two young ladies, one being a prominent Peterborough lady, and one of Benefact's Belles, whose destiny was a much greater distance than expected, by one of Peterborough's young men, and an innocent young gentleman from Ida; so much so that it took them wandering through by-paths and clover-fields until early morning to find their way back again.—Com.

Two Sewer Inspectors FOR CONTRACT WORK Appointed Last Night

Board of Works Held Important Meeting--Chairman Reported That All Sewer Contractors Were Going to Accept Work--Deputation of Water Street Residents Objects to Paying for Two Sewers--Mr. Huffman Waits on Board Asking for Sewer on King Street--Other Business.

Last night the Board of Works met and transacted considerable important business. Those present were, Ald. Adams, chairman, Mayor Best, Ald. Hall, Batten, Tovey, Johnston, Mason and Hicks.

Mr. Doan, local manager of the Bell Telephone Company, waited on the Board, asking permission to change some of the Company's poles. The request was granted.

The chairman reported that the three contractors who had tendered on the sewer work, had all notified him that they were willing to accept the contracts now, so that it would not be necessary to do the work by day labour. Mr. Robson had begun the excavations, and was ready to lay the pipe as soon as an inspector was appointed. Mr. Sheehy was preparing to start work at once.

Mr. Jas. O'Brien was appointed spector on the Robson contract, and Mr. S. Belcher on Mr. Sheehy's contract.

Mr. C. H. Huffman addressed the Board, stating that he had erected a house on Boswell avenue, and had a chance to sell it if he could promise the prospective purchaser that the sewer would be laid on King street this fall. He was informed that the work would be carried out as expeditiously as possible, and the chairman thought that no doubt the sewer would be laid before the frost came, but they would have to take their turn. The Bolsar street people had waited much longer for a sewer and it would be constructed first.

Mr. James Stevenson is anxious to improve the appearance of his boulevard and walks to build a curb in fron of his residence. He asked the Board for one hundred feet of old plank to make the curb, and in their generosity they agreed to instruct the city engineer to see that the one hundred feet were given to Mr. Stevenson for the purpose named.

A deputation of irate residents of the east side of Water street, north of Smith street, waited upon the Board to protest against the action of the Board of Health in ordering that a sewer be constructed on Water street. Their bone of contention is the fact that they are already paying their share of sewer constructed some years ago in a land to serve the residents of the north side of Dennistoun avenue. If the sewer now proposed for Water street is to be constructed they will also have to bear their share of it, and this they object to. Mr. Ed. Howson was the spokesman of the deputation. They pointed out that they did not wish to prevent the residents of the west side of Water street, having the benefit of a sewer, but the did object to paying for two sewers. The matter, on the request of Ald. Mason, who is one of the afflicted, will be laid over, in the meantime, and no action will be taken immediately.

Some local difficulties in constructing a sidewalk on Simcoe street, between Water and Queen streets, were reported by the engineer, and it was decided to build a six-foot walk instead of a ten-foot one as at first contemplated.

The East City Sewer Not Yet Commenced

Jas. Bogue, Contractor, Has Not Begun to Work.

More Than Two Months Past the Specified Time to Begin Operations.

It appears from information given at the meeting of the Board of Works last night, that although the contract for the outfall sewer, East City, let to Mr. Jas. Bogue called for a start to be made on it by July 15th, and its completion by November 15th, no work has yet been done on it, although it is now September 19th, more than two months after it should have been begun, and less than two months to the time when it should have been completed.

The City Engineer reported last night that on two or three different occasions the contractor had notified him that he intended to begin the work on a certain day, but although he was over to lay out the work at the time specified, the man to do the work did not turn up.

Mr. Bogue, it appears notified the Inspector, Mr. Bartlett, that he intended to commence operations on Monday with 75 men and he was over to be on the job from the time it started, but again the plans miscarried, and there was no work done.

The Engineer then notified the contractor that the Inspector's time was going on at his expense.

The City Solicitor will look into the matter and if there is an enforceable penalty clause in the contract, he will attempt to collect damages from the contractor for the delay in beginning the work.

It is hardly possible now that the work can be completed this year, and it was suggested last night that possibly the contractor wanted to have the work taken from him by default.

There is a disposition on the part of the Aldermen to make him pay for the delay.

ADVISES AGAINST THE PURCHASE NOW OF A NEW FIRE ENGINE

Mr. Hugh Cameron, Agent for the Waterous Engine Works, Tells the Council it Would Pay Better to Repair Old Engine--Addressed Meeting of Aldermen Last Night--A Remarkable Position for an Agent to Take—Position of Mr. W. H. Moore is Coroborated by Representative of the Company.

Mr. Hugh Cameron, of the firm of Hugh Cameron & Co., which has the sole selling rights of the Waterous Engine Company, of Brantford, addressed a meeting last night, at which a majority of the Council was present, at the conclusion of the Board of Works meeting in regard to the communication addressed to him respecting the competitive test of his fire engine with that turned out by the Canada Engine Company, of London. Mr. Cameron expressed himself as being very strongly opposed to competitive tests. His company would not entertain such a proposition, as they had found that it was not to their interests to do so. They were prepared to give any reasonable tests, but beyond that they would not go. They were shipping a fire engine to Montreal in a short time and he would be pleased to drop it off here for examination, but would not enter into a competitive test.

The engine was found to be injured by such a test as it would be strained to the limit. Mr. Cameron told of the test between the Waterous and La France engines at Ottawa, which resulted in lasting injuries to the La France engine although strain. The experiment was apt to prove disastrous to the one engine or the other, and many cities refuse to accept an engine that has been through such a test. Mr. Cameron answered many questions about the Waterous engine, and made an interesting statement, and one worth considering by the aldermen when he said that it was more to the interests of Peterborough to have the old engine repaired than to buy a new one. The old engine could be put in first-class condition by the expenditure of from $800 to $1,000, while a new one would cost $6,000.

Committed For Larceny of Locomotive

Lezear Babcock Called to Account Before Police Magistrate.

Prisoner Was Committed For Trial at Next Competent Court.

Lezear Babcock, the Lindsay agriculturalist who about a week ago boarded the yard engine at the C. P.R. station, running it off the track at the switch in the yards, appeared this morning before Police Magistrate Dumble at Police Court to receive a preliminary hearing upon a charge of interfering with the property of the Company.

A large number of witnesses were examined, these being principally the employees at the local station. The prisoner was committed for trial at the Fall Assizes by the Magistrate. He was represented by Mr. F. D. Kerr, the case for the Crown being conducted by Crown Attorney Wood. Mr. W. H. Moore appeared in the interests of the C.P.R. The mother and relatives of the prisoner were in court and appeared greatly distressed over the position of Babcock.

The first witness called was Patrick Coursey, an employee of the Matthews Pork Packing Company. Witness had been at the station on the evening on which the offence was alleged to have been committed. He had found both the locomotive and the tender off the rails. Babcock was on the engine, and witness had tried to induce him to get off. The prisoner blew the whistle twice before doing so. On inquiring of the latter regarding his intentions he replied that he wanted to go to Lindsay, and requested Coursey to "give him a hand to shove the engine on." Witness admitted to Mr. Kerr that prisoner was in a drunken condition.

The Engineer of the locomotive was next called. He stated that he had left the engine in the usual place when he went home at 7.30 o'clock. He next saw it at two o'clock when he was sent for. The engine which had in the meantime been off the track, had been replaced. The drive brake gearing was broken. The cost of repair would be about $2 or $3. The engine was upon a track connected with a siding which connected with the main line. About 100 pounds of steam was on. The engine as it was could have been run for a distance of 6 or 7 miles. There were many trains upon the main line, the Montreal Express being due about 12.30. The switch connecting with the main line was a "split switch." Other witnesses called were John Martin fireman of the engine, the night operator at the station, the train superintendent of Havelock. The latter stated that 17 ties had been loosened and an expense of $50 incurred.

The Magistrate in summing up, remarked upon the serious consequences which might have resulted from the occurrence, Fools who commit crime, must be held responsible for the consequences. Prisoner was then committed for trial.

A young man charged with an unnatural and abhorrent crime was remanded for one week.

Cereal Company May Remove Their Siding

At the meeting of the Board of Works held last night in the City Clerk's office, Mr. W. H. Denham, superintendent of the local works of the American Cereal Company, waited upon the members in reference to the moving of the tracks of the C.P.R. on the siding serving the local works, west of Hunter street, 50 feet, the change in location having been made necessary by the enlargement of the Company's works, as noted in yesterday's Examiner. To bring the mill out to Hunter street will necessitate the removal of the tracks, and for this purpose the Company has purchased vacant property from Mr. S. Dawson, on the south side of Hunter street.

The Board of Works decided to grant the permission asked for, the same conditions upon which the sidings were authorized in the first place to apply to the removal.

Mr. Denham stated that he expected the men in the employ of the C.P.R. here almost any day to do the work in connection with the removal of the tracks, as the construction of the works, which will be proceeded with at once, cannot be accomplished until the tracks have been moved.

The motion to grant the request for the removal of the tracks was made by Ald. Batten and seconded by Ald. Johnston.

DOMINION BRIDGE COMPANY TO SETTLE AMICABLY

It is understood that the trouble between the local power owners and the Dominion Bridge Company at Kirkfield is likely to be settled amicably. The Bridge Company acknowledge that they had no authority or right to divert the water from Balsam Lake as they have been doing, and the power owners are inclined to overlook the offence, since they believe that the Company did not really appreciate that anything wrong was being done, by taking the water for developing power.

Mr. Murphy, the engineer for the Bridge Company, had been in conference with the representatives of the power companies, and it is understood that arrangements are being made by which for a limited period of time the latter will not object to the Bridge Company using the water until a steam plant can be installed. The Bridge Company are willing to agree to stop using the water as soon as the steam plant has been installed, and it is understood that ten days has been tentatively agreed upon as the time which will be allowed in which to get the plant installed.

MR. R. N. SCOTT'S THRESHER RECORD PROMPTLY CHALLENGED

In yesterday's Examiner appeared a paragraph regarding the fact that Mr. R. Scott threshed for Mr. Chas. of East City, 4,000 bushels in 1 1-2 hours, or at the rate of 111 bushels an hour. It is reported to the Examiner that Mr. Wm. Curtain, with his steam thresher, threshed for Mr. Paul Costello, of Belmore, 700 bushels of oats and barley at the rate of 116 bushels an hour. There does not seem much to choose between these two records, the most prominent feature to be pointed out is the fact that both crops must have been of very superior quality to permit of either threshing record being compiled.

Brutal Murder in New York.

The finding on Saturday of the body of a handsome woman, about 35 years of age, lying bruised and battered in a clump of briar bushes, near the Pelham Road, in the Bronx, New York, revealed one of the worst cases with which the police have had to deal in many years. An autopsy showed that the woman had been criminally assaulted and choked to death. There was every indication that she had fought her assailants valiantly. Her outer garments and underclothing were torn almost to shreds. The body rests in the Fordham morgue, while half a hundred detectives and specially assigned policemen are endeavoring to establish the victim's identity and to find some clue to the murderer.

Martin Egan, representative for the Associated Press in Tokio, is now on his way to San Francisco with his bride, who was Miss Eleanor Franklin, war correspondent for Leslie's Weekly, who was the only woman, during the Russo-Japanese war, recognized by the Japanese Government as a war correspondent. While preparing to return to New York she accepted an offer of marriage from Mr. Egan, and the ceremony was at once performed.

When the will of Neill Wolff, of Philadelphia, was admitted to probate, it was found he left everything he had to Miss Maria A. Hamill, his fiancee, who was killed with him, on September 5. Wolff and Miss Hamill were to be married this fall. He had been visiting the Hamills in Atlantic City. With Miss Hamill, her brother and a chauffeur, he was making the run to Philadelphia in a large touring car. The car struck the railing of a railway bridge at Atco, N. J., and fell on the tracks twenty feet below. Wolff was killed instantly, and his fiancee died about an hour later without regaining consciousness.

Third Party to Hold Convention.

No committee has been struck in Winnipeg to form a third party as yet, and the third party men say that it will not likely be done for some time, as the independents are going to hold a convention in Toronto shortly, with delegates in attendance from all over Canada, when Mr. Martin will finish his series of proselytizing speeches. Old party line men, however, are of the opinion that the independents won't be able to put many in the field, notwithstanding the length of time at their disposal before the next election, and that, in any event, on account of their strong antipathy to the Laurier regime, they will poll a solid Conservative vote.

Woman Lost On an English Phantom Farm

Mysterious Disappearance of a Greenwich Lady.

Unavailing Search to Find a Farm House—A Peculiar Case.

London, Sept. 16.—One of the most remarkable mysteries of modern times is involved in the disappearance of Miss Phoebe Rebecca, Pennial, 33 years of age, who up to six months ago was engaged in mission work among the poor in the district of Greenwich, where her parents still reside. How inexplicably strange is the mystery may be gathered from the fact that up to the present nobody knows why or when or where or how she disappeared, or whether she is dead or alive. All that is known for a certainty is that six months ago she went as a lady's companion to a farm house near Seven Oaks, but although letters were regularly received from her until recently, no one, not even her father and mother, has been able to find the farm house, notwithstanding many searches by relatives and police. They have further had the aid of a sketch map, which some one sent anonymously to the relatives of the girl, on which was marked the site of this mystic dwelling.

The full story of this amazing case, dealing as it does with mysterious farm houses and phantom addresses, reads more like a highly imaginative work of fiction than the happenings of real life. When she made known her decision to leave her home and her philanthropic work her parents and friends tried to dissuade her, but she had then made arrangements to go to the mysterious farm house in Kent as a lady's companion, and nothing would shake her from her purpose.

Wrote Letters Home.

Her fellow-workers belong for the most part to the West Greenwich Ragged School and Working Lads' Institute, where she conducted a class for many years.

After her arrival at this farm house in Kent, around which is centered the mystery of her subsequent movements, she wrote regularly to her parents, and said she was comfortably settled, and that the farmer and his wife were very kind to her. A curious feature about these letters was that not in a single instance did they bear any address, and by the girl's request the replies were sent to the Seven Oaks post office. She called regularly at the post office for her letters, until the end of May. Then her visits ceased. Apparently there was nothing to arouse the suspicion of the girl's parents until a fortnight ago, when Mrs. Billinghurst, the married sister of Miss Pennial, received a letter stating that Miss Pennial had suffered from sunstroke, which had caused heart weakness. If Mrs. Billinghurst, said the letter, went over on the following Tuesday, a conveyance would meet her and take her to the farm house.

Map of the Locality.

On the following Saturday Mrs. Billinghurst received another letter, stating that if she cared to go on Monday she was at liberty to do so, but she would find it a long way to walk, as no carriage would be sent for her. With the letter was enclosed a map of the locality. Mrs. Billinghurst spent all the day tramping about to discover the farm indicated on the map, but failed to do so. On Tuesday she received another letter from "E. Richards," as it was signed, a name unknown to her, informing her that "Phoebe had four fits and died. Two doctors were called in."

A number of other mysterious communications have been received, but up to the present time the case remains as mysterious as when letters were first sent to Mrs. Billinghurst and the map was furnished her outlining the way to the phantom farm house.

A FIREMAN KILLED.

Brown Milling Co.'s Elevator in Toronto Destroyed by Fire — Loss Will Be Over $100,000.

Toronto, Sept. 19.—One fireman under a blazing pile of debris and watered flour, another fireman seriously injured, and about $100,000 loss was the outcome of an early morning fire in the Brown Milling Co., with premises at the foot of Princess street. Within 10 minutes after the outbreak of the fire the main floor of the flour building fell and buried four firemen—

Captain Thomas Worrell of hose 4, who was killed.

Went to Death.

The big doors used for the entrance of the cars were thrown open and the Berkeley street section, the first to arrive, went down the lane at the side, the smoke there seeming the thickest. While they were laying out their branch the Wilton avenue hose wagon pulled up, and Robinson and Fox, noticing the door, crawled inside. The smoke was very dense, but they found the water from their branch cleared the air.

Suddenly they heard an ominous creaking overhead. Hastily scrambling under the cars, the two awaited the fall, in the meantime playing their stream in the burning walls of the elevator.

Chief to Rescue.

As soon as they were safely ensconced the fall came. Turning to look toward the door they were surprised to see Worrell, followed by Sargent, entering the door. They gave a shout of warning, but before it could be heeded the floor overhead fell. The floor above had flour bins, and the flour became saturated, and so when it fell it was like a mass of paste.

As soon as the crash was over, Chief Thompson led the rush for the opening. He stumbled against Capt. Sargent coming out. He was covered from head to foot with paste. He was led to the railway tracks and the rescuers turned back for more.

Sargent told them of Worrell, but he did not know of the presence of the other men. Chief Thompson ordered streams into the opening and made a desperate attempt to find the missing man. He thought others were missing, but could not be certain.

Worrell could not be found anywhere and made no response to the cries of the rescuing party. Suddenly from under the freight car, crawled Robinson and Fox. They were suffering from small cuts, but continued the fight.

ASTONISHING RESULTS

Follow Each New Discovery of Science.

The great science that medical science has made in the last few years is due to the germ theory. When the germ of a disease has been discovered, the doctors have not been slow in finding a drug to kill it. In a few years it will be rare to find a half-headed man or woman. The falling out of hair is due to a dandgerm, and now it has been discovered how to kill this germ. The remedy used is called Newbro's Herpicide. Its success has been marvellous. Not a failure has been so far reported. It is also a delightful hair dressing free from oil or sticky substances. Try it and be convinced of its actual merit.

SEAFORTH "DOCTOR" AND HIS EXPLOITS

Crowds Daily Throng the Hotel to Get an Interview with the Uncouth Physician

A Special Correspondent Tells of Some of the Incidents in Connection With His Work.

Seaforth, September 17. — For three weeks this town and neighborhood, have been in a visible and audible state of turmoil over a "doctor." He, his works and his prophecies have been the sole topic of conversation in hundreds of homes, the theme of all street gossip, and the wonder of the northern peninsula.

For twenty one days people have driven miles to see him, have waited hour after hour in surging crowds, disregarding the pangs of hunger, to get a glimpse of his face or a touch of his supposedly healing hands.

Patriarchs, whose hair is whitened by the snows of many winters and burdens, have been brought from beds long used, to be treated by this "doctor." Mothers with babes in their arms have sat the whole day through in the narrow hall of a stuffy hotel that the mysterious healer might fashion baby's foot as its Creator had not done.

Boys and Men with Fancies.

Boys with a tickling in the throat caused by the noxious cigar, and grown men with symptoms of catarrh, derived from zealous attention to the pipe have fancied that this "doctor," by a few passes of the hand could eradicate in a moment the results of years of habit.

The blind, the halt, the lame, the sufferer from the white plague, the victim of deadly cancer, the possessors of tumour, both large and small, the deaf in one ear and in two, the village chronic, the incurables of every hamlet within a radius of fifty miles, have been brought to this "doctor" to be healed, "without money and without price."

The storekeepers of the town have reaped a harvest. Not a day has passed in three weeks but at least three hundred strangers have come to town to stay until they saw the "doctor." Incidentally the three hundred visitors have found time and means to do much shopping. Scores daily have come just out of curiosity to see the man, not to seek healing. All these have had to be fed. The grocer, the butcher, the baker and the other providers of household necessities, have reaped a harvest. Naturally, the housekeeper has had his share.

For this reason the citizens of this town are not opposed to the presence of the "doctor," although they talk quietly among themselves concerning the possible ill-effect on the morals of the community of the irresponsible, itinerant healer of the children of men. The reputable, tax-paying practitioner is, of course, no friend of the interloper, whom he is free to denounce as a fakir of the first water.

The Crowds That go.

That this "doctor" has something about his personality or his wares that appeals to the masses of the people is evidenced by the crowds that go to him.

Whether he makes cures, or only makes his patients believe they are cures, only time can tell.

Whether he is "the instrument in the hands of the Lord, to cure the ills of humanity," as he says he is, can not be judged by mortal man, though the ordinary individual is prepared to venture a hazard.

That he can cure every disease, strikes one as too sweeping an assertion; though granting that it is "the spirit of the Lord" working through him, then nothing is too difficult for him to master.

Who is This Mighty One?

Who is this mighty healer? What are his beginnings? Tell us all about him.

First, he is not a doctor, as we understand the word.

He does not call himself a doctor, nor does he pretend to be a doctor, yet in spite of this everyone calls him doctor.

To-day a visitor seeking a reputable practitioner, asked a man digging a ditch, "Where may I find a doctor?"

The man in ditch pointed to the hotel where the healer was staying and said, "Here's where the doctor stays."

You can't escape it.

The cause of all this turmoil is A. N. Sharman, whose business card reads, "Knifeless Surgery, or the free gift of God to the children of men." He describes himself as "one who is always willing to release suffering humanity from their ills, without money, and without price."

Three Hundred in Line.

To get to the operating room you had to battle your way through three hundred people tired to the verge of exhaustion, in their efforts to maintain their places in the line toward healing.

"Make way, people," ordered the healer, and he strode along and into the privacy of his battleground.

It was a large room opening into another smaller one. Both rooms were filled, the smaller one with men half stripped, waiting their chance, the larger one with men exposing swollen or crippled limbs under the immediate eye of the master-healer.

It was a sad company. Wistful faces looked up from every chair. Would he be able to heal? Twenty men looked to Sharman as we might expect a Hottentot to look to a wooden idol. To them it was Sharman who was going to do the trick.

No reference was made by the healer to the spirit that was working through him. That perhaps was an overnight. He went to work in a business-like manner.

Treating the Bed-Ridden.

For six years this old father had lain abed suffering from rheumatism. His body and every limb was bedfast. Sharman took the old man's left hand in his left hand he close grasp. He bowed his head and closed his eyes for a few seconds demanding silence. This was the starter.

Then he rubbed the muscles and joints of the old man's right leg and asked him to straighten up. The old man obeyed, saying "it's very hard." So with the left leg. So with the arms and then to the back.

Vigorous rubbing got warmth in the aged patient's body. He admitted he felt better. Then he was asked to stand up straight. He did his best, and looked at least 5 per cent. straighter.

"That's all I can do to-day, father," said Sharman. "Now walk out. You are going to take a walk to-day."

"Am I?" questioned the aged one, and he hobbled out of the room on two sticks. Cured!

The next fellow was a labourer who had a stiff arm, couldn't move it above his head.

This Finished it.

Then he kneaded the muscles about the elbow joint, rubbed hard and long, straightened down the arm, pulled it out, twisted it naturally and gradually worked it overk the patient's head.

That finished it. Cured!

Then came a man with knee joints swollen to twice their normal size. His calves were slender for his build.

After "the starter," Sharman tapped the man's boots. "Here's your trouble, my man. Your boots are too tight. They stop the circulation of the blood from the toes through the feet into leg, and thus through the knees. You will never get better till you get rid of these tight shoes and let the blood circulate."

This talk while he kneaded the knee cap, loosened the skin about it and worked the leg backward and ward.

Little impression was made on this man. And he was passed over for another with similar ailment.

The latter had a stiff leg since boyhood, fifty years agone Sharman worked till the perspiration stood out in beads on his forehead.

He persisted in believing that the old man exerted his nerves so as not to let his legs hang loose. The old man didn't believe he did. Sharman massaged the knee joints. The old man felt better. Cured!

Man Who Saw Spiders.

Then came a new sort of patient. He was a greybeard. The yellow stains of nicotine was odorous. He complained of seeing little spiders before his eyes.

Now Sharman appeared in the role of Sherlock Holmes.

"You are smoker," he asserted. The old man couldn't deny the charge.

"Quit smoking and you will see all right."

The old man was hard of hearing. Sharman put a finger in each ear, pressed hard, and loosened the accumulated years of wax, and withdrew his fingers. Then he held his big watch to the man's ears. Lo, he could hear THAT watch tick.

The old man handed up his own watch, but he could not hear IT tick. There you are. Cured!

At this moment Goliath Stevens, the owner of the hotel burst into the room and fairly shouted, "See, here, doctor. You are not giving these people who have to leave in the stage a fair show. They have been waiting for four hours. Come in here and attend to them."

Sharman took the interruption quietly, and said: "Just in a minute," but Goliath was insistent, and little David went.

Makes no Appeal to Spirit.

Throughout all his demonstrations Sharman made an appeal to the spirit of God, nor did he refer to his divine call to heal suffering humanity. He called for no extraneous aid, unless he did it in those silent moments when he bowed his head. He depended altogether on his personal magnetism and his power of rubbing. His knifeless surgery was elbow grease, unadulterated.

He showed much knowledge of bones and muscles and religious belief in the benefits of massage. He is a masseur rather than a surveyor of divine spirit. He has sound views on the value of keeping and getting health. He is strong on physical force, but short on divine power.

Dispassionate Scrutiny.

From a dispassionate scrutiny of the man Sharman and his works the conclusion is forced that when he talks of being "the instrument of the spirit of God" he is a faker, perhaps a self-deluded faker, but a fakir nevertheless. If this is the power he employs he can not emphasize it too much; if it is not, then he shows that he is not altogether lost to decency in making the general assertion and feeling it so at that. Sure if is that he does not imparess his patients with the assumption that it is the Lord Who is working. And just as sure is it that he does force his patients to believe that it is Sharman alone who is doing the healing.

Bone-Setter of Merit.

And while this is true, it is just as true that he is a bone-setter of merit and experience. A bone-setter and nothing more. He is not in the class with Dr. Lorenz, the famous Austrian, who coined the phrase appropriated by Sharman, "Knifeless Surgery." Lorenz is a reputable practitioner, esteemed by his brethren. Sharman has no intricate knowledge of anatomy, and no greater knowledge of the laws of health than the average intelligent man. But he has nerve, and unlimited belief in his powers to do as he claims he can do.

Would it be too much to suggest that he could do all he has done without trying to lead people to believe that he is "the instrument in the hands of the spirit of God?"

Glamour Would Rub off.

Of course, the glamour of his doings would be rubbed off, but the truth might be the more readily seen. When Sharman is far away feeding on greener pastures, his patients, magnetized for the time into believing that he has effected cures, will return to their former condition, and their faith in the bigger things in life will have received shocks from which it will never recover.

Yet there are those who believe devoutly in all Sharman's assertions, and who are prepared to take up the cudgels in his behalf.

Intelligence and refinement marked the young married woman of Exeter who spoke fervently of Sharman and what he had done for her.

Looks up at the Oak.

For years, ever since a severe attack of typhoid fever, she had been subject to palpitation of the heart for three months in the fall of every year.

One week ago Wednesday she visited Sharman. He placed his hand on the affected spot and all illness disappeared. Yesterday it had not yet reappeared.

"I cannot be like the pigs that eat the acorns and never look up to the tall oak. I believe Mr. Sharman has cured me and many others, I believe it is the spirit of the Lord that has worked through him. I know of many persons he has helped and even cured. It is the intelligent people he helps."

No one would care to dispute the matter with the young matron of Exeter. She knows whereof she speaks. So there you are.

And there are other cases, many of them, more or less authenticated, and commonly talked of among the followers of Sharman.

Known as a Cripple.

His first success that brought all his adherents was John Thompson, of Seaforth, a young man known for years as a cripple. He could not get about without two canes. Sharman treated him, and John Thompson walks the streets of Seaforth like any other sturdy boy of sixteen. The people see him and marvel. How are you going to get over it? Perhaps Sharman is a good bone-setter. How would that do?

Stories are told of cancers cured, of tumors and swellings dissipated, but in the multitude of stories it is hard to grapple with the truth. Such stories grow. They are always told in this way: "Mrs. So-and-So told me that Mrs. So-and-So said that Mrs. What's-Her-Name had confided in Mrs. Thingumbob that Mrs. Smith had had her cancer wiped away in a second by Mr. Sharman."

Price on his Head.

Perhaps so. Then Sharman should be counselled by the Government as the cancer-eradicator. There is a price on such a fellow's head.

There will always be those who flee to a man like Sharman, as flies jump at molasses, but the mass of the people are from Missouri, and you will have to show them.

Up to date the Free Press opinion is as stated. Further news from the line of battle is expected and awaited with interest.

The poor and the afflicted we have always with us, but Sharman will vanish as the leaves from the trees in autumn. But others will follow him.

ASSESSMENT AND TAXATION.

The probabilities are that when the assessors have completed their work it will be found that the assessed value of the city will have greatly increased. But that will, in general, make no very great difference if the rate of taxation is fixed in conformity with the increased assessed value. If the assessment has increased 25 or 30 or any other per cent., a corresponding increase of the rate will retain the former conditions so far as the general tampayer is concerned. A 25 per cent. reduction of the tax rate would bring down that rate as fixed last year of 18 1-2 to between 14 and 15 mills on the dollar. This would yield the same revenue as would 18 1-2 mills under the old assessment. But this is altogether too much too hope for. It is not the way of aldermanic representatives to show so much consideration to the ratepayers. A tax rate seems to be a deceptive thing, in that a high rate does not always represent a high burden upon the people and vice versa. A few facts will illustrate this. Of the cities in 1902, Hamilton stood lowest as to rate, 19.9 mills, Chatham being the highest with 30. But Hamilton's 19.9 mill rate, local improvements and other charges omitted, took from the people taxes to the amount of $10.18 a head of population; Kingston's 20 mill rate took from her people only $8.45 a head; Guelph's 23 mill rate only $7.80, and Stratford's 26.1 mill rate $9.80. Even Chatham's 30 mill rate taxed the people only $12.32 a head. The people pay taxes upon the assumption that they will secure an equivalent in the shape of civic conveniences from the revenue represented by such payment. They expect adequate police protection, which in this city they do not get to the extent desirable in many cases. They expect good streets, which, it is a notorious fact, they do not get in this city. They expect the application of the ordinary, every-day principles of business to the administration of the revenue, which it would be the absurdity of optimism to say that we got to-day. They expect something like tangible results commensurate with the money expended, which it is safe to say they do not get.

Let us wait a little time with what patience we may and we shall see how the city fathers will meet the new conditions created by the present assessment in the matter of tax rates. There should be, according to present indications, a decided decrease in the rate. There seems to be no probability that new demands will be made in respect to a new collegiate institute. For months the Board of Education has refrained from even referring to the matter. The City Council is considering with very considerable deliberation the purchase of a steamer for the fire department, and we hear very little about a new firehall, so that the apparent necessity of maintaining a high rate with a high assessment does not seem very clear. But we shall see.

THE REAL AUTHORS.

The net earnings of the Temiskaming Railway, in August, were $14,795. And this is the road that Treasurer Matheson refused to allow a dollar for in the assets, although charging up against the Ross Government record every dollar it cost! This result is a potent tribute to the wisdom and foresight of the Ross Government, which conceived, and carried out, the scheme of building this great development railway. It may be argued, that, with the richness of the country it serves, and the great possibilities of development it has created, it is a very easy thing for such a railway to do a paying business. That is true; but in this again, a credit entry on the provincial ledger, is to be placed for the Ross Government. That Government had confidence in the resources of the new region, while Mr. Whitney, in the climax of his unpatriotic pessimism, called it "the land of the stunted poplar." If we had listened to the whisperings of the little-faith voice of Mr. Whitney, and the Conservative Opposition, we should have had none of the tremendously great development processes now represented by the great "Soo" industries, the Temiscaming Railway, and the settlement invasion, which is marking the new country, and which its construction has made possible. We should not have yet known of the great mineral deposits discovered upon the line of the railway. In fact, if we had listened to the voices of the Conservative Opposition; if we had not thwarted its efforts, we should not have had no New Ontario — half of it would have been given to Manitoba, and the rest turned over to the Dominion. Sir John Macdonald declared that this province should not have "one stick of timber, nor one pound of mineral," to the, then, disputed territory, but now the most potentially important half of this great province, which thanks to the patriotic obduracy and firmness of Sir Oliver Mowat, and his Liberal colleagues and supporters was saved — permit us to break into poetry — from the hand of the spoiler. When the Liberal statesmen — for they were statesmen — of Ontario, are attacked, and denounced, let it be remembered to their credit that it was they who laid deep the foundation of Ontario's present importance and prosperity—it was they who looked forward, and saw the possibilities of our great heritage, and if Ontario is enjoying prosperity, growth and progress, we are in these days simply building upon the foundations the Liberal statesmen so firmly laid. Our present rulers are simply reaping the harvest sown in wisdom by their Liberal predecessors — and, by the way, excluding Liberals who produced the harvest from a share in the reaping.

Lindsay Wants Fish Hatchery in Scugog

Order to Close Scugog Lake to Fishermen for Two Years Meets With Approval of The Post—Belief That it Means the Establishment of a Hatchery--To Re-stock the Depleted Waters of Lake Scugog With Fish.

(Lindsay Post.)

In 1897 or 1898, following a poor fishing season in Scugog and Sturgeon Lake the suggestion was made in the editorial columns of The Post that all fishing in Scugog Lake should be prohibited by the Department for a couple of years, and later on, as a result of a conversation with Mr. M. Thwaite, fishery overseer, of Ottawa, we urged the Department to consider the advisability of establishing a fish hatchery at some point on the lakes in order that the restocking of the waters might be carried out systematically. The matter was given some attention at the time, but was lost sight of. Three years ago, when Scugog Lake was entirely depleted of valuable fish owing to the severe frost, the importance of our suggestion was emphasized, but the approaching elections no doubt prevented action and left to Mr. Whitney's Government a chance to carry out a most important work for the entire Kawartha Lakes district. We may be over sanguine but that is how we interpret the following notice received a few days ago by Mr. Archie Bradshaw, local fishery inspector:—

PUBLIC NOTICE.
Stocked Waters.

Notice is hereby given that the waters of Scugog Lake and Scugog River, as far down as the locks at Lindsay, have by authority of the Commissioner of Fisheries been set apart for the natural nd artificial propagation of fish for and during a period of two years from the 1st day of September, 1905, and that fishing therein in any manner whatever is prohibited for the said period under the penalties provided by Section 27 of the Ontario Fisheries Act 1900 (63 Vic. c. 50)

By order,
S. T. BASTEDO,
Deputy Commissioner of Fisheries.
Toronto, September 1st, 1905.

N. B.—Any person who fishes in these waters contrary to this notice is liable to a penalty of $100 with costs, and in default of payment to imprisonment for three months.

The words, "artificial propogation of fish," must mean that the establishment of a hatchery has been decided on, and this will be good news for everyone who is interested in the development of the tourist business on the Kawartha chain of waters. If it be true that "Trade follows the flag" it is no less a fact that "Sportsmen follow the fish," and no matter how charming the scenery of our lakes, we are bound to lose thousands of dollars annually if we allow our lakes to become depleted. If the above circular does not foreshadow a hatchery for the Kawartha Lakes, then our Board of Trades and Town and Village Councils must take action.

BITS FROM BYSTANDER'S CLEVER WEEKLY BUDGET

The populace of Tokio need not be enraged at the terms of peace. That for which Japan fought and all to which she is entitled she has got. To indemnity she had no claim, nor had she any means of extorting it. Probably she is more exhausted than she cares to own. Her territorial pretensions are fulfilled, either at once or in certain prospect. She has destroyed the power of Russia in those parts and made herself supreme. She has become arbitress of the destinies of China. Australia trembles at the sudden manifestation of her power.

The navies of Japan and Great Britain combined are incontestably supreme at sea, and will, by their supremacy provoke the jealousy of the other nations, to which it must be galling to find themselves enjoying only by sufferance the franchise of the great highway of the world.

Great Britain has once more succeeded in preventing Russia from making her way to a port on an open sea, and has thereby, if Russia survives the present crisis, and Russian patriotism retains its force, made it almost certain that she will some day have war with Russia.

The talk of the Yellow Peril has been wild. But the East has cast off its bondage to the West, and the possible effect of this on the permanency of British Empire in India comes into view.

In Texas a mob seizes a negro guilty of rape, takes a vote on the question whether he shall be hanged, shot, or burned, and decides, as might have been expected, that burning is the best sport. The brother and sister of the victim, who are eight miles off, plead by telephone for a delay that they may see their brother for the last time. This is granted. Then the match is applied to a huge pile of timber and brush saturated with oil. Then the negro is chained to a stake. Two thousand persons are in the mob. The galleries and roofs of all the farm houses, farm buildings and other buildings for miles around are covered with people watching the smoke and blaze. This is not more hatred of race or any natural passion. It is devilish lust of cruelty, and more than levels those who indulge in it with the cannibals, whose hunger is human, while feasting on agony is not. Such a deed could not have been done under an autocracy, but the American Government looks on helpless. Autocracy, little as it is to be generally desired as a form of government, sometimes shows to advantage. The abolition of serfdom by its ukase was peaceful and complete. The abolition of slavery by the democratic government of America was not peaceful, neither is it quite complete.

The coming of Mr. John Burns, M.P., among us, is a notable event. Among the leaders of the great labour movement in England he has become conspicuous for statesmanlike wisdom and moderation, as well as energetic assertion of the just claims of his order. To no man is British unionism more indebted either for vindication of its real interests or for keeping it in the right path, and saving it from those errors to which new-born power is always prone and which might arise against it not only the selfishness of employers but the sense of the community. Nor is it only on the labour question that Mr. Burns' political ability and force of character have been displayed. Among the leaders of English Liberalism he ranks high as will probably be seen when the Liberals come into power, and their Government is formed. With Mr. Burns comes Mr. Baker, a Canadian by birth, who had the honour, with other friends of humanity and justice of being turned out of the British Parliament by the tide of headlong passion, which made the Boer War, but has been triumphantly borne back to it by national repentance. By all friends of labour, and all Liberals, both visitors will be heartily welcomed.

HON. H. R. EMMERSON MAY OPEN THE FAIR

There is a probability that advantage may be taken of the presence in the city next week of Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, on his tour of inspection of the Trent Canal, to have him officially open the Peterborough Industrial Fair.

Hon. Chas. Fitzpatrick, K. C., the Minister of Justice and Attorney-General of Canada, who was invited to open the fair, has written to the effect that he will be unable to come, since he has to lecture at Laval University every morning, and this will prevent him from coming to Peterborough as he would like to do.

In view of this fact the suggestion is made that Hon. Mr. Emmerson may be disposed to open the fair, since he will probably be in the city at that time.

No Plans Formed For An Emmerson Reception

It is learned that the Board of Trade has not yet decided as to what form, if any, the proposed reception to Hon. Mr. Emmerson, on the occasion of his approaching visit to Peterborough will take. Mr. Hughes Charles, the president of the Board, this morning informed the Examiner that pending the return of Mr. R. R. Hall, the Board had not considered the question of the reception. They will probably take the matter into consideration in the course of a few days.

The County Council has the matter of a reception under consideration also, and though it is not probable that there will be any public function, so far as the county is concerned, it is very probable that some of the members of the council will accompany the Minister on his trip through the canal, as far as the bounds of the county, at any rate. The deputation which will go will most likely be composed of Warden Buck and Councillors Garbutt and Shaw. Mr. Maloney will be unable to go, though his name was suggested, and Mr. E. A. Peck, an ex-Warden, may also accompany the party, in the interests of the County.

As far as the city is concerned the Mayor or officials have not yet received word that the Minister is coming, other than that conveyed through the Examiner last night, and, are awaiting the return of Mr. Hall before deciding whether they will give him any public reception. The Mayor will probably accompany him, however, on his trip, if a party goes, and it is probable that the council may consider it advisable to tender him some form of reception.

Dead Man at Port Hope Has Been Identified

Said to Have Been John Wilson, of Toronto.

Son of a Beaverton Man—Leaves Wife and Five Children.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Port Hope, Sept. 19.—The man who was struck and killed by the local from Toronto on Saturday on the railway track about a mile west of here, as been identified as John Watson, whose wife and five children at present live in Toronto. Mr. Thomas Williamson, of Toronto, Watson's brother-in-law, came to Port Hope from Toronto this morning. He is almost certain of the identity of the deceased, although not able to swear positively on account of the battered condition of the head. Other relatives of the deceased have been telephoned for. Watson was a son of George Watson, Toronto, a horse dealer, who is at present at Beaverton.

The Directors Visited The Fair Grounds

And Decided on the Final Improvements.

Stand to be Erected for the Performers—Other Improvements.

Yesterday afternoon the directors of the Peterborough Industrial Fair visited the grounds for the purpose of making a tour of inspection, with a view of deciding on the improvements which will be made preparatory to the fair, which will open on Monday next. It was decided that the buildings should all be overhauled and placed in good condition and the exteriors whitewashed. The stock stables will be put in good shape, and special attention will be paid to the building, which will be fitted up perhaps better than it ever has been before.

A platform will be erected in front of the grand stand, for the performers who have been secured, and lights will be installed in order that the evening performance may be witnessed.

Mr. H. C. Winch, the indefatigable superintendent of the fair is the busiest man in town these days, and promises that this fair will be better than any two ever held in Peterborough before.

All that remains now to make it a success is good weather, which all are hoping the fair will be favoured with.

How Red Rose Tea is Grown

TEA is a native plant of Northern India. Transplanted to Ceylon it lost much of its strength and richness, but gained in fragrance and delicacy.

That is why Ceylon tea is not a strong tea.

That is why I blend Indian and Ceylon teas together—that is how the strength and richness, fragrance and delicacy of Red Rose Tea are secured—that is why Red Rose Tea has that "rich fruity flavor."

Red Rose Tea

is good Tea

THE air in an ordinary oven is stagnant. It becomes saturated with the odors of the different dishes cooking—the strongest odor impregnates all. That is why you sometimes get pie with a flavor of onions and roast beef with a taste of fish.

The air in the oven of the

is constantly changing. Fresh air is drawn in from outside the range by our patent oven flue, superheated and forced into the top of the oven. It circulates throughout the oven, keeping every corner at a steady, even temperature. The air is then drawn off through the oven ventilators carrying with it the fumes of the cooking dishes.

The Imperial Oxford Range cooks your food with pure, fresh, dry heat. Would you like to see this range? Call at your dealers. If he can't show you the Imperial Oxford, write to us and we'll send you full particulars and tell you where you can see it. 17

Bloomer Girls Defeated by the Locals

Score Was 5-4 in Game With Few Exciting Features.

Attendance Was Not Large—The Game Was Good Workout for the Locals.

The game with the Bloomer Girls yesterday afternoon at the Riverside Grounds, resulted, as was expected, in a win for the local baseball team. The game was at no stage an exciting one, though it served the purpose of giving the locals an excellent workout for their game on Saturday in Port Hope. A number of them were, however, absent, which is to be regretted as it is felt that no speed can be spared if the pennant is to come our way.

The feminine aggregation at times displayed considerable baseball ability, but the result is scarcely an indication of what the result might have been had the local gone to their full capacity. The game was one which, while not of the exciting order, was very pleasing to watch, though only a small crowd was in attendance. The teams were composed as follows:—

BLOOMERS.		PETERBOROUGH.
	Pitcher
Fuller		Earls
	Catcher
W. Sells		Lang
	First Base.
Denore		Graham
	Second Base.
Bennett		Rattray
	Third Base.
McFadden		Parnell
	Short Stop.
C. Sells		Shea
	Right Field.
Kiddo		Pilling
	Centre Fie'd.
Harris		Cannors
	Left Field.
Campbell		Fitzpatrick

Umpire—Ketchen.

The score up to the ninth inning stood 4-1 in favour of the locals. Two runs were made by the ladies in the first by Shea and Rattray. In the second the Bloomers secured one, Bennett coming in. Parnell reached the plate in the second, and Earls in the fifth for the locals. In the ninth, by a most remarkable sequence of errors ever seen on a local field the ladies tallied three, C. Sells, McFadden and Campbell coming in. The game had practically no sensational features, Rattray being the only man to secure a three bagger.

A Fast Rochester Team to be Here

On Thursday afternoon next the local baseball fans will have the privilege of witnessing a fast game of baseball. Arrangements have been made by which a fast amateur baseball team from Rochester, N.Y., will visit the city and play a game with the local nine.

This game, in addition to being of interest in itself, will serve as a good work-out for the final game in the series for the Midland League championship, which will be played on Saturday in Port Hope.

The game will be called on Thursday at 3 o'clock.

Maud Keswick Wins in Syracuse

Maud Keswick, the former Peterborough horse, has been doing some great stunts on the United States circuits. In Syracuse recently in the 2.09 1-4 class, pace or trot, for a purse of $1,200, Maud Keswick took first money in straight heats, the time being 2.09 3-4. This horse gives promise of developing into one of the fastest trotters in America.

Postage Stamp Sports in Elora

Lindsay is evidently not the only place where a winning team gets created to over-matured eggs, as the following article from the Brantford Expositor, recording a game played in Elora indicates:

They are mighty poor losers in Elora, while they have no soft places in their heads for Brantford. There are too many poor sports in the town, according to population. Elora is troubled with more than her share of postage stamp value sports. Some of them greeted the team to eggs on the way from the grounds, while a dozen or so were thrown around the station as the train was pulling away in the evening.

HOCKEY.

Hockey is now being talked up, and there will be several teams in the Town League, says the Lindsay Post. There will be no Senior or even Intermediate team, but a fast team will be placed in the Junior O.H.A.—one which should bring the junior championship to Lindsay. Mr. "Artie" Parkin, for many years back a prominent figure in hockey, and a player on the Lindsay Senior team, is shaping things out for a speedy seven for the junior honours, and when he places them in the district, which will likely comprise teams from Kingston, Belleville, Cobourg, Port Hope, Peterborough and Lindsay, he expects to come out on top. Artie has already several players under contract and intends pushing the team along. A team in the junior series is what Lindsay wants, and we feel sure his braves would receive good patronage if they put up the winning article.

At the meeting last night of the Executive of the O.R.F.U. the rule relating to penalty touch was amended so ing to penalty touch was amended so as to provide that "penalty" touch can only be scored on a forward pass behind the goal line.

Elegant and Artistic Mat and Rug Patterns.

Which Can be Made Up in the Homes of Users of Diamond Dyes.

Thousands of Hooked Mats and Rugs are made yearly by users of Diamond Dyes. The making of these Mats and Rugs is popular with the ladies of Canada, and will be more so this season, when it is known that a vast number of new designs have been introduced. These patterns are on heavy burlap linen and beautifully coloured, showing the exact colours in the Diamond Dyes that should be used to colour the materials for the work.

John E. Garrett, New Glasgow, N. S., the manufacturer of these artistic Mat and Rug Patterns, will send free of charge to any address in Canada, sheets of designs, showing sizes and prices.

Big Pay for Steel Men.

The Carnegie Steel Company, of Pittsburgh, Pa., on Saturday had the biggest semi-monthly pay roll in the history of the Pittsburgh district, when $8,000,000 was paid its workmen. This will be on three weeks' pay, which occurs once each quarter. The usual two weeks' pay amounts to $1,000,000, but this time double and sometimes triple time has been made by the workmen.

Cured Kidney Disease.

Mrs. Fred Hills, Walton street, Port Hope, Ont., writes: "I was troubled for some time with kidney disease, and though I tried a great many different remedies I never succeeded in obtaining relief until I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. By the regular use of this preparation for a time I was completely cured of kidney disease."

Cave-in at Wilkesbarre.

Another cave-in near Wilkesbarre, Pa., has wrecked several houses and damaged others over the old workings of the Barnum colliery at Pittston. The surface is cracked into large fissures in all directions along Cliff street, and as the district is well populated, there is much apprehension among the residents. A close watch is being kept for further damage.

Diarrhoea

MAY attack you at any time of the year, but it is more prevalent during the summer months. When this trouble attacks you, it does not pay you to experiment with untried remedies, but always procure one that has stood the test of time. Such a one is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It has been on the market for 60 years and is considered by thousands of people is the best cure for all bowel complaints.

MRS. WILFRID TOMLINSON, Victoria Harbor, Ont., writes: "I always keep Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in the house, knowing from past experience that it is a sure and efficient remedy in diarrhoea and kindred bowel complaints."

Veterans Will Not be Given Free Lands

Will Be Made to the Northwest Veterans By the Province.

NO MORE LAND TO GIVE

Premier Whitney's Answer to the Deputation of the Northwest Field Force Association—Will Take Ten Years to Allot Applications That Have Already Been Put In Under the Statute—Speculators Benefit.

Toronto, Sept. 19.—"It is absolutely impossible for the Government of Ontario to give you any land, because there is no more land to give."

This was in part Premier Whitney's answer to a deputation of nearly 100 members of the Northwest Field Force Association which waited upon the Government yesterday and asked for land grants similar to those given to the veterans of 1866, 1870 and of the South African war.

The Premier added that in the future the Government would have to most earnestly consider if there was no other way of carrying out its obligations to those who had been called upon to defend the country than by making grants of land. So far as the deputation was concerned, the request that something should be done would, he said, be considered "by the Government with a leaning towards you." But they need have no more ideas about land grants; the land was not there.

Recipients Do Not Benefit.

The Premier during the course of his remarks reiterated his previously expressed disapproval of the volunteer land grants act as conceived and put into operation by the former Administration. Its working out had led to a great series of blunders, resulting in disadvantage, both to the men who deserved a reward for their services and to the Province. A portion of the land had already found its way into the hads of speculators, who, in order to defeat the law in regard to settlement duties and so on, were leasing the locations for the purpose of stealing the timber, and as soon as the timber was gone they would leave the land. Very few of the men entitled to such land grants ever received any benefit from them. Many of them has no intention of settling on their locations, and could not, owing to the restrictions, sell at a fair price. If the Government had given a cash grant of, say, $40 to each man, everyone concerned would have been better off, the men would have got something and the Government would have the land.

It will take ten years to survey townships enough to allot the applications that have already been put in by the veterans of 1866.

The Deputation's Spokesmen.

President Lieut.-Col. C. Greville Harston, in outlining the request of the association, said that personally he thought a mistake had been made in making the land grants, but since they had been made the men who fought in 1885 were as much entitled to a share as any others. Brief addresses were also made by Alderman S. Alfred Jones, Privates Lionel Dent and W. J. Urquhart, Staff-Sergt. Bewley, Sergt.-Major Tilley, Sgts. Lewis and Fowler, Mr. B. Cairns and Capt. T. Burke, Peterboro'.

Several of the spokesmen, while frankly admitting that they received scrip from the Dominion Government, pointed out that the conditions required settlement within one year. This was impossible for many of them, and their scrip was sold cheaply, the land speculators being the only persons to benefit.

The Cholera Bulletin.

Berlin, Sept. 19.—The official bulletin issued yesterday says there were ten fresh cases of cholera and five deaths from noon Saturday to noon Sunday, and three new cases and one death from noon Sunday to noon yesterday, making the totals 202 cases and 77 deaths.

Got the Franchise.

St. Catharines, Sept. 19.—The application of the Cataract Power Company to the city council for a 25-year franchise came up again at last night's meeting of the council and was passed by a good majority, after some minor amendments had been made.

BAD STOMACH MAKES BAD BLOOD.

You can't make sweet butter in a foul churn. Every farmer's wife knows this. Your stomach churns and digests the food you eat, and if foul, torpid or out of order, your whole system suffers from blood poisoning. You will have foul breath, coated tongue, bad taste, poor appetite and a whole train of disagreeable symptoms. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which is not a beverage composed of whisky or alcohol, being entirely free from intoxicants, is a great regulator and invigorator of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

"About a year ago I was ill with blood poisoning," writes Miss Evaline Louis, of 38 Walter Street, Buffalo, N. Y. "I had what seemed to be a small cold sore on my lip. It became very angry in appearance and began to spread until it nearly covered my face. I was a frightful sight and could not go outside the house because of my appearance. I used a blood medicine which did not give me any relief. Then I began to take your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I was greatly benefited with the first bottle and after taking the second bottle was completely cured. The erysipelatous eruption disappeared and my blood was cleansed. My complexion is clear and fresh and I have felt better this year than I did for some time before. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is certainly a most remarkable medicine."

Don't accept a substitute for a medicine which performs such cures and which has a uniformly successful record of nearly forty years to its credit. It's an insult to your intelligence for a dealer to try by over-persuasion to palm off upon you in its stead some inferior article with no record to back it up. You know what you want; it is his business to meet that want.

$50,000 GIVEN AWAY, in copies of The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book that sold to the extent of 680,000 copies a few years ago, at $1.50 per copy. Last year we gave away 300,000 worth of these invaluable books. This year we shall give away 500,000 worth of them. Will you share in this benefit? If so, send only 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only for book in cloth paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Tartars Surrendered the Tiflis District

Elizabethpol and the Copper Employes Are in Danger.

OFFICIALS WANT COSSACKS

Five Wagons of Armenian Refugees Were Attacked, the Men Killed and the Women Carried Off—The Czar Declares Town of Bielosiog in a State of Siege—Outrages Continue at Baku.

Tiflis, Sept. 19.—Gen. Shirinkin, commander of the troops, yesterday received a telegram from the officials of the copper works at Elizabethpol, requesting him to send Cossacks to the district.

The telegram says the district is surrounded by Tartars, and that property and the lives of the employes are in imminent danger.

Five wagons filled with Armenian refugees from Shusha were attacked by Tartars. Most of the refugees were killed and women were carried off. Similar outrages are continuing in various districts.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 19.—The Emperor has ordered a state of siege to be proclaimed in the town and district of Rielosiok owing to the disturbances there.

Baku, Sept. 19.—Serious outrages continue here and many of the shops remain closed.

CREATED SURPRISE.

St. Petersburg Amazed That Czar Should Call For a Second Peace Conference at The Hague.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 19.—Emperor Nicholas yesterday again appeared before the world as a promoter of universal peace. No sooner is the Russo-Japanese war over and even before the peace treaty has been ratified, than His Majesty issues invitations to a second peace conference at The Hague.

That the Emperor has done so was learned yesterday from a source which leaves no shadow of doubt as to its authenticity.

It is officially announced that "the Russian Government proposes to address the foreign powers with a view to the holding of a second peace conference at The Hague," but it is known that negotiations preceding this announcement that the Government proposed to address the powers were entered into especially with the United States, and were conducted with the greatest secrecy, there being not the slightest inkling that Russia contemplated anything of the kind.

The announcement created the greatest surprise here, and that Russia should plan a second conference despite the steps already taken by President Roosevelt, was also heard with amasement, although it is said here that President Roosevelt is of the opinion that the first step in this direction should be taken by the Emperor of Russia, on whose initiative the first conference was held.

The Cabinet Project.

The project for the formation of a Cabinet which Emperor Nicholas has ordered the Solsky commission to examine, contemplates the formation of a body to be called the Council of Ministers, which would be under the presidency of a premier. The latter, with the Ministers of War, Marine, and Foreign Affairs, and the court officials, would have the sole right of reporting to the Emperor. The Ministers would be appointed on the nomination of the Premier, and no administrative measures would become effective without the permission of the Council of Ministers, sanctioned by the Emperor.

Poland's Representation.

The Solsky commission has elaborated the conditions governing the representation of the people of Poland in the National Assembly. The voters will be divided into three classes, the first to be composed of landed property proprietors, the second of members of Cantons owning from three to twenty acres, and the third of urban electors. Thirty-six members will be returned from Poland.

Jap Paymasters Accused of Theft.

Tokio, Sept. 19.—Information has been made public that three naval paymasters have embezzled $165,000 of Government funds.

Manchuria Ports Open.

London, Sept. 19.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Morning Post says that an imperial decree has been issued ordering many of the ports in Manchuria to be opened equally to all treaty Powers.

Japanese Violence Checked.

Tokio, Sept. 19.—Anti-peace treaty demonstrations continue to be held in different localities, the meetings passing condemnatory resolutions, but there has been no further violence.

The members of the progressive party are united, but the constitutionalists are divided in their attitude toward the peace settlement, some branches having passed resolutions contradictory of the pro-Government statement of its terms.

Woman Gets Five Years.

Toronto, Sept. 19.—For assaulting Mrs. Mick, an attendant at the Mercer Reformatory, Police Magistrate Denison sentenced Tilly Robinson to five years in the Penitentiary yesterday. The woman has a hard record, averaging five convictions a year for several years.

DELEGATES IN CONFERENCE

Swedish and Norwegian Delegates After a Conference of Two Hours and a Half Adjourn to Await Agreement on Points by a Sub-Committee—A Norway Element Opposing Agreement—To Destroy Forts.

Christiania, Sept. 19.—Another semi-official denial was issued yesterday of renewed charges of a Norwegian mobilization of troops made in yesterday morning's Swedish papers.

It is declared that Norway has made no military preparations except such as were absolutely necessary from a defensive point of view.

Opposing the Agreement.

Karlstad, Sweden, Sept. 19.—The Norwegian and Swedish delegates were in conference for two hours and a half yesterday and adjourned to meet when an agreement has been reached on certain points submitted to a sub-committee.

A certain element in Norway is opposing the proposed terms of agreement, thus placing difficulty in the way of the delegates.

Will Destroy Frontier Forts.

It is understood that as a basis of the agreement Sweden has promised to sign an arbitration treaty as soon as Norway is recognised as a separate state, while Norway agrees to destroy all the new frontier forts. The other conditions are still under consideration.

Want Hotels All Closed On Fair Day

Movement on Part of Agricultural Societies to Close Hotels.

Another Effort to Elminate What Are Said to be Undesirable Features.

In connection with the movement to eliminate undesirable features, such as games of chance and the sale of liquor at the agricultural fairs of the Province, H. B. Cowan, Superintendent of Agricultural Societies, has received letters suggesting that an effort be made to close all hotels within five miles of the place at which fairs are in progress. Advocates of this measure point out that most of the undesirable features are conducted at fairs at which horse races are held, and that in the case of the large proportion of these societies the greater part of the purses for the races are subscribed by hotelkeepers. It is thought that if the hotels were closed on the day of exhibition a great blow would be struck for the purification of the agricultural societies. It is probable that the matter will be discussed at the next meeting of the Ontario Association of Fairs and Exhibitions.—Mail and Empire.

Surprise Soap The Mainstay of St. Stephen

Interesting Facts in Reference to St. Croix Soap Co.

Output of the Surprise Soap Factory Has Doubled in Last Six Years.

When one thinks of St. Stephen, the next thought is Surprise Soap. This sterling commodity by its extensive advertising, has done much to make the name of Surprise Soap a household word, and has closely associated with it the town of St. Stephen, where it had its birth, and from a struggling infant has grown to strong and lusty manhood.

Surprise Soap can be found in every city, town and village. Yes, it may be said to be in every store in this broad Dominion of ours.

Walking down Water street, the first building that catches the eye is the factory where Surprise Soap is manufactured.

The first part of the premises one comes to is the offices. Stepping inside they are seen to consist of the outer or general office, and off this is the private office, while leading from this is the stenographer's office.

This soap has been exhibited with great success in many places, a few of which are: Toronto in 1891 and 1894; London, Ont., in 1893; Sherbrooke, Que., in 1902; Montreal, in 1895; and St. John. One notable feature of their exhibits are the guessing contest, which was guessing the weight of a large cake of soap they held in this contest; for the correct answer the lucky guesser received a piano. Needless to say, this caused more than a ripple of excitement to spread wherever Surprise Soap decides to exhibit. To put it mildly the throngs around the booth are exceedingly animated.

Surprise Soap had its birth in a small 30 x 50 feet, 2 1-2 story building in 1878, when it was conducted by Mr. Pickard, under name of Ganong Bros. & Pickard. Ganong Bros., who were wholesale grocers, handled the entire output of the concern. So rapid was the growth and increasing sale of their product that a joint stock company was formed in 1894, with James H. Ganong, president and treasurer. Mr. Pickard retired, and Mr. W. G. Carson was made manager with an interest in the business. In 1897 Mr. W. G. Carson sold out his interest in the business to C. W. Young.

In 1898 Jas. H. Ganong died and J. H. Ganong took over the active management of the business, having associated with him C. W. Young, as president. Under their fostering care they have lived to see Surprise Soap known in every family from the Atlantic to the Pacific. This arrangement of management still holds good to the present day.

The output of Surprise Soap today is twenty times what it was a few years after it was launched out on the troubled sea of competition. During the last six years the sales have just doubled.

PRETTY WEDDING IN GALWAY CHURCH

Miss Annie Collins Married to Mr. Martin Byrne.

A very pretty wedding took place last Tuesday at the Roman Catholic church, in the Township of Galway, the occasion being the marriage of a very popular young lady, Miss Minnie Collins, second eldest daughter of Mr. Patrick Collins, Township Clerk, to Mr. Martin Byrne, of Somerville Township.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father P. J. O'Leary.

The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Adeline, while the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. John Byrne.

After the ceremony was performed the party retired to the residence of the bride's father. A very sumptuous dinner was served to relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

The esteem in which the bride is held was evidenced by a large number of costly presents. After congratulatory favours were bestowed, Mr. and Mrs. Byrne left on the 3 o'clock train for Buffalo and points west, and upon their return will take up their residence in the Township of Somerville.

B. Y. P. U. Held Enjoyable Meeting

After the waiving of two sessions, one for the holiday and the other for the burning of the mortgage, in which the young people were much interested, there was a magnificent rally last night of the Park street B. Y. P. U. Mr. Albert Inkpen led the meeting in the absence of the president, supported by 2nd vice-president, Mr. Roy Jackson.

The subject under discussion was "Practical Christianity." Two very excellent papers were read by the Misses Maggie Oldham and Mabel Gillespie, and an address by the Rev. A. H. Bruce. He gave a case in point which needed immediate manifestation of practical religion, and would be splendid training for the young people. Four took part in the devotional exercises. A gracious power pervaded the service. This was a splendid rally, and a good omen for the fall and winter work.—Com.

DIAMOND DYES

By Five Continents and the Isles of the Sea.

Diamond Dyes, the only honest and perfect package dyes now before the women of the world for the successful home colouring, have been awarded the banner of honour and victory by five continents and the isles of the sea, for purity, strength, brilliancy, beauty of colours, and never-fading qualities.

Diamond Dyes with a record of twenty-five years of marvellous and delightful work in the homes of the world, have been imitated. The result is, that many of our women and girls have frequently been deceived by having worthless package dyes forced on them, which have proved disastrous to good materials and valuable garments.

When buying package dyes, the exercise of a little care will save our women much trouble and annoyance. Ask for Diamond Dyes, and see that the words "Diamond Package Dyes" appear on each envelope you are offered. Send to Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, Montreal, P. Q., for valuable book on home dyeing, and card of 48 dyed cloth samples. Sent free to any address.

Dr. Barnardo's Sudden Death Is Recorded

Head of the Movement to Benefit England's Waifs.

Telegram Recieved To-day at Hazel Brae—No Details Yet Available.

This morning Miss Woodgate, the superintendent of the Barnardo Home, received a cablegram from London, England, conveying the brief, sad announcement that Dr. Barnardo, the founder of the Barnardo Homes, and one of the greatest of the world's benefactors, passed away suddenly last night. The cablegram does not state what the cause of death was, and there was no intimation received there previously that he was ill recently. This will indeed be sad news to many thousands of persons, not only in England, but in Canada, where there are many thousands who have been brought to this country through his instrumentality, and many have grown up to be among the most respectable and industrious of the Dominion's citizens.

The effect on the work inaugurated and carried on by him during his useful life will be hard to determine, and nothing can be said on this point at the present time.

"Hazel Brae," the former residence of Hon. Senator Cox, has for some years, been the home of the Canadian branch of the Girl's work, and all the girls brought to this country by Dr. Barnardo are taken there first and afterwards sent to the homes which are found for them. So that the news of the death of this noble man will come to this city with peculiar sadness.

Further details relating to his death will probably be received in the course of a few days.

Helped 65,000 Waifs.

London, Eng., Sept. 20.—Dr. Thomas John Barnardo, founder and director of philanthropic institutions by which over sixty-five thousand orphan waifs have been rescued, trained and placed out in life, died last night after a short illness. He was born in Ireland in 1845.

BUILDING ACTIVE IN THE WEST END

A Transformation Being Effected on the Elias Burnham Property.

Mr. A. Brown, of A. Brown & Co., real estate agents, is an energetic builder. He has had a big share in the big improvement consisting of the transformation of the appearance of the front of the Burnham estate, facing Park Place, between King and Charlotte streets. Within a little over a year eight fine residences have been erected on the property facing Park street, and of those Mr. Brown has constructed five, which have nearly all been sold. The last two houses to change hands are the two fine red brick residences with concrete block foundations, nearest Charlotte street. The south one has been purchased by Mr. R. E. Mayfield, of the C. G. E. Company's office staff, and the other has been acquired by Mr. Morley W. Lyle.

Mr. Brown has broken ground for an elegant residence for himself on the corner lot facing Charlotte street, and also giving a view on Park street, north and south. When this house shall have been completed the entire east front of the Burnham property at this point, which a few short months ago was a combination of thicket and cow pasture, will be filled with nine elgant residences of modern and fine appearance.

Convention Will Be the Best Ever Held

Mr. R. G. Murphy, Secretary of Dairymen, Says So.

Addresses Meeting of the Peterboro' Cheese Board.

Mr. R. G. Murphy, the secretary of the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association, was present at the meeting of the Cheese Board this morning, and addressed the members. He expressed pleasure at being present at the meeting, one of the reasons being that the Peterborough Board had a good reputation in the East, and he hoped to see the Board keep up this good reputation. He wanted to talk to the members about the Dairymen's Association to be held here in January next. The deputation which went to Toronto made things so plain that the Association simply had to decide to come here. Since the last meeting was held here the Association had grown to ten times its size at that time.

Mr. Murphy impressed upon the members the importance of co-operation with the officers in order to secure the greatest possible success for the convention. He had blank membership tickets, which he would give to the local salesmen, who were urged to secure members for the Association, among the patrons of their factories, and in this way to help along the convention. He explained the benefits which membership in the Association would confer, and mentioned the new organ of the Association, the Canadian Dairyman, which is given free to each member of the Association.

All the conditions point to the most successful convention in the history of the Association, in Peterborough, next January, and he hoped that many members of this Board would co-operate to secure its success.

The membership blanks will be given to Mr. Gillespie, who will distribute them to the salesmen and others, to obtain members.

DIRECTORS ISSUE FINAL WORDS

Programmes Being Issued for the Industrial Fair.

All exhibits must be on the grounds before 10 o'clock on Tuesday.

A Collision at Atherley

An accident occurred last night at Atherley Junction, near Orillia, on the G. T. R., by which two freight trains collided. The cause of the accident is said to have been that one of the engineers, a young man, 24 years of age, who had recently been promoted from fireman, ran past his orders, and crashed into the other train.

Fortunately no one was killed, but the damage to rolling stock will be very heavy.

The Melbourne Burned at Trenton Wharf

A Propeller Loaded with General Cargo Destroyed.

Origin of Fire is Unknown—Several of Crew Had Narrow Escapes.

Special to The Examiner.

Trenton, Ont., Sept. 20.—The propeller Melbourne, bound from Hamilton to Montreal with a general cargo, was burned to the water's edge last night about 12 o'clock while lying at the canal dock about three miles from here waiting for daylight before proceeding down the north channel. The fire started forward, but the origin is unknown. Several of the crew had narrow escapes. The cargo and boat are said to be covered by insurance. The loss is unknown.

A Port Hope Man Gets Into Some Trouble

Claim That He Issued a Bogus Cheque.

Wanted in Toronto Also for an Alleged Offance.

Montreal, Sept. 19.—A man giving his name as A. J. Campbell, and his residence as Port Hope, is held at the detective office awaiting information from Port Hope with regard to a check which the detained man signed and had cashed at a local bank after it had been endorsed by a local business man. The local bank wired Port Hope, when the reply came that the check was bogus. Campbell was taken into custody, but protested his innocence. He said that his father died last June, leaving him $22,000, and it was against this sum that he had drawn the check which is claimed to be bogus. Chief Carpenter communicated with the Port Hope Chief of Police on the matter. Chief Carpenter has received a telegram from Port Hope, asking him to hold the man, as a warrant had been issued in Port Hope on the charge of fraud. The telegram gives the man's name as James, alias Alexander, Hamilton.

Detective Mackie left Toronto for Montreal last night to bring Campbell back to Toronto to stand his trial on a charge of obtaining $20 from Mr. Thomas M. Bayne, manager of the Walker House, under false pretenses. Campbell passed a check on a Port Hope bank, which was cashed by Mr. Bayne. Campbell's home is in Port Hope.

THE CONVENTION WILL SURPASS

All Previous Gatherings of the Dairymen's Association.

Mr. W. G. Murphy the Secretary Visited Peterborough—600 to 1000 Delegates Here.

The dairymen are already preparing for the convention which will be held here early in January, under the auspices of the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association. Mr. W. G. Murphy, of Brockville, the energetic secretary of the Association, was in the city to-day, and inaugurated the movement, which, it is expected, will result in the most successful convention in the history of the Association. Mr. Murphy has left with Mr. Gillespie a number of blank membership books, which are to be given to each of the forty-five salesmen represented on the Peterborough Cheese Board, who are expected to do their best to secure twenty-five members for the Association at $1 per year. Membership in this Association entitles one to receive the reports on dairying issued by the Department of Agriculture, and also the privileges of the convention, as well as a year's subscription to the Canadian Dairyman, the semi-monthly paper issued by the Association.

It is probable that the attendance at the convention will be all the way from 600 to 1000 people, and, in fact, Mr. Murphy promises that he will fill the city.

The dairy industry is a rapidly growing one and is assuming gigantic proportions. In this county it has made rapid strides in recent years, and it is a distinct honour to the city that the dairymen have decided to hold their 1906 convention in Peterborough. Mr. Murphy feels confident that the gathering will be most successful. He left at two o'clock this afternoon for his home in Brockville.

There is only one Range made that satisfies everybody. It's called the "Happy Thought". We sell it. The Bent Store Co.

A Robbery Committed in Port Hope Hous

E. Rowland's Home Entered While Family Slept.

$97 in Cash was Stolen—A Daring Burglary.

A bold robbery was perpetrated at the residence of Mr. Edward Rowland, Brown street, Port Hope, during the early hours of yesterday morning. Mr. Rowland worked at the Ideal Factory, last night, until eleven o'clock, and it was nearly midnight when he retired. On rising this morning he found his way down the stairway and his watch and chain missing. Numerous burglars matches were scattered about the floor and everything pointed towards a burglary. On a chair down stairs was a towel all ready for use in which a number of silver knives and forks were placed, but the burglars evidently forgot these when departing. But it was upstairs where the burglars made their haul. In the room adjoining the bedroom the thieves made a thorough search and removed ninety-seven dollars in hard cash which Mr. Rowland had left in his trouser pockets. A purse of Mrs. Rowlands, containing a small sum of money, her wedding ring and numerous valuable articles, were downstairs, but they were not disturbed.

Before retiring Mrs. Rowland remarked that she heard peculiar noises at the rear of the house, and while the thieves were making their search not the slightest sound was heard.

It is thought that the door at the back had been left unlocked, and that this was the way the entrance was made.

Chief Bond is at work on the case and every assistance will be given him, to capture the guilty ones and bring them to justice.

Dear Sir,—Mrs. Henry Juby wishes to express her gratitude to the officers and members of Lansdowne Lodge, S.O.E., for their prompt settlement of all claims, and for the kind and unremitting attention to her husband during his long and painful sickness. Yours, on behalf of Mrs. Juby,
Very sincerely,

Crops Good in Kent.

Without doubt this has been one of the greatest summers in the agricultural history of Kent county, says the Chatham News. Wheat, oats, hay and other cereals have been a bumper crop in most cases, and in nearly all at least a fair average crop. And now comes the good news from all along the countryside that tobacco, beans, corn and sugar beets will, everyone of them, be a good yield.

Mr. Moore Believes City Water Is Pure

Mr. W. H. Moore, one of the members of the Board of Water Commissioners was interviewed by the Examiner yesterday in reference to the question of the public health. Mr. Moore was asked whether the water which was supplied to the city through the mains was of good quality and free from injurious germs. His reply was that as far as the Commissioners were aware the water supply was pure or nearly so, and he did not believe that the prevalence of typhoid was due to any impurity in the city water, which had been tested some time ago, he was not in a position to state just when, and had been found to be quite satisfactory. The commissioners took all the ordinary precaution to insure a good supply of pure water and although there was no filtering system, there were fine screens before the intake pipes, which prevented foreign matter from getting into the pipes or through the mains.

A filtering system would cost probably $25,000, or $30,000 and he felt that before it was installed the water should be tested and the actual condition ascertained. His own opinion was that it was the same pure water that it had always been, for he knew of no circumstance which had rendered it otherwise, and until it had been established that the water was contaminated he believed that it was premature to discuss a filtering system.

LEZEAR BABCOCK GETS SIX MONTHS

For Obstructing C.P.R. Track With Stolen Engine.

Pleads Guilty at County Judges Criminal Court.

Lezear Babcock, the young man from the vicinity of Lindsay, committed for trial yesterday on a charge of interfering with the property of the Canadian Pacific Railway, was tried at the Court House to-day at the County Judge's Criminal Court. When arraigned before Judge Weller he elected to be summarily tried and pleaded guilty to a charge of obstructing the railway track of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and was sentenced to six months in jail. Mr. R. E. Wood, Crown Attorney, prosecuted, and Mr. F. D. Kerr, of Dennistoun, Peck, Kerr & Stevenson, appeared for the prisoner.

It will be remembered that about a week ago Babcock entered the cab of the yard engine in the C. P. R. yards, and, steam being up, opened the throttle and ran the engine out of the yards, which fortunately encountered a split switch and was derailed. By this fortunate accident a great calamity was averted. The midnight express for Toronto was nearly due, and if the engine's steam had lasted until the express was met, or if the engine had become "dead" on the track, a collision would have ensued which could hardly escape resulting in serious, if not fatal, injury to the passengers occupying the twelve or fourteen coaches and sleepers of which the train is usually composed.

Chewed Gum After Her Death

Galesburg, Mich. Sept. 16. — Medical men here and in Kalamazoo are still interested in the case of Matilda Watkins, recently deceased in Comstock township, notwithstanding its apparently satisfactory explanation.

Although there is no possible doubt that life was extinct, there was a continuous movement of the jaws and facial muscles that perplexed the profession and was for several days the subject of profound investigation that only terminated when it became known that the woman had chewed gum constantly during the past 40 years, and this knowledge led to the decision that the movement referred to had been so continuous and so prolonged as to have become purely mechanical and entirely independent of mental impulse.

There is more catarrh in this section o fthe country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years the doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Wire Across Sahara.

The Ministry of Posts and Telegraphs, of France, has decided to proceed at once to the construction of a telegraph line across the Sahara Desert, which is to place in direct communications Algiria and the French possessions on the West African coast. The cost of the enterprise, which will be sustained by the French Bureau of Telegraphs, is estimated at half a million dollars, according to plans made by M. Jonnard, who recently returned from a voyage of exploration.

Cured Kidney Disease.

Mrs. Fred Hills, Walton street, Port Hope, Ont., writes: "I was troubled for some time with kidney disease, and though I tried a great many different remedies I never succeeded in obtaining relief until I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. By the regular use of this preparation for a time I was completely cured of kidney disease."

French Acadian Weekly.

The Moncton Times understands that a movement is on foot to form a company, capitalized at seventy-five thousand dollars, to establish a large French Acadian weekly in the city of Moncton. The chief editor would direct affairs at the head office and local editors would be stationed in the provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and P. E. Island, who would have charge of their respective provinces. This project is one of the results of the late Acadian congress.

Want Immigration Methods Investigated—Child Labour Condemned.

Toronto, Sept. 20.—The Trades and Labor Congress received yesterday morning the annual report of the solicitor, Mr. O'Donaghue, and referred it to a special committee. It says the alien labor bill is useless in its present shape. Public ownership should receive more attention in the House. The methods of certain emigration agents should be investigated. They were receiving $5 per head without giving adequate return. Bonuses amounting to $98,013 had been given to immigration in different ways. An attack upon the Dominion Senate was made on account of its opposition to the Union Label bill.

A resolution was carried unanimously expressing opposition to Hon. Jos. Chamberlain's tariff proposals. It claimed the Canadian manufacturers had misrepresented the situation in Canada when they said we were unanimous in our support of the proposals.

Sympathy with the printers in their fight for the eight-hour day and the "closed shop" was expressed by resolution.

Another resolution asked the Legislative Committee to do all in its power to have enacted legislation preventing the employment of children under fourteen years in offices and stores. Delegate Kennedy had an amendment added, prohibiting canning factories also.

A resolution to invite the American Federation of Labor to hold its next meeting in Toronto was passed.

The afternoon was spent at Sunnyside.

MANUFACTURERS IN SESSION.

Insurance and Other Reports Presented to the Association.

Quebec, Sept. 20.—The Canadian Manufacturers' Association met in the City Hall yesterday morning when the committee on the department of insurance presented its report. After discussion it was adopted.

The report of the railway and transportation committee was next submitted and read. The report was adopted.

Mr. Fraser of London wanted to know if the association had ever asked the commission to place the express companies under the same category as railways. President George said that two memorials on that head had already been presented to the transportation committee and suggested that it should have a motion to that effect.

The delegates and their ladies were taken for a sail around the harbor, visiting the bridge, graving dock, etc., covering a distance of about twenty-five miles. They were highly delighted with the trip.

Last night the delegates and their ladies attended a reception at Spencerwood, given in their honor by Lieutenant-Governor Jette.

The membership committee's report shows that during the year there was an increase of 328, making the total 1,839, 291 of these being firms employing over 100 hnads. The report also says nice things about the British excursion.

There were encouraging reports from the Industrial Canada committee, and also the commercial intelligence committee.

A Wrestler Swung Foul Against Saw

A Distressing Accident Which Occurred in Lindsay.

A 17-Year Old Boy Employed With Kennedy & Davis Seriously Injured

Sept. 18th proved an unlucky day for Ernest Gilbert, a 17 year old youth employed by the Kennedy & Davis Milling Co., of Lindsay. A minute or so before the one o'clock whistle was due to sound he engaged in a wrestling bout with a companion named Kinnear. They were in dangerous proximity to the butting-saw, which had just been started and was revolving at a high rate of speed, and as the wrestlers swung each other about while straining for the mastery young Gilbert's left foot came in contact with the saw, which entered at the instep on the inner side and sheared its way diagonally across to the second toe.

The poor fellow was taken in the ambulance to Ross Hospital, where he was attended by Drs. White, Collison and Clarke. He had lost a lot of blood and was very weak, but to-day's report of his condition is reassuring. A little more than one-half of the foot will be saved.—Lindsay Post.

Vice Royalty in the Mine.

An account of Their Excellencies' visit to the coal mines at Coleman, Alta., returning from the Crow's Nest Pass, sent by a correspondent at Coleman, says that at the mine the party were driven to the mine, and there boarded mining cars specially fitted for their comfort, hauled by a compressed air locomotive through the mine workings, 1,000 feet and return. All were intensely interested and Lady Grey was not content until she had taken a pick and picked down several lumps of coal which the various members of the party carried away as souvenirs.

Break in Morris Canal.

Jas. Daly, foreman of the Morris, N. J., canal, yesterday noticed a break in the "turnbank" of the canal, between Mountain View and Little Falls. This will prevent the further use of the canal for this season, as the break is three yards long and has overflowed many acres of lowlands. The "turnbank" is the earth placed along the canal to give it the required level. The land near the bridge at Mountain View has the appearance of a great lake. Water has been shut off at the aqueduct. The break is said to have been caused by muskrats.

Change of LIFE

Need Not Bring Suffering and Misery

This perfectly natural change in a woman's life is too often accompanied by painful, distressing symptoms due to female troubles and slight irregularities in her delicate organism.

The woman who passes this change without the development of tumors, cancers, or chronic invalidism enters a new field of happiness and usefulness in the domestic circle and in social activity. Her physical system should receive the necessary assistance at this critical period.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

is exactly suited to woman's needs at this time. It strengthens and cures all derangements of the female organism, it overcomes the hot flashes and dizzy fainting spells, and all other distressing symptoms.

Woman's Friend During Change of Life

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I owe my splendid health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am the mother of three children, have safely passed the change of life, and feel as young and strong as I did twenty years ago, and this is all due to your friend of women, Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it before my children were born, and it greatly assisted nature and saved me much pain, and during change of life I took it off and on for four years, and had but little trouble and sickness such as most women have to endure. Mrs. James K. Mann, 806 Bathhurst Street, Toronto, Canada.

The whole secret of safety at this time of life is thorough preparation before the change begins. Fortify the system with a course of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This wonderful medicine has carried thousands of women through this danger period.

No such helpful advice to women who are sick can be had anywhere as will be received free by addressing Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

Women

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets Hit the Right Spot.

When a woman gets all run down, feels tired and out of sorts it is pretty hard to tell what part of her peculiar organism is causing the trouble.

It is useless, for example, taking a stimulant to heal inflammation or correct an irregularity.

Whit the exception of Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women, no compound remedy for the female sex exists to-day. By compound remedy we mean one containing the alterative and tonic medical ingredients necessary to regulate and strengthen every organ of the female system.

And that is just what these tablets do.

In taking the ordinary remedies you may miss the very ingredients your system requires. These tablets contain every ingredient. They go to the weak spot wherever it may be.

It is not necessary to guess at the cause of the trouble and perhaps take the wrong medicine half a dozen times. It is not necessary to even know exactly the cause of the trouble.

Dr. Hugo's remedy contains something for every organ of the female system; something for the stomach to help indigestion—for the bowels to cure constipation—for the nervous system to tone up the nerves—for the liver and kidneys to make them active in carrying off impurities—something for the uterine system to stop all drains, allay inflammation and make women regular.

The tablets are sure to go to the right spot and get there the first time.

The remedy is now recognised beyond doubt or question as the best adapted to the special needs of sick and run-down women, no matter what the cause.

Typhoid Fever; Its Causes and Its Ordinary Course

The present existence of typhoid fever in the city has occasioned considerable alarm in many quarters, as well as no little conjecture as to the probable source of the infection. Whether or not the city water supply has been contaminated has not been established, as an examination of the individual cases and their probable origin has not yet been made.

Whatever be the source of the dreaded contagion, a short description of the leading characteristics of the disease, together with some general information concerning it may not be untimely, and, it is possible, may prove of value in some cases.

Some Leading Characteristics.

Typhoid fever is a disease of temperate climates, and prevails mostly in the autumn and winter months. Of 1,880 cases admitted to the Montreal General Hospital during the past twenty years, more than 50 per cent. were in the months of August, September and October; of the 1,381 at the Toronto General Hospital during the past twelve years, 701 occurred in those months. Hence it has been well called "autumnal fever."

It has been observed to prevail most in hot and dry seasons, epidemics being most common when the ground water is low, under which circumstances the springs and water sources drain more thoroughly contaminated foci, and are more likely to be highly charged with poison. In dry seasons the poison may be more disseminated in the dust.

Males and females are about equally liable to the disease, though male cases are more frequently admitted to the hospitals. Typhoid is a disease of youth and early adult life, the greatest susceptibility to infection being between the ages of 15 and 25. Cases at over sixty years of age are rare. It is not very infrequent in childhood, but infants are rarely attacked.

As in other fevers, not all who are exposed contract the disease, as some are more susceptible than others.

The disease is becoming less prevalent in the large cities in consequence of improved sanitation. In suburban and country districts it is apparently upon the increase.

The Specific Germ.

The typhoid germ is a rather short, thick, motile bacillus, with rounded ends, in one of which, and sometimes in both, can be seen a glistening round body, supposed to be a spore or an egg.

Cultures are killed at a temperature of sixty degrees Centigrade, or over one hundred Farenheit, and are also destroyed by carbolic acid, one-half per cent. solution, or Corrosive Sublimate one-twentyfifth per cent. solution. Outside the body the bacilli retain their vitality for weeks in water; in milk they undergo rapid development, changing the appearance of the milk. They may increase in soil and retain their vitality for months. They are not easily killed, as they may live on ice for months.

The direct infection by dust of exposed food-stuffs, such as milk, is very probable. Bacilli retain their vitality for many weeks; in garden earth, twenty-one days; in filter sand, eighty-two days; in the dust of the street, thirty days; on linen, sixty days, and on wood, thirty-two days.

Modes of Infection.

Among the different modes of conveyance of the bacilli are:

(a) Direct transmission through the air from one person to another. This, it may be said, is very uncommon, though its possibility must be acknowledged.

(b) The infection of water is the most common mode of conveyance, and many epidemics have been shown to originate in the contamination of a well or spring.

An American Case.

A very striking case occurred at Plymouth, Pa., in the year 1885. This town, with a population of 8,000, was, in part, supplied with drinking water from a reservoir fed by a mountain stream. During January, February and March, in a cottage by the side of, and at a distance of sixty to eighty feet from, this stream, a man was ill with typhoid fever. The patient's dejecta were in the habit at night of throwing out the evacuations on the ground toward the stream. During these months the ground was frozen and covered with snow. In the latter part of March and early in April there was considerable rainfall and a thaw, in which a large part of the three months' accumulation of discharges was worked into the brook, not sixty feet distant. About the 10th of April cases of typhoid fever broke out in the town, appearing for a time at the rate of fifty a day. In all about twelve hundred people were affected. An immense majority of all the cases were in a part of the town which received water from the infected reservoir.

(c) Infection by food. Milk is a common source of infection. In addition to the milk, germs may be conveyed in ice, salads of various kinds, celery; and the food may be readily contaminated by the soiled fingers of the attendant or the patient himself. Flies are also a source of danger.

(d) Contamination of the soil. Filth, bad sewers or cesspools cannot in themselves cause typhoid fever, but they furnish the conditions suitable for the preservation of the bacillus, and possibly for its propagation.

Symptoms of the Disease.

The period of incubation lasts from "eight to fourteen days, sometimes twenty-three" (clinical society), during which there are feelings of lassitude and ineptitude for work. The onset is rarely abrupt. There may be gastro-enteric symptoms, either at rigour, which is rare, or chilly feelings, headache, nausea, loss of appetite, pains in the back and legs, and nose-bleeding. These symptoms increase in severity, and the patient at last takes to his bed. During the first week there is a steady rise in the fever. The tongue is coated and white; the abdomen is slightly distended and tender. Unless the fever is high there is no delirium, but the patient complains of headache, and there may be mental confusion and wandering at night. The bowels may be constipated, as there may be two or three loose movements daily. Towards the end of the week the spleen becomes enlarged, and the rash appears in the form of rose-coloured spots, seen first on the skin and the abdomen. Cough and bronchitic symptoms are not uncommon at the outset.

In the second week, in cases of moderate severity, the symptoms become aggravated. Mental torpor and dullness replace the headache. The face looks heavy; the lips and, in severe cases, the tongue are dry. Death may occur during this week. In mild cases the fever declines, and by the fourteenth day may be normal.

In the third week there is a gradual decline in the fever. Diarrhoea and meteorism may persist. Unfavourable symptoms at this stage are pulmonary complications, increasing feebleness of the heart and pronounced delirium with muscular tremor. Special dangers are perforation and hemhemorrhage.

In the fourth week in the majority of instances, convalescence begins. The temperature reaches the normal point, the diarrhoea stops, the tongue cleans, and the desire for food returns. Heart failure and secondary complications are the chief dangers of this period.

In the fifth and sixth weeks ulcerated areas may still show irregular fever, and convalescence may not set in until after the fortieth day. Relapses are met with. At this time, too, occur many of the complications and sequelae.

The Patient's Diet.

Careful diet and nursing are essential in the majority of cases of typhoid fever. Those forms of food which are digested with greatest ease, and which leave behind the smallest amount of residue, should be given. Milk is the most suitable food.

Mystery of Phantom Farm Is Explained

An English Paper Furnishes the Solution.

The Old-Time Factors in Life's Mysteries, Matrimony and Death.

In yesterday's issue was printed an extract from an English paper relating to a "phantom farm" and the inexplicable disappearance of a lady. The Derby and Chesterfield Reporter, received this morning, contains an explanation. Mr. T. H. Sills, 112 Stewart street, was reading an account of the mystery in last night's Examiner, and on taking up the English paper, read the following explanation of it:

The mystery of the disappearance of Miss Pennink, the daughter of a Greenwich boatman, whose loss had caused as great a sensation, was explained by the police on Saturday. After she left home in March she took up her residence in the district of Wrotham, a village of some size at the foot of a long range of hills some nine miles from Sevenoaks and about twelve miles to the northwest of Maidstone. Yokes-place, Morewoods, is only a few miles from Wrotham, and it was near that place that the spot where the lady was to be found was marked on a map sent to her sister. In the latter part of April, as a sequel to an advertisement, a gentleman presented himself at the house in Albany street, Maidstone, saying that he required a bedroom and a sitting-room for his wife, and that he would bring her down in a few days. He engaged the rooms, and shortly after arrived with the lady. She remained there, and was visited at the week-ends by the gentleman, who, judged by appearances, was a man of good position in life. Up to about the end of April she called at Sevenoaks Postoffice for her letters, and from that time onward the communications addressed to her at that office were received at irregular intervals by a well-dressed man.

On the 19th July she died from natural causes, leaving an infant, which is still living. The arrangements for the funeral were made by a gentleman who gave the name of Stanley, and who showed every sign of profound grief at the death of the deceased. He insisted that everything should be of the best, and selected silver-plated mountings for the coffin in which deceased was buried. The grave in which deceased rests is in one of the best parts of cemetery. At the funeral Stanley and a lady were the only mourners.

Baby Boy Born On Street Car

New York, Sept. 19.—In the Park Row terminal of the Brooklyn Bridge, on the trolley loops where 200,000 daily battle for seats, there was born early yesterday morning another who in time may take his part in the struggle. He was born in the centre of the battle ground, on the seat of a Putnam avenue trolley car, on which his mother, Mrs. Mary Hamilton, 21 years old, of 240 Bond street, Brooklyn, was riding. was on her way, with a woman friend, to the Lying-in Hospital at Sixteenth street and Second avenue.

On the way over the bridge on the trolley car the child was born. The car stopped on the loop, and the motorman held it there, at the request of Mrs. Hamilton's friend, until the woman could be moved.

As soon as she could be moved, Dr. Cherry placed Mrs. Hamilton in the ambulance and took her to the Hudson street Hospital. She was later transferred to the Lying-in Hospital. In spite of the unusual circumstances of the birth, the surgeons say that both mother and child are doing well, and that the mother will recover and the child will live.

A PASTOR'S WIFE
CURED OF PELVIC CATARRH

She Suffered for Years and Felt Her Case Was Hopeless—Cured by Pe-ru-na.

MRS. ANNA B. FLEHARTY, recent Superintendent of the W. C. T. U. headquarters, at Galesburg, Ill., was for ten years one of the leading women there. Her husband, when living, was first President of the Nebraska Wesleyan University, at Lincoln, Neb.

In a letter written from 401 Sixty-seventh street, W., Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Fleharty says the following in regard to Peruna:

"Having lived a very active life as wife and working partner of a busy minister, my health failed me a few years ago. I lost my husband about the same time, and gradually I seemed to lose health and spirit. My daughter is a confirmed invalid, and we both felt great need of an invigorator.

"One of my neighbors advised me to try Peruna. A bottle was immediately secured and a great change took place in my daughter's as well as in my own health. Our appetites improved very greatly, the digestion seemed much helped, and restful sleep soon improved us, so that we seemed like new women.

"I would not be without Peruna for ten times its cost."—Mrs. Anna B. Fleharty.

What used to be called female diseases by the medical profession is now called pelvic catarrh. It has been found by experience that catarrhal diseases of the pelvic organs are the cause of most cases of female diseases.

Dr. Hartman was among the first of America's great physicians to make this discovery. For many years he has been treating diseases peculiar to women, and long ago he reached the conclusion that a woman entirely free from catarrhal affection of these organs would not be subject to female disease. He therefore began using Peruna for these cases and found it so admirably adapted to their permanent cure that Peruna has now become the most famous remedy for female diseases ever known. Everywhere the women are using it and praising it. Peruna is not a palliative simply; it cures by removing the cause of female disease.

Dr. Hartman has probably cured more women of female ailments than any other living physician. He makes them cures simply by using and recommending Peruna.

Mrs. Esther M. Milner, DeGraff, Ohio, writes:

"I was a terrible sufferer from female weakness and had the headache continuously. I was not able to do my housework for myself and husband. I wrote you and described my condition as near as possible. You recommended Peruna. I took four bottles and was completely cured. I think Peruna a wonderful medicine."—Mrs. Esther M. Milner.

Congressman Thad. M. Mahon, of Chambersburg, Pa., writes:

"I take pleasure in commending your Peruna as a substantial tonic and a good catarrh remedy."—T. M. Mahon.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

VALUE OF OUR GOLDEN WEST

The press despatches, which stated that the Canadian Pacific Railway has refused seventy million dollars for what remains of their land grant, in the first place suggests a contrast with the tremendous gifts made to that railway by the Conservative Government of Canada with the fact that in promoting the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific, the Laurier Government did not, and is not, to give a foot of land. But that is not to say, as pointed out by a contemporary, that the liberal land grant to the railway was a mistaken generosity. The C. P. R. has done much by virtue of its control of these lands, to call attention to the desirability of the Northwest, as a home for settlers. There is no doubt that the railway would make better use of the lands than a syndicate of speculators. It would be in the interest of the speculators to hold vacant these lands till contiguous settlement should increase their value. There is, however, a similar inducement to the railway company to hold these lands, since they are free from taxation, but this circumstance is overborne by the circumstance that the company stands to gain more from the traffic which would accrue to its railway, resulting from the settlement of these lands, than by holding them for a sympathetic increase of value created by surrounding settlement. The C. P. R. is doing a great work in settling the West, not only specifically, for its own corporate advantage, but also by the extensive advertising which it practises so freely. The building of a new Transcontinental will give a new impetus to settlement and development in the Northwest. It will open out new areas and create new centres of activity, much in the same way as the Canadian Pacific has done. And what is gained will be all clear gain, for the Liberal Government took pains to keep the Northwest land for the people. There is no doubt that in the boundless West there is room and there is work for both these lines, as well as the line Mackenzie and Mann are constructing. Their construction and concurrent operation, will emphasize the eastern transporation problem. Their influence in promoting settlement, and the consequent production of wheat, and the increased capacity they also represent of bringing the western crops to Fort William, will necessitate the provision of further transportation facilities from that port to the seaboard. Under these circumstances the completion of the Trent Valley Canal takes on a more urgent aspect. The Government has, by its railway policy, made possible an almost infinite increase in the production of wheat, and, at the same time, the provision of only one more eastern line to meet the resultant transportation demands. As a complement to the railway enterprise, the Trent Valley Canal demands immediate consideration. The hopper has been enlarged a hundredfold, while the spout has, only, one might say, been enlarged ten-fold.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Attorney General Cross, of Alberta is now the whole tip. He used to play la crosse now is the Cross himself.

Its all up with Joe Chamberlain's trade policy. Sir Charles Tupper has hoodooed it with a prophecy of its ultimate triumph.

It is said that a hundred stokers deserted from the British squadron at Quebec. One can't blame them for wanting to stay in Canada.

Premier Whitney pressed the button to start the Toronto Fair. He also, remarks the Canadian Freeman, pressed the button to start a large number of Liberal office-holders on the run.

Now that he has fixed up a peace between Sweden and Norway, the Toronto Star thinks, there is a general opinion in Europe that King Edward belongs to the olive branch of the House of Hanover.

A BRACE OF NOISELESS NATIONAL BUILDERS

Mr. William Mackenzie, of the firm of Mackenzie & Mann, proprietors of the Canadian Northern Railway, and many other large things, is quoted as saying:

"We just go on quietly building railways, and are saying very little about it. We are now working on the last section of our line to Edmonton, and we hope to run a train into that town some time about the end of October or the beginning of November."

This is in reference to the building work which the Canadian Northern has been doing on its way to Edmonton and the preparation for its work from Edmonton farther west.

The words are characteristic of Mr. Mackenzie. He and his partner, both big men in the scheme of Canadian affairs, have a record for doing things and not saying much about them. They get charters without end. They float the several financial projects thereunto attached. But then they don't stop. They are builders by temperament. Both of them know by hard, practical and personal experience what building means, and even yet, when both might stand aside and look at others working, they prefer to do the work themselves.

They are both Canadians, both natives of Ontario, both "started" at the beginning, both rose pretty near the Canadian top, and their success is due entirely to foresight, practical ability, and the hardest kind of hard work.

The news of the speed of their construction in the Northwest surprises no one who has watched their work for the past half dozen years. They always build when they get the chance to do so and it is easy to imagine that they are determined to have their western business pretty well established some years before the Grand Trunk Pacific can possibly tap the newer west.

Now comes the rumour that Mr. Mackenzie is to be knighted for his services as a builder. He would probably be the last man personally to seek that form of distinction, but he would confer greater honour on the Order of St. Michael and St. George than some of the present wearers of the ribbon could ever compass.

PROVINCIAL DEVELOPMENT OF THIS GREAT DOMINION

By an act passed last Session of the Dominion Parliament the new provinces were created out of the four territories of Assiniboia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Athubasca. Their combined area, land only, is 536,806 square miles, and water, 13,639 square miles. At Confederation, in 1867, the Dominion had 611,345 square miles of land. Manitoba with 64,327 was added in 1870, British Columbia with 370,191 in 1841, Prince Edward Island with 2,184 in 1873, the Keewatin District with 484,997 in 1876, the 4 districts just made into two provinces with 536,806, in 1884, the Yukon with 196,327 in 1898, and Mackenzie, Ungava and Franklin in 1895 with 1,-331,743 square miles. The total land area of Canada is now 3,619,819 square miles, or nearly seven times what it contained at Confederation. Newfoundland is now needed to complete the unity of British Colonies on this side the Atlantic, north of the West Indies.

It seems very doubtful if the new provinces in the Northwest are ready for self-government. They do not appear to know that they are "outraged" by the Dominion Government till some of the political journalistic wiseacres tell them so. Even then they show a callous stolidity in reference to the outrages they are told they are suffering from.

The Montreal Witness says that some of the trades which are making imperative demands for higher wages will apparently have presently to deal with the problem of their very existence. It asserts that the general use of concrete for building purposes will make such changes in the building trades that stonemasons, bricklayers and carpenters will have to practically learn new trades. The use of steel in most large buildings is doing away with a great deal of carpenter work.

Toronto's Claims Commission paid out in damages last year $9,695.15, causes for the claims being as follows: Slippery sidewalks, $795. Defective sidewalks, $5,343.20. Defective roadways, $1,438.56. Flooded cellars, $315.75. Sundry damages, $1,585.89. Expense, $216.75. That is a total of nearly ten thousand has been paid in fines by the rulers of Toronto, for leaving undone those things which they ought to have done. It is safe to say that a judicious expenditure of $5,000 would have made the repairs, whose neglect led to these claims.

The lot of the "Man with Hoe" may be hard, but that of the man with the shovel, says Chicago Canadian-American, has its alleviations. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was in Fort William, Ont., on Saturday last, and he turned the first sod of the Lake Superior section of the Grand Trunk Pacific with a golden shovel. We should like to know the size of that sod, and whether he keeps this tool house locked up after his day's work. Talk about the good times in Canada! Things must be fairly booming. If the Grand Trunk Pacific can furnish tools like that it will need two or three alien labour laws to keep Americans from rushing over to work on the line.

IN WISE AGEEMENT.

Sir Charles Euan-Smith, K.C.B., formerly the British minister resident in Colombia and Morocco, who has seen much active service as a colonel in the Indian army, and served all through the Abyssinian war under Lord Roberts, has been giving a New York reporter his opinions of the alliance between Great Britain and Japan. Sir Charles is in New York and tells the New York reporter that this alliance may ultimately result in a triple alliance between Great Britain and the United States and Japan.

Such an alliance, he said, would be absolutely impregnable, even against the united powers of the rest of the world.

Probably it would, but for the present Sir Charles confines himself to the existing alliance. He describes it as vitally essential to Japan that Britain should not be driven from the Far East or even seriously weakened in respect to her influence in Far Eastern affairs. He proceeds to the rather startling hypothesis that "a hostile Japan, or even a coldly neutral Japan, would render England's position in India precarious, and weaken her influence in China and elsewhere in the Far East." On the other hand he advances a proposition that most of us will accept with more readiness, namely, that "a hostile England, or even a coldly neutral England, would, in turn, mean for Japan the extremest danger from Russia, the result of which might be, who knows, the loss of the fruits of her victory just torn from the Muscovite.

Evidence of this kind accumulates wherever thinking Britishers are found. And it is to be assumed that some such considerations govern the deliberations and decisions of the British Foreign Office in respect of the series of treaties or understandings by which it is binding Great Britain in substantial agreement with most of the great powers.

FALSE THEORIES

Lead to Worthless or Harmful Remedies.

Stimulating the scalp may allay the itching of the dandruff, but that does not cure the scalp. The disease won't yield to quinine or capsicum nor alcohol, because it is caused by a germ or parasite. To cure dandruff the germ must be destroyed. Until recently there was no hair preparation, or dandruff cure, or hair restorer on the market that would kill that insidious germ that dries up the scalp in little scales called dandruff, and absorbs the vitality of the hair, causing falling hair, and finally baldness. Newbro's Herpicide is the only really scientific preparation to cure dandruff, prevent falling hair and baldness.

Prices Must Grow On the Way In

A rural correspondent says, that in his vicinity the price of cattle, for the Peterborough market, is so low, that farmers, instead of selling them intend keeping them over winter. If this is correct, which there is no reason to doubt, the city butchers must have a little gold mine in the gilt-edge prices they charge for beef that is not always gilt-edged.

Horse Stealing Case at the Police Court

Hector Baker Arrested Last Night, Charged With the Theft.

Animal was Taken While Standing on the Street Yesterday—Case Enlarged Till Friday.

Hector Baker appeared this morning before Magistrate Dumble at the police court on a charge of stealing a horse and buggy, the property of Charles Schreiber, of Smith Township.

Schreiber, it appears, left the horse standing yesterday afternoon about three o'clock in front of Belleghem's undertaking establishment, Hunter street, and after a short absence, returned to find it gone.

The animal was recovered some time later near the corner of Stewart and Hunter streets, while Baker, who is alleged to have driven off with the outfit, was discovered with a bottle of whisky in his possession in a ditch on Stewart street. Cases of this kind have occurred very frequently in the city of late, and the habit of running off with horses left about the streets will, it appears, only be stopped by severe measures of phnishment. The prisoner was remanded until Friday.

St. Andrew's Young Men's Guild Meeting

A Delightful Evening Spent Last Night at Guild Room.

Election of Officers and Routine Business Followed by Pleasant Repast.

The annual business meeting of St. Andrew's Young Men's Guild was held last night in the Guild room, and was most gratifying in point of attendance, over forty Guildsmen being present. The general enthusiasm manifested among the members presages a successful and enjoyable season.

After the routine business had been completed the meeting proceeded with the election of officers, the following being chosen for the respective positions indicated: President, F. E. Kerr; vice-president, F. G. Anderson; rec.-secretary, E. R. Shirley; cor.-secretary, W. A. Richardson; treasurer, W. S. Campbell; councillors, T. Wallace, H. Waram, George Macdonald and George Evans.

After the officers had been duly installed by the past president, Mr. H. H. Edmison, the members adjourned to the banqueting room, where an agreeable change from the mental worries, incidental to the transaction of business, awaited them. This was in the nature of a most sumptuous and inviting repast arranged for through the kindness of the Daughters of Erin. But even at this stage the climax of the evening's pleasure had not yet been reached, for the "feast of reason and the flow of soul" which followed when the charming feast of material good things had been concluded, was undoubtedly one of the most enjoyable features of the evening.

Mr. T. G. Anderson filled, in a most satisfactory manner, the position of toast-master. After "The King" had been honoured in the usual manner, a toast to "Canada" was proposed by Mr. W. G. Campbell in his usual felicitous manner. To Mr. H. H. Edmison fell the pleasant duty of responding, which he did in appropriate terms of patriotism.

Mr. C. E. Anderson proposed "St. Andrew's Athletic Club," the toast being responded to by Mr. Peter Kerr and Mr. G. Dormer.

Mr. Gilbert Scott then contributed a vocal solo, "Scots Wha Hae," with fine interpretation and musicianly feeling, and, needless to say, with accompanying enthusiasm on the part of the Scotch auditors.

"The Ladies" was proposed in an appropriate speech by Mr. L. Thornton. Responses were made by Messrs. Donald Potter and W. A. Richardson, in which the pleasant subject was treated oratorically in a manner worthy of the fair sex.

"The Press" was proposed by Mr. Shirley, and responded to by the representatives present, after which a most enjoyable evening was brought to a fitting conclusion by the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

He will be in Peterborough on Nov. 19th, and will perform the rite of confirmation at St. Luke's and St. Mark's Otonabee, instead of on Oct. 16th as previously arranged.

Treasurer—Dr. Wightman.

Executive Committee —A. P. McLean, J. H. Conrad, M. Rosenburg, Graham Ferguson, A. Laing, H. Dodds and Ross Cameron.

It was announced that the membership of the Guild was about 70 and the average attendance at the meetings during the past year over 40.

Guild's Organ.

Rev. W. M. Mackay brought up the matter of issuing a small monthly paper, under the direction of the Guild in which news and items of interest to St. Paul's church people would be published. The question was referred to the executive to report on.

The newly elected president, Mr. McWilliams and the other officers, assumed their stations and it is expected the meetings this year will be of unusual interest. The proceedings will likely take the shape of a mock parliament and some interesting debates may be looked forward to.

The executive met at the close and considered the steps which will be taken with this end in view.

Nearly a dozen new members joined last night and, under the direction of the new officers, backed up by the assistance and co-operation of the old ones, who worked last year faithfully and energetically, the Guild will likely make its influence felt among the young men of St. Paul's church.

Mr. R. H. Scott is Still Champion

The answer to Mr. Scott's challenge in reference to the record for threshing in yesterday's Examiner, was, it appears, hardly fair to Mr. Scott. Instead of his record being 911 bushels per hour, as recorded, it was at the rate of 226 1-2 bushels, which is about 100 bushels per hour more than the second performance.

It is pointed out to the Examiner also that Mr. Scott's performance was for 13 hours, while the second was only while 700 bushels were threshed.

Half Century Resident Dead

Last night a man who has been a resident of Peterborough for well on to half a century passed away to the great beyond. The deceased, Mr. Michael McMahon, came to Canada from Ireland, his birthplace, in his youth, and has lived here ever since. He was 69 years of age at the time of his death, and had been ill for about eight months, suffering from cancer, his death occurring at his residence, 19 Lake street, where he lived with his sister, Miss Bridget McMahon, who with another sister, Mrs. Hargraves, of Lindsay, survives him.

The funeral will take place on Thursday morning at nine o'clock, from his late residence, to St. Peter's Cathedral, and the Roman Catholic cemetery, for interment.

The Question of Baldness

This is a vital question with hundreds of men who are bald or partially so. How to overcome the disfigurement lent by baldness is a simple matter when you consider the perfection of modern art in the making of Wigs and Toupees. The visit of Prof. Dorenwend of Toronto, to Peterborough, on Tuesday, September 26, when he will be at the Oriental Hotel renders it possible for anyone who may wish to consult him, to do so at his private apartments retained at the Oriental Hotel for this purpose. Demonstration given to show the perfect naturalness of his Wigs and Toupees. Do not miss this opportunity. Remember the day and date. 5d

TELEPHONE TALKS.

TO TELEPHONE USERS AND THE GENERAL PUBLIC,—

Though the rapid growth of the telephone business is one of the marvels of this generation, yet it is apparent to those who have considered the matter, that the record of the past twenty-five years will be exceeded even in the next decade.

An expert witness stated before the Special Committee that from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 per annum would be required for years to come, in Great Britain alone, to meet the demand for telephone service.

Another expert stated that the investment in farmers' lines alone, in the States of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, represented a capital of upwards of $50,000,000.

In Canada, the number of telephone subscribers has doubled in five years, and the long distance line mileage has increased in the same proportion.

The capital investment has likewise been doubled, emphasizing the fact that a telephone company, to maintain its existence, must have a continuous increase of capital.

The greatest of all telephone problems is the extension of the service to farmers. An expert witness declared before the Special Committee that the financial obligations in providing a farmers' telephone service in Canada, were greater even than the Dominion Government could safely undertake. His advice was that the farmers should unite with the Company in providing telephone service for themselves, upon the co-operative plan, thus securing service at the lowest possible expense, while securing the advantages of both local and long distance connections.

This recommendation is the result of experience, and the advantages it contains are offered by The Bell Telephone Company of Canada to those who wish to avail themselves of it.

Good Casters ON Ives' Brass Beds

The caster on a metal or brass bed is important. An imperfect caster is liable to injure carpets or rugs while on polished floors it always leaves marks.

Ives' Brass Beds have a double wheel ball bearing caster. The double wheel divides the weight and its wide face does not mark the floor, while it turns so easily to the motion of the bed that it never injures carpets.

It is attention to important small things that makes Ives' beds the finest in America.

Ask to see an Ives Brass Bed and examine it closely.

Monte Wilson Is Confident

Monte Wilson, of Garden Hill, who will meet Captain Duncan C. Ross, in a matched wrestling bout at the Brock street rink on Tuesday evening next was in the city last night completing the arrangements for the event.

Mr. Wilson, who was accompanied by Mr. Elliott, expresses confidence in his ability to win and incidentally carry off the $100 purse. He states that he has not been in regular training for some time, but is, however, in good condition. Mr. Wilson is not a professional athlete, but has a wonderfully well developed physique and considerable knowledge of the fine points of the wrestling game, and may be expected to put up a first-class exhibition. His last wrestling bout was with Doyle, in Peterborough, about five years ago.

Soo Hockey Club Had a Deficit

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Sept. 19.—The Canadian Soo Hockey Club, of the International Professional League, has held its second annual meeting, and begun active preparations for the coming playing season.

The officers elected were: — George A. Boyd, president; George S. Cowie, secretary, and J. C. Boyd, treasurer.

An Executive Committee was appointed, to consist of C. A. McKinnon, J. P. Mooney, C. S. Butterfield, W. McNally and R. D. Gillespie.

The financial statement, as presented by Treasurer J. C. Boyd, showed a deficit from last season of $191. Taking all the circumstances into consideration such a statement is considered as highly satisfactory, and encourages the club with the prospects of being able to put a winning team on the ice without the expense incurred in getting the men, as was made necessary last year, and with the improved conditions of the town to go ahead with the work of organization.

The experiences of last year impressed upon the various clubs the advisability of living up to the agreement as regards the salary limit, and it will be rigidly enforced this coming season.

Clubs will not bid for players who have been under contract with other teams, and those looking for men with which to strengthen their teams will go outside the league ranks.

The local club is now getting its material for the coming season into line, and is in negotiation with several first-class men.

Of course, nothing definite as to their identity will be given out until they are signed, but the public is assured that they will be of the highest class.

Senior Team For Belleville

Belleville, Sept. 19.—(Special)—This city will have a team in the O.H.A. senior league. That decision was arrived at last night at an enthusiastic meeting held in Hotel Quinte. Several of the noted players of two years ago, when Belleville were runners up with Marlboros, are expected to be secured. Following officers were elected:—Hon. President, H. Corby, ex-M. P.; First Hon. Vice-President, Mr. Thos. Ritchie; Second Hon. Vice-President, Mr. J. V. Jenkins; President, Mr. H. O. Beattie; First Vice-President, Mayor Sullivan; Second Vice-President, Mr. A. Vandervoort; Third Vice-President, Mr. B. Carr; Secretary, Mr. P. Allen; Treasurer, Mr. F. G. Williamson.

BASEBALL.

All arrangements hve been made for the championship game of the Midland League and Cobourg and Peterborough will settle it here on Saturday. Both towns will run excursions and a monster crowd is expected. The game will commence at 3.30 o'clock sharp. Mr. J. M. Rosevear will umpire.—Port Hope Guide.

RUGBY

At the request of Peterborough and St. Michael's College, the Toronto intermediate district will be divided. The teams are Peterborough, St. Michael's, Argonauts, and Marlboros.

A good Rugby practice was held last night at the Riverside grounds. Among those out were Gillespie, Ross Craig, Walkey, "Doc" Shaw, Moore, Sullivan, Carmichael, Hook and a number of new players, who are working out well for novices at the game, and give great promise of development later in the season.

From the above it would appear that their success of the other day was an accident. Evidently they got a dose of their own drastic medicine. They want the saw-off on Thursday at 3.45 p.m.

The following game was played last night:—

The first game of the return match between Bachelors and Benedicts was played last night; as the remainder of the match is being played this evening the full score will be given to-morrow.

The Benign Banana and Its Influence

A Valuable Food at Time of Typhoid Fever.

Its Almost Total Digestion Constitutes Its Value.

Professors of dietetics tell us that the banana is not, as so many fruits are, a flavour and nothing more, but a food and a source of real nutriment. It is at once useful and delicious. It not only gratifies the palate, but supplies material for combustion and the maintenance of animal heat, while it also builds up the muscles and repairs the worn and threadbare nerves. The flour made from it in the dry state is equal in nutritive value to rice, and how invigorating and sustaining rice is has been demonstrated in the recent achievements of the Japanese. Dried and sprinkled with sugar, a form in which it has been recently introduced into this country, the upstart banana is weight for weight, as nutritious as the venerable fig.

But it is in the fresh state, clad in its primrose tunic—the stripping off of which is in itself a fascinating operation—that the banana chiefly appeals to us. Its creamy succulence and delicate odour are inviting, and its pleasant savour is a prelude to good digestion. Dependent as that sapor is on an ethereal body which the coal tar investigators have not yet been able to imitate by any chemical essence, it is a subtle stimulus to all subsequent alimentary processes. And thus it is that the banana is an eminently digestible food; no sense of oppression or drowsiness follows on a meal of it, and a meal of it may be bulky enough.

I have seen a West Indian negro consume twenty stalwart bananas at a sitting, and thereafter display unwonted vivacity. It seems to be mainly absorbed by the stomach, and this fact, together with the small amount of waste matter it contains—95 per cent. of its substance possessing nutritive value—has led a number of American physicians—Dr. Usury, of St. Louis, being prominent among them—to recommend it as a food in typhoid fever. Its employment under such circumstances, it is said, insures through the stomach an adequate supply of bland nourishment, without imposing any strain on the attenuated and abraded alimentary canal. In other diseases, and in certain dyspeptic disorders, a banana cure, like the grape cure, may prove profitable, and it seems just possible that this mild and gentle fruit may become a powerful auxiliary to our temperance reformers. It mixes badly with alcohol in any form, and becomes indigestible when taken with spirits, and it is alleged that the habitual use of it diminishes the drink craving where it exists. This remains to be tested by experiment, but Captain Parsons of the Port Kingston, of the direct Imperial Line, assured me that since the men on his ship—seamen and stokers—had been allowed to partake at discretion of the bananas which always form a considerable part of the cargo, the consumption of alcoholic beverages had been greatly reduced.

Perhaps some of the salutary effects of the banana may be due to the trace of copper it contains. A little iron is essential to the blood and a little copper may subserve some useful purpose in the human economy. It subserves a highly ornamental purpose in the case of some of the birds. The brilliant red of the wing feathers of the turacos is due to a colouring matter containing copper derived from the banana, or its twin brother the plaintain, on which these birds exclusively feed. The banana cannot be recommended as a cosmetic. The coloured races who have hitherto been chiefly addicted to it have no complexion to speak of, and the scarlet pigment in the wings of the turacos being soluble in water, is apt to be washed out by a shower, but perhaps by its wholesomeness as a food it may contribute to cutaneous clarity.

The banana is not what is called an acquired taste. An appreciation of it is not reached through slow stages of diminishing repulsion, but comes at the moment of first introduction. It is acceptable at all ages. The infant absorbs it greedily; children devour it with delight, the adult does not despise it, and the edentulous octogenarian blesses its agreeable tenderness. And fortunately the appreciation of its merits is spreading rapidly. Not so long ago it was a delicacy in the compote of the rich man. To-day it is to be seen on the huckster's barrow in all our large towns, and it is to be hoped that the supply of this most wholesome and delectable food will increase rapidly while the price of it diminishes so that an ample supply of it may be brought within the reach of all.

Thanks to the establishment of a direct line of steamers, bananas are now being brought from Jamaica in prime condition—bananas, too, of unsurpassed excellence. The people of this country, having been accustomed to the smaller banana brought from the Canaries and Madeira, were at first prejudiced against the larger fruit of the West Indies. But, having eaten bananas both in Madeira and Jamaica, I can testify that those grown in the latter island are, as regards sweetness, flavour and keeping qualities, on a par with the finest the former can produce, and, as they are larger, they are cheaper as a food. Nothing can be more delicious than the Martinique banana—that is the banana grown in Jamaica—in its native home, and now by the care bestowed on it during transit, when the temperature around it is regulated from hour to hour, it can be distributed in this country while at its best.

The Americans have learned the merits of Jamaica bananas. Before the hurricane of August, 1903, no fewer than twenty-one boats a week left Jamaica for the United States laden with bananas, and, notwithstanding the devastation then wrought, the export to the United States is now larger than ever.

But Jamaica is capable of meeting all our requirements, as well as those of America, and it ought to encourage us in the use of her bananas to remember that the development of her fruit trade will be of great benefit to this long suffering and much suffering colony. Brighter days are dawning on that highly sacchurine island, and her prosperity will be hastened and heightened if the people of this country will only do justice to her bananas.

I have said that as food nothing can be better than the Martinique banana, but of other varieties are desired she will not be slow to furnish them. We have fancy biscuits, as well as bread, and if the Martinique banana be thought too solid and substantial for the dessert table, there is the smaller Chinese banana, or the pretty little Almeido, with its fingers only three inches long, making a dainty and decorative dish. Experiments are being carried on by Mr. Fanwett, at the Hope Botanical Gardens, with other varieties, so one of these days we may have fruits superior to any which we now possess.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Gladstone, Man., Sept. 20.—P. Pockett of Glenella was killed while helping to unload a ponderous Waterous engine at that station Monday afternoon.

The engine had been taken off the car on the loading platform. Steam was up and the unfortunate man, pulling the wrong lever, backed the engine over the side of the platform, pinning his body under the ponderous drive wheels of the ten-ton engine, causing instant death.

All that was visible was the man's head, his body being driven into the earth.

TWO WORKMEN KILLED.

Accident at a Church Building at St. Cunnegonde, Que.

Montreal, Sept. 20.—Two employes of the Dominion Bridge Co. were killed and one fatally injured by the giving way of a scaffold at the new Roman Catholic Church at St. Cunnegonde yesterday afternoon.

The men were engaged in placing an iron girder in the dome of the building when the accident occurred. A mass of timbers and iron girders collapsed and the men were hurled to the ground, a distance of 100 feet.

Charles Otis was killed instantly and Ulric Barette died a few minutes after being extricated from the debris. Haleric Fournier struck a guy rope in the descent, which partially broke the fall. When taken to the hospital he was found to be suffering from a fractured skull and cannot recover.

The men were about to bolt together a heavy iron beam weighing a ton, when it sagged in the centre, displacing the ends, and the whole thing collapsed.

Several workmen who were underneath the dome had a narrow escape from death.

BOOZE OR MEDICINE?

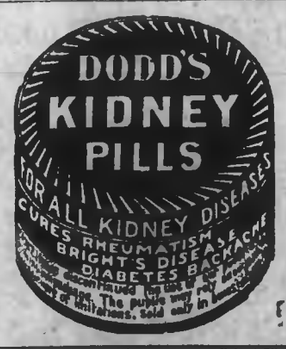
Which will you have? If a woman suffering from one of the delicate ailments peculiar to your sex it will be well for you to know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only remedy advertised for such maladies which is absolutely free from intoxicating liquors and all other harmful agents. The good you feel from its use is not the delusive exhileration from a tippling beverage, from which the system reacts into a worse condition than before. It may be a little slower in manifesting its bracing and invigorating action, but its benefits are none the less positive and, best of all, they are lasting. It's an honest medicine—not a beverage.

"I have been taking your medicine for the last three weeks and can say I am gaining strength," writes Mrs. Kenneth Kinny, of 28 East Madison Street, Mount Pleasant, Iowa. "I have been having very poor health all winter. I doctored with our family doctor but was relieved only while taking the medicine. I took Dr. Pierce's medicine several years ago. I knew it was good for any one suffering with female trouble. Have taken only one bottle and am gaining strength very fast. I could not eat nor sleep when I began taking the 'Favorite Prescription.' Heart troubled me and I had cold and numb spells till my heart would almost stop beating. Have had one child since first taking your medicine. If I continue with your treatment am positive I will be cured."

Every suffering woman in this land should write to Dr. Pierce and learn how certainly he can help her to health and strength. It costs nothing to write and receive entirely free the advice of one of the most experienced physicians in this country. His great thousand-page book the Common Sense Medical Adviser, in stiff paper covers, will be sent free for 21 one-cent stamps the bare cost of mailing; or, send 50 stamps for cloth bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

These ORIGINAL Little Liver Pellets, first put up by old Dr. R. V. Pierce over 40 years ago, have been much imitated but never equaled. They're made of purely vegetable, concentrated and refined medicinal principles, extracted from native American roots and plants. They speedily relieve and cure foul, torpid and deranged Stomach, Livers and Bowels and their attendant distressful ailments. One or two a laxative, three or four a cathartic.

Don't allow the dealer to insult your intelligence by offering his own remedy to you instead of this well-known preparation of Dr. Pierce.



Steamer Was Towed for Three Days

Big North German Lloyd Steamer, the Bremen, Disabled.

SHE BROKE HER PORT SHAFT

Engine Room Crew Worked Like Heroes But In Vain For 24 Hours, When Steamer Lucinger, One-Third Her Size, Took Her In Tow — Had 300 Passengers on Board—Sister Ship to Take Passengers.

Halifax, Sept. 20.—The big North German Lloyd steamer Bremen was towed in yesterday by the oil tank steamer Lucingen.

The Bremen, which is a steamer of 12,000 tons, had 300 passengers on board. She has been under tow since Saturday, through the breaking of her port shaft early Friday morning. As soon as the break occurred, the broken section slipped backward, and in some way, at present unknown, fouled the starboard propeller.

For 24 hours the engine room staff worked like heroes, but in vain. It was then decided to ask for a tow, and the Lucingen, from Shields to Philadelphia, sighted the disabled greyhound a few hours later and took her in tow.

It took five hours to get a hawser ready, and four hours to ship it. Then, to make matters worse, one section of a 12-inch manila rope parted when the strain was put on, and the work had to be done over.

At 5 o'clock the tow started, but the Lucingen, which is but a third of the size of the Bremen, could not do better than four knots, and they did not get in until yesterday afternoon. The distance the tow came was 250 miles.

A steamer of the same line will be ordered from Baltimore to take the passengers, but it has not yet been decided whether the vessel will repair here or in New York.

The question of salvage will be settled in England.

Peterboro' Boy's Success Noted

Some further information in reference to the removal of Mr. A. S. Laing, a son of Mr. Robt. Laing, Water street, from St. Catharines to Montreal, is given in the following paragraph from the St. Catharines Star:—

"It will be with sincerest regret that a wide circle of friends in St. Catharines will learn of the intended departure of Mr. A. S. Laing of the Collegiate Institute staff. Mr. Laing has tendered his resignation and leaves about October 1st to accept a responsible position in the employ of a large Montreal firm. Mr. Laing has been a resident of the city and a member of the teaching staff of the institute for the last six years, and during that time he has won a warm place in the hearts of the citizens of St. Catharines. As a teacher he has established a most enviable reputation, and it is only natural that his services should be sought in a wider field of labour. While his departure will be deeply regretted his numerous friends will wish him every success in his new sphere."

"Not-Outs" Gave Charming Dance Last Evening

Successful Event Held at Foresters' Hall, Simcoe Street.

About Sixty Were in Attendance—Delightful Music Supplied by Mr. Musgrove.

The "Not-Outs'" dance, given last night at the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street, was in every respect a most delightful function, and was thoroughly enjoyed by the crowd of about sixty who were present.

The music, which was of a charming nature, was furnished by Mr. Musgrove, of Toronto. Delicate and recherche refreshments were served by the charming young hostesses, whose efforts in instituting the affair were carried out to a gratifying conclusion in every particular.

The patronesses of the dance were Mesdames J. R. Stratton, A. H. Stratton, R. R. Hall, M.P., R. S. Davidson and Peter Campbell, who received in a charming manner.

The committee of young ladies who so successfully managed the pleasing event, were Misses Vieva Hunter, Alta Bradd and Helen Davidson.

Very Pretty Smith Township Wedding

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tedford, Smith Township, was the scene of a very pretty house wedding on the evening of the 20th of September, 1905, when their daughter, Mary, was united in marriage to Mr. James Wilson, of Lakehurst. The nuptial knot was tied by the Rev. R. Macknight, B.A., beneath a tastefully decorated arch constructed in the beautiful grounds, while the large company of guests stood or sat in a semi-circular group in front of the house.

In the regrettable illness of the bride's father, she was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. Wm. Hawes. She looked charming in her dream silk gown trimmed with chiffon and lace, and bore a shower bouquet of white asters. Her travelling dress was of navy blue Panama cloth, with silk waist to match and her black picture hat was trimmed with cream plumes. The bridesmaid, Miss Mabel Deck, of Deers, wore a gown of cream eolienne over silk, with lace trimmings, and bore a shower bouquet of pink asters. The maid of honour was the bride's neice, May Hewis, of Cameron, who was dressed in pink silk trimmed with lace, and a pearl necklace, and bore a basket of asters.

The list of useful and valuable presents was large and varied. The bridegroom's present to the bride was a gold watch, and to the bridesmaid a bracelet. The groomsman was Mr. John Tedford. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are to reside in Harvey Township.

BRIDE WAS A PETERBORO' LADY

Miss Margaret Hopkins Married to Mr I. J. Ardagh.

Yesterday at the Sherbourne street Methodist church, Toronto, a wedding was performed, which will be of interest to many Peterborough people. The bride was Miss Margaret Hopkins, daughter of the late W. J. Hopkins, of this city, and niece of Hon. Senator Cox, and the groom was Mr. Irvine J. Ardagh, son of Mr. Arthur Ardagh.

The wedding was a quiet one. The many friends in this city of the bride, will join with her Toronto friends in wishing her much happiness.

To-night at St. Marks.

—To-night the annual harvest festival in connection with St. Mark's church, Otonabee, will be held. The usual tea will be served, and afterwards a concert, in which Messrs. Wesley, J. and W. Turner, and Miss Mary Rush, of this city, and Miss Wilson and the Wilson Orchestra, of Otonabee, will take part. Rev. J. G. Rother will be present and deliver an address.

Mr. McWilliams Not Out For Mayoralty

Yesterday there was a rumour current on the street to the effect that Mr. R. F. McWilliams would be a candidate for the mayoralty at the next municipal elections. Mr. McWilliams was seen in reference to the matter and stated that while it was pretty hard at this early date to tell what would transpire between now and January, he was not now of the opinion that he would be a candidate for the position of chief administrator of the city in 1906. His might ask the electors to place him in the Council again, as they had done in the past, since he had an inclination towards municipal affairs, but at present his intention was not to run for Mayor. He felt that since it had been the custom for years to give each mayor a second term in office, he thought that the above custom should be continued in the case of Mayor Best, who had for years been a member of the Council, and he did not think that he would feel like opposing him.

TWO YOUNG LADIES WERE SHOT AT ON PARK STREET LAST NIGHT

A Most Serious State of Affairs—Two Men, Who Evidently Make it a Practice of Frightening Girls, Stopped and Shot at Two Young Ladies Last Night—Revolver Pointed at Them and Discharged—Terrified Girls Fled to Nearest House Where They Told Their Story—Could Identify the Men.

The discharge of firearms in the hands of persons with malicious intent, is by no means confined to Dummer, for in the metropolitan city of Peterborough these things are becoming of too frequent occurrence.

Last night, as related to the Examiner, about eight o'clock two young ladies ,one residing on Park street, near Hunter, and the other on Reid street, near Murray, were deliberately stopped on Park street, near the corner of Gilmour, and a revolver discharged in their faces, by two men, one of whom is described as an elderly man dressed in a dark suit and light felt hat, and the other a young man, also dressed in dark clothes and wearing a peak cap.

The two young ladies both of whom are well-known and highly respectable, but who do not wish their names published were out for a walk together and at 8 o'clock were at the corner of Charlotte and Park, having gone down Park to the corner where they turned and were on their way home. When they reached the residence of Mr. E. Gibbs, at the corner of Park and Gilmour streets they saw two men leaning against the fence. They were somewhat frightened at the sudden appearance of the men, and were hurrying past when the ruffians came out to the sidewalk, and one of them the younger, placed the revolver close to the face of one of the young ladies and discharged it. This was evidently done to frighten them, for the men did not say anything. Of course, the girls were terrified, and ran screaming from the spot followed by the men, who, however, stopped when one of them turned into a residence near by to seek protection.

When they reached the house they were almost in a state of nervous collapse, and it was with difficulty that they were able to tell their story. However, after they had stayed there in a short time they lated the terrifying experience through which they had passed, and the police were telephoned to and the occurrence reported to them.

The girls were later escorted to their respective homes, though they were still in a very nervous state through the shock which they had received, and it was some hours before they were quieted.

This morning, when one of them was seen by the Examiner, she was considerably excited over the experience through which she had passed, but was able to give a vivid recital of the affair.

She is certain that she would be able to identify both of the men should she see them again, and it is to be sincerely hoped for the good name of the town that the guilty persons will be discovered and punished as the crime deserves.

It would appear that these same two men have played similar tricks before, for one of the ladies who was molested last night, the one who resides on Park street, states that on last Friday night she and her sister, younger than herself, were walking down Park street, when they saw these same two men between Hunter and Weller streets, and as the girls passed them, one man remarked to the other, "Well, we frightened them all right." At this time they were considerably disturbed but the men did not molest them. The younger sister stated that she had been frightened by these same two men at Jackson Park and that they had frightened the children who frequented that resort.

The matter is one which is deserving of, and will doubtless receive the prompt and close attention of the police department, and if the men are discovered and identified, as it is to be hoped that they will be, their cases should be severely dealt with.

It is getting to be a serious matter that two young ladies cannot feel safe to pass on the streets at 8 o'clock at night, and especially on a street as much frequented as Park street, without being molested in this manner.

County Orange Lodge Meeting

A County Orange meeting was held last night at the Orange Hall, Simcoe street, at which there was a large attendance of representatives from the Lodges of the County.

The Chair was occupied by County Master Stewart, of Lakefield. Considerable business of a routine nature was transacted.

Half Century Resident Has Passed Away

Mrs. John S. Wells Died To-day at Age of 82 Years.

Deceased Was a Highly Respected Lady—Born in Ireland.

This morning the death occurred at the advanced age of 82 years, at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Duncan Cameron, George street, of Mrs. John S. Wells, after a lingering illness, her death being due to the infirmities of advanced years. The deceased was the widow of the late John S. Wells, who predeceased her about five years ago. The late Mrs. Wells, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Livingstone, was born in County Mayo, Ireland, coming to Canada in her youth, and had resided in the town for about half a century. There are left to survive her, two sons and five daughters, the former being Messrs. John and William Wells, of Winnipeg, and the latter Mrs. Andrew Macfarlan and Mrs. Duncan Cameron, of this city; Mrs. Jas. Meek, of Port Arthur; Mrs. J. T. Emmerson, also of Port Arthur, and Mrs. Connors, of Los Angeles, Cal. Mrs. Macmillan has been in Fort William visiting her daughter, and was sent for last week. She has returned, accompanied by Mrs. Meek, who will remain over for the funeral, the date of which has not yet been decided upon.

Local Clergy Go to Hastings

Rev. Father McColl, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, of Enniskare, and Rev. Father Phelan of Young's Point, went to Hastings to-day to attend the re-opening of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, which has been undergoing extensive alterations and improvements.

The alterations include re-painting and the installation of a new altar.

Special Train For Port Hope

The Baseball Club has completed arrangements with the G. T. R. for a special excursion to Port Hope on Saturday, in connection with the final game for the Midland League championship. The special train train will leave here at 1.30 pm., and returning, will leave Port Hope at 7.30, the fare being 30 cents for the round trip. This is an exceedingly low rate and the club is depending on the patronage of its friends to help it out by attending the game and by going on the special train.

Police Protection Is Needed in East City

A gentleman connected with the construction of the sidewalks in the city ,is not of the same opinion as the East City Aldermen, in reference to the statement that there is ample police protection in that part of the city. They have recently been laying new sidewalks on Stanley and he stated that in no part were they molested to a more annoying degree. He said that in places where the concrete was still wet and pliable, and covered with canvas over night, it would be deliberately trampled on and the size of the foot prints indicated that the offenders were men, not boys. In another place during the night, the letters giving the name of the street printed on the walk, were completely scratched out, leaving only a hole in the walk where the letters were.

In view of this condition of things the impression seems to prevail that there should be a more thorough police patrol of the city, and the evidence seems to point to the fact that there are some depredations being committed of which the police should be cognizant.

Rally Day at Park Street

On Sunday the Park street Baptist Sunday school, will, in connection with the Rally Day services, present a good programme, which will be participated in by the whole school. The pastor will open the session, and, after singing by the school, and a responsive reading, the assistant superintendent, Mr. T. G. Gillespie, will offer prayer. Mr. Gillespie will also gave an address of welcome, and afterwards the Primary Department will take part, first giving a chorus, followed by a statement from the superintendent of the department. Deacon Haddow will give a three minute address on "Rally Day—a Good Start." A duet will be given by Misses Jewett and Gillespie, and the pastor, Rev. A. H. Brace, will give an address on "Five Things I would like to See in the School."

The event promises to be decidedly interesting and it is expected that there will be a large attendance.

Mr. W. S. Maguire Physical Director

Members of the Y.M.C.A. will learn with much pleasure that the Association has been successful in securing the services of Mr. W. S. Maguire of Peterborough, as physical instructor for the season. Mr. Maguire was in charge of this department two years ago, and in addition to being a clever instructor he was a general favourite with the boys. He has since that time completed a year's special work under Mr. Crocker, of the Central Y.M.C.A., Toronto, and his work this year will prove of great benefit to all taking part.—Port Hope Guide.

Three persons are dying, it is believed, and more than a score were seriously injured when the tents of the Ringling Brothers' circus were blown down yesterday afternoon in the midst of a performance. At Maryville, Mo., five thousand persons were gathered in the main tent when the storm broke. Panic followed the collapse of the big tent. Great poles and whole rows of seats came crashing to the ground, bearing spectators—men, women and children—beneath them. Cries of the injured and the shrieks of the terror-stricken mingled with the roar of lions, the trumpeting of elephants, and the cries of rage and terror of other wild animals.

Free meals and free medical attendance for school children were demanded at a mass meeting attended by the labour delegates to the trade union congress at Hanley, Staffordshire. "If money can be found to build ships and equip military forces surely it can be found to feed hungry children," said Mr. Peter Curran, the labour candidate for Jarrow, who moved the resolution. "If the Government had the real interests of the nation at heart, it would devote more time to this question than to that of imperial warfare." The Countess of Warwick supported the resolution, which Sir John Gorst seconded in a speech condemning the manner in which the nation had disregarded the needs and sufferings of the helpless poor.

R. R. Hall, M.P., Asks Views of Constituents

Wants to Get Their Opinion on Tariff Matters.

Energetic Member for West Peterboro' Endeavoring to Have Tariff Commission to Meet in This City.

The question of the tariff is one in which Peterborough is considerably concerned by reason of the fact that it is essentially a manufacturing city, and therefore any condition of trade which affects manufacturing interests, would naturally be of vital importance to the people of this city, while the great mass of consumers, farmers, etc., represented in this community, are, also interested in the conditions which govern the country's trade.

With this in view the Examiner interviewed Mr. R R. Hall, M.P., the member in the House of Commons for West Peterborough with reference to his position in relation to the tariff question.

That he had already interested himself in the matter was evidenced by the fact that with a view of giving his constituents an opportunity of themselves presenting their views to the Tariff Commission now sitting, he has been doing his utmost to induce the members of the Commission to hold a session in this city. He has not yet received definite advice as to whether the Commission will be able to come to Peterborough but in any event he will see that the views of his constituents are presented to the Commission.

In this connection it may be interesting to recall the fact that Mr. Hall is redeeming his promises made before his election. In his address to the electors prior to his return Mr. Hall said, in reference to this most important question of the tariff:—

In regard to the tariff question, I have decided views. While it is desirable to have as little change as possible, I am in favour of such adjustment of the tariff as circumstances may demand, to the end that the manufacturing operations of the country may receive the benefit of conditions most favourable to their expansion and most profitable operation, and at the same time have due regard to the interests of every class and section of the people, and of every province in this great Dominion. This is particularly of interest to the Town of Peterborough, whose special prominence and fitness as a manufacturing centre it, shall be my earnest endeavour to emphasize in my representative capacity.

How well Mr. Hall is looking after the interests of his constituents in this particular, may be seen from the fact that he has sent out circular letters to the leading manufacturers, and others, asking them to advise him as to whether the tariff in its present form is conducive to the successful prosecution of their particular business, and if not, what changes they would suggest. In this Mr. Hall is anxious to secure information, not only from the manufacturers, but also from the consuming classes — the farmers, the workingmen, and others—and he wants it understood that he is most desirous of learning their views on the tariff, to the end that the most favorable conditions possible may be created for the successful and continued operation of the manufacturing establishments, thereby giving employment to the working men at good wages, and creating a market for the produce of the farmers; in short, placing the entire interests of the country in such a condition that every class will be dealt with in a manner which will tend to the highest success and the prosperity of each. Mr. Hall has also written the president of the Board of Trade, Mr. D. Hughes Charles, asking him to bring the matter to the attention of that body, with a view of obtaining their opinion on the question of the tariff.

That, in this respect, Mr. Hall is entirely in accord with the policy of the Government is evidenced by the budget speech of Mr. Fielding, the Minister of Finance, in which the latter says:

We have to-day practically a maximum and a minimum tariff, if I may so describe it, and then we have the British preference below that again. It would be well that in the revision that may take place we should adopt that principle as it now exists and deal with it more in detail.

I think it would be well for us to have a maximum general tariff and a minimum general tariff, and the British preference below that as we have it to-day. The maximum tariff would only be applied to those countries which pursue, if I may so call it, a hostile policy. I do not mean to say that they have any hostility to us, but simply that in the carrying out of their own affairs they adopt a trade policy which discourages trade with us. In that case, they cannot complain if we have a maximum tariff, and though we should guard against having an extreme tariff, we would be justified in saying that this tariff should be materially higher than the tariff which we are prepared to extend to other countries which are willing to trade with us on fair and reasonable terms.

The minimum general tariff, which would correspond to the general tariff to-day, would apply to such countries as do not legislate commercially in a spirit of hostility to us—perhaps that is not happily expressed; let me say, to countries that adopt more moderate tariff views; low tariff countries. Of course where there are favoured-nation treaties in existence they have to be considered, but the principal nations which to-day adopt a high tariff policy have not any favoured-nation arrangement, and therefore I think our hands will be free in that respect. So, we would have a maximum tariff, as we have the German surtax to-day, to apply to such countries as do not manifest a disposition to trade with us. We should have a minimum general tariff to apply to countries that are disposed to trade with us and then below that we would have the British preferential tariff to apply to the mother country and to such colonies of the empire as it may be expedient to extend the benefit of that tariff to. I think, sir, that on this line, guarding carefully against extortionate duties, but also making a distinction between the countries which wish to trade with us and the countries that do not wish to trade with us, we can devise a tariff which will be in all its details fairly satisfactory to the country.

Recognizing the importance of this question of the tariff, and the necessity for its most careful consideration, Mr. Hall invites his constituents to write him giving him their views on the matter, and whether or not the Commission holds a sitting in Peterborough, he promises them that their representations will be placed before that body, and as in the past, he will endeavour to advocate the policy which will be in the best interests of the people who elected him to represent them.

Prisoner Pleaded Guilty and Paid Costs

Daniel O'Leary "Settled" to the Amount of $25.62 in Watch Case.

Dog Which Created Trouble at Golf Links to be Despatched—County Police Court Held Yesterday.

Two cases were heard yesterday afternoon before Judge Edmison, at the County Police Court.

The first case was that of Peter Moffatt, charged with keeping, and permitting to run at large, a vicious dog.

Moffatt's property adjoins the Peterborough Golf Club links, and the canine, it appears, has been a source of menace to the members, being a constant annoyance to both lady and gentlemen players.

Mr. J. H. Burnham, the complainant, conducted the case for the prosecution.

A number of witnesses who have experienced trouble with the dog, gave evidence in the case. The Magistrate in giving judgment, expressed doubt as to his jurisdiction in dealing with the case. The offence, he believed, was an indictable one. A decision was arrived at, upon the promise of the defendant to remove the dog from the scene of its troubles and anxieties in this vale of tears, or to dispose of it.

Watch Case was Disposed of.

The second case was that of Daniel O'Leary, charged with the theft of a gold watch from Robert Webster in March last, at Norwood.

The first evidence taken was that of the plaintiff, who testified that in the second week of March last, he, with two companions, named Beattie and Quackenbush, of Havelock, had been in Norwood. While at King's hotel in the afternoon the watch was taken. He and Beattie had exchanged coats for the purpose of comparing their respective increase in size and weight, and did not return them till Quackenbush left for home. When changing in the bar Webster removed the watch, placing it upon the bar, which was lined with thirsty customers. At this juncture a friend called him to the door, and he went up-stairs, leaving the time-piece where he had placed it. After an hour's sojourn up-stairs, he returned to find it gone. The complainant suspected O'Leary of having taken the watch, which, before it was returned yesterday, passed through a number of hands. O'Leary, it appears, disposed of it in Peterborough, for half an hour, to Eugene Dawnia, bartender at the Southern Hotel, receiving upon it an advance of $2.50. The prisoner redeemed the watch for the amount advanced him, this being paid by his brother, Jas. O'Leary, of Bridgenorth, who took the watch. Daniel O'Leary left about this time for the lumber camps, and stated that while here he wrote, forwarding the money to James, in order that the watch might be returned to its owner. The remittance, in some way, failed to reach James, and it was not returned. An information was laid by Webster, this resulting in O'Leary's arrest a few days ago.

A settlement was reached between complainant and defendant, the latter withdrawing his plea of "Not guilty," substituting therefor one of "Guilty." While it was not the prisoner's intention to steal the watch, the dealings in the case subsequent to his departure for the lumber camps amounted to theft in the eyes of the law. The prisoner agreed to pay the costs, amounting to $25.62.

A Resolution of Sympathy Was Passed

To Mrs. R. T. Sisson on Death of Her Husband.

Member of Col. Sandersen's L. O. L. No. 321, Otonabee.

At a recent meeting of Col. Sandersen's L.O.L. No. 321, Otonabee, the following resolution was passed, and a copy forwarded to Mrs. R. T. Sisson, of Otonabee, who was lately called upon to mourn the loss of her husband:—

To Mrs. R. T. Sisson, Otonabee.

Dear Madam,—The following resolution was unanimously adopted by Col. Saunderson's No. 321 L.O.L. Otonabee:—

Whereas, the mysterious work of the Divine Power, under which we all exist, has been painfully visited upon you, and

Whereas, you and your family have been called upon to mourn the loss of a loving husband and father —a loss the extent and sadness of which can be realized only by those who have suffered it, and

Whereas, we the members of C. S. L.O.L. No. 321, share a portion of your sorrow over the loss of a beloved brother from our fraternal circle —a brother whose good example and modest counsel we will greatly miss:

Resolved that we hereby extend to you and your bereaved family the deep sympathy we feel over the loss you have sustained. And while we realize that this sympathy may but tend to increase a grief already hard to bear, we may surely direct you and may ourselves hopefully look to the Great Master for a certain relief from all earthly afflictions and sorrow.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Fixing the date of Thanksgiving by the Government seems to have pleased extremists as little as the Autonomy Bills did. The selection of Thursday, October 16, displeases those who would have preferred a Monday so that holydays should come together for recreation purposes. Two holidays, for the basic idea of a thanksgiving day is not a holiday, but a holyday—a day set apart especially for a national thanksgiving for the blessings of the harvest and other national benefits. This is doubtless what influenced the clergy in insisting that a Thursday should be selected. A Monday of devotion following a Sunday of devotion—theoretically at least—would possibly surfeit the spiritual stomach, and result in making the thanksgiving day a purely secular occasion devoted to the pursuit of worldly recreation and amusement. Others would, for some reason, which seems to be occult, desire the thanksgiving to be synchronous with the thanksgiving day of the United States. There is no reason for this. We have much in common with our southern neighbours, but we also have our own national individuality to respect. We imitate the United States in too many bad things, to make it necessary that we should imitate them in the date we think proper to select for a time of national thanksgiving.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Brantford city is to celebrate with elaborate festivities the extension of the main line of the Grand Trunk Railway to that city. We in Peterborough have so long enjoyed the benefits of first-class railway connection that we can hardly sympathize enough with Brantford's enthusiasm, but we know that we should have a day of fasting and humiliation, and sackcloth and ashes if one of our railway lines should be closed. And we should no doubt feel as good and make as much jubilation as the Brantfordites if we could celebrate the completion of the Trent Valley Canal.

There's a chance for several "third" parties in Canada just now. We have the McLean third party, the Joe Martin third party, and there's a promising opening for an Autonomy Bill third party, to be composed of Dr. Sproule and Messrs. Bourassa and Lavergne, of Quebec. Dr. Sproule denounces the Government for having been so liberal in concessions to separate schools, and Messrs. Bourassa and Lavergne have been denouncing the Government for not going far enough. These contradictory attitudes might seem to be unpromising conditions for a third party, but both are "again the Government," which is the chief qualification that other third party propagandists possess. Here is a case of extremes meeting. Those opposed to separate schools and those in favour of separate schools meet on common ground—opposition to the Government.

Dr. Barnardo and His Life Occupation

How the Great Philanthropist Started His Work.

Intended to be a Missionary to China, But Cholera Plague Changed His Plans.

To the many persons in Peterborough who are familiar to a considerable extent with the work of the Barnardo Homes, the news of the death of their founder came with genuine regret.

Dr. Barnardo had a strange mixture of blood in his veins. His father was a German of Spanish descent. His mother was born in Ireland of English ancestry. He himself was born in Ireland, and was a Protestant of the Protestants. In early life he intended to become a missionary to China, but while at London studying medicine with that end in view, cholera broke out. When others stampeded, Dr. Barnardo volunteered for slum work, and this led him to work in a "ragged school." Here it was that the memorable incident took place which led to the establishment of the Barnardo

THE LATE DR. BARNARDO.

Home. One raw winter night a little urchin, Jim Jarvis by name, begged to be allowed to stay for shelter in the ramshackle schoolroom.

"What would your mother think?" said Barnardo.

"Ain't got no mother."

"But your father?"

"Ain't got no father."

"Stuff and nonsense, boy; don't tell me such stories! You say you have not got a father or mother. Where are your friends, then? Where do you live?"

"Ain't got no friend. Don't live nowhere."

Dr. Barnardo was incredulous, but continued his cross-examination.

"Tell me, my lad, are there other poor boys like you in London, without a home or friends?"

"O, yes, sir, lots—'cops on 'em; more'n I could count."

Jim's Story True.

Jim was put to the test that very night, and in the very first place visited eleven boys were found sleeping in the cold, on top of the roof of a shed. After further investigations, Dr. Barnardo told a party of rich friends of his discoveries. They could not believe his report, so cabs were hired, and they went to see for themselves. Billingsgate was visited, and no boys were to be seen. Barnardo's heart sank, but a policeman standing by told him it would be all right. "They'll come out," he said, "if you give them a copper."

A ha'penny a head was offered, and then from out of a great confused pile of old crates, boxes and empty barrels, which were piled together, covered with a high tarpaulin, crept seventy-three boys, a sorrowful and mournful regiment of the great army of the destitute.

"I pray God," said Barnardo, "that I may never again behold such a sight."

The Home was started at once on a mean street, with twenty-five boys.

This was the fortieth year of Dr. Barnardo's work, and July 15th was celebrated as Founder's Day, and the sum of $700,000 was raised to mark the occasion. The sum of $80 will support a healthy child in the Home for a year.

Dr. Barnardo's Homes with their 121 branches, had on June 30, 1905, 8,493 boys and girls under their care, and to this large family about thirteen others are added every 24 hours. The number of children wholly maintained by the Homes in 1904, was 10,905. During that same year, 3,827 cases (boys and girls) have been admitted — a number very largely in excess of all the admissions put together by similar institutions throughout England. In all, the Homes, throughout the forty years of their existence, have saved nearly 60,000 "unwanted" and destitute children from suffering, vice and crime. That, with all the overcrowding that prevails and increases in London and other populous centres, there should still be a steady diminution of the criminal classes is, without doubt, to be attributed in large measure, to the operation of Homes like these. These waif, and stray, and orphan children, do not come from London alone, but from all over the Kingdom. There is hardly a city, town or village which has not at some time or other contributed its quota to the great army of destitute children under Dr. Barnardo's care. As a matter of fact, of the children annually admitted to the Homes, nearly one-third are from the metropolitan area, and at least two-thirds from the provinces, from Wales, from Scotland, and from Ireland, the whole Kingdom thus being indebted to these national institutions.

Many Sent to Canada.

Of the 3,827 candidates, who, being absolutely destitute and homeless, were at once admitted on application during 1904, 367 were babies in arms, 124 were deaf and dumb, or blind, or deformed, or little incurables; 215 were homeless youths over 16 years of age, who were assisted to find their footing again through the labour house; while 73 were very young women "saved so as by fire" from the black army of the streets. The institutions, from one or other of their 121 branches, supplied 31,032 night's lodgings to forlorn street wanderers, to whom also 167,445 free meals were given. One thousand two hundred and twenty-six boys and girls were emigrated to Canada and the Colonies during 1904, and 669 had been sent out in 1905, making a total of 16,829 emigrated in all. Less than 1 1-2 per cent. of these had proved failures in Canada and the colonies. It is intended to emigrate 900 others before the end of the present season at a cost of ten pounds each to cover outfit and travelling expense. At the close of the year 1904 3,967 children from the Homes were boarded out in rural districts throughout England.

His Work in Canada.

Toronto, Sept. 21.—The news of Dr. Barnardo's death was received with deep regret at the Barnardo Boys' Home, 213 Farley avenue, the Canadian headquarters of the work carried on by the dead philanthropist.

Dr. Barnardo's name will always be honored throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion. Nearly 18,000 children have been sent across the seas to Canada from the old country. During 1904 1,226 boys and girls were emigrated to Canada, and the Colonies, and 669 have been sent out in 1905. Less than 1 1-2 per cent. have failed in the Colonies.

A home in Canada was established in 1882. The headquarters in Farley avenue were established in 1888, but in the meantime a small home had been opened near the Union Station. The growth of the emigration to Canada made a larger building an absolute necessity. Dr. Barnardo's last visit to Farley avenue was in 1900. He formed the young helpers' league on behalf of his movement in 1891. It was in 1895 that he received the diploma and medal of the Societe Nationale d'Encouragement due Bien of Paris He was the author of numerous publications, and was editor of The National Waifs Magazine, and of The Young Helpers' League Magazine. He was at Stepney Causeway, the London headquarters, from early morning until late at night, and thus he had little time to spend at either his house at Ilford or his charming home by the River Surrey. Yet he was able occasionally to travel, which he loved to do; he was a lover of books and he rejoiced in the society of the children. The bairns loved him.

Mrs. Hubbard On Right Trail

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. MacNutt, of Lower Stewiacke, N. S., back from Labrador, say that before they left the Northwest River trading post, an Indian came in from up country and reported that he had met the Dillon Wallace party 30 miles from the post, on the wrong trail, and, if they continued to follow it they would come out on the Atlantic coast instead of the lake, that was their objective point. Also, that although the last to get away from the post, Mrs. Hubbard passed the Wallace party during the night, and while the members of it were asleep, thirty miles from Northwest River, and that she was on the right trail for the lake.

"Sanity" Scores "Sanitas"

ON THE SUBJECT OF

A Town-Pump Water System

Rip Van Winkle Redivius—Alleged Absurdity of Proposal to Supply Pure Water From Driven Wells and Town Pumps Placed on Street Corners—Erroneous Conclusions Combatted—Relation of Typhoid to Water Supply.

Dear Editor, — It is wonderful how some people wake up from a Rip van Winkle sleep, to discover, and suggest something that has been tried and discredited. A correspondent of your evening contemporary writes a letter signing himself "Sanitas." If he had omitted the first five letters of his nom de plume, he would have been more to the point, especially in view of what he advocates. He actually wants to solve the question of water supply by sinking wells at street corners, and setting up a series of town pumps, to enter into competition with hydrants, telegraph, telephone and electric light poles, in obstructing our streets. Sanitas must be a new comer, or have a short memory, otherwise he would remember the disastrous outcome of the experiment of a town well on the market square some years ago. A well was sunk at great expense, but it yielded only water, and it was so strongly impregnated with sulphuretted hydrogen — the exquisite odour of addled eggs—that it could not be used for domestic purposes. An iron pump was installed, but some careless teamster collided with it, and put it out of business. And that was the last of the town well. It was covered over, and to this day no one can tell where its situation was; not even a bench mark was left to indicate its former habitation.

$230,00 Waste.

It is a great discovery to make, that, after buying, for $230,000, a system of water works, we must go back to the system of driven wells! The brilliancy of the ideas of Sanitas is shown by the fact that his idea of getting purity of water by driven wells is an absolute dream of mild dementia. Doesn't he know that the whole sub-soil of the site of the city, is a gravel bed, porous as a sieve? Doesn't he know, that except in the beds of streams, water will not lie on the surface twenty-four hours? Doesn't he know that he never saw a cesspool or a privy vault full of water? Where, then, does the water go? It filters through the soil, carrying with it the organic matter, with which it is loaded, to the subterranean bed of water, which underlies the whole town, soaked in from the river and creek. This underground lake is the source of pure water which Sanitas advocates procuring, by the means of driven wells! Does he know that sewage—in fact, water—will carry and retain dangerous infectious possibilities, better by filtering through porous soil, than if poured directly into a stream, where it is subjected to the depurating effect of sunlight and aeration?

River Water.

(Does Sanitas know what he is talking about anyway? He assumes that we are subject to typhoid, so long as we continue to drink river water. He should know that river water, by reason of its immense volume, is subject to no contamination of appreciable importance. A drop of ink in a hogshead of water would not be perceptible, by even a rigid chemical analysis. On the same principle the small degree of possible contamination the river may receive at points above the city is, in all probability, completely neutralized by the immense volume of the flow — 600,000 cubic feet, or a million gallons per minute on the average—and by the aeration received by a descent of nearly 170 feet from Lakefield to Peterborough, it is, according to the most sanitary and scientific authorities, completely purified as to accidental contamination. Under these conditions, river water subjected to such processes stands to be infinitely purer than water drawn from wells in the city area, and supsupplied with water which has the concentrated contamination of the three score and ten years representing the existence of the town. I have no brief to defend the waterworks or the city water supply, but I hold a brief from my common sense and my interest in the town as a citizen, to try to neutralize the senseless scare of amateur alarmists as to the purity of our water supply. It is also worth while to expose the absurdity of a return to the village pump and other obsolete accompaniments of primitive conditions.

As to Typhoid.

Sanitas assumes that drinking river water is a cause of typhoid. Does he know that typhoid is due to a bacillus, and that the sewage from the chamber of a typhoid patient thrown upon the ground in the vicinity of a source of water supplying a town well, or otherwise, would by absorption, be capable of setting up more typhoid than the drinking of the river dry? I do not for one moment minimize the importance of a water supply as near to absolute purity as possible. But there is no such thing as absolute purity of water supply except by distillation or some such expensive process. Does Sanitas know that water may have the greatest appearance of purity and still be loaded with sewage organisms? Does he know that to the eye of an expert, the bright sparkle of water leads at once to the suspicion of organic contamination. The water taken from one of this town wells might be as lucid as light and sparkling as crystal, and yet be loaded with deadly organic matter absorbed from the surface soil. The most idiotic suggestion of Sanitas is the suggestion to sink his driven wells in the densely populated parts of the city where the soil is saturated and super-saturated —black to rottenness with the accumulated absorption of three generations of privy vaults, cess pools, et al.

Bad Plumbing.

As to the causation of typhoid Sanitas seems to be as much out in his etiology as in his engineering. Had we not better give a little attention to the plumbing conditions of the town? Does he know, and if he knows, does he grasp the significance of the fact that there is no plumbing put in in this town without trap—a condition which is equivalent in respect to the matter of sewer gas, to empty sewage on the floors of the rooms. There is infinitely more danger from such plumbing than from drinking city water. I believe in keeping the authorities, upon whose action the health of the town, within certain limits, largely depends, up to the mark. By all means let us have an authoritative analysis of our city water supply, but at the same time let us have efficient plumbing inspection and no more work with untrapped sewer pipes vomiting sewer gases into the living rooms and bedchambers of our houses; at the same time let our physicians be required to fulfil the requirements of the law as to report all cases of typhoid and contagious diseases, so that precautions may be taken.

If Sanitas will put up the price we might bore for a fountain of sulphur water. If we did not get that that we might strike oil or natural gas, or salt, or almost anything except what we are after, absolutely pure water.

I may seem to be writing strongly in regard to Sanitas, but there's nothing personal. I don't know who he is—I merely wish to controvert his opinions, which seem to me to be absurd.

Yours, etc.

SANITY.

Lamented Death of Walter G. Wood

The death occurred at Oakville yesterday of Mr. Walter G. Wood, manager of the Bank of Toronto at that place. The deceased gentleman had been suffering from nervous collapse for several weeks, but it was not though by his friends that his condition was so serious.

The late Mr. Wood had many friends in Peterborough and vicinity, being a son of the late Archibald Wood, of Millbrook, who died last summer, and who was for many years the senior member of the private banking firm of Messrs. Wood & Kolls, of that village. He was thirty-one years of age and entered the Port Hope branch of the Bank of Toronto some years ago. He was for a number of years stationed at St. Catharines, but had also lived at Toronto, Montreal, Collingwood and other places. About two years ago he was made manager of the Oakville branch of the bank, and shortly afterwards was married to Miss Larkin, of St. Catharines, who is left to mourn his early demise.

The late Mr. Wood was popular wherever he was known, and the announcement of his death will be very keenly felt by a large circle of friends. He was a true sportsman, and in his earlier years was prominent in various athletic sports.

Besides a young wife, he leaves to mourn his demise a mother, several sisters and two brothers.

Deceased was a nephew of Mr. John Wood, Brown street, East City.

Interment will take place at St. Catharines to-morrow.

The Port Hope Outlet Will Be Discussed

Deputation From That Town to Wait on Council.

Will Try to Show How It Would Benefit Peterborough to Make Port Hope the Outlet.

Tonight the Committee of the Whole Council will meet, and a most important matter will come up for their consideration. It is understood that a deputation, representing the Port Hope Canal Association, will wait on the Council to enlist, if possible, their assistance in advocating the claims of Port Hope, as the outlet of the Trent Canal in preference to Trenton.

In the past the position which Peterborough has taken has been as the advocate of the Trenton route, and the people of Port Hope, particularly the members of the Canal Association, are of the opinion that this city is standing in its own light by taking this position, and at the meeting to-night they will try and show the council how it would be to the advantage of Peterborough to have the Lake Ontario end of the canal at Port Hope.

The deputation will include Dr. Powers, the president of the Association; Mr. Clark, the secretary; and other influential members. The meeting will be called at 7.30, in order to enable the visitors to catch the nine o'clock train for home, but it is doubtful if in that space of time the versatile exponents of the Port Hope route will have exhausted the subject under consideration, because they are so strongly of the opinion that Peterborough would be consulting her own interests by advocating with them the completion of the canal by way of Port Hope that they could talk for practically an unlimited length of time on the subject.

Awards Made For Best Lawns in Peterboro'

Horticultural Society Publishes List of Awards.

Three Different Classes—Winners of Each—Mr. Dumble Makes Statement.

The Directors of the Horticultural Society in presenting the report of their examination of the lawns and grounds of the citizens are pleased to be able to state that year by year there is a constant improvement in the lawns and in the growth of plants, shrubs and flowers.

In presenting prizes there are three classes that compete amongst themselves: First, those who pay for all the labour; second, those who pay for part of the labour; third, those who do all the work themselves. These citizens who have spent large sums in the tasteful arrangement and culture of their grounds are benefactors to the community, because the pleasure of the people passing is in the aggregate infinitely greater than any that could be enjoyed by the proprietor. Then, the taste and skill displayed is a model for imitation by all others, and so helpful and inspiring. Those who do all their own work have the pleasure that only flower growers can realize, and in turning oftimes barren and unsightly places into beautiful gardens and adornments for their homes, have not only their own pleasure but are an inspiration and help to others.

The prizes have not been awarded to the places which were the largest and finest in every instance, but to those which displayed the most skill, and attained the best results, in, some cases, under circumstances the least inviting; and they deserve the most who have thus accomplished the best results, hiding roughness and barrenness, and grading with flowers and beauty surroundings otherwise most uninviting.

There were no doubt many other places which should have been commended and were perhaps worthy of prizes, but limited funds, and, perhaps, limited knowledge of the places, put a limit on their prizes, but it is hoped that everyone will realize that there is no yard or garden that cannot be improved, and made not only a joy to the owner, but a pleasure to all.

Rugby Club Was Formed Last Night

T. A. S. Club Starts Out Under Favourable Prospects.

Officers Elected—First Practice to be Held Saturday.

Rugby should boom in Peterborough this year. Last night the T.A.S. Rugby Club was organized under most favourable auspices, and if appearances go for anything the season should be a highly successful one. The T.A.S club is anxious to join a city league if one is formed, and there is a strong probability that the league will be a reality in the near future.

There was a good attendance at the meeting held last night in the T.A.S. rooms, when the meeting was held to organize the club for the season, and the enthusiasm bespeaks success for the newly formed organization. Among those present were many of the older players, who evidenced a warm interest in the project. Among those was Eugene Harquise, who is willing to lend his assistance to the young club, and was last night elected to the position of coach for the team.

After some preliminary discussion on the season's prospects the election of officers took place, resulting as follows:—

President—H. Bagley.

Vice-President—E. H. Hurtubise.

Secretary-Treasurer—J. E. Sullivan.

Executive Committee, Messrs. Wm. Maher, W. Parnell and B. Bagley.

It was subsequently decided to hold a practice on Sturday afternoon, and to make final arrangements for this practice a further meeting will be held on Friday night at the T.A.S. rooms at eight o'clock. The practice will be held at the Nicholl's Oval on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock, and it is hoped that there will be a good turnout of those who wish to play this season.

Shamrocks Won On the Round

Beaverton, Sept. 20.—The final game between Shamrocks of Toronto Junction, and the Checkers of Beaverton in the junior C.L.A. semi-finals was played in Beaverton to-day, and resulted in a win for the Shamrocks, the score being 4 to 3. This places the Shamrocks in the finals with Brantford for the junior C.L.A. championship, to be played at Toronto Island on Saturday. The game was the fastest ever seen in Beaverton, and the first half was excelling senior lacrosse, the score being two all. The remainder of the game was not so brilliant, roughness being indulged in on both sides, and this gave Referee Wagborne a heap of trouble, and he frequently had to reprimand players on both sides for rough play. The grounds were very wet, caused by the heavy rainfall last night, and this alone marred the brilliancy of the game. The Shamrocks ran a special excursion, which carried 300 followers, and in all 1,000 spectators witnessed a contest filled with all the spirit and enthusiasm known in the national game. The respective line-up was the same as in the Junction on Saturday last, there being no change whatever.

The Tombstone Story Caught Them Right

And Local Companies Were Among the Victims.

Wholesale Houses Were Beaten by Young Man Getting Over a Drunk.

Two companies, which have local branches were victimized by a smooth young man, whose exploits are told in the Toronto Star, as follows:

Palming himself off as a son of the late John Miller, of Brougham, Pickering Township, and an employee of Meachin and Poucher, general merchants of that village, a young man worked a very clever confidence game on a number of Front street wholesale tea merchants and grocers a couple of weeks ago. He gave large orders, and then on the strength of them asked for the loan of a small sum of money, saying that he had been on a bit of a spree and had run out of cash. He secured amounts ranging from $5 to $25.

Know the Business.

At the Meda-Game Tea Company, 55 Front street east, he gave an order for between $400 and $500 worth of tea.

"He knew the tea business from top to bottom," said Mr. White, the manager to the Star, this morning. "His conversation showed him to be very familiar with the Brougham locality, and he took plenty of time to make up his order. He had the appearance of one just recovering from a tear, but he was a pretty slick one nevertheless. The death of his alleged poor old father, which occurred two years ago, still seemed to be bothering him, and he displayed a receipt for a $100 tombstone he had bought to put on his grave. When he asked for the money I deemed it wise to give him a little, not wishing to offend a good customer. He carried his bluff to the extent of refusing the first bill I offered, saying it was hardly worth while taking that much. Then he got a bigger one. I had first called in one of my clerks who told me that the man was quite safe if the fellow was connected with the Miller family.

"We were a little suspicious afterwards that all was not 'right,'" continued Mr. White, "and wrote to Meacham and Poucher, asking about the order. They wrote back that they had never heard of such a fellow as D. Miller, and did not desire any tea at present. We put the matter in the hands of the detective department, but they do not seem to have been able to do anything."

The swindler is described as a short, stout man, about five feet eight inches in height, and weighing in the neighbourhood of about 165 pounds. He was rather good looking, and had a dark moustache, and black hair. Though he hadn't a brogue, he was Irish. He wore a black serge suit, a dark coloured shirt, with a turn-down collar, and a dark, brown felt hat.

In Several Places.

He played a similar game on Perkins, Ince & Co., wholesale grocers; J. Lumbers & Co., wholesale grocers; T. Kinnear & Co., wholesale grocers; and John Sloan & Co., wholesale grocers. The Kinnear and Lumbers firms shipped their orders before discovering the mistake they had made.

At Eby, Blain & Company's he worked his colossal nerve to an even greater extent. One of the clerks has not exactly taken with the manner of buying, and was inclined to resent it. Going downstairs the swindler complained to the manager of the treatment he had received, with the result that the clerk was called down stairs and given a severe talking to.

FOOTBALL.

A full practice of the Quakers is called for this evening at the Oval at 6.30 in preparation for Saturday's game with the O. C. Wanderers for the city championship.

Children Are Stolen and Made Beggars

Maimed for Life That They May Beg.

Horrible Practice of Galician Beggers —A Pathetic Case.

Vienna, Sept. 20.—An instance of the manner in which children are stolen and maimed in order that they may be used for begging has been brought to light by a romantic meeting and recognition at the Galician place of pilgrimage, Kalwarya Paclavski.

One of the pilgrims visiting the shrine, a Frau Droewicke, gave a small coin to a crippled boy lying on a handcart, when the boy cried "Mother! Mother!" and the woman recognized her own child, who disappeared three years ago.

Frau Droewicke fainted, and a rough looking man, who pushed the cart, made off with the boy as fast as he could, and stabbed one of the pilgrims who attempted to stop him. He would have escaped but for the timely appearance of the police.

When restored to his mother, the boy gave a harrowing account of how he had been enticed away from home by a stranger, who afterward tied his leg over two pieces of wood and jumped on it till he broke the bones in two places. He next twisted the leg and tied it to the other in such a way that it could not set.

Two other children were similarly crippled by the man, who took them to beg for him at the fairs and pilgrimage shrines in the country.

Did you ever have your range grates burn out?

If you did you will know what that means in common ranges—it means plumbers, delay, mess and big bills—because common ranges are built that way. As range grates must some time burn out you are certain to have that kind of trouble if yours is a common range.

If you have the Pandora you won't have any trouble, because you can take out the old grates and put in the new ones in ten minutes, and a ten cent piece for a screw-driver does it easier in the Pandora than a whole kit of plumbers' tools will do it in common ranges.

A ten cent piece for a screw-driver is all you need to take out old and put in new Pandora grates.

Komura to Arrange the Armistice

Russian Rear-Admiral to Conclude Naval Armistice.

QUIET ANTI-PEACE MEETING

Rumor That Russia Will Place An Order For An Entire New Fleet In Great Britain—Peace Treaty Exchanged to Take Place In Washington — Seven Russian Scouts Killed Recently.

Gunshu Pass, Manchuria, Monday, Sept. 18.—Rear-Admiral Jessen left Vladivostock September 16, on board the armored cruiser Rossia, accompanied by the protected cruiser Bogatyr and two torpedo boat destroyers, to meet Vice-Admiral Kamimura, the Japanese commander, and conclude the naval armistice.

Russian Scouts Killed.

A party of seven scouts who passed out of the Russian lines near Saliunchen recently were ambushed by the Japanese, and all of them were killed.

New Russian Navy.

London, Sept. 21.—The Daily News prints a rumor that Russia will place an order for a whole new fleet, including battleships, cruisers, torpedo-boat destroyers and torpedo boats, in Great Britain. The paper says that a Russian agent is now in London negotiating with a group of shipbuilders and ordnance-makers, apparently including Vickers, Sons & Maxim. The group would be at liberty to make whatever sub-contracts it wished.

Treaty Exchange In Washington.

Washington, Sept. 21.—It can now be definitely stated that the exchange of the ratification of the treaty of peace between Japan and Russia will take place in Washington shortly after the treaty has been ratified by the respective sovereigns. It is probable that this will be done in the White House, a compliment to President Roosevelt.

Quiet Anti-Peace Meeting.

Tokio, Sept. 21.—An anti-peace meeting held in Uyena Park yesterday was barely attended owing to a heavy rain. The tone of the meeting was quiet.

Hatchet Buried Deeply.

Paris, Sept. 21.—M. Witte, in the course of an interview published in The Temps yesterday, reviewed the proceedings at Portsmouth and said that if the treaty was loyally carried out it would "regulate friendly relations between enemies of yesterday."

Komura Recovering.

New York, Sept. 21.—Baron Komura, the Japanese peace plenipotentiary, is making satisfactory progress toward recovery, according to the official bulletin given out yesterday. His illness is a mild attack of typhoid.

Battle to Release Prisoners.

Riga, Russia, Sept. 21.—The Central prison here was attacked during Tuesday night and two prisoners, leaders of the local political agitation, were released. During the fighting two keepers and a policeman were killed and several policemen were wounded. Two of the rescue party were arrested.

Farmer Gored by a Bull.

Huntsville, Ont., Sept. 21.—Henry Hares, one of the best known residents of Stephenson Township, has been brought to the General Hospital. He is in a critical condition, the result of being gored by a bull. Mr. Hares, who is nearly seventy years of age, was leading the animal to pasture, and when releasing the brute turned and attacked him ferociously. The injured man's little son, aged 14 years, ran to his father's rescue and managed to prevent a renewal of the attack until two of the elder sons finally drove the infuriated beast away. The aged man was found to be seriously hurt, one horn penetrating close to the abdomen several inches, and while everything possible is being done, there is not much hope of his recovery.

Natives Surprise German Convoy.

Cape Town, Sept. 21.—It is officially announced that the Witbois, in evading the sweeping columns of General Von Trotha, commander-in-chief in German Southwest Africa, surprised a German convoy near Keattmanns Hoop, Namaqualand, practically annihilated its escort, and captured thousands of cattle, 122 wagons, many rifles and a quantity of ammunition.

A NIGHTMARE

Gives point to the fact that excessive or irregular eating disturbs the digestion. Nightmare or night hag has its day time correspondence in the undue fullness after eating, with the belchings and sour or bitter rising so often experienced after too hasty or too hearty eating.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia or bad stomach. When the weak stomach is strengthened and invigorated the whole body shares in the increased strength derived from food properly digested and perfectly assimilated.

"I was a victim of sleeplessness and extreme nervousness induced by chronic indigestion and I felt heavy, tired and worn out continually," writes Miss Mary Smith, of 1819 No. Wahsatch Street, Colorado Springs, Colo. "Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was the only medicine which relieved me. Within a week after I began using it that heavy tired feeling after meals had left me, and I found that I was able to sleep better than for months previously. My appetite was gradually restored, general system was toned up, nervousness became a thing of the past and I have now been in splendid health for over nine months."

Sometimes a selfish dealer tempted by the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines will offer the customer a substitute as being "just as good" as the "Discovery." It may be better for him because it pays better, but it is not as good for you, if you want the medicine that has cured others, and which you believe will cure you.

1008-page Doctor Book sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover postage only. 50 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Formerly sold for $1.50 to extent of over 680,000 copies. Every family should possess a copy for ready reference in case of sudden illness or accident. It is illustrated with hundreds of wood-cuts and several colored plates. Address Dr. R. V. Not Tariff Says Laurier, But Transportation

The Most Important Question For Manufacturers.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER SPEAKS

"Not a Question of Tariff," Says the Premier, "But It Is a Question of Freight Rates and of Railway Facilities" If Manufacturers Are to Supply Growing West—The New Officers.

Quebec, Sept. 21.—The banquet of the Canadian Manufacturer's Association at the Chateau Frontenac last night was a brilliant success, the proceedings being attended with scenes of a most enthusiastic description throughout. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was the principal speaker, and had a rousing reception, while the greeting extended to Mr. R. L. Borden, leader of the Opposition, was hardly less cordial. It had been anticipated that the Premier might make some pronouncement to the subject of tariff reform, but he touched very lightly upon the subject though he expressed his approval of what he understood to be the feeling of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association that there should be a tariff which would give equal justice to the manufacturer and the consumer. In the course of his speech Sir Wilfrid said:

Not Tariff, But Transportation.

"Let me tell you that if the Canadian manufacturers are to supply the growing west, it is not a question of tariff, but it is a question of freight rates and of railway facilities. The policy of all parties, I am sure, in this country is to develop these railway facilities, to make the freight rate as light as possible and to equalise them as far as possible. We have done a great deal, I think, in this respect. We have still more to do on the same lines, and all our efforts should be ever and ever to decrease the rates so as to make trade more easy and more free to go from the east to the west and from the west to the east. This is the question before us to-day; this is the question we are all engaged in, and this is the program in which I am glad to say the Canadian manufacturers are engaged in at this moment."

Mr. Borden Also.

Mr. Borden also dealt very briefly with the tariff question. The president, Mr. C. C. Ballantyne, presided over the gathering, and amongst the distinguished guests, in additions to Sir Wilfrid, Mr. Borden and the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Louis Jette, were Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick, Minister of Justice; Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Solicitor-General; Hon. S. N. Parent, Senator Choquette, Hon. Mr. McCorkill, Hon. Mr. Tessier, and Hon. Mr. Robitaille.

"Adequate Protection."

At the close of morning session of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association convention, held behind closed doors, it was given out that W. K. McNaught, in charge of the report on the tariff, said that, inasmuch as the Government had appointed a tariff commission, he believed that they were acting in good faith in the interests of the manufacturing industries of Canada, and he thought that the Government would give adequate protection.

At the afternoon's session, resolutions of thanks were adopted.

W. S. Fisher, seconded by W. K. McNaught, moved that the Canadian Manufacturers' Association look with favor upon the proposition to secure the admission of the British West India Islands and Newfoundland into confederation, and respectfully asked the Federal Government to give this matter an early attention. The motion was carried.

A resolution was passed asking for the abolition of the extra corporation taxes now imposed by the Provincial Governments throughout Canada and taxes imposed by certain Provinces on Canadian commercial travelers resident in other Provinces. Resolutions were also adopted suggesting closer trade relations between Canada and China and Japan and for the passing of a law for compulsory inspection of hides and the bringing of express companies under the jurisdiction of the Railway Commissioners for Canada.

Officers Elected.

The election of officers resulted:

C. C. Ballantyne, Montreal, president.

Henry Cockshutt of Brantford, Ont., vice-president.

Ontario vice-president—Lloyd Harris, Brantford, Ont.

Quebec—George A. Aymott, Quebec.

Falls 60 Feet, May Live.

Buffalo, Sept. 21.—Henry Jennings of Port Dalhousie, Ont., fell from a fourth floor window of the Broesol House Tuesday evening. He was terribly hurt, but the doctors report that he has an even chance of recovery. Jennings is about 40 years old. He was washing a window on the fourth floor and did not use a safety belt.

The Congress Wants Senate To Be Elected

Yesterday's Session of the Trade Congress.

A Day of Motions — Considerable Business Transacted.

Toronto, Sept. 21.—The Trades and Labor Congress held a busy morning session yesterday in the consideration of questions of general interest. The established labor stand for the abolition of the Dominion Senate was changed to a demand that it be elected. The work of the Ontario Labor Bureau was approved, and the Government was called on to pass legislation enforcing more sanitary conditions in foundries. The Congress went on record as in favor of the abolition of the property qualification for voters in civic elections, and for the abolition of the clause in the Assessment Act requiring that vacant land of certain number of acres in cities and towns be assessed as farm land.

The afternoon proceedings were chiefly devoted to various resolutions. One favoring the establishment of a legal defence fund was referred back to the committee.

A resolution was passed that women factory inspectors should be paid the same salaries as male inspectors.

The Letter Carriers brought their sick benefits grievance before the convention in a resolution, and it passed unanimously.

The Street Railway Union asked in their resolution for centre aisles in the cars to make the work of the conductors safer.

A hearty resolution of sympathy with the striking machinists at Stratford was passed.

By a close vote it was decided to maintain the secret session when necessary.

Fifteen Years For Burglary.

London, Sept. 21.—Texas Burdell, convicted of burglary, was sentenced by Judge Street yesterday afternoon to 15 years' imprisonment. The prisoner was deeply affected at the severity of the sentence and wept piteously.

William Parker was sentenced to 19 months in the Central for attempted criminal assault on Mrs. Sigsworth, aged 60.

Ruddick Well Treated.

Bristol, Sept. 21.—(C. A. P.)—Dairy Commissioner Ruddick has just returned from Denmark, Holland and Germany. He was entertained by 300 Bristol importing merchants and railway shipping men, all anxious to increase trade with Canada. He was well received and aided everywhere on his present tour. He sails on the 28th.

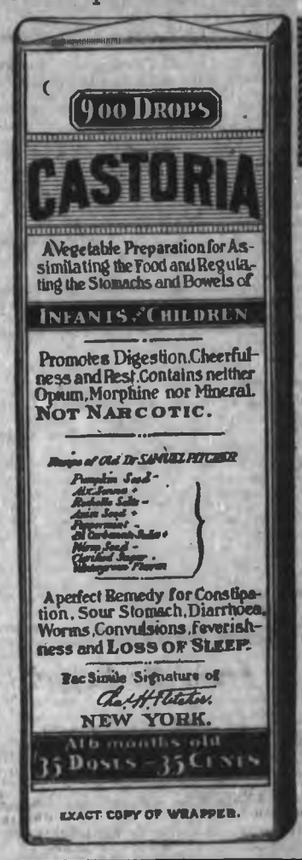
A Thoughtless Druggist.

ONLY a thoughtless druggist would offer a preparation without the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher when Castoria is called for; the "delicate, faint and flickering light" that joins baby's life to its devoted parents being too sacred, to the self-respecting druggist, to be trifled with.

For over thirty years Mr. Fletcher has given, and still gives, his personal attention to the preparation of Castoria. It has won the confidence of mothers and physicians everywhere—never harmed the tiniest babe. This cannot be said of Imitations, Counterfeits and the "Just-as-good" rot.

The thoughtless druggist only offers the counterfeit because of a few pennies more profit. Any new preparation can be but an experiment, and they are experiments—mere guess work—irrespective of what their sponsors may say for them. It is experience of over thirty years, against wild and injudicious experiment.



CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. THE PASSING OF A SMITH PIONEER

Demise of Mr. James Fanning of Selwyn.

He Went to His Rest Full of Years and Honour.

The death of Mr. James Fanning, in the Township of Smith, near Selwyn, removes one of the oldest and most respected residents of the vicinity. The deceased gentleman, who was 84 years of age at the time of his death, has been a resident of Smith for 49 years. He leaves behind him three sons and one daughter at home, and one daughter, a Sister of Charity, in the Hotel Dieu, Kingston. The funeral took place yesterday (Wednesday) at 10 a.m. The requiem high mass was sung by Rev. Father Phelan, and Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, an old friend of the family, preached the funeral sermon, in the course of which he referred to the high esteem in which the deceased was held, as evidence of an upright life, and the catholicity of his Christian principles. This was shown by the fact that though the only Roman Catholic living in the neighbourhood, he had gained as high a place in the respect of his Protestant neighbours, with whom he was surrounded and among whom he lived; and though differing in forms of religious faith, his high character, by the consistent practice of the principles of his faith, had won for him an enviable degree of esteem, as was demonstrated in the very large gathering of his Protestant neighbours, who had assembled to pay him the last tribute of respect. It speaks well, both for deceased and his neighbours that, though differing in religious faith, Canadians can live peaceably and happily as neighbours, and live (not merely profess) their religion to mutual advantage and good will, without fighting over it. The late Mr. Fanning and his neighbours are a prominent example of this.

School Board May be Reduced Next Year

Aldermen Will Consider the Matter To-night.

Was Proposed to Change it Last Year but Decided Otherwise.

The Committee of the Whole will to-night wrestle with the question of the change in the present method of electing the School Board. It will be remembered that last year the Council considered the question, and the proposal was made then to take advantage of the act, which permitted the Council to enact that the Board in a city of this size should be composed of 10 members, nine of whom would be elected by the people, and one appointed by the Separate School Board. Of those elected the five having the highest votes would sit for two years, and the other four would retire at the end of the first year, and might stand for re-election, remaining then on the Board for two years.

Last year the majority of the members of the Board seemed to be of the opinion that it would be unwise at that time to make the change, in view of the fact that the question question of the Collegiate Institute was then being considered.

The Board as at present constituted is composed of 17 members ten of whom are elected, two for each ward, who remain in for two years; six appointed by the Council, with three terms, and one appointed by the Separate School Board.

To-night the matter will be discussed at the meeting of the Committee of the Whole, when a deputation will wait on the Council from the School Board.

If the Council decides to make the change in January next the new regulations will go into effect, and the Board will be composed of ten members.

"EL CAPITAN" MUCH ENJOYED

Popular Musical Comedy Was Charmingly Presented.

Roscian Opera Co. Large Audience Last Night--Return Engagement Booked.

The Roscian Opera Company last night presented John Philip Sousa's musical comedy, "El Capitan," to a large audience at the opera house. The play was one of the best in every respect which has appeared here for a considerable time, and the company, which is engaged for a return engagement during the three nights of the exhibition, will probably be greeted by crowded houses.

The unsatisfactory nature of the stage, of course, precluded the use of scenery or other staging effects, upon which, to such a large extent, musical comedy depends for its charm.

Notwithstanding the difficulty in this respect, however, the opera was excellently presented. The costumes were of a beautiful character, being tingly artistic in design and colour.

The bright, catchy music was presented in a manner in which the spirited compositions of the "March King" lost none of their dash and verve. The choruses were particularly well rendered, the well-known, quaintly-flowing cadences of the composer leading up to a climax filled with unison, being most infectious, and thoroughly captivating the audience. Mr. Claud Amsden as Don Jesus Manigua, scored a decided hit, and his portrayal of the part filled with laughable contretemps and mirth-provoking situations was at times exceedingly funny. Miss Hazel Davenport as the Princess Angiana, and Miss La Belle as Estrella, were both popular with the audience, and their work in these characters drew frequent manifestations of appreciation.

The company will open on September 25 with Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado," which will be followed on the succeeding nights by "The Telephone Girl" and "The Chimes of Normandy."

PORT HOPE DEPUTATION URGES ADVOCACY OF DEEP WATERWAY TO LAKE

Members of the Port Hope Canal Association Waited on the Council in Committee of the Whole Last Night—Want to Enlist Support of This City in Port Hope Route—Interests of Peterborough Are Said to be Identical With Port Hope—The Deputation Makes an Impression on the Aldermen—Advantages of Port Hope as an Outlet Compared With Trenton—An Interesting Discussion.

Trent Canal matters received the attention of the Council last night, when the members met in Committee of the Whole, to receive a deputation from Port Hope, which waited on the Council to impress upon the latter that advantages of the Port Hope route as compared with the Trenton outlet. The deputation comprised Dr. Powers, president of the Port Hope Canal Association; J. F. Clark, secretary; Mayor Chalk, Ald. Outram, Mr. R. A. Mulholland, Capt. Amaund and Col. McLean. The object of their visit to the city was to present to the Council their views on the canal, as far as its outlet is concerned, and enlist, if possible, the support of the Council and public bodies of Peterborough in the advocacy of the Port Hope route.

All the members of the deputation addressed the meeting of the Committee, and, it must be admitted, presented some arguments in favour of the outlet being located at Port Hope, which were debatable. After the meeting, some of the aldermen expressed their opinion privately that as far as the local conditions were concerned it would be to the interest of Peterborough to advocate the Port Hope route, as being in the best interest of Peterborough, but as to the whole scheme, they had not considered the matter carefully enough to decide as to whether it would be advisable, looking at the matter from the standpoint of the whole canal, in its national aspect to cast in their lot with Port Hope, and work for the completion of the waterway, with its Lake Ontario terminus at the harbour of Port Hope, or to take the position which the town as a whole has taken in the past, that Trenton is the natural outlet for the canal.

The general opinion seemed to be that if the interest of this city were alone to be considered there would be no question that Port Hope had the stronger claims, but it is probable that the matter will be given careful consideration before the Council will make any public declaration as to its position.

Last night, for perhaps the first time seriously, and in a public discussion the idea was made for a ship canal, at least from Port Hope to this city, and it is probable that the prospect of having a waterway which would accommodate the lake steamers and schooners, as set forth so glowingly and eloquently by the speakers, influenced the members of the Council to come to the conclusion mentioned, namely, that it might be to the advantage of Peterborough to join hands with Port Hope in this movement. In the past there has not been much attention given to the canal other than as a barge canal, but the Port Hope delegation pictured the waterway as an active competitor of the Welland Canal, with a depth of from ten to twelve feet, and capable of taking the large lake steamers, and the prospect of having these steamers sailing up the canal to the docks at Peterborough, as pictured so eloquently by the speakers, appealed strongly to the members of the Council, who foresaw, in the fulfilment of the prophecies of the members of the delegation, cheap freight rates for Peterborough and a great expansion of its industrial interests.

In the course of the evening the Trenton route got some pretty hard knocks, but the speakers all stated that there was no inclination on their part to present the case in any

Fashionable Headwear

HATS placed in our show rooms must consist of more than mere loveliness. They must have that newness and indefinable charm that goes to make them choice or smart according to Dame Fashion's latest caprices.

Recognizing these important Millinery facts our artistic display has been collected with the utmost painstaking. We avoid the multiplying of any one style or idea, and can offer you a selection of the newest and smartest productions of the season. Our Milliners despise repeating, and offer each customer some individual touch or color combination that is kept unique.

All the beautiful creations of wearable headwear are the work of our own artists. We depend on no fancy priced pattern hats to make our name for high-class Artistic Millinery, but create in our work rooms Hats that convey to good dressers the close touch we keep with ideas that find favor in fashion's centre, Hats that are wearable and reasonably priced.

Judging from the favorable comments that have been passed by those who have visited our Millinery Parlours and severely criticised our display, you will find it very much to your advantage to leave your order for your Fall Hat with

When the town became a city, the personnel of the Court of Revision was changed and the new Court is composed of men who are not in the Council. The statute provides that the Mayor shall appoint one member, the Council one, and the third shall be the official arbitrator, or in case there is none, then the Sheriff. In the case of Peterborough the Sheriff will be the man.

Last night at the Committee of the Whole, the Council appointed its member, who will be Mr. H. Rush, Sr. Ald. Scott moved the appointment of Mr. Rush, seconded by Ald. Adams, while Ald. Mason moved, seconded by Ald. Begley, that Mr. A. E. Dixon be the Council's appointee. Ald. Scott's motion was carried and the appointment was afterwards made unanimous.

The Mayor announced that he had appointed Mr. Wm. Langford. So that the Court of Revision will in future be composed of Messrs. Wm. Langford, H. Rush and Sheriff Hall, and the salary will be $50 per year each.

The Festival at All Saints' Church

To-night the annual Harvest Festival in connection with All Saint's church will be held. The sermon will be preached by Rev. W. L. Armitage, a former rector of the church. The interior of the sacred edifice will be decorated appropriately for the occasion, and the music will be a special feature of the service.

First Concrete Crossing Laid

Last night the first concrete crossing ever laid in this city was completed. This crossing is at the corner of Queen and Hunter streets, and is in the nature of an experiment. If it meets with the approval of Works there is a prospect that of the city engineer, and the Board, other similar crossings will be laid. It is to be sincerely hoped that it will be satisfactory since some style of pressing is badly needed.

Meeting to Consider the Reduction

Change in the Constitution of the Board of Education.

Council Will Deal With it Monday Night Next.

As predicted by the Examiner yesterday, the question of the composition of the Board of Education was considered, on Ald. Hicks' motion that a meeting of the Council be called before October 1, at which his notice of motion that the size of the Board be reduced, and that the members be elected by the people, will be considered.

Ald. Hicks referred to the fact that the members of the Board had been invited to be present at the meeting last night and discuss the matter with the Council in committee, but, since they did not come the matter was evidently one of indifference to them, and he had learned in conversation with some of the members that there was no decided feeling one way or the other.

His own feeling was that the matter of electing the whole Board by the people was a desirable one, and if the members were opposed to it they would have another opportunity of expressing their opinion at a special Council meeting which would be held.

Ald. Johnston, who seconded Ald. Hicks' motion, thought that the time had come when the Board of Education should be wholly responsible to the people. The enormous amount of money they handled, and the powers they had, were such that, in his opinion, they should be elected by the people and answerable to them.

Ald. Hall moved an amendment that no action be taken this year. He thought that any action of this kind should come from the Board itself. He, too, had talked to some of the members of the Board, and his information was that they did not want the change to be made this year.

Ald. Hicks wanted it understood that he had no doubt to deal with the present Board, but he resented the fact that the Board had itself written the Council asking that the change be made.

Ald. Hall's amendment was not seconded, and the motion was carried. The special meeting will be held on Monday to consider this question.

Damages Over Outfall Sewer

There is likely to be some trouble over the question of the outfall sewer, on the other side of the river, which Mr. James Bogue took the contract to construct.

At last night's meeting of the Committee of the Whole, it was stated that work had not yet started, and the Solicitor will be instructed to write to Mr. Bogue's bondsmen, advising them that he has not begun work, according to the terms of the contract, and that they and Mr. Bogue would be held responsible.

The Harvest Tea at St. Mark's Was a Success

A Most Enjoyable Evening Spent Last Night.

Local Artists Took Part in Programme —Rev. J. G. Potter Gave an Address.

The annual harvest tea and entertainment of the congregation of St. Mark's has earned for itself a reputation in the past that was doubtless responsible for the large attendance this year, and those who were present last night were not disappointed. The ladies of the congregation had provided an excellent repast well up to the standard of former teas. After supper the entertainment took place, the rector, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, acting as chairman. In his opening remarks he welcomed the people to this annual event, and thanked them on behalf of the congregation for the large attendance. He referred to the large programme to be given as sufficient reason to make this remarks very short. Programme:

1. Vocal solo, "Jasper Johnson," by Mr. Lucas.
2. Recitation, "In Sunflower Time," by Miss Jennie Weir.
3. Vocal solo, "Out Where the Breakers Roar," by Mr. W. Wesley.
4. Vocal solo, "Time's Roses," by Miss Mary Rush.
5. Quartette, "I Am Longing for My Old Kentucky Home."
6. Address by Rev. J. G. Potter, B.A.
7. Vocal solo, "When the Sunset Turns the Ocean's Blue to Gold," Mr. Tanger.
8. Recitation, "Bill Smith," by Miss Jennie Weir.
9. Duet, "When the Roses Bloom in Georgia," by Messrs. Wesley and W. Turner.
10. Vocal solo, "Lucy Bailey," by Mr. Lucas.

A pleasing feature of the evening's proceedings was the presence of Rev. J. G. Potter, B.A., pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Peterborough. He said that he had gladly responded to the kind invitation of the rector, and was pleased to meet the members of St. Mark's church. Mr. Potter referred to the occasion as being a joyous meeting of happy people who rejoiced in a bountiful harvest which God had given them. He pointed out valuable lessons from God's mercy and loving kindness, and urged the people to be always thankful to God. The proceedings came to a close at about 10.30, the audience singing the National Anthem.

Port Hope Deputation Urges Deep Waterway

way other than that warranted by the facts, and offered corroboration of all the statements made in reference to the features of advantage possessed by the Port Hope route, as set forth by them.

The deputation came well supplied with literature setting forth their side of the case, and this they distributed freely among the aldermen. One circular, reproduced in facsimile on this page, gives what is said to be a correct idea of the comparison in the Trenton and Port Hope routes; much, of course, to the benefit of the latter.

Ship Canal Advocated.

After Mayor Best had welcomed on behalf of the Council the gentlemen comprising the deputation to the city and to the Council chamber, he asked them to state their case, and Mr. J. F. Clark, the indefatigable secretary of the association, addressed the members of the Council assembled, expressing his personal pleasure at being present, and stating that the object of their visit was to enlist the interest of the Council in the Port Hope route of the canal. He stated that the Port Hope Association had always advocated a deep waterway, as deep, in fact, as was possible under the existing conditions as they had believed that the greatest benefit would come from the construction of a canal which would accommodate lake steamers. Referring to the question of an outlet for a deep canal, suitable for boats drawing from ten to twelve feet, he spoke of the advantages possessed by Port Hope, where there was a harbour with fourteen feet of water at the season of low water, and compared it with Trenton, where he said there was but nine feet at low water. The records show, he said, that the height of water in Lake Ontario fluctuated in a season about three and a half feet, while Government reports show that this fluctuation was sometimes as much as six feet. In view of this fact he contended that, with the rock bottom at Trenton, it was out of the question to think of making it a harbour for a deep water canal.

Mr. Clark spoke of the general impression which many held in reference to the depth of cutting which would be made necessary by the Port Hope route. There was no high hill, as many supposed, and, as a matter of fact, the highest point was only sixty-five feet above the level of Rice Lake. He spoke of the circuitous nature of the Trenton route, which, he said, was about fifty-eight miles further than by Port Hope, and at one point the Trent River actually ran seven miles north of Peterborough. There was only five feet of water at Chisholm's Rapids, and for forty-two miles the route would be through rock, in which there would be considerable cutting, making it most expensive to construct a shallow canal even, and practically impossible to build a deep canal.

Benefit to the City.

Mr. Clark referred to what he considered would be advantageous to Peterborough to have a deep canal suitable for boats drawing ten, twelve or fourteen feet of water. It would make it possible for the lake steamers to come to this city, and it would be possible even for boats from the Old Country to unload at Peterborough. In his opinion the interests of Peterborough and Port Hope were identical in this matter, and he hoped that, after carefully considering the matter, the Council would be able to come to this conclusion, and help Port Hope to secure a twelve or fourteen-foot canal from Lake Ontario to Peterborough at least, and, if possible, to make the whole canal that depth, which would, in his opinion, greatly increase its usefulness.

Lake Outlet Considered.

Dr. Powers, who for years has been one of the most energetic and persistent advocates of the Port Hope route, and who now occupies the position of president of the Canal Association, was the next speaker, introduced by Mr. Clark, and he reiterated the latter's words in respect to the community of interest of Peterborough and Port Hope in this matter. The doctor devoted the greater part of his time in dealing with the question of the stretch of open lake from Port Hope to Presqu'Isle, and which for years has been used as an argument against the Port Hope route. As a matter of fact, according to his statement, this was really not the serious matter it was represented to be, and, in fact, was not worth considering as an argument which had any weight. They had gone into the matter very carefully and had obtained the advice of a large number of seasoned mariners, and the information they had been able to gain, supplemented by their personal knowledge, had warranted them in reaching the conclusion that the dangers represented from that stretch of open lake existed only in the minds of those who either did not know the conditions, or who were trying to give the Port Hope route a black eye. He gave reasons why, in his opinion, this was not a drawback, and stated that any barge in which wheat was carried in order to be insured must be what is known technically as a "standard river barge," and the hull has to be practically as strong as those of the schooners which sail the great lakes. These barges would, he was sure to be able to stand any sea which would every be experienced on the stretch of water named. As a matter of fact there were only two winds which affected that particular part of the lake to any extent, and it was only a run of four or five hours, and no very severe storm would come up in that length of time, while if there was a storm blowing when the barges reached Port Hope they need not leave the harbour until it had passed.

A Deep Waterway.

Dr. Powers referred to the circumstances which had influenced him in the first place in advocating a deep waterway, instead of the six foot canal. The people of Kingston had told him that it was useless to spend money on a shallow canal, and that if he would advocate a deeper waterway other than that warranted by the facts, and offered corroboration of all the statements made in reference to the features of advantage possessed by the Port Hope route, as set forth by them.

A Deep Waterway.

Dr. Powers referred to the circumstances which had influenced him in the first place in advocating a deep waterway, instead of the six foot canal. The people of Kingston had told him that it was useless to spend money on a shallow canal, and that if he would advocate a deeper waterway why they would support him. The whole tendency now is towards an increase of tonnage, both in water and rail transportation, and, after considering the matter, he had come to the conclusion that it would be in the interests of the country to build a deep canal, one capable of accommodating the steamers which ply the lakes.

Comparing the time of the two routes, he stated that in his opinion there would be a saving of from two to three hours by the Port Hope route, and he believed that there was nothing to apprehend from the lake trip of 24 miles. He had talked the matter over with Mr. Reford, the present chairman of the Transportation Commission, and the late Mr. Bertram, and both of these gentlemen had supported his views.

Saving of Freight Rates.

The question of freight rates, as they applied to coal, was discussed by Mayor Chalk, who was the next speaker. He pointed out how it would be a considerable saving to Peterborough to be able to ship coal in by the water route, which, of course, was not doubted. He stated that the rate from Oswego to Port Hope was 30 cents per ton, while from the same port to Trenton it was 40 cents, the difference being due to the alleged fact that the harbour at the latter place was much more difficult of navigation. He contended therefore that it would be to the interest of this city to have the outlet at Port Hope, in which event the coal rate would be lower. The transportation problem was one which was engaging the attention of the best men of the country, and would continue to do so in the future; and he was satisfied that if the question of the outlet of the Trent Canal was considered on its merits, Port Hope would be chosen. He also advocated a deep waterway, as did Mr. Mulholland, who was the next to address the meeting. He referred to the peculiar advantages possessed by Port Hope in respect to its harbour accommodation. There were docking facilities for forty vessels, and a mile of docks. Mr. Mulholland also spoke of the effect of canal and water transportation on freight rates, and stated that since Peterborough was developing into such a prominent and prosperous manufacturing centre, the question of rates was one which should be of great interest here. At the present time, he said, the Trent Canal had no front door, and he advised the Peterborough council to join with Port Hope in advocating that the outlet be located there.

Little Danger From Open Lake.

Ald. Outram was next heard, and his address was, in effect, a corroboration of the views of the other speakers. He mentioned that at Hamilton, when speaking in favour of the Trent Canal, the opinion of the business men there was that if the outlet could be secured for Port Hope it would give them a connection by water with Peterborough, which was what they desired, apparently; and in view of this fact, supported the Port Hope route in preference to Trenton. He eulogized the water route as the great regulator of freight rates, and denied the statement that there was any danger, beyond the ordinary risk, in the open water from Port Hope, until the Murray canal was reached.

Expert Testimony.

Captain Braund accompanied the deputation as an expert to give testimony in reference to the practical side of the question. The captain remarked that he was not much of a speaker, but he could talk enough if he were "put on board a boat." He referred to the excellent quality of the harbour at Port Hope, and contrasted it with Trenton, to the decided disadvantage of the latter, which he said was not only shallow but that the channel was dangerous. He was strongly in favour of a deep canal. The Government, he thought, had lots of money, and he incidentally remarked, that they would need lots if they took the canal by way of Trenton.

In answer to a question, Captain Braund stated that, in his opinion, there would be but little danger from the open lake, and gave as examples, the fact that barges with but 18 foot beam, carried coal from Oswego, crossing the lake, and up the Rideau canal to Ottawa.

Dr. Powers remarked that one of the evidences of the general opinion in the west was the fact that both the Toronto and Hamilton Boards of Trades and Councils had placed themselves on record as being in favour of that route.

A Convert to the Canal

Colonel McLean is a convert to the canal. He stated that at one time he had been of the opinion that it would be a waste of money to construct the Trent Canal; but he had changed his mind considerably of late. The country is practically in its infancy, and he believed that the growth of trade would be so enormous that it would tax all the avenues of transportation to handle it. In his mind there was no question as to which of the two routes under consideration was the better. It was nearly sixty miles from Rice Lake to Trenton, and only ten miles from the same lake to Port Hope, and all except one mile would be earth cutting. He advocated a 10 or 12 foot canal and believed that if it were built the American boats would run to Peterborough. They would run here and discharge their cargoes, and take on return cargoes of the products of the manufacturing establishments of the city. In his opinion the city of Peterborough will make the mistake of its life if it does not advocate a deep waterway to the city. Colonel McLean held the view that it would be an advantageous thing for Peterborough to have water connection and be able to ship the manufactured goods to western Ontario by the shorter route. He hoped the day would come when the Port Hope people would be coming up by hundreds to Peterborough by the Trent Canal.

Other Advantages.

Mr. Clark again addressed the meeting, briefly pointing out that while by the Trenton route there would be five railway bridges, by Port Hope the railway would be crossed by overhead bridges, which would be a great saving in itself. He emphasized the benefit which the canal would confer on the local trade and stated that, since the great bulk of this local trade would be with the west, it could be much better handled by Port Hope than by Trenton, while the distance from Peterborough to Montreal was not any greater. Speaking of the saving which would be effected on the price of coal alone, Mr. Clark pointed out the fact that if only 25,000 tons were used each year, and the saving was only 20 cents per ton, the annual saving would be $5,000. He asked the council to carefully consider the matter, and if, after they had given it this consideration, they felt satisfied that the interests of Peterborough would be better served by having the outlet of the canal at Port Hope, the association would feel that their visit had not been in vain.

Mayor Chalk, on behalf of the visitors, thanked the council for the kind reception that had been given them and hoped that there would be many more such friendly meetings in the future.

The members of the deputation then left to take the nine o'clock train for home.

MAJORITY OF PATIENTS WOMEN

Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Saves Many From this Sad and Costly Experience.

It is a sad but true fact that every year brings an increase in the number of operations performed upon women in our hospitals. More than three-fourths of the patients lying on those snow white beds are women and girls who are awaiting or recovering from operations made necessary by neglect.

Every one of these patients had plenty of warning in that bearing down feeling, pain at the left or right of the womb, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back, leucorrhœa, dizziness, flatulency, displacements of the womb or irregularities. All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the ovaries or womb, and if not heeded the trouble will make headway until the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation, and a lifetime of impaired usefulness at best, while in many cases the results are fatal.

The following letter should bring hope to suffering women. Mrs. Robert Glenn, of 434 Marie St., Ottawa, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so well and widely known that it does not need my recommendation, but I am pleased to add it to the many which you have in its favor. I suffered untold agonies from ovarian troubles for nearly three years, and the doctors told me that I must undergo an operation, but as I was unwilling to do this, I tried your Vegetable Compound and I am only too pleased that I did so, for it restored me to perfect health, saving me the pain of an operation and the immense bills attending the same. Pray accept my hearty thanks and best wishes."

Just as surely as Mrs. Glenn was cured of the troubles enumerated in her letter, just so surely will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure every woman in the land who suffers from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, kidney troubles, nervous excitability and nervous prostration.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all young women who are ill to write her for free advice. Address, Lynn, Mass.

MISS BRECKENRIDGE OF WESTWOOD WAS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Her Horse Took Fright of an Auto Car and Threw Her Out of the Buggy—Collar Bone Was Broken and Other Injuries Sustained—Cause of the Trouble Was Mr. Cawthra Mulock's Machine—Had Previously Come to Grief Itself—A Cow Got the Best of the Auto.

A serious accident occurred at Hastings yesterday to Miss Breckenbridge of Westwood. As a result of the unfortunate mishap Miss Breckenridge is suffering from a broken collar bone, several deep cuts on the face, that required a number of stitches, and other injuries. The accident was caused by the horse which was being driven by Miss Breckenbridge becoming frightened at Mr. Cawthra Mulock's touring car, the finest perhaps in Canada, and throwing her out on the hard road.

It appears that several weeks ago Mr. Justice Falconbridge, Mr. Justice Anglin and Mr. R. S. Cassels, barrister, of Toronto, accompanied by their chauffeur were travelling in Mr. Mulock's car from Toronto to Hastings where they were going to have a few days' fishing. They were coming into Hastings from Cobourg and when about three miles from the village, owing to the darkness of the night, the chauffeur ran down a team which had claimed the right of way. The touring car got the worst of it and came out of the mixup in a rather wrecked condition. A farmer's team of horses was engaged to haul the automobile to Hastings and and the chauffeur left next morning for New York to get the necessary repairs. He has been engaged in repairing the motor car for the past few days. When the automobile was supposed to be in order, again yesterday afternoon, it was given a trial trip. Something else went wrong, however, and the chauffeur had much difficulty in controlling it. In the excitement which was created the horse driven by Miss Brockenbridge took fright and ran away with the above mentioned deplorable results.

Miss Breckenbridge was attended by Dr. McCarthy, of Niagara Falls, who is spending a few weeks in Hastings and who happened to be close by at the time, and Dr. Berry of Hastings. She is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

The British Market Has Its Advantages

An Expert Article on the Exporting of Canadian Dairy Produce to Mother Land.

The Home and Foreign Markets—But, Important as the Market is the Character of the Produce Must Be Considered.

It is important that dairymen shall produce dairy goods of the best quality as cheaply as possible, consistent with good results. It is equally important that we find a suitable market for our goods when made. Valuable goods for which a profitable market cannot be found mean loss of energy, labour and capital, and causes discouragement to all concerned.

Markets for Canadian dairy products are of two classes—home and foreign. Our growing population will assimilate more and more of our home produce. Our great Northwest will provide a valuable market for many years to come. However, we produce and are likely to produce for many years to come, much more of the products of the dairy than we can consume, hence we must look abroad for a profitable market. It reciprocal trade with our neighbours on the south becomes an established fact, this would provide an outlet for a good deal of the stuff along the border, but we should still have a large surplus to export. For our surplus at present, no market is equal to that furnished by Great Britain. Her teeming population consisting largely of food consumers and not food producers makes this our best market. As one goes about the large cities of England and Scotland, and reflects that all these people must be fed largely from imported food products, he realises to some extent what an excellent market is found in the Old Land. Not only is the Mother Country a large consumer, but she is able and willing to pay the best prices for what she buys. Gold, the standard of values in nearly all civilized countries is more plentiful in London than in any city of the world. While England may be a "Nation of Shopkeepers," she has undoubtedly done well with the shops. We do not agree with those who say "Britain is fast decaying." This leads me to say that it is worth while for Canadians to study English methods of doing business. When purchasing, the English merchant is very anxious to get goods at as low a rate as possible, in order to make greater profit when selling. To secure this end he will ransack all quarters of the globe to find cheap goods suitable for his market. One illustration will suffice.

A cheese and butter merchant in Glasgow, when the trade in Russian butter and eggs began to develop, in order to get in touch with a dealer took a ten days trip to Russia, spent $400 in expenses, and as a result did a half million dollars worth of business with the Russian merchants the following year. The lesson to be learned from this is that if Canadian or any other goods are raised in price beyond the profit point, the British dealer will travel to every and all parts of the earth in order to get cheap goods. The British people have the ships to carry the goods, their sailors are the bravest that sail the seas, and cheap food they will have from some quarter. At present British merchants have their eyes on Argentina, as the most likely field of operations.

On the other hand, when the British merchant has anything to sell, he is anxious to get the highest possible price—not so much, perhaps, for the sake of making an extra shilling, because he would probably give it away soon after, to the coachman, or steward, as a "tip," but the does it as a result of the instinct of trading for profit, which is bred in the bone of an English shopkeeper. The following will illustrate the selling powers. As one walks about the streets of London, or of any other English city for that matter, he is amazed at the large amount of goods in the windows, all, or nearly all, labelled with a price. (By the way, you will notice that it is very seldom any article is marked an even shilling, or two, three or more shillings. It is nearly always "one and six," "two and three," "three and two," etc.) If you step inside, you are amazed at the smallness of the shop—it is nearly all window. If you ask for a certain article you saw in the window, marked at what seems to be a low price, almost invariably the shopkeeper or his clerk will say we do not recommend those goods, but we have something at one, two, five or ten shillings more, depending upon the class of goods you wish to purchase, which we will guarantee. These are the goods which he tries to sell. I have seen this in nearly every town and found it to work out the same in every place and with all kinds of goods.

The centre of the British Empire is undoubtedly the greatest market in the world and has this advantage that goods not required in London may be easily and quickly sent to any part of the United Kingdom. While this is true of nearly all the English seaports, it is especially true of London, where fast trains leave nearly every hour of the day for all parts. Probably the best ships and finest docks are to be found at Liverpool, yet London leads as a market centre. In London they speak of Manchester, Liverpool, Bristol, Leeds, etc., with populations of one-half to a million people each, as small provincial towns, which are easily supplied and whose markets are easily glutted. Any and all kinds of food products find a market in London at some price. Saltless Canadian butter meets with much favour on the London market. Some dealers complain of mould. I saw some packages which were very badly moulded, and for which a loss of two to four shillings per hundredweight had to be met by the Canadian manufacturer. One firm considered government grading and branding an important need for Canadian butter.

Bristol.

Next to London I consider Bristol the most favourable butter market for Canada. The dealers all seem disposed to favour Canadian goods. No competition from Danish butter is met with at this port. Irish is the chief competitor. Canadian cheese and bacon are also well liked in Bristol. The city is expending a large sum of money on improving the docks, and we think this enterprising city deserves a large share of Canadian exports of food products. The main points for butter in Bristol are good flavour, pale colour, but not white; about three per cent. salt, and good packing in boxes, containing not over or under 56 lbs. net. Double paper in boxes not necessary.

Glasgow.

Next to Bristol, or possibly before it I should place the Scotch town of Glasgow. Here, too, there are firms, one firm in particular, Andrew Clement & Son, who are pushing Canadian goods. This is a very strong point to be considered in marketing our supplies. The retail shopkeeper is not very particular where he gets his supplies so long as two points are gained — first an article that pleases his customer, and second an article that will enable him to make a shilling profit. If wholesalers can satisfy him on these two points with Canadian goods, he, the retailer, will handle them; but he will usually require some urging before he will change from a line of goods he is already familiar with, hence the importance of dealing with firms, whose travellers and agents will push our goods. The firm referred to say that they can handle 1,500 boxes of Canadian butter weekly, if they could depend upon the quality. At present they take only Eastern Townships centrifugal creamery, and say that they would not handle cream gathered creamery butter at all.

Leeds.

This, too, is a promising market for Canadian food products. Cheese for this market should be a pale straw colour and open and soft in texture. About the only complaint one hears about the Canadian cheese is that many of them are too hard and dry, or, as one man expressed it, they are too "bony." This is a point which must receive more attention at the hands of our makers. The two chief causes of bony cheese are stirring the curds too much after dipping and developing too much acid before or after removal of the curd from the whey.

One Leeds firm was positive that cheese for this market should not weight over 55 pounds, while another firm contended that 75 to 80 pounds was the correct weight. The first firm considered that the month of manufacture should be stamped on the cheese. Paraffined cheese do not seem to meet with much favour on this market. Some very badly finished Canadian cheese were on the markets in Leeds. Also some very badly broken boxes.

This is one of the most favourable butter markets north of London I visited. They prefer the butter in casks holding 112 pounds net. One firm offers two shillings per cwt. extra for butter in casks as compared with butter in boxes.

Liverpool

This is an excellent distributing port for all the west of England. They like a cheese of rough texture and soft body for the Liverpool market. Both salted and unsalted butter may be sent to this market. The docks in Liverpool are possibly the finest in the world.

Manchester.

This is one of the largest butter markets in England, but for a Canadian a very difficult one to cater for. The competition among Danish, Swedish, Finnish and Irish is so keen that it is difficult to secure a footing. The first week in July Danish was selling for 112 shillings, Swedish and Irish 104, and dealers were expecting some Canadian to arrive that week at 97 shillings. Nearly all the merchants with whom I talked seemed to consider Canadian Butter a cheap butter, and if they could get it for about 84 to 90 shillings, they would be more inclined to push the sale. They prefer to handle Danish, Swedish or Irish, because they say the quality is more uniform than Canadian.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years the doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

MEET WORK BRAVELY.

A man in Winnipeg lost his situation in a warehouse, and because he could not get another he shot himself through the head. There's no excuse for this sort of thing in the bustling West. If a man cannot get the kind of a situation he wants he is very unwise to shoot himself to death. He has only to take a walk into the country, especially at this time of the year and get all the work he wants. If it doesn't exactly suit him it is better than shooting. It will yield bread and butter and a little money, enough to ride him over till something more congenial turns up, or is turned up, which is the better way. In such cases as this the principle of Dr. Osler's chloroform idea comes into play. If a man, with chances to work staring him in the face on every side, simply because he cannot get what he thinks he wants in the way of employment, unless there is some physical reason in the way of bodily infirmity, is weak enough to prefer suicide, it is, perhaps, as well—he has not enough in him to meet with success the bustle of life, which is no mere matter of beer and skittles, but a struggle in which the weak or the unwilling is forced to the wall. There must be a mental crookedness in the man who reasons so unreasonably as to conclude that "not to be" is preferable to "to be," unless his ideas of work that is pleasing are met. Work, to the most of us who work, is not the most pleasing thing in the world, but it is, to the devel-headed man, better than cold lead. Work of any kind is much what the worker makes it, either a pleasure of a drudgery. If a man or woman drops into some uncongenial situation, if they discharge their duties faithfully, so much the better is he or she prepared for the congenial employment when the opportunity presents or is made. The man or woman who is faithful in small things, shows or develops a spirit of fidelity to duty which is the best equipment for the battle of life.

PENNY SAVINGS IN SCHOOLS.

It will be remembered that some time ago the Examiner and Dr. Barnhardt, at the time chairman of the Board of Education, worked up a decided interest on the question of the advisability of savings banks in connection with the schools. A strong case was made out in their favour and the then Board was like Felix, "almost persuaded," but the inexplicable opposition of one or two members of the Board prevented the adoption of the system. Wherever the system of savings banks in connection with schools has been adopted it has worked well. As evidence of this thirteen new branches of the penny savings banks in connection with the Toronto Public Schools were opened on Monday of last week. The deposits numbered 2,166 and the amount deposited was $594. In the schools which had had banks for 18 months, the amounts saved during the recent vacation and deposited amounted to $843. The grand total is 2,531 new accounts, 4,129 deposits and $1,348 received. The deposits in the penny savings banks of the Toronto Public Schools total $18,000. There is besides in the bank a total deposit of $49,000, most of which has been made by poor persons in sums of from one to 25 cents.

The figures speak for themselves, but the philanthropists and financial men of Toronto persist in joining in the chorus. They see in the success of this notable project substantial evidence of the desire of the intelligent members of what are known as the poorer classes to adopt themselves and to encourage in their children the invaluable habit of thrift and they predict for the children so instructed a great influence upon the generation in which these children will appear as grown men and women.

The Penny Savings Bank works under Dominion legislation. It has no profits and declares no dividends. It is not allowed to take accounts of over $300. It cannot invest the money received. The money is deposited with the government and there is moreover a special guarantee fund of $25,000 provided by men, among whom were C. D. Massey, Robert Jaffray, Z. A. Lash, B. E. Walker, J. W. Flavelle, George A. Cox, Edmund Osler, W. D. Matthews, H. C. Hammond, E. R. Wood, E. S. Clouston, Duncan Coulson, the late George Gooderham.

The managers of the branch banks give their services free of charge. The only expenses are for purely clerical services and for supplies.

The aim of the institution is to encourage thrift from childhood up. An account will be taken in the Kindergarten and transferred from school to school till it reaches the maximum, $300. Then the management will introduce the depositor to a larger bank if he desires it.

The benefits of the plan are so obvious as to call for no comment. It is about as wise and decent a project as Canadian philanthroph has ever devised, and if our Board of Education, desires to give a practical trend to the education of our youth, which will equip them for making the best use of the literary education the schools impart, they will give their attention to the question of penny savings banks for school children.

Expert Examines Mr. Crowley's Mining Claim

Dr. Lawrence of Fort Francis Makes Investigation.

Will Report on The Mineral Resources of That District.

The Fort Francis Times, in its last issue says:—Dr. Lawrence the mining expert who recently accompanied Mr. T. H. Crowley on an examination of the latter's iron and copper locations near Pipeatons lake, arrived in town from the east on Monday of last week. The doctor is here in the interest of some eastern capitalists who having heard of the rich resources of the Rainy Lake region near Fort Frances have commissioned him to examine several locations of iron pyrites. This mineral when found in large quantities will find a ready market and as the deposits here are said to be very extensive it is just probable that the properties will be opened up in the very near future. One outcrop has been traced 60 feet in width and for a considerable distance in length which is the largest deposit Dr. Lawrence says he ever saw in Canada. To the Times the doctor said that with the great development of our water power would come pulp industries and this would open up the field for sulphide and chemical works. Paper made by this process was worth more than that made any other way and as there was such large deposits of of sulpher so close at hand it would be an easy matter to do this. Speaking of the Crowley iron deposits he said that Mr. Crowley was now in the east arranging for a diamond drill to be put on the range so as to make a thorough test as to the ore body. When asked as to the copper deposits which the Times reported a few weeks ago as having been made he said the properties had been secured by Mr. Crowley and were very valuable not only in copper but in other minerals of which copper was a small portion. Should Dr. Lawrence find any large deposits in place of pyrites it will be the means of creating another mining excitement equal to that of 1896.

DISCRIMINATING LADIES

Enjoy Using Herpicide on Account of Its Distinctiveness.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allays that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpicide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive.

SCARCITY OF LABOUR
IN PETERBOROUGH
A PERPLEXING CONDITION

Not Only Scarcity, But in Some Cases Absolute Lack of Hands to do Needed Work—Many Things at an Enforced Stand-still Because Men Cannot be Had to do the Work—Building and Concrete Operations Especially Affected—Odd-Jobs-Men are an Unknown Commodity.

Satan, who is credited with being an energetic employment agent — in providing work [illegible] hands to do—would have a poor field of operation in Peterborough at the present time. He would have, to speak metaphorically, "the devil's own time" to find an idle man. The fine weather has prolonged the duration of outside work far beyond the usual time, and in a manner to demand the services of every pick and shovel wielder, and every wielder of hammer and trowel. There is a veritable labour famine in town.

Two gentlemen coming down Hunter street this morning, were talking of the scarcity of labour, and when they came to the corner of George street, they saw two citizens coming from different directions, their faces drawn with anxiety, rush up and accost a working man, evidently on his way to work, with the question:

"Are you working?"

"Yes."

"Do your know where I could get a man to do some excavating?"

"No; don't think you can get anybody."

The seekers for labour were told, and in no bantering spirit either, and truthfully, too, that if they wanted their work done they would have to shed their coats and do it themselves.—

"But I'm so busy with with my own work that I can hardly find time for my meals."

This state of things prevails all over the town, in every branch of business, and occupation.

A contractor took the train this morning for an outside town, to see if he could get carpenters. Two sewer contracts are at a standstill for lack of men, and one sewer contractor began his job with six or seven men a day or two ago, and it is said that hardly had they begun to work, when they demanded an advance in wages—they got it—they were for the moment the masters of the situation.

This state of things in connection with the sewer contracts is credited by some to the town authorities, who postponed letting sewer contracts till men were pretty well absorbed by drafts sent to the lumber woods, and by the rush of building operations, which generally sets in in the late summer and autumn — contractors and builders strain every nerve to get walls up and roofs on, so that the inside work can be done in the rough and cold weather.

The labour situation is at present very acute, and many building operations, and much odd-job, end of the season work will have to be postponed from absolute lack of hands to do it. The man who is idle these days, is idle because he does not want to work.

The Two Wards Will Be Re-arranged

Ald. Tovey at the meeting of the Committe of the Whole performed a service to the people of his ward, which they will doubtless remember. He called attention to the fact that there were not sufficient polling places in No. 1 Ward, and asked that the sub-divisions of the ward be re-arranged, making three instead of two as at present, and giving an extra polling place on election days. The ward was large, and the population constantly growing, and at present there was considerable difficulty on polling days in accommodating all those who wished to vote.

It developed in the discussion that No. Four Ward was similarly situated, and it was decided that a committee composed of the Mayor, Ald. Mason, and Tovey, should be appointed to re-arrange these two wards.

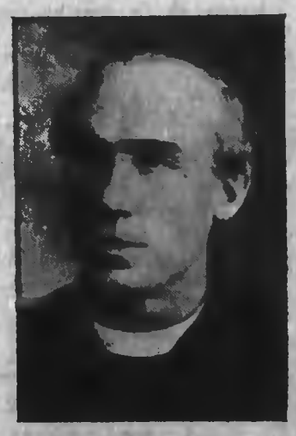
St. Mary's Church Was Re-opened

Largely Attended Services Held at Hastings Yesterday.

Many Visiting Clergy Assisted—Improvements Were Made by Local Workmen.

Large congregations attended the re-opening in Hastings yesterday, of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, which has for some time being undergoing extensive repairs and alterations at the hands of several of Peterborough's well known decorative artists, Messrs. Shevlin, Watson, McCabe and Koster.

The interior as a result, presents a beautiful appearance. The walls have been done in a terra-cotta finish, the ceiling panelled and decorated with stencil work, and the pews painted and grained. A beautiful new carpet has also been laid in the sanctuary.



REV. FATHER McCOLL,

The re-opening took place yesterday by a solemn high mass, which was celebrated by Rev. Father Bretherton, rector of the church. Rev. Father Fitzpatrick of Ennismore, officiated as Deacon, and Rev. Father Phelan of Young's Point, as sub-Deacon, of the mass. Among the visiting clergymen present were Rev. Father Conway, P.P., Norwood; Rev. Father Whibbs, P.P., Campbellford; and Rev. Father McColl, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough.

At the end of the mass the sermon was preached by Rev. Father McColl, who chose a most appropriate text, viz., "How lovely are Thy tabernacles, O Lord of Hosts! My soul longeth and fainteth for the Courts of the Lord.—Psalms 83—1.

In the course of his remarks the preacher took occasion to congratulate both the pastor and the congregation upon the beauties of the Church and the generosity of the people.

In the evening at Vespers the sermon was preached by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, and the benediction pronounced by Rev. Father Phelan. Both services were attended by large congregations. The music was of a special character appropriate to the occasion. It was rendered under the direction of Miss Murphy, organist of the church, Miss Bagley, violinist, assisting.

Rev. Father Bretherton has been the recipient of many congratulations upon the gratifying success which has attended the efforts of the congregations with regard to the improvements. The beautiful character of the work has given rise to general expressions of delight and admiration on the part of visitors to the church.

Aylmer Street Drain Again

The much-discussed Aylmer street drain was again under consideration last night at the meeting of the Committee of the Whole. Mr. Hay, the City Engineer, reported to the chairman that the outlet on Bethune street was in a bad condition, and that the timbers were rotten. He recommended that if the creek was diverted at Barnardo avenue or Edinburgh street, the Bethune street drain might not be required in case a tile drain was laid on Aylmer street.

He recommended the purchase of blocks for the manufacture of concrete tile, since it was probable that the city would have to use considerable of this tile in the near future.

It was decided to buy, nine, twelve, fifteen and eighteen inch blocks for the manufacture of this tile.

Twenty Boys on Strike at Public School

As a Protest Against Alleged Unsanitary Conditions.

Some Interesting Developements Likely to Follow—School Board to Deal With Matter.

This morning about twenty boys, pupils in the Central School decided not to attend school again until what they alleged were unsanitary conditions were remedied. The boys, who have taken the method of protesting against being made to attend school and be taught under conditions which they claim exist, are pupils in the class taught by Mr. T. J. Wallace, and they claim that for about a year past the plumbing beneath the floor has been in such a condition that it is most unpleasant to have to remain in the room, while they are also of the opinion that it is not only unpleasant but unhealthy as well and have refused to attend school until the evil is remedied.

The Board of Education has known for some time that the conditions were not ideal, and have, it is understood, been trying to have the matter adjusted. An expert from Toronto has been telegraphed for. An informal meeting of the board was held to-day and it was decided to ascertain the facts, and deal with them at a special meeting to-morrow night.

There are no boys there either, however. They gathered at the school this morning before nine o'clock, and organized a procession, and paraded a few of the streets, afterwards dispersing.

Their action in refusing to go to school, without the consent of the teacher, or inspector, to remain away is looked upon as a serious matter, and the boys are considered as truants in the eyes of the school authorities.

The parents of the boys, or some of them at least, are, it is understood, in sympathy with their action, but this fact does not relieve the boys from the penalty for their offense against the school laws.

It is understood that they will not be allowed to return to school until they have apologized for their action, and it is stated that it may be a police court matter, since truancy is an offence which is punishable in the courts of law.

A gentleman who understands the situation to-day informed the Examiner that while the boys were probably influenced partially by a natural boyish desire for a holiday, they undoubtedly had considerable to put up with during the past year, since the conditions have been so unpleasant, but whether they have been unhealthy he was not prepared to say.

The outcome, however, will be watched with deep interest, and in the meantime, of course, the boys are looked upon by their companions as heroes.

Y.M.C.A. Opening Social Was Great Success

Large Attendance and Most Enjoyable Evening Spent.

Checker Tournament and Basket Ball Game—Checker Club Will Be Organized.

The opening tea held last night at the Y.M.C.A., was, in every respect, a gratifying success, and the first of what promises to be a succession, during the coming season, of enjoyable evenings, was spent by those present.

The attendance was larger than that at similar events in any previous year, and for this reason, if for no other, presages a successful season.

The various features of the affair were all heartily enjoyed. The checker tournament was, as was intended, the leading event of the evening, and this ever-popular game of skill had numerous devotees, thirteen distinct sets being engaged. The contest was a spirited one, and the victory for a long time was in doubt. The number of participants narrowed gradually, but surely, till the concluding game, an interesting contest, took place between Mr. J. J. Beyett and Mr. W. J. Coleman, the latter falling a victim to the skilful manipulation of the discs, which carried his opponent successfully through about fifteen straight games.

Basketball Game.

As the battle of intellects was in progress a warfare of a more strenuous nature was meantime being waged in the gymnasium, where physical prowess was the supreme essential to victory.

A basketball game was arranged between a picked team and a team representative of the C. G. E. works. A fast and exciting game was witnessed, the C. G. E. team going down to defeat to the tune of 20—17. The line up was as follows:

C. G. E. — Picked team.

After the game refreshments were served in the Board Room by the Social Committee, whose efforts on behalf of the affair have been of a tireless character and for this reason the large measure of success attained is the more gratifying.

A short comedy skit, entitled "Percy and Harold," was presented to an appreciative audience by Coleman Brothers, one of whom, Mr. Will Coleman, is to leave the city shortly. This "turn" was cleverly presented, and was most mirth-provoking, both in its dialogue and musical features. The accompaniments were played by Mr. Perry, who also rendered a number of delightful pianoforte selections during the evening.

The evening was not, however, without its concrete results, as an outcome of it will be the organization at once of a checker club, which will undoubtedly find many active members during the autumn and the winter months.

TELEPHONE TALKS.

TO TELEPHONE USERS AND THE GENERAL PUBLIC,—

One of the striking facts brought out before the Parliamentary Special Committee, was the unparalleled spread of telephone service in the rural districts of Ohio and Indiana referred to in our last "talk." How this has been brought about, was very clearly described by a witness who has been in close touch with the business throughout. This is a point of great interest, and to afford a fair understanding of this matter, we cannot do better than quote extracts from this evidence. He said:—

"In Ohio and Indiana, and all through the west, there has "been a tremendous increase in the telephone business" * * * "The farmers built their own lines, furnished their own "telephones, and keep them in order." * * * "It has been "the enormous number of farmers' stations constructed "with their own money, that has created this tremendous "expansion that has occurred, especially in the thickly "settled sections." * * * "The farmers made their arrange- "ments with the telephone company for connecting their "line with the local exchange, or with the toll system." * * * "The charge by the company for such connection is from "25 cents to 50 cents per month for each subscriber, which "gives free service with all subscribers to the exchange."

The same witness said:—

"In case of competitition, we do not connect with such lines. The arrangement covers a defined territory."

This statement outlines the plan upon which the great rural telephone service of Ohio and Indiana has been developed. It has been a work of the farmers themselves, not in opposition to, or in competition with, the general telephone systems, but in co-operation with the large operating companies.

This plan, which has met with such success in the States mentioned, is a part of the policy of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada, and material inducements are offered to every rural section which may require telephone service. We have many such connecting systems now, and we are ready to encourage and assist any group of farmers who wish to avail themselves of the plan which has been so successful in some parts of the United States. We do not wish it to be understood, however, that the above is the only plan upon which we are prepared to furnish service to farmers.

Locals Lost To Yankees Yesterday

Rochester Ball Team Won by a Score of 4-1.

Visitors Played Good Ball—Game Was Witnessed By Small Crowd.

The Rochester Post Office Baseball team, who are touring Ontario, visited Peterborough yesterday, and succeeded in winning from the locals by a score of 4-1. The visitors are a husky aggregation, and notwithstanding the fact that many of them have been out of the game for some time, they displayed an intimate knowledge of the fine points of the game, evidently acquired at an earlier period in their existence. Their battery worked well, and Hall, on the slab, had "57 varieties" of benders to hand out. He had good control and lots of speed.

The locals did not extend themselves to a league game standard. Quinlan, in the box was fast, though hit somewhat freely at times. The support was also ragged upon some occasions particularly in throwing to bases.

The feature of the game was Sabin's home run in the first inning. He did some remarkable batting stunts during the game, but was not successful in duplicating his first performance. The teams were composed as follows:—

PETERBOROUGH.	ROCHESTER.
Pitcher.
Quinlan	Hall
Catcher.
Shea	Sabin
First Base.
Graham	Cornear
Second Base.
Rattray	Hitchfield
Third Base.
Earls	Murray
Short Stop.
Callaghan	Maley
Centre Field.
McFadden	Brennan
Right Field.
Pilling	Donelly
Left Field.
Fitzpatrick	Maher

Umpire—Dan McCabe.

The Play.

First Innings.—Brennan got a one bagger. Sabin knocked out one over the sawdust into the creek, securing a home. Murray, Hitchfield and Maher struck out in quick succession. Score 2-0.

Graham died at first. Shea beat out one to pitcher, going out at first. Rattray expired in a similar manner.

Second Inning.—Maher fanned, Donnelly beat out a grasser to second going out—Rattray to first. Hall died at first.

Earls reached second on a hit to right field. Earls went out in an attempt to pilfer the plate. Quinlan struck out. Callaghan got first on a hit to left. Quinlan stole second, going out at third.

Third Innings.—Brennan fanned. Sabin knocked out a long one to left but was out at second. Murray walked and reached home on Hitchfield's hit to short right. Cornear fanned.

Fitzpatrick went out, short to first. McFadden and Pilling fanned.

Fourth Innings.—Maley got first on a hit to right. Maher fanned. Donnelly placed one to short right. Maher came in on Pilling's error to third. Hall expired at first. Donnelly reaching home. Score 4-0.

Graham fanned. Shea went out, short to first. Rattray fanned.

Fifth Innings.—Sabin out pitcher to first. Murray got first. Hitchfield reached first on hit to third, Murray going out. Cornear fanned.

Earls and Quinlan fanned Callaghan out, third to first.

Sixth Innings.—Maley hit to third, going out at first. Maher fanned. Donnelly out to pitcher.

Fitzpatrick bunted and went out. McFadden fanned. Pilling beat out a two bagger to left. Graham got first on hit to right, advancing Pilling, who came home on a wild throw—catcher to third. Shea fanned. Score 4-1.

Seventh Innings.—Hall walked, getting home on a series of errors. Brennan knocked out a high one which was nicely taken by Callahan. Sabin and Murray fanned.

Rattray fanned. Earls reached first on hit to right, getting second on wild throw to first, and stealing third. Quinlan fanned and Earls was out stealing home.

Catch-as-Catch-Can Wrestling

The rules of catch as catch can, wrestling under which the contest will take place on Tuesday night, in the Brock street rink, between Mont Wilson and Capt. Ross, are as follows:—

The wrestlers must be stripped above the waist. They can wrestle in their stocking feet or wear rubber sandals. Their hair must be cut short, also their finger nails. They are not allowed to grease or put any pernicious drug on their head or body. They are allowed one second each, who will select a referee, and his decision shall be final on all points in dispute. At the call of time the wrestlers will advance to the centre, shake hands, and immediately commence wrestling. They are allowed to take any hold from the head to the feet. They are not allowed to bite, kick, gouge, scratch, nor use the strangle hold (if it is barred). Same applies to the full Nelson. To constitute a fall, two shoulders and one hip must be put squarely down, or two hips and one shoulder. Flying falls not to count.

Snow Cleaning Was Discussed By Aldermen

The By-Law Will Probably be Amended This Year.

Solution of the Problem is Difficult Matter—Many Suggestions.

Some of the Aldermen got hot last night at the question of snow plows. Ald. Begley, at the meeting of the Committee of the Whole brought up the matter, and asked if the council intended to use the same old plows, which had been in use last year. He was of the opinion that they were obsolete, and that it was impossible to do good work with them. He had seen the difficulties under which the men had worked in attempting to clean the walks last year, and thought that some change should be made, which would enable the work to be more satisfactorily done. The old wooden plows which had been used on the outskirts of the city were of very little use.

Ald. Adams stated his opinion that the only satisfactory way to solve the question was by making each property owner responsible for the work in front of his own property.

Ald. Hall did not think that the time had come when it was desirable to make each one clean off his walk. His idea of the trouble was that the men who took the contract for the work did not do their duty. They were too anxious to get through with their work, and no care was taken to do it properly.

Ald. Scott added his suggestion to the effect that in Galt they had a very satisfactory system. There every one had to shovel his own walk, and it had to be done by 10 o'clock. If it were not cleaned by that hour the corporation did the work and charged the cost up to the property.

Ald. Adams wondered how it would do to let the contract to one party and make him responsible for the work, but to this plan Ald. Adams objected, stating his belief that no one man would be financially responsible.

mission that the Council was unable to handle the job, and if the said system was followed out in all the work the Council could appoint someone to run the whole municipal business and there would be nothing left for the aldermen to do. What he did favour was to have one man supervise the whole work and see that it was done properly.

Ald. Hicks suggested that in a central district, the bounds of which might be prescribed, each one might be made to clean his walk, while in the outlying parts the town could do the work and charge the cost up to the property benefited, similar to the present system of street-watering.

The suggestion was made that it might be desirable to look into the snow by-law, as it seemed difficult to make conviction under it, and the whole question of plans and by-law was later referred to the Board Works to deal with, on motion of Ald. Hall.

Horse Stealer Given Three Months in Jail

Hector Baker Sentenced This Morning at Police Court.

Prisoner Thought $5.00 an Easy Assessment For Using Profane Language.

Hector Baker, the man who a few days ago appropriated to his own uses a horse and buggy belonging to James Scriver, and who was discovered later in a ditch on Stewart street, faced the magistrate again at the police court this morning.

The prisoner pleaded guilty to the charge of taking the outfit, though not, he affirmed, with the intention of stealing it. He was given a three months' term in the common jail with hard labour.

The next case was disposed of quickly. John Liddell, charged with using profane language, replied "guilty." "Five dollars!" quoth the court. "That's easy!" replied John; and the lucre was promptly forthcoming.

Life Insurance Companies' Doings in Frenzied Finance.

"NOT YET REACHED MEAT"

Charles E. Hughes, Chief Counsel For the Committee, Indicates That Further Interesting Developments May Be Looked For — George W. Perkins of the New York Life Insurance Company On the Stand.

New York, Sept. 22.—The probing of the methods of life insurance companies was resumed yesterday by the executive investigating committee. Before the day's proceedings were begun, Charles E. Hughes, chief counsel of the committee, said:

"We have not yet reached the meat of this inquiry. In fact, we have only started."

The first witness yesterday was John F. McCullagh of Albany, who is employed by Andrew A. Hamilton. The cheque for $100,000 given by the New York Life Insurance Co. to Mr. Hamilton bore McCullagh's name as endorser, but the witness said he knew nothing about the cheques, except what he had read in the newspapers. He did not know whether Mr. Hamilton appeared before legislative committees.

George W. Perkins, vice-president of the New York Life Insurance Co., and a partner in the banking firm of J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., was the next witness. He was asked to produce the cheque for $800,000 given to J. P. Morgan & Co. by the New York Life Insurance Co. for $800,000 of bonds of the navigation syndicate.

Cheque As Evidence.

These bonds were sold by the New York Life Insurance Co. to Morgan and Co. at the close of the calendar year, December 31, 1903, and bought back on the next business day, January 2, 1904. The cheque was offered as evidence.

In a joint account with W. S. Fanshawe & Co. in 1904, to take an issue of Northern Pacific and Great Northern bonds, Mr. Perkins in his testimony yesterday said J. P. Morgan & Co. were the syndicate managers, and the money for the purchase was furnished by the New York Life Insurance Co. A number of other joint accounts were gone over, and then Mr. Perkins asked and was granted permission to make a statement.

Never Made a Loss.

"In these joint accounts," he said, "we have never made a loss. Our profits from 1897 to date have been on these joint accounts, $635,922, and when the value of the bonds withdrawn are considered, the profits of every description run up to $886,604. There is one other person, however, connected with the contracts I would like to mention in order to have his name on the record, Mr. Hughes himself. He is a policyholder in the New York Life Insurance Co., and as such is a party to all these contracts."

"Considering my vital interest in these matters," said Mr. Hughes, "I intend at a future date to probe very fully into them."

Mr. Perkins also presented a number of other financial statements that had been requested. Then he said:

"Mr. Hughes, I think I have everything you asked for. I wish to make a correction on the records. I think you assumed the object of the Navigation Syndicate transaction between the New York Life and J. P. Morgan & Co., was to enable the former to reduce their holding temporarily from $4,000,000 to $3,200,000.

Meant to Say No.

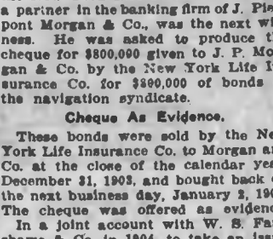
"You ask whatever our purpose was to report $3,200,000 instead of $4,000,000. The record as furnished me records me as answering, 'Yes, sir.' I wish to correct that. I didn't mean that. I don't mean it."

"You mean to say no?" asked Mr. Hughes.

"I mean to say no," replied Mr. Perkins.

Mr. Hughes asked Mr. Perkins to produce all certificates the New York Life held on December 31, 1903, showing its participation in the navigation syndicate, and he particularly wished to know what instrument or certificate the New York Life Insurance Co. delivered to J. P. Morgan & Co., on that date.

"I will be glad to furnish the information," said witness.



WILL IT CURE ME?

That's the personal question a woman asks herself when she reads of the cure of womanly diseases by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

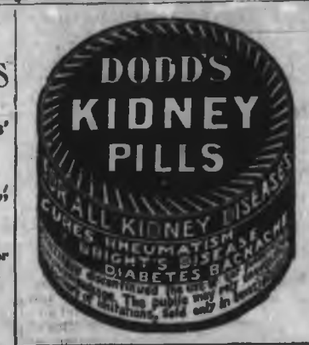
Why shouldn't it cure her?

Is it a complicated case? Thousands of such cases have been cured by "Favorite Prescription." Is it a condition which local doctors have declared incurable? Among the hundreds of thousands of sick women cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription there are a great many who were pronounced incurable by local doctors. Wonders have been worked by "Favorite Prescription" in the cure of irregularity, weakening drains, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures.

"I commenced taking your medicine, 'Favorite Prescription,' nearly a year ago for chronic inflammation of womb, and can truly say it is the only thing that ever did me any good," writes Mrs. L. O. Wagner, of 220 Edwin Street, Toronto, Ontario, Canada. "I could not walk any distance before using it. After taking six bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' I find I can walk without difficulty and am greatly benefited in general health. Would advise all suffering women to use Dr. Pierce's medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets

These are the Original Little Liver Pills, first put up over 40 years ago, by old Dr. R. V. Pierce. They've been much imitated but never equalled. Smallest, easiest to take and best. They're tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious granules, a compound of refined and concentrated vegetable extracts. Without disturbance or trouble, constipation, indigestion, bilious attacks, sick and bilious headaches, and all derangements of the liver, stomach, and bowels are prevented, relieved, and cured. Permanently cured, too, by their mild and natural action, these little Pellets gently lead the system into natural ways again. Their influence lasts.



ARMISTICE HAS BEEN ARRANGED

Concluded in Five Hours Between Russia and Japan.

JESSEN AND KAMIMURA MET

The Two Admirals Arranged the Zones In Which Their Fleets Are Free to Circulate, the Question of Contraband, and That Narrowest Portion of the Gulf of Tartary Should Be Neutral.

Vladivostock, Wednesday, Sept. 20.—The Russian and Japanese squadrons, commanded respectively by Rear-Admiral Jessen and Vice-Admiral Kamimura, met in Koruiloff Bay, September 16, and the admirals arranged the terms of the naval armistice. The conference, which lasted five hours, determined on the zones in which ships of the two nations are free to circulate, and regulated the question of contraband, and established a line of demarcation beyond which military control shall not be carried.

Confirmed In Tokio.

Tokio, Sept. 22.—The Navy Department yesterday confirmed the Vladivostock report announcing the conclusion of a naval armistice between Rear-Admiral Jessen, representing Russia, and Admiral Kamimura in behalf of Japan. The narrowest portion of the Gulf of Tartary remains neutral.

Rear-Admiral Jessen requested permission to send provisions to Kamtchatka, to which Admiral Kamimura willingly agreed.

Cabinet In Session.

A prolonged meeting of the Cabinet and Elder Statesmen took place yesterday, but the subject of the conference has not yet been made public. It is believed that various matters relating to home and foreign policy were under discussion.

Facial Paralysis

Mr. W. J. Brennan, Western Hill, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "My face was all twisted out of shape with facial paralysis, and five doctors failed to cure or even relieve. By the persistent use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I have been entirely cured, and have returned to work strong and well. I have gained in weight, and feel that I have a new lease of life."

CANADA TO JAPAN.

Dominion Asks Inquiry Into Seizure of Fishing Tug.

Ottawa, Sept. 22.—The seizure of a British Columbia fishing schooner by a Japanese warship on a charge of carrying contraband of war has been reported to the Dominion Government by the owners of the vessel, and action to secure her release is asked for.

The vessel was engaged in carrying a cargo of salt from its owners, a British Columbia fishing company, to Sakhalin Island, to be used by the fishermen.

The Japanese took this to be contraband and made a seizure, taking the schooner to a port in Manchuria. The Government is taking action through the Imperial authorities, asking an enquiry as to whether the facts are as stated. If they are there was no reason for seizure.

Cecil Rhodes Brother Dies.

London, Sept. 22.—Col. Francis Wm. Rhodes (retired), brother of the late Cecil Rhodes, died yesterday at Cape Town from black water fever. He was prominent in the Jameson Raid and was arrested by the Transvaal Government, pleaded guilty to the charge of high treason, and was sentenced to death. The sentence subsequently was commuted.

Accept Arbitration.

Montreal, Sept. 22.—The Plasterers' Union has accepted the proposal of his Grace Archbishop Bruchesi for the establishment of an arbitration tribunal to decide upon the disputes between masters and workingmen. The Master Plasterers' Association has also signified its intention of accepting the proposal.

Repeal the Scott Act.

Ottawa, Sept. 22.—Steps are now being taken in Prince County, Prince Edward Island, to have the Scott Act repealed and have a local law substituted therefor. It is said that the local law is more stringent. The Scott Act was first adopted in Prince County in 1878.

Stole As They Went.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Sept. 22.—George Loder and Joseph McAller, two young men who had made a fortnight's tour of the island, driving stolen horses and wagons and stealing as they went, were yesterday committed to the Supreme Court on five charges.

TRADE RETURNS SATISFACTORY

They Are Improving and Shew Increased Total.

TRADE WITH THE JAPANESE

Canada Will Receive Favored-Nation Treatment, And It Is Likely the Concession Will Be Reciprocal —Trade Returns Show No Danger of a Drop In Customs Revenue.

Ottawa, Sept. 22.—The compilation of trade returns for the first two months of the fiscal year terminating on August 31 was completed yesterday. There appears to be no danger of a drop in the customs revenue, which amounted for this period to $7,160,179, being a betterment of $377,611, when compared with the same period of the previous fiscal year. The totals imports were $42,686,265, exclusive of coin and bullion, a gain of $3,187,265. For the month of August only the value of imports was $24,261,105, an increase of $1,782,002. Coming to exports, the showing is not so favorable, although there are signs of an early substantial improvement. The export of domestic products reached a total value of $33,952,325, which is $1,737,030 behind the amount for July and August, 1904. For the month of August only the decline in exports was less than a million dollars.

Export Gains.

Taking exports by classes for the two months period, the following approximate gains are noticed: Mines, $500,000; animals and their produce, $496,792; manufactures, $156,439. The improvement in these important classes of exports, which a short time ago were either stationary or falling behind, is most encouraging. Decreases have, however, to be noticed of $112,000 in fisheries, $200,000 in lumber, and $2,621,650 in agricultural products. The falling off in exports will easily be made up before the close of the fiscal year, and we may look for some phenomenal figures at the end of the twelve months. This will be mainly due to the immense harvest in the Northwest and the consequent heavy exportation of wheat.

Trade Relations With Japan.

At an early meeting of the Cabinet the question of seeking to take advantage of the Japanese minimum tariff will be considered. Canada has already been informally made aware that her products will be admitted into the Japanese Empire at a lower scale of duties, but formal action must be taken before the concession can take effect. What will likely be done will be to apply through the Foreign Office to the Japanese Government to get the benefit of the minimum tariff. A concession of this kind on Japan's part would merit reciprocal action on our part as soon as we have adopted a maximum and minimum tariff.

Mrs. Annie Goddard, Aged 73, Perhaps Fatally Injured.

Toronto, Sept. 22.—Mrs. Annie Goddard, 73 years old, is at the General Hospital in a serious condition, as the result of an attack made upon her by a vicious cow.

She lives on Merton avenue, Davisville, and was on her way home when the beast attacked her without any cause. She attempted to protect herself but was forced to run away.

The cow caught her in the back with its horns and threw her some distance. Mrs. Goddard fell on her arm, breaking it badly. Then the cow again attacked her while she was lying on the ground near the sidewalk. The horns pierced her side and rendered her helpless.

The cow belonged to a man named Mulock and was running at large along with others.

—An exquisite floral specimen of daintily designed drawn silk embroidery is at present on exhibition in the show window of Mr. Harry Adams' store. It is surrounded by a delicate circular ribbon border of pale green silk embroidery. It is truly a thing of beauty, which would become a joy forever to the woman who possessed it.

A Dog Fight, a Pail, and Other Things

Were the Composite Cause of An Assault Case at Norwood.

John Davidson Principal of High School Figures as Defendant in Case Heard Yesterday.

The town hall at Norwood, was yesterday filled to the overflowing point with spectators, who assembled to hear the evidence in the much-discussed assault case, in which Mr. John Davidson, principal of the High School, figures as defendant.

The case was heard before County Police Magistrate Edmison. The alleged assault arose from a dog-fight which occurred on September 4th, in which it appears that defendant's canine became engaged in an embroglio with two terriers belonging to Benjamin B. Baker, who, it is alleged, was struck upon the head with a pail by the defendant.

Considerable evidence was taken. The defendant refused to elect as to trial, and yesterday's proceedings were considered as a preliminary hearing, which will be continued at the Court House here on Wednesday next.

Crown Attorney Wood conducted the case for the prosecution; Mr. F. D Kerr appearing for Baker; and Mr. E. B. Edwards, K.C., for the defendant, Davidson.

The Evidence.

The complainant, Benjamin B. Baker, testified that on September 4 last the difficulty with the defendant had arisen, while he was engaged as carpenter work at his greenhouse. Hearing a dog fight outside, he ran out with a hammer in his hand, and found his dog, a small Scotch terrier, fighting with the defendant's bulldog. Previous to going out he had heard his wife exclaim, "Take your dog off, Mr. Davidson; you will kill my dog!"

The defendant made no effort to separate the canines, and witness at once attempted to do so. While stooping down beside the defendant the latter had the pail (produced in court,) with which he struck witness on the head, knocking him down, and inflicting a cut which bled profusely. Witness arose and again attempted to part the fighting animals, when defendant pulled his dog away.

Witness was confined to his bed as a result of the assault, for about a week. Dr. Ford attended to his injuries, from which he had not yet fully recovered. Defendant came to witness on Tuesday leaving a paper with the latter's wife, for him to sign, stating that the affair was an accident. Witness did not sign.

In cross-examination witness stated that he and the defendant have been neighbours, and have always been on good terms. He could not say that he had struck at the latter's dog with the hammer or not, but did not think that he did. Defendant swung the pail in the air and brought it down with great force on the prisoner's head. He was struck on the lower part of the left temple, receiving a deep cut. For the sake of peace witness would not have instituted proceedings; the information was laid at the instance of others.

Mary Ann Baker, wife of the first witness, in giving evidence, stated that on the day of the assault she was in her garden after dinner and saw the dog with her, and saw defendant crossing the road with his dog. The dogs engaged in a fight and her husband ran out, with the results as stated in his evidence. Defendant told her that he had given the pail a shove. She did not think that the defendant would wilfully injure her husband, and would rather think that it was done hastily.

In conversation last Monday with defendant the latter stated that the alleged assault was an accident.

Mr. R. W. Waters testified that he had seen some of the trouble on Sep. 4th. Mr. Baker came upon the scene while the dogs were fighting and witness thought, struck at the dogs. Defendant made a motion towards Baker and the latter fell over upon his back. Defendant afterwards pulled his dog off. The motion made by the defendant was not a swing over his head of the pail which he carried.

Matilda G. McCleary while passing Mr. Baker's house on Sept. 4th, saw the trouble. When defendant was coming across the street, the dogs became engaged. She separated them once, but they again commenced fighting. Mr. Baker struck defendant's dog with the hammer on the hind leg and again on the back. Defendant then struck Baker. The former appeared to be in a hot temper.

Dr. S. P. Ford testified that he had been called in attendance on the complainant on Sept. 4th. There was a wound on his head about 1 1-2 inches long, in process of healing. Also a bruise on his left cheek and his left temple much swollen and discoloured. The wounds could have been inflicted with the pail, which would necessarily have been propelled with considerable force. Defendant could not have swung with his full force.

The defendant, John Davidson, testified regarding the dog fight. His dog had accompanied him across the street and was attacked by two of Baker's dogs—one at each end. Baker struck his dog with the hammer. Before the latter's arrival witness had had the dogs parted for an instant, Baker's, however, again attacking. Witness lifted his dog in the air and shook off Baker's dog, and after, placed his dog upon the ground again, when he thought it was over. Baker then again struck at his dog with the hammer. Witness shoved the pail out and Baker met it, in his attempt to strike the dog. Baker fell backwards and upon arising said he would kill witness' dog yet. The latter replied that if he did there would be three dead dogs.

Witness stated that he had never offered or asked anyone to compromise in the matter and positively denied having struck Baker on the chest with his hand or with the pail.

Other Case on the Docket.

James Stillman and Wm. Cordingley pleaded guilty to a charge of creating a disturbance on the streets and were assessed a sum of $5 and costs, also rating altogether to $10.50 each. The prisoners, it appears, had sallied forth, near the witching hour of midnight, and by shouts and other noises, disturbed the serenity of the atmosphere.

Helpless with Salt Rheum.

"For many months my wife was unable to serve herself with her hands because of salt rheum. Dr. Chase's Ointment has entirely cured her, and we strongly recommend it to others who suffer from similar ailments, believing that it has no equal." Mrs. Ludger Duguay, Pigeon Hill, Missisquoi County, Quebec.

Palmistry

The many volumes upon this subject in the Congressional Library, at Washington, D. C., substantiates this assertion.

Meeting of Fire, Water, and Light Committee Held Last Night

Fire Department Drivers Granted Holidays—New Hydrant Will Be Installed.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee met last night at the Town Clerk's office, the following members being in attendance: Ald. Johnston, chairman; Aldermen Tovey, Hall and McIntyre.

It was moved by Ald. Tovey, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, that fifty cents a week be paid for removing refuse from the fire hall on certificate of the Engineer of the Fire Department. Carried.

Moved by Ald. Hall, seconded by Ald. McIntyre that the drivers and engineers of the Fire Department be allowed two weeks' holidays each, and that substitutes be paid on certificate of the chairman, the time the Engineer is given leave of absence to be arranged by the chairman of this committee and the chairman of the Board of Works. Carried.

Moved by Ald. Tovey, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, that a hydrant be placed at the corner of Cedar and Cambridge streets, subject to the approval of the water commissioners. Carried.

Moved by Ald. Hall, seconded by Ald. Tovey, that, with reference to the letter of the Peterborough Light and Power Co. regarding deductions made from their accounts, as there is a provision in the contract that the charge shall not apply to lights out on account of accident, we recommend that in future the adjustment of the accounts to be referred to this committee each quarter, and that the commissioners be given authority to adjust the charges to be made on account of lights reported out. Also, that the amount to be deducted from the company's account for quarter ending June 30, be $5.65, and that the balance of the account for that quarter that is still unpaid be paid to them. Carried.

Moved by Ald. Hall, seconded by Ald. Tovey, that an arc light be placed on Chamberlen street at a point to be designated by the chairman. Carried.

A Conference on Religious Work

It was a representative gathering of men that met with Mr. C. M. Copeland at the Y. M. C. A. that night, when "Religious Work for Men" was the subject for discussion. Mr. Copeland dealt with the organization of the work and the different agencies connected with it, emphasizing particularly Bible study, men's meetings, foreign work and personal work. Difficulties in connection with Bible study classes were presented, including the need of teachers, and courses adapted to men's needs.

The importance of a right life on the part of the individual, and the need of a true Christian friendship, as a base for work, were essential features in success.

EVERYTHING READY FOR FAIR OPENING TUESDAY

Directors Met Last Night and Appointed the Officials—Entries Coming in Fast—Prospects of Best Fair in the History of the Society—Good Programme Will be Given in Front of the Grand Stand—R. R. Hall, M. P., and T. E. Bradburn, M. P. P., Will Officially Open the Fair.

Last night the Directors of the Industrial Fair met to make further arrangements for the exhibition, which at the present time gives promise of being by far the most successful in the history of the society.

Those present at the meeting were Messrs. D. Hughes, Charles, President; G. W. Fitzgerald, K. Hardley-Wilmot, A. Elliott, R. Fair, R. J. Munro and Superintendent H. C. Winch.

The ticket sellers, ticket collectors, constables and other officials were appointed, and this year there will be a sufficiently large number to provide against any crowding at the main entrance, where there will be three ticket sellers.

Superintendent Winch reported that the stables had all been fitted up nicely, and clean straw provided. So that those bringing stock may be assured that they will be well provided for.

The main building also has been thoroughly renovated and whitewashed in the interior.

The Secretary reported that the entries were coming in rapidly, and it is now an assured fact that they will be larger than ever before in the history of the fair. All the space in the main building has been reserved, and it will present a busy scene when the fair opens on Tuesday.

Monday will be preparation day at the grounds, and the finishing touches will be put on the buildings and the exhibits, to be in readiness for the opening day. On Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock judging of horses will start in the horse ring and will continue until 3.40 p.m. The classes which will be judged on that day will be:—Carriage stallion, three stallion, brood mare with foal, heavy draught; brood mare with foal, carriage; foal, heavy draught; foal, carriage; filly or gelding, draught, carriage, agricultural, roadster, draught, carriage, agricultural roadster; pony in harness, 12 hands and under; saddle pony, not over 14 hands; mare or gelding in harness, 15.3 or over; pairs in harness, under 15.3; mare or gelding, roadster, 15.3 or over; pairs, roadster, under 15.3; mare or gelding, farmers' special, 15.3 or over; pairs, farmers' special, under 15.3.

The formal opening will take place on Tuesday at 1 p.m., and the "button" which sets the fair in motion will be pressed by Messrs. R. R. Hall,

Artillerymen Go to Camp

A number of the local section of the Durham Field Battery will leave for the new artillery camp at Petawawa, on Tuesday next.

The men from the local section will join those from Cobourg at Toronto. It is probable that about twelve men will go.

Archbishop in New Ontario

His Grace Archbishop O'Connor left yesterday for New Ontario, where he will officiate at the consecration of the new church at South River, and will also perform the rite of confirmation at Trout Creek, after which he will spend a week or ten days on a visit with Bishop Scollard at North Bay.

Before returning he will pay an official visit to Bracebridge and Gravenhurst.

Large Market This Morning

There was a large attendance at the market this morning, and farm produce was offered for sale in large quantities.

On the outside market, potatoes sold at 75 cents a bag; apples at 50 to 60 cents. Lamb was offered in small quantities at 12 cents a pound. Chickens were plentiful and sold at from 60 to 75 cents per pair.

There was a noticeable increase in the quantity of poultry upon the market. Geese were $1 and ducks 90 cents.

Butter was also plentiful, and went at 24 and 25 cents. Eggs were 20 cents a dozen.

School Teachers Will Convene

A meeting of the executive of the County Public School Teachers' Association was held this morning at the Court House to arrange the programme and the date of the annual convention. Among those present were Inspectors Brown and Lees, G. W. E. Hill, Lakefield, President; S. A. Smithson, Villiers, Secretary. It was decided to hold the convention at Norwood on October 19 and 20. The teachers of the County are urged to be present.

Banquet to Mr. David R. Maitland

The many friends of Mr. David R. Maitland, will hear with regret that he is leaving the city. He was tendered a banquet at the Montreal House last night. Mr. Maitland is an elocutionist and his readings last night were rendered in a manner which would be hard to equal. We wish Mr. Maitland and the lady, whom he is marrying long life and prosperity.—Com.

A Re-union of Congregations

The Harvest Festival will be continued to-morrow in All Saint's church. Special music at both services at which the Rev. W. L. Armitage, Vicar of Picton, will preach.

On Monday evening at 8 o'clock a special re-union of all the members, adherents and others of the congregation, will be held in the basement of the church. A cordial invitation is extended, and the Rector hopes a large number will be present.

Newest Productions IN Fashionable Headwear

HATS placed in our show rooms must consist of more than mere loveliness. They must have that newness and indefinable charm that goes to make them choice or smart according to Dame Fashion's latest caprices.

Recognizing these important Millinery facts our artistic display has been collected with the utmost painstaking. We avoid the multiplying of any one style or idea, and can offer you a selection of the newest and smartest productions of the season. Our Milliners despise repeatings and offer each customer some individual touch or color combination that is kept unique.

All the beautiful creations of wearable headwear are the work of our own artists. We depend on no fancy priced pattern hats to make our name for high-class Artistic Millinery, but create in our work rooms Hats that convey to good dressers the close touch we keep with ideas that find favor in fashion's centre, Hats that are wearable and reasonably priced.

Judging from the favorable comments that have been passed by those who have visited our Millinery Parlours and severely criticised our display, you will find it very much to your advantage to leave your order for your Fall Hat with

Mrs. Whetung Passes Away at Chemong

Demise Occurred Suddenly Last Night

Deceased Was Mother of Daniel and Joseph Whetung—Had Reached Advanced Age of 81 Years.

The death occurred unexpectedly last night at Chemong Indian Village of Martha Precore, relict of the late Joseph Whetung, and one of the oldest residents upon the Indian reservation.

The deceased, who was eighty-one years of age, had been in comparatively good health previous to her demise, notwithstanding her advanced age. She resided alone in a house about seventy yards distant from that of her son, Joseph, and last night, often making across to the latter place, she was suddenly stricken with heart-failure, and sank to the ground, breathing her last a few moments later. After falling to the ground she was placed upon a sofa, and stated that she felt somewhat better, but the result of the attack overcame her, and dissolution occurred.

The deceased was born in Penetanguishene, removing to Chemong at the age of fifteen years, where she was married later to her late husband, who predeceased her about fifteen years. Two sons survive to mourn her loss, Joseph and Daniel, both of whom reside upon the reservation.

The funeral will take place tomorrow at 2 o'clock, from the residence of Mr. Joseph Whetung, to the Indian Reservation Cemetery, where interment will take place. The services will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Clare.

QUARTER OF A CENTURY AGO

Interesting Extracts From The Examiner of 25 Years Ago.

The steamer Golden Eye made a trip to Hastings with a heavy load of freight, and met with an accident when nearing the wharf at that village. Owing to some repairs being made on the dam she was compelled to take a new channel, and while proceeding slowly the boat came in collision with a sharp rock, tearing a big hole under the engine. Mr. Calcutt will be under no small expense in raising and repairing his boat.

It appears that the advocates of the Grand Junction Railway, not satisfied with the injury which they have already done the town of Peterborough, by cutting off our eastern markets, would not only like to see the other cheek presented, but would ask us to help to smite ourselves. The town is being canvassed for a bonus to help build the road from Peterborough to Omemee, and we are of the opinion that the town will answer an emphatic "No." At least that is the answer their own interests suggest, unless some very feasible conditions are made in the by-law.

Entertainment at Hiawatha

An entertainment will be held in the Hiawatha Church on Friday afternoon to present the medals of the Royal Canadian Humane Association to Mr. Madden Howard. The presentation will take place at 2.30 o'clock p.m. Invitations have been sent to a number of prominent public men to be present.

Sought Office And Did Not Secure It

And Now George T. Bickle Wants $10,000.

A Result of the Last Provincial Election —Trouble for Conservatives.

Cobourg, Ont. Sept. 22.—In the month of March last it became known that the Hon. Mr. Whitney and his Cabinet intended dispensing with the services of Mr. O'Brien, the then Housekeeper of the Parliament Buildings, and forthwith that gentleman resigned. It is pretty generally known that there were many applicants for the position, a Mr. Lee being ultimately selected.

Among the host of applicants was George T. Bickle, of Brighton Village. Mr. Bickle has been a man of many occupations. Born in Cobourg he early engaged in the butcher business, carrying on a business as liquor dealer here. Later he engaged in the brewery business, but gave it up when the premises were burned down. He then became an agent for cigars, then keeper of the G. T. R. restaurant at Cobourg station, and for a time also was engaged in a like occupation with his father-in-law at Port Huron. On leasing the Proctor House at Brighton he removed from Cobourg and conducted that hotel for a time.

Took Legal Proceedings.

At the time of the appointment of the Housekeeper inquiries were made regarding his suitability for the position, and it is said that his chances of getting the appointment were at one time good. By some reason Mr. Bickle ascertained that certain prominent Conservatives in Cobourg had communicated with members of the Government with regard to his application, and, thinking that these communications were determining factors in the position going to Mr. Lee, he began to hint at legal proceedings. When the position of Bursar of the Cobourg Asylum was rendered vacant by the demise of Bursar Smith on July 30th, 1905, Mr. Bickle thought it an opportune time to unmask his guns, and on August 4th he had a lawyer's letter sent to the defendants, namely, A. J. Hawson, President of the West Northumberland Conservative Association; A. R. Dundas, Vice-President; F. M. Field, the Conservative candidate in the January elections; and Dr. J. J. Kerr, a dentist and active Conservative worker in Cobourg. Notwithstanding this Mr. M. J. Doyle was on September 7th appointed Bursar of Cobourg Asylum.

A statement of claims was filed two days later, wherein Bickle asks each of the gentlemen named for $10,000 to compensate him in lieu of the position of Housekeeper, alleging slander and libel. To this each of the defendants has replied in statements of defence, repudiating the claim, justifying such allegations (if any) as they have made, and claiming privilege.

IT IS EASIER TO DO IT NOW

Cure Your Indigestion with Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and you will Never Suffer as Jackson Johnston did.

When you feel that slight discomfort after eating, that gas rising on the stomach or a little pain in the chest, did you ever stop to think that you were in the early stages of Indigestion, and what the consequences might be if you did not take care of your stomach?

If you didn't just listen for a moment to the story of Jackson Johnson, of Norham, Ont. It may make you think:

"I suffered from Dyspepsia for a long time and spent a large sum with doctors. Finally I was taken with Diarrhoea, which became chronic and continued about nine months. I continually grew weaker till I was confined to my bed.

"Then a person who was using Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets persuaded me to try them. I began at once to improve and am now completely cured."

It is easier to cure your Indigestion now than if you wait and suffer as Mr. Johnson did. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will do it.

Timber Was Worth About One Million

Windsor Man Locates Sunken Raft in Lake Scugog.

Logs Were Lost There 70 Years Ago—A Lucky Find.

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 22.—About seventy years ago Joseph Demister, one of the big lumber dealers of his day, started a raft of white oak logs down the Lindsay River so late in the season that it was caught in the ice in Lake Scugog and sunk, because of not being properly buoyed up by lighter timber. For some reason the raft was never located. N. W. Trimble, a grandson of Demister, who until recently resided at Elmstead, in this county, spent nearly a year in a quiet hunt for the raft, which lies under thirty feet of water and imbedded in the mud. About a month ago he was successful in locating it. He says it contains several thousand sticks of white oak cut and squared. Each stick contains about 160 cubic feet, worth at the present one dollar per cubic foot. There are probably one million dollars worth of timber in the raft.

Mr. Trimble will remove to the location of Lake Scugog, where he will remain until the work is completed. He will use barges with tackle and hoisting engines to pull out the logs.

A Medicine Just for Women.

It is common sense that women need different medicine than men. Their peculiar organism requires it.

Medicines, sold alike for men and women, never contain what will do a woman the most good, that is, the uterine and other female tonics. Such medicines may relieve for a little but that is all. They do not cure, because they do not reach the cause of nine-tenths of the ills of women.

Women need a remedy compounded for their special needs. Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women are such a medicine.

This is a special remedy, compounded by a specialist for a special purpose. The specialist is Dr. Hugo, of Paris, who perhaps knows more about the needs of women to-day than any other living physician. Its special purpose is to cure the ills of women and them alone. It is not for men.

Any sick or run-down woman, no matter what the cause, will positively get more benefit from one box of these tablets than from a dozen boxes or bottles of any remedy sold indiscriminately for men and women both, which does not contain the special uterine and other female tonics her system requires.

And it takes but one box to prove our statement. Improvement is noticed the first week.

AGAINST MILITARISM.

Labor Congress Declined to Pass Vigorously Worded Resolutions—The Finances — New Officers.

Toronto, Sept. 22.—The Dominion Trades and Labor Congress at its session yesterday morning refused to concur in a resolution proposed by Adam Anderson, and to the effect that the Congress demand the disbanding of the Canadian militia. The resolution, which was defeated, read as follows:

"That this Congress views with alarm the recent action of our Government in increasing the armed forces and armaments of this country without any justification, a cost wholly unnecessary and productive of the very worst results in the demoralization of the youth of this country, the waste of our national resources, and the creation of a class of parasites who, as a class, are opposed to the best interests of our country. This Congress therefore demands the disbandment of our militia forces, that volunteers may be forced to be true to their name by furnishing their own supplies and bearing their own expenses."

The Finances.

Secretary P. M. Draper's report was presented. The receipts were $4,700.29, the expenditures $4,001.26, leaving a balance of $698.93. The per capita tax has been increased 50 per cent. and the membership has not decreased, standing as before at 22,000. The revenue has increased by $1,055.62. The receipts in the seven years have been multiplied by eight. One of the large items in the expenditure account was $1,365, paid to Solicitor O'Donoghue. Secretary Draper received $450, Fraternal Delegate Flett, $400. Smaller sums were paid out for organization.

Officers by Acclamation.

The election of the three principal officers resulted in no contest—president, Alphonse Verille; Vice-President Simpson and Secretary P. M. Draper being re-elected by acclamation.

Quebec — Vice-president Gustav Frank, Montreal; executive, Frank Payette, Montreal; Arthur Levesque, Quebec; A. W. Mitchell, Montreal.

Manitoba—Vice-president, J. F. Grassick, Winnipeg; executive, L. P. Walker, Winnipeg; E. J. Reynolds, Winnipeg; A. N. Buckland, M. P. P., Winnipeg.

British Columbia — Vice-president, George A. Caldwell, Victoria; executive, E. C. Baird, Nanaimo; D. P. Johnston, Vancouver; E. Kirby, Nelson.

The election of officers for the Maritime Provinces was left to the new executive.

W. Todd was elected fraternal delegate to the American Federation of Labor over Robert Hungerford and George W. Dower.

Invitations for the Congress to hold their next convention in Guelph, Galt, Winnipeg and Victoria were received. Victoria succeeded in getting the convention by a small majority.

FINDS MILLION DOLLARS.

Valuable Sunken Timber Raft Located After Seventy Years.

Windsor, Sept. 23.—About seventy years ago Joseph Demister, one of the big lumber dealers of his day started a raft of white oak logs down the Lindsay River so late in the season that it was caught in the tide in Lake Scugog and sunk, because of not being properly buoyed up by lighter timber.

N. W. Trimble, a grandson of Demister, who until recently resided at Elmstead, in this county, spent nearly a year in a quiet hunt for the raft, which lies under thirty feet of water and imbedded in the mud. About a month ago he was successful in locating it.

He says it contains several thousand sticks of white oak cut and squared. Each stick contains about 160 cubic feet, worth at the present one dollar per cubic foot. There are probably one million dollars worth of timber in the raft.

Mr. Trimble will remove to the location of Lake Scugog, where he will remain until the work is completed. He will use barges with tackle and hoisting engines to pull out the logs.

TO STOP FISH POACHING.

What Canada's Minister of Marine Will Do If Necessary.

Cleveland, Sept. 23.—Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, Canadian Minister of Marine, with a party of Canadians, was a visitor to the yards of the American Shipbuilding Company here yesterday.

In an interview relative to the recent firing upon American fish tugs by the Canadian cruiser Vigilant, Minister Prefontaine said that if it was necessary to protect her fishing rights in the great lakes, Canada would build a second Vigilant and put it in patrol service. He said that Canada was determined to break up the practice of American fishermen poaching in Canadian waters. The Minister said that if it was necessary, extreme measures would be resorted to.

"The fact that the fish seem to have a preference for Canadian waters is our good fortune," said the Minister.

Turbinia Was In Fault.

Toronto, Sept. 23.—As a result of the inquiry into the Turbinia-Primrose collision of August 12, Commander Spain has suspended the certificate of Capt. Bongard of the former steamer for nine months from that date. Capt. Bongard holds a certificate of service as master of a fore-and-aft rigged sailing ship in inland waters. This certificate is endorsed to permit him to act as master of a steamer also, but Commander Spain finds that it does not entitle him to command a passenger steamer. He is not censured officially for this but to resume command of a passenger steamer he must possess himself of the requisite papers. Both steamers are held to have been transgressing the harbor rules in the matter of speed, but the Turbinia, being the overtaking vessel, should have kept clear of the Primrose.

Second Death From Toadstools.

Toronto, Sept. 23.—At 4.30 a. m. yesterday, Andrew Jackson Goulding died at his home, 14 McMurray avenue, as a result of partaking of toadstools with his wife and family on Sunday in the belief that they were mushrooms. Mrs. Goulding and her eight children are all said to be now out of danger, with the exception of Herbert Goulding, aged 24 years, who is still very low. Mr. Goulding was 54 years of age, and leaves a wife, three daughters and five sons to mourn their loss.

O. J. C. FALL MEET.

Big Crowd With Lots of Money at the Woodbine Races.

Toronto, Sept. 23.—Seven races were on the card yesterday afternoon, all but the sixth well filled. The track was fast and the weather ideal. The crowd was an extra large one, and they were about all regulars, with the result that the playing was stiff.

Inferno was the only favorite to finish outside the money yesterday. Three favorites won, viz., Crestfallen, Arrah Gowan and The Musketeer. Virgie Withers won the first, with Mrs. F. Foster, the favorite, a bob behind Moderator. Jillett, another 6-to-1 chance, beat out Peter Sterling, favorite, in the second race, and three at long prices, with Sampan first, were in the Milton Handicap money.

There was only a nose between Our Bessie and Ohlyesa, first and second favorites, in the purse for mares.

The Record.

First race, 5 1-2 furlongs, 2-year-olds and over—1, Virgie Withers; 2, Moderator; 3, Mrs. Frank Foster. Time, 1.03.

KILLED BY A FREIGHT.

Barrie Woman Tries to Cross the Track When Gates Are Down.

Barrie, Sept. 23.—A young Englishwoman named Mrs. Catline was killed at Allendale at noon yesterday. She was attempting to cross the track, opposite Allen's Hotel, the gates being down, and passed in front of the Penetanguishene passenger train, but did not notice a freight backing in the opposite direction. Both legs were cut off. She spoke several times after being picked up, but died eight minutes after the accident. She was accompanied by her four-year-old daughter, but the child was dragged out of danger by a person who happened to be near. The body was brought to Barrie and prepared for burial, and later sent to her home in Allendale. Mrs. Catline was carrying her husband's dinner in a pail, when the accident happened. She also leaves a baby son.

EXPELLED FOREVER.

Rowdy Beaverton Lacrosse Players Dealt With by C. L. A.

Toronto, Sept. 23.—C. Barber and F. Maundrell, players of the Beaverton Lacrosse Club, were expelled forever from the C. L. A. by the action of the junior committee of that body at the Iroquois Hotel last night.

Barber's offence was rough playing and assaulting Referee Waghorne in Thursday's game at Beaverton, and Maundrell's was rough play and abusive language.

Rouvier Will Demand Disavowal.

Paris, Sept. 23.—The offensive attitude of Venezuela towards M. Taigny, the French charge d'affaires at Caracas, has aroused indignation in official quarters here. Although the Ministry has not yet taken definite action, it is said in the highest quarters that Premier Rouvier will demand that Venezuela disavow the offensive action and adopt a course conformable with the usual courtesies of diplomatic intercourse. The subsequent course of France will depend upon Venezuela's reply.

Lieutenant of the King.

The death of Capt. James Thompson Ord, United States army, retired, at San Diego, Cal., calls to mind the fact that in his veins flowed the Royal blood of England. His lineage goes back to King George IV. He was a descendant of the oldest son of that King by Mrs. Fitzherbert, the King's first wife.

The Prince fell in love with Mrs. Fitzherbert, who had been twice a widow at 25. She was a Roman Catholic and a marriage by the heir of the Crown with a Roman Catholic forfeited his succession by the "Act of Settlement." Nor by the "Royal Marriage Act" could he legally contract marriage even with a Protestant without his father's consent, unless at the end of a year after formal notice had been given and then only if Parliament had not expressed its disapprobation.

Believing truly that he could contract no legal marriage with Mrs. Fitzherbert, he was quite ready to go through the form of marriage. Mrs. Fitzherbert, holding that the performance of the ceremony by a priest of her church was a sacramental efficacy, was indifferent to the legality of the proceeding and the marriage took place. In 1787 the Prince denied the marriage in the House of Lords through Fox, his mouthpiece, and in 1795 he married Caroline of Brunswick, from whom he was soon separated. Ord, the son of the King and of Mrs. Fitzherbert, was taken to America when an infant by the emissaries of the King, who did not want the Royal succession hampered. He was placed in a convent school at Baltimore, Md., with instructions to have him educated as a Catholic priest. But young Ord decided upon another career than that of a man of peace and prayer, and when he came of age left the school. He married a Miss Cresap of Maryland and they had a number of children, nearly all of whom rose to prominence. One of these was Edward Otho Cresap-Ord, who performed great service for the United States in the civil and Mexican wars, retiring in 1880 with the brevet rank of major-general. Of him, Gen. William T. Sherman, his classmate at the military academy and his companion in California during the Mexican war, wrote: "He has had all of the hard knocks of service and never on soft or fancy duty. He has always been called on when hard duty was expected and never flinched."

The late Capt. Ord, just deceased, saw active service in the Spanish-American war, being stationed at Porto Rico. He was retired on account of ill-health. A brothers, also Capt. Ord, saw service in the Philippines, and was last stationed at Benicia.

Celebrities' Favorite Books.

"I have a new idea," said the autograph collector. "I write and ask celebrities to tell me what books they liked best in their childhood. I pretend, you know, that I am preparing an article on juvenile literature for a review.

"I have sent out two hundred letters to celebrities, and I have received seventy-five answers. These answers are autographs of the best quality—autobiographical autographs—worth easily from twenty-five cents to $3 apiece.

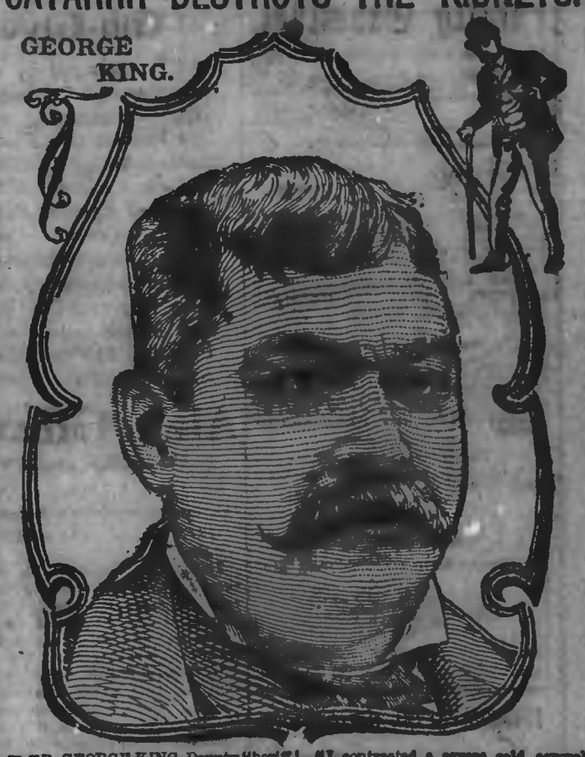
"F. C. Burnand, the editor of Punch, wrote me that 'Bluebeard' was his favorite childhood story. A. T. Quiller-Couch said his favorite was Bunyan's 'Holy War.' G. K. Chesterton's was 'The Water Babies.' H. G. Wells' was 'Strewwelpeter.' Joseph Chamberlain's was 'Caleb Crinkle.' Henry Arthur Jones' was 'Pilgrim's Progress.'

"Lady Colin Campbell said 'The Water Babies' had been her favorite. John Oliver Hobbes said her's had been 'Robinson Crusoe.' Julia Marlowe's had been 'The Tempest.' Lucas Malet, the daughter of Charles Kingsley, said that 'Dame Wiggins,' Grimm's 'Fairy Tales' and the tales of Hans Andersen had pleased her childhood best.

"George Bernard Shaw, the playwright, had liked the 'Arabian Nights,' 'Pilgrim's Progress' and 'The Rime of the Ancient Mariner.' Zangwill had liked 'Tom Pippin.' Beatrice Harraden had liked Grimm, and Maurice Hewlett had liked Hans Andersen.

"If these letters keep coming in," said the collector, "I'll have enough material to write that article, after all. Maybe, by Jove, I'll do it."

CATARRH DESTROYS THE KIDNEYS.



MR. GEORGE KING, Deputy Sheriff of Rensellaer Co., N. Y., for years was a well known merchant of Troy. In a letter from No. 45 King St., Troy, N. Y., he writes:

"Peruna cured me from what the doctors were afraid would turn into Bright's Disease, after I had suffered with catarrh of the bladder and kidney trouble.

"Peruna is a blessing to a sick man. Eight bottles made me a well man and were worth more than a thousand dollars to me. I cannot speak too highly of it. It is now four years since I was troubled, and I have enjoyed perfect health since."—George King.

A Prominent Member of I. O. O. F. Threatened With Bright's Disease.—Peruna Restored Him to Health.

O. Fred Lindstrom, Past Grand Master Independent Order of Odd Fellows, writes from 1923 University Ave., St. Paul, Minn.:

"I contracted a severe cold several years ago, which from neglect developed into urinary trouble, and threatened Bright's disease. I used Peruna faithfully for three and one-half months, when my health was perfect once more. I have never had any trouble since."—O. Fred Lindstrom.

Catarrhal inflammation of the mucous lining of the kidneys, also called "Bright's disease," may be either acute or chronic. The acute form produces symptoms of such prominence that the serious nature of the disease is at once suspected, but the chronic variety may come on so gradually and insidiously that its presence is not suspected until after it has fastened itself thoroughly upon its victim.

At the appearance of the first symptom Peruna should be taken. This remedy strikes at once at the very root of the disease.

INTERNATIONAL OBLIGATIONS

The poaching practices of American fishermen are responsible for a great destruction of fish in Canadian waters. Having, by illicit out-of-season practices, depleted their own waters, they cannot, it seems, resist the temptation to steal the fish in Canadian waters, preserved by decent observance of seasons, methods and regulations. If they can't resist the temptation they must be helped, and the Canadian Government is generously furnishing this help. It is in the shape of the cruiser Vigilant, which is well deserving of its name, for it has kept a sharp lookout. Its latest capture is that of an American fishing tug, caught red-handed. The Dominion Department of Justice has given instructions to have the necessary steps taken for the condemnation of the Bertha L. Cookerell, the piratical, piscatorial craft. The captain of the Vigilant has requested the Government to provide the Canadian cruiser with a quick-firing gun of sufficient calibre to inspire respect for the mandates of the Vigilant, and this request has been met. This is as it should be. Our American cousins are inclined to win respect when they await without fine regard for the rights of others: that the freebooting proclivities of a certain class do not command the sympathy of the decent respectable classes, either private or journalistic. The more respectable of the latter do not shout outrage because a nautical poacher is brought to by a shot across the bows. They recognize that it is bad policy to kill the goose that lays the golden eggs, in the way of depleting international waters of their fish stock. Canadians do not count the necessity of firing upon American fishing boats, but they must defend their rights, and so long as they act strictly in self-defence no proper-minded person will blame them. The tone of some of the American papers is eminently fair in their treatment of the recent Lake Erie episode. For instance, the Buffalo Express:

instance, the Buffalo Express says:

"So long as American fishing tugs persist in going across the Canadian line for fish, they have themselves to blame if their experiences with Canadian revenue cruisers are unpleasant. The fishermen very well know, however, that when the inevitable happens and a shot goes a little too straight, causing a loss of life, they will not be content to take the blame upon themselves. Then there will be an outcry for protection to the United States Government. It will be asked why Canadians are allowed to shoot Americans in this fashion, and the country will be forced by public opinion to take up a quarrel in which it may not have the better side of the argument. It would be much wiser to avoid this difficulty before it occurs. Instead of leaving to Canadians along the policing of Lake Erie by the vigourous methods they appear disposed to adopt, the United States would do well to have its own police boats on hand, both to restrain its own citizens who persist in going over the Canadian line and to counteract the zeal of the Canadian revenue officers, who may sometimes be disposed to give themselves the benefit of a doubt as to the exact location of the boundary."

The Detroit News speaks in a similar strain. It says that if American fishermen have, by reckless fishing, depleted their waters, while the Canadians have kept theirs stocked, they should abide by the result, which their folly has provided. It points out that the practice of firing upon American poachers would cease if American officials would arrest the offenders and deliver them over to the Canadian courts. The News adds:

"It would be done in case of murder, robbery, and certain other crimes, why not for as international a crime as larceny? As it is, it is likely to go on, until some American fishing tug is sent to the bottom, with all on board, and then there will be an uproar by the politicians at Washington, a useless investigation, and a lot of unnecessary expense."

The News also makes the suggestion that the two Governments should come to some agreement that will prevent danger to human life. It seems that the onus falls upon the American Government. The Canadain Government is doing its duty. It is the duty of the American Government to look after its poaching citizens. It would seem that the American Government, out of regard for, at least, international comity, if for no more binding obligation, is as much called upon to restrain its poaching citizens, as it is to restrain filibustering expeditions directed against a friendly power.

THEN AND NOW.

The temperance people have had no light, or have had their hearts softened towards the Whitney Government. When the Ross Government was in power, the cry was "Prohibition," and "Banish the bar." Now, that a Conservative Government is in power, these cries have ceased, and nothing more embarrassing than strict enforcement of the license law is suggested. Under the Ross regime, the license law, according to certain persons, was evil, and only evil, and that continually. Now it is an acceptable measure, if well enforced. The Pioneer, a temperance, and erstwhile prohibition organ, has pushed in the prohibition stop, and now pins its faith to the license law. Dr. Chown, it is said, demands not prohibition for New Ontario, but the regulation of the traffic under a license law, and yesterday a deputation from the Committee on Temperance and Moral Reform, of the General Conference of the Methodist Church, waited upon Hon. Mr. Hanna, Provincial Secretary. Did the deputation embarrass him with a demand for prohibition? By no means; but it came at him gently, with a request that the Liquor License Act should be unsparingly enforced. That is easy and logical, for it would not seem wise to demand from the Whitney Government something it cannot give — an effective prohibition measure. But that consideration did not prevent a demand for prohibition, and the banishment of the bar, upon the Ross Government. Many well-meaning, but innocent persons, thought it unkind to suggest, or even hint, that very many persons were politicians first, and temperance people next. But does it not seem peculiar that since the Ross Government is out of power, there are no more embarrassing demands for prohibition, which is just as feasible, and practicable, now, as it was three or four years ago?

GENERALLY SPEAKING

REGARDING THE escapade of the score of boys who struck school yesterday is a mere boyish freak and an occasion for merriment is dangerously underestimating the serious character of the offence. Whether the lads had an excuse or not is quite beside the question. They may have had an excuse but no justification. Canada is regarded as a law-abiding country so that we cannot countenance for a moment the idea of allowing our citizens-in-the-making to get the idea into their heads that they may take the law into their own hands with impunity. The sane public sentiment of the city will be in sympathy with the Board or the school authorities in visiting the offence of insubordination with exemplary punishment. The rebellious lads must be taught to respect authority—respect for authority being the foundation course—the very wall footing of good citizenship.

BUT THERE IS somebody else to be disciplined as well as the boys. That there is something wrong—and as a rule somebody is to blame when things go wrong—is abundantly evident. The action of the boys though without justification, brought matters to a crises. Else, how explain the rather panicky action of the Board od Education in holding an emergency meeting at noon yesterday and arranging for a special meeting to-night in reference to the conditions which the boys plead as their excuse for going on strike? There seems to be no doubt that there is something wrong with the plumbing of the room which the boys fought shy of yesterday. The Board acknowledges this when it admits that it has telegraphed for an expert from Toronto to look into the trouble, and the room in question must be "off colour" in some way, and have been so for a long time, when two members of the Board admit that their children who are in this room came home ill—presumably from the unsanitary conditions prevailing. It is asserted that the Board has done all it can to discover and remedy the unsatisfactory conditions which seem to haunt the school room in question, and the fact that they have felt compelled to call in an outside expert, seems to throw the responsibility upon the city authorities who it is claimed, by some members of the Board, have not provided satisfactory plumbing inspection, and consequently have failed to supply the conditions that make for sanitary and safe plumbing. The Examiner does not presume to pronounce upon the merits of the matter at issue between the Board of Education and the City Council. One of the two must be in the right and which one is the question to decide.

THE ONE redeeming feature of the school boy strike is the fact that it has brought into the arena of investigation the question of responsibility for sanitary conditions, in connection with the now notorious room in the Central School. The School Board claims that it has done its best to remedy the improper conditions which, it is admitted, prevail, and have for a long time, prevailed in this room, and that failing to find available in the city a local plumbing authority, regarded by them as trustworthy, they have been compelled to call in the services of an outside expert. This places the issue directly and explicitly between the Board and the City Council, and it is hoped that no laxity in investigation will avail to prevent the explicit fixing of the responsibility where it belongs. It will be humiliating to the last degree to have to confess that in the city of Peterborough we have no authority competent to decide in regard to so trifling a matter as discovering the source, and cause, of intermittent whiffs of foul air in a school room.

INQUIRY leads to the information that the unsatisfactory conditions of the room in question have been exaggerated and that some of the lads who were urged to join the "strikers' assert that they have never detected any unpleasant smells. Be that as it may it seem that some pupils have suffered inconvenience and even illness. In such cases the proper course is claimed to be for the pupil to make his complaint to the parent, and the parent can then request the teacher to permit his boy or girl to come home in case of feeling unwell. This would be as proper a thing to do as it was an improper thing for the lads to combine to leave in a body. Let all things be done decently and in order, is the Scriptural idea and is not a bad one to act upon in our school relations.

WHATEVER the short comings of the City Fathers may be, according to the School Board, in this matter they have struck a winning gait, at least in the matter of street crossings. For a long time the Examiner has been pointing out the disgraceful condition (and practical non-existence) of street crossings, and advocating concrete crossings, and it is some satisfaction to see that the sermons preached have been as seed sown in good ground, or as concrete placed on a good foundation. At last, at the end of the season, the Board of Works is putting in an experimental street crossing of concrete at the intersection of Queen and Hunter streets. The Examiner, pleased to know, that its preaching had led to a little tentative practice, took a view of this crossing last evening, and it is a beauty to look at. It seems so good and efficient, so comfortable and cleanly, that the surprise breaks out afresh that some general construction of such crossings has not been attempted before. No one can conceive, and we are sure that no one can show, any good reason, why such crossings should not have been adopted long ago. It would be just as reasonable to leave a gap of 66 feet in a concrete pavement, between streets, as to leave a 66 foot crossing, made of mud, for citizens to wade through—it would be no greater struggle to wade through mud between streets than on a street intersection. It appears that the crossing mentioned is only a "trial trip," and that its adoption is contingent upon the distinguished approval of the City Engineer and the Board of Works. It is to be hoped that it will not be condemned because it is good, and serves the public convenience, and is not a makeshift, and waste of City funds.

Festival Service at All Saints'

Rev. W. L. Armitage, Former Rector, Preached Eloquent Sermon.

Special Music and Decorations Appropriate to the Occasion—Large Congregation Attended.

All Saints' church was last night was crowded to the doors by the large congregation which assembled at the annual harvest festival. The service was, of course, of a special character, and the church was beautifully decorated, for the occasion with appropriate harvest emblems intermingled charmingly with floral adornments.

The chancel decorations were particularly attractive, and included at its junction with the nave an arched effect, over which was the motto, "Thou crownest the year with Thy goodness."

The music was of a beautiful character, also appropriate to the event. The service was conducted by the rector, Rev. W. Major, assisted by Rev. W. L. Armitage, of Picton, and Rev. J. C. Davidson, of St. John's church. A forceful and eloquent sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Armitage, who for many years was rector of the church, from the text, St. Luke xii., 19-20, "And I will say to my soul, soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years; take thine ease, eat, drink and be merry." But God said unto him, thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee; then whose shall those things be which thou hast provided?

Rev. Mr. Armitage, in his opening remarks, referred briefly to the pleasure it afforded him to meet the members of the congregation with which he had for so long been associated. He was glad to see the faces which were so familiar. Few had been taken away, for which thanks should be given. In his thoughts of the thanksgiving service there had risen up in his mind the picture of the joyous days of the past, which would again be enacted with little change. The devotions and the hymns hallowed by the lips of the saints of long ago would remain the same.

The preacher referred to the lessons of the evening. The wonderful manner in which God chose to reveal Himself through Moses was the subject of the first. Forget not the Lord thy God was the message of the second. The reason our Lord sought to impress the fact that we must not reckon without God.

The speaker then presented a vivid and comprehensive picture of the rich man gazing a this fields and flocks and abundant possessions. He says, "This will not do, I have not where to bestow all my fruits." He is puzzled. He rises up, but as he rises, a shadow appears at the open. He decides to pull down his barns and build greater. The shadow advances to the centre of the room. He further considers the plan and says, "I am satisfied with it; I think I have earned my rest." A hand is laid upon his arm; a voice whispers in his ear, and the message comes to him "To-night thy soul shall be required of thee."

Is it not a picture of life? Are we not looking out of the open window into to-morrow, and saying, as we regard our successes, what was said by the rich man. We must plan our life. We can no more build our character, or our future, without a plan, than we can build a house without a plan. We live our lives, and when the end comes we pass away, and some one else steps in to take our place. God steps in, and says, "Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee."

We do not like to be called fools. Are we fools? After all we have put into this life — of energy and prudence? Why was the man called a "fool?" There must have been something beneath it. Does success make a fool of a man? It is surely intended that we shall strive to make a success of our lives—and all honour to a man who has produced a success.

There was something wrong in the life of the rich man. He looked at life in the wrong way, and reckoned without God. What is life? Life is more than the meat, or the raiment. We are mistaking our living for our lives. The man was not rich towards God. To have the richness of God we must follow the life of Abraham.

The rich man was a fool in another way — in reckoning with regard to time, and not for eternity. A soul is not for ease; it is for God. It was given him to use, not to leave idle. The food of the soul is not meat and drink, but the food of the means of grace.

The man was a fool again in that he reckoned that he had control of time. We promise a great deal for the future without thinking of the end, which comes very suddenly at times. But, greatest of all, he was a fool in that he lived for himself. This was not because he was prudent in acquiring wealth, nor in what he had, but in what he lacked—that which wealth did not bring. He failed to go out into the world with sympathy and charity. He was not a blessing to anyone in the world. Is it not a picture of our lives? Be not discouraged with the past; "Let the dead past bury its dead"—but look into the brightness of God's love, and our faces will reflect His image. There is nothing which God loves so much as the heart or tongue of praise—"Praise Him not only with your lips, but in your lives."

Mr. Garvin's Work Is Appreciated

In the column on Books and Authors, in the Toronto Globe, to-day, the writer says:—"Some months ago I published in this department an extended review from the pen of Mrs. Wilson, of Peterborough, of the too brief career of Isabella Valancey Crawford, a poet of the rarest promise, who was sadly hedged in by circumstances during life, and was called away while still little past her youth. Many correspondents at the time expressed a strong desire that her works might be collected and published in volume form. These and many others will be glad to learn that such a collection is to be brought out this fall by the Briggs Company, Mr. J. W. Garvin, of Peterborough, having edited the collection.

Superfluous Hair

Removed by the New Principle,

De Miracle

It is better than electricity, because it does not scar or produce a new growth. Better than X-ray, because it does not burn, scar or paralyze the tissues under the skin. Better than depilatories, because it is not poisonous; therefore it will not cause blood poisoning, or produce eczema, which is so common with depilatories, nor does it break off the hair, thereby increasing its growth.

Electrolysis, X-ray or depilatories are offered you on the bare word of the operators and manufacturers. De MIRACLE is not. It is the only method which is indorsed by physicians, surgeons, dermatologists, medical journals and prominent magazines.

De MIRACLE mailed sealed in plain wrapper on receipt of $1.00. Your money back without question (no red tape) if it fails to do all that is claimed for it. Booklet sent free in plain, sealed envelope, upon request. Write for it to-day to De MIRACLE CHEMICAL CO., 32 Queen St. West, Toronto. For sale by

Question of City Rugby League

The Examiner recorded recently the formation of the T.A.S. Rugby Club for the season. This is the first club to organize for what is hoped will develop into a city league, and it would appear that as far as players are concerned, it should be possible to get together enough men to form at least three good teams.

Two years ago there was a successful city league, and the result was the development of a number of good players, some of whom will easily catch a place on the team which Peterborough will place in the O.R.F.U. this season.

The older players to whom the lovers of the game looked to uphold the honour of the town on the gridiron have gone and it now devolves upon the younger players to fit themselves to take their places.

Peterborough in the past has been a good rugby town, and there is no reason why this should not still be the case.

A city league would be the best means of developing the talent, which now exists among the younger players, and it is to be sincerely hoped that at least two more teams will be formed to unite with the T.A.S. team in forming the league.

There is no time to delay if the league is to be a reality. The season will be on in a few weeks, and whatever is done should be done at once.

"Monte" Wilson In Good Shape

Mr. "Monte" Wilson, of Garden Hill, who is matched to wrestle Capt. Ross, on Tuesday night next, in the Brock street rink, was in town to-day, to personally deny the rumors that he did not intend to make an appearance on Tuesday night against Ross. Mr. Wilson states that he is in first-class condition, and has been running ten miles a day for the last two weeks to get into shape. He has reduced his weight to 165 pounds and expects to give Capt. Ross a good argument on Tuesday.

Hockey Talk In Pittsburg

Pittsburg, Sept. 22.—Rumors as to whether Pittsburg will have any hockey at Duquesne Garden this winter were set at rest yesterday when Manager A. S. McKeigan closed a contract with Arthur E. Sixsmith to put a first-class team in the International League. Negotiations with "Sixey" have been going on for several weeks, and he has already signed several first-class players. Having secured an early start, he is confident of getting a team that will more than hold their own with anything in the league. Several hockey stars in Canada, whom the local management tried to get last winter, have accepted Mr. Sixsmith's terms, contingent on their securing good positions at their rates. Places for them are now being found. Sixey will not give out any names of players yet. He said yesterday that he will treat Pittsburgers to a hockey surprise when he announces the makeup of his team. His well-known ability to land players is looked upon as the best assurance that Pittsburg will have a winning team.

A meeting of the International League will be held within two weeks to consider matters for the coming season, arrange a schedule, etc. James R. Dee, secretary and treasurer, is taking a vote by mail as to when and where the meeting will be held.

Salvationist's Big Project

A cablegram has been received at the Bureau of Colonization from the Salvation Army headquarters, London, England, asking if places can be found on farms this fall for five hundred married men. The families of the men will be maintained throughout the winter by the Salvation Army, and will be sent to Canada in the spring. None of the families are large. It is desired to find situations with farmers for the men—few of whom are experienced, and would, of course, expect only the wages given to inexperienced farm hands—at places where they would be given opportunity of getting rooms or cottages for their families. All the men have been carefully selected, and have been under the observation of Army officers for some months, with a view to making sure of their fitness for emigration to Canada.

Director Southworth of the bureau, when questioned yesterday as to the project, said there would be no difficulty in the way of getting situations for the men. It was the problem of finding places for the families that had to be dealt with. Careful inquiries were, however, being made, with a view to giving the Salvation Army officials the fullest information at the earliest possible moment.

A physician was driving through the street. A friend stopped him. "Doctor," said the friend, anxiously, "Have you heard that horrible story about Williamson?" "No," said the doctor. "What story is that?" "A story to the effect that he was buried alive." "Buried alive?" said the doctor. "Impossible. He was one of my patients."—Sydney Town and Country Journal.

Miss Maude: Did you enjoy yurself on your vacation? Kodak Idiot: I can tell you better after I have developed all the films I exposed.—Melbourne Weekly Times.

1,000 Monastic Houses.

Some remarkable facts and figures concerning the increase of monastic institutions in Great Britain are given in the current issue of The English Churchman.

The following table shows the progress of monastic institutions for more than a century:

	Monasteries.	Convents.	Total.
1780	—	1	1
1850	11	50	61
1880	140	306	446
1905	290	711	1,001

Of the 1,001 institutions in England and Wales, 177—forty-eight for men and 129 for women—are in London. The majority—123—are on the north side of the River Thames. Lancashire, with 137 houses, heads the Provinces. Scotland, which only had one convent in 1850, has now [illegible]

Japan's Tattoo Master.

The master of the tattooing art in Japan is Chyo, who can produce such pictures on the human skin as are the envy of all rivals. He has photographs of all his more important works, most of the originals having been produced on the cuticle of English travelers. Two of the most remarkable are a huge dragon in three colors, covering an American doctor's back entirely, while another is a life sized fly which was put on an Englishman's wrist so naturally that one would feel tempted to call his attention to the fact if one were not told that it was the work of the tattooing needle. Chyo's work is recognized by his countrymen at a glance and is looked upon with much respect.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

IF WE COULD GUESS.

If we could guess how stocks would go,
If they would rise or take a fall,
If such a slight thing we might know
And thus rake in a little haul,
Then wouldn't we some dinners spoil
And take perhaps a modest drink,
And for a season cut out toil—
If we could guess it, don't you think?

If we could guess which side would win
When some large men for congress run,
Know who would lose and who walks in,
One reaping woe, the other fun—
Say, wouldn't we a few small bets
Place with a very knowing wink,
And win enough to pay our debts,
If we could guess it, don't you think?

If we could guess which little horse
Would be the first to cross the line,
Come sailing proudly down the course
And for his owner tap a mine—
Well, wouldn't we collect our toll
And money in each pocket chink
And quite offhanded pull a roll,
If we could guess it, don't you think?

If we could guess just what a girl
We sort of wanted for a wife
Would say if she were asked to curl
Up in our arms and stay for life;
If "Yes" were what the lady fair
Would answer with a blush of pink—
Say, wouldn't we walk round on air,
If we could guess it, don't you think?

Taking a Joke.

Some men are so constituted that they cannot take a joke. If a jocular friend rushes up from behind and slaps them behind the shoulders with a gentle love tap that knocks their hat into the gutter and jars loose a lung, instead of laughing heartily and taking it in the spirit in which it was intended they immediately get mad and want to fight.

A little hilarity at the expense of their bald heads that sets every one else laughing affects them much as might their grandmother's funeral if she had left all of her wealth to found a home for three legged cats, and a merry jest in which their nose is compared to a garden hose fastens on them the grouch that won't come off.

It is the wrong frame of mind for a man to get into. If we are to have jokes, each must bear the brunt in his turn, as only kings and trust magnates can afford to hire men as buffers for their jokes when they are inclined to get gay.

Up and Down.

By weary, painful stages,
On heavy leaden boots,
We slowly climb the hill of fame,
And then we shoot the chutes.

No One Minds It.

"Laws should be either enforced or repealed."

"Then the law against stealing umbrellas should be wiped out, for no one pays any attention to it."

Favors Contraction.

The fellow who is anxious to make the girl his bride,
When seated in the parlor and nestled by her side
And watching every movement,
Would think it an improvement
If they didn't make the sofas quite so wide.

Better Late Than Never.

"That fellow who just came in and settled for his paper is ever eighty years of age."

"You could call him an old settler, couldn't you?"

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

So far as heard from, no man's conscience ever yet forced him to return a borrowed umbrella.

He who boasts about himself is no doubt impelled to do so by the feeling that it is necessary for some one to make known his virtues.

Sunrise.

When the splendor of the morning
Lies along the eastern hills
As the first giant rays are warning
Off the shadows night distills,

Then again I hear the laughter
Of the softly rustling leaves
And a gentle murmur after
As some nestling wakes and grieves;

Hear the lapping of the river
Down among the reed and fern,
Where the long waves softly shiver,
Slow depart and swift return.

Now the low, green hills are waking
And their sides begin to glow,
While the wild marsh grain is shaking
Where the west wind whispers low.

Maud Muller.

Once upon a time there lived a Fair Maiden in a Rural District. Her Ways were Frank and unstudied, and her Smile was Divine.

Appeared unto her in a Vision a Shade which said, "Gentle Maiden, if a single wish were to be granted you which would you choose—Beauty, Power or Riches?"

Maudie then showed that she had learned wisdom since the day when she handed up a gooseful of Adam's best to the Judge of her precinct, for she made reply:

"Neither. Transportation to South Dakota and the address of a good divorce lawyer."

The shade was Delighted at her Perspicuity and told her that Annual Pass would always be honored and that any old lawyer in the Prairie State was good enough.

Inquest at Unionville

Unionville, September 22. — The adjourned inquest into the cause of death of the late Ellis Campbell, who was killed by the Peterborough G. T. R. Flyer, on September 15, was opened here this afternoon by Coroner Robinson. A. G. Slaght appeared for the Crown. The G. T. R. was represented by Mr. Wells. The jury was composed of Rev. Mr. Duncan, foreman; J. F. Davidson, C. H. Stiver, John Stephenson, A. D. Smith, Alex. Pringle, C. H. Chant, William Brodie, Albert Weighill, J. Devlin, Reuben Stiver and C. A. Stiver. The jury returned the following verdict:

"We find that the said Ellis Campbell came to his death by a Grand Trunk engine, No. 19, known as the Peterborough Flyer, on September 15, while driving over the level crossing at the Unionville station. We believe that the said Ellis Campbell came to his death largely due to the fact that the agent's house is an obstruction to the view of the train hands as well as that of the public using that crossing. We also believe that the train was travelling at an excessive rate of speed through a thickly populated village, over what constitutes a very dangerous crossing. Taking all the facts into consideration we strongly recommend the immediate action of the G. T. R. Company to remove the agent's house and any other obstruction. We further recommend that some system of protection be provided for all level crossings in towns and villages. We also recommend that a copy of this verdict be sent to Markham township council, York County Council and the Railway Commission."

Grain Traffic on the River

The grain traffic upon the river has been exceptionally heavy within the past few weeks. The steamer Water Lily brought up 2000 bushels of peas for Messrs. Houdrey & Sons and this morning towed 1600 bags of wheat and peas.

The steamer Beaver did not make her regular market trip this morning, this being the first trip which she has missed during the season. The Beaver is engaged in towing wood upon the back lakes and did not come down.

The Rainbow made her regular trip this morning with a large number of passengers on board.

"After careful consideration and comparison I purchased a Bell Piano for my school. I consider the Illimitable Quick Repeating Action, together with the fine tone, and workmanship inside and out, places it FAR AHEAD OF ANY PIANO MADE.

I may say further, that as a soloist in Europe, the United States and Canada, my opportunities for comparing the various makes of pianos for the last twenty years are perhaps unique."

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

1847 TRADE MARK ROGERS BROS.

The above trade mark has been stamped on every article of the original and genuine Rogers Bros.' goods for over 50 years. Get this and you get the best that is made.

THE JAPANESE ARE INDIGNANT

Over Soya Straits Clause of the Peace Treaty.

40 ANTI-PEACE MEMORIALS

One Signed by Six Imperial University Professors Says the Nation is Humiliated by Agreeing Not to Fortify Soya Straits—Ketaka Town is the Only Place Which Rejoices Over the Peace.

Tokio, Sept. 23.—The number of direct memorials to the throne from different associations and individuals condemning the peace treaty and asking that it be not ratified exceeds 40, among which is an address signed by six professors of the Imperial University. This memorial strongly urges the necessity for refusing to ratify the peace treaty and condemns it as entirely annulling the purpose of the war as set forth in the declaration of hostilities. It also stated that indisputable reasons existed for refusing to ratify the treaty, which is deemed to be pregnant with elements of humiliation and future danger to the national interests.

It transpires that in spite of Premier Katsura's assurance to the contrary to the editors there exists a clause in the peace treaty by which Japan undertakes not to fortify Soya Strait. As a result intense indignation is felt among the influential classes, as this is deemed to be the greatest humiliation Japan has ever suffered.

The restriction thus placed upon her territorial liberty is looked upon as being an unbearable indignity and as constituting the blackest record in the history of a country which has never experienced defeat at the hands of other nations. Not a few papers to-day are expected to print strongly worded editorials on the subject. Soya Strait is more generally known as Laperouse Strait. It separates Yezso from the Island of Sakhalin and separates the Sea of Japan with the Sea of Okhotsk.

Rejoices For Peace.

A solitary instance of public rejoicing at the conclusion of peace with Russia took place at a meeting held yesterday at Kotaka, a town in the demote northeast corner of the main Island of Nippon. Several industrial associations will be represented on the occasion. Messages of congratulation will be forwarded by those present at the meeting to the Emperor of Japan, to Field Marshal Oyama, Vice-Admiral Togo and to President Roosevelt.

Peresviet Commander Dies.

Capt. W. Bolsmann, a prisoner of war, and former commander of the Russian battleship Peresviet, died at Matsuyama. Rear-Admiral Nebogatoff and a number of other Russian naval officers have been permitted to give their parole and return home. Rear Admiral Rojestvensky has almost recovered from his wound, but he is still under strict medical care in Fushimi. The Minister of War has instructed the removal of certain restrictions placed upon the Russian officers who are held as prisoners of war.

Japs Seize Yankee Ship.

Tokio, Sept. 23.—The American steamer Barracouta, Capt. Curtis, last reported to have sailed from San Francisco for Nikolaievsk, has been seized by the Japanese north of the Island of Sakhalin.

Earl Grey's Movements.

Qu'Appelle, Sask., Sept. 23.—Earl Grey and several gentlemen went to Poplar Point for prairie chicken shooting this week, and will return to-day or Sunday. Lady Grey, accompanied by Lady Morley, drove, and Lady Parker and Lady Evelyn Grey rode to Fort Qu'Appelle on Tuesday. Duck shooting is reported good. On Monday the party go to File Hills and return in time to visit the industrial school at Lebret on Wednesday next.

To Unveil at Gananoque.

Brockville, Sept. 23.—The merchants at Gananoque propose calling a public meeting to discuss the advisability of forming an association to put everything on a cash basis.

President Garcia Dead.

Lima, Peru, Sept. 23.—Dr. Francisco Garcia, Calderon, former President of Peru, died Thursday night.

DANGER SIGNALS.

No engineer would be mad enough to run by the flag which signaled danger. It is different with the average man or woman. They attempt constantly to run by the danger signals of Nature and that attempt costs thousands of lives every year. When the appetite becomes irregular or entirely gives out, when sleep is troubled and broken, when there is a constant feeling of dullness and languor, Nature is hoisting the danger signal. The stomach and its allied organs are failing in their work and the body is losing the nutrition on which its strength depends.

Such a condition calls for a prompt use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, purifies and enriches the blood and builds up the body with sound, solid flesh.

"I have had so much benefit from your medicines am glad to say a few words that you may use for publication," writes Mrs. J. E. Downes, Crystal Lake, Conn. "Had been troubled with a complication of diseases for over two years, but kidneys and liver bothered me most. Some of my worst ailments were headache, frequent pains around heart and under right shoulder-blade. My hands and feet were cold nearly all the time, and I had such chilliness between shoulders. Home days cared but little for food; I lost flesh; felt so tired and miserable it seemed I couldn't do any housework. Took medicine from my physician but received no benefit. Bought a bottle of Golden Medical Discovery,' and after taking it I felt so much better we determined to give it a fair trial. Appetite soon improved and gradually the disorders disappeared until now I am well."

CAN RETIRE IN TWENTY YEARS

Business Creators of the New York Life Company.

TECHNICALLY ARE "NYLICS"

Their Various Degrees and How They Earn Their Money—Their Accounts Under Investigation — Statements Regarding Business in Canada and the U. S. Asked For by Investigating Committee.

New York, Sept. 23.—Upon the assembling yesterday of the special Legislative committee, which is investigating the life insurance business, Thomas Buckner, Vice-President of the New York Life Insurance Co., who has charge of the company's agencies, resumed the stand. The matter of "Nylic" accounts was taken up. They included records of a system of bonuses paid to agents. Nylic, he said, was a body of men drawn from the ranks of agents who create business for his company. It is divided into five classes Freshmen, first, second and third degree and senior Nylics.

The freshmen have a written contract with the company, and must produce business paying not less than $5,000 annually in premiums and give their entire time for five years. They are paid no salary, but qualify for a higher degree.

Work Twenty Years, Then Retire.

He need not give his entire time, but must not write for any other company. At the present time the company has but three seniors.

Mr. Buckner said that what moneys the agents got from "Nylic" was in addition to the regular agents' commissions. Witness stated that the total payments to Nylic members aggregated less than one per cent. of the total premiums. The company has 916 agents who are members of Nylic, and over 5,000 who are not. It would be possible, Mr. Buckner calculated, for a man who had worked twenty years to retire altogether from active labor.

Business in Canada and States.

A second Nylic was inaugurated January 1, 1902, for agency directors, inspectors and supervisors in the United States, Canada, Mexico and the West Indies.

Mr. Hughes asked for full statements from Mr. Buckner of the business written in the United States and Canada and in the other parts of the world, showing the premiums and commissions paid and all other particulars which would show to what extent, if any, the business of the New York Life was being extended throughout the world at the expense of the American policyholder.

ROYAL COMMISSION.

Will Recommend That the Saskatchewan River Be Improved.

Edmonton, Sept. 23.—The Royal Commission on transportation arrived in the city Thursday night and held a meeting in the City Hall yesterday.

Ald. D. R. Fraser, head of a large lumber firm, gave evidence of navigation on the Saskatchewan River. W. F. Bredin of the firm of Bredin & Cornwall, large traders in the north, gave evidence of the waterways of the north.

The commissioners will make a report to the Government that efforts should be made to remove from North Saskatchewan the impediments to navigation in the shape of boulders and to deepen the channel, thus extending the period of navigation.

The Board of Trade prepared a lengthy memorandum, which they laid before the commission, advocating the above changes and urging the construction of a railway to Hudson Bay.

WERE LOANED LEAKY BOAT.

Six Lads Upset and Two Mimico Industrial School Boys Drown.

Toronto, Sept. 23.—Upset from a boat with half a dozen boys in it, two Mimico School boys were drowned in the lake at the foot of Superior avenue yesterday afternoon. Harry Leach and Henry Coggishall, the two boys who lost their lives, attended the annual school picnic held during the afternoon. While the races were in progress the boys went out boating. Having the loan of a leaky boat used some time before by a number of smaller boys, the six crowded into the boat. It sank down quite low in the water, but it was rowed out into the rough water, blown up by a southwesterly wind. There it upset and the struggle for life began with the above result.

C. P. R.'s Big Car Order.

Montreal, Sept. 23.—The C. P. R. issued yesterday morning one of the largest orders for rolling stock ever given by any railway. It is for cars only, and calls for an expenditure of $3,000,000. The order is for twenty-five parlor, sleeping and dining-cars, ninety passenger coaches of different classes, and 3,000 freight cars of all descriptions. Every one of these cars will be built at the company's Angus shops here.

Banquet to Hon. Nelson Monteith.

St. Catharines, Sept. 23.—Hon. Nelson Monteith, Minister of Agriculture, was in the city Thursday night and yesterday morning in company with a number of the local fruit growers drove through the fruit districts between here and Grimsby. Last evening he was entertained at an informal dinner at the New Murray Hotel, as the guest of the Niagara Peninsula United Fruit Growers' Association.

AMOS MARLOW BADLY STABBED

Canadian Peacemaker Dies Italian Hands.

SUSPECTS IN TORONTO JAIL

Scene of the Murder Was the Windsor Hotel, Mimico—Result of a Quarrel in the Barroom—Victim Was Trying to Quell Disturbance When He Was Stabbed Twice and Died Almost Instantly.

Toronto, Sept. 23.—Amos Marlow, a factory employe, aged about 35, was murdered last night at Mimico, and the assassin is supposed to be one of half a dozen Italians who were arrested. Marlow was stabbed. He died almost immediately.

There was no premeditation. It was the outcome of the victim interfering in a quarrel between some of the foreigners, who are laborers in the vicinity.

The authorities think they have the guilty party in Dominque Taberinto. All the suspects are held till to-day by the Toronto police.

"I am stabbed!" Gasping these words Amos Marlow with two knife wounds in his side staggered from the barroom door of the Windsor Hotel at Mimico and fell dead on the steps of the rear entrance.

In an inoffensive manner he had tried to quell a quarrel among several Italians employed at the Mimico Brick yard, and was cruelly murdered.

There seemed to the few laborers on the spot to be almost no motive for the deed, for he had been sitting in the barroom a moment before talking to a friend and had no part in the wrangle among the Italians. "Curly" Marlow, as he has been best known, was a Canadian who has been working for the Ontario Sewer Pipe Co. at Mimico since last May, though he is a moulder by trade. He worked for several months at the Deering works in Hamilton before coming to Mimico. His friends are said to live at Brockville.

Murder In Labelle.

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—A Syrian woman is supposed to have been murdered at Nominins, a village in Labelle County, Quebec, last Monday. Word was received yesterday by the Hull authorities to that effect.

8-YEAR-OLD GIRL MISSING.

Foul Play On the Part of Tramps Is Suspected.

Prescott, Sept. 23.—The entire community of Roebuck and Domville is aroused over the disappearance of an eight-year-old girl.

On Wednesday John Gill, a farmer living six miles north of Prescott, sent his little daughter on an errand across the fields to a neighbor's house. She arrived there safely and left about 10.30 and has not been seen since.

Foul play is suspected, as four rough characters were seen in the swamp near her home that night, and it is reported they tried to hold up a man near midnight.

Toronto Man Confesses Murder.

Oakland, Cal., Sept. 23.—Quite a commotion has been caused in this neighborhood by the appearance of a tramp claiming Toronto, Ont., as his home, and claiming to be the real murderer of little Florence Barker of Petaluma, Cal., six years ago. James V. McCloud, the accused murderer, has served six years of a life sentence, and by appearance he will be released and another claimant to his cell put in his place.

Woman Wrestles With Burglars.

Brampton, Sept. 23.—Shortly after midnight yesterday Mrs. James Ward, who lives with her two sons, was awakened by a burglar in her room. He immediately seized her wrist and demanded a large sum of money he knew she had taken out of the bank the day before. She pluckily resisted, but finally told him where the money was concealed. The midnight visitor locked her in her room and went for the money. Mrs. Ward then raised her window and screamed and in a short time the neighbors appeared, but failed to locate the burglar. Luckily the money was not in the place indicated, and beyond the nervous shock and scare no damage was done.

Canadians Go To Persia For Oil.

Montreal, Sept. 23.—A party of five Canadians from the Petrolia oil district left by the steamship Tunisian yesterday for England on their way to Persia, where they propose to develop the oil fields of that country. The men, whose names are Crawford, Kirby, Naughton, McIntyre and P. Black, are expert oil drillers and have obtained a concession from the Persian Government which will enable them to enter the field under specially favorable circumstances.

Throw Bomb at Warsaw Bank.

Warsaw, Russian Poland, Sept. 23.—An attempt was made at noon yesterday to destroy the Shereshevsky Bank. A man threw a bomb at an open window of the bank, but missed his aim and the missle exploded in the court yard, dangerously injuring the perpetrator of the crime, a young Jew. It appears that the outrage was due to the fact that the bank officials had refused to contribute to the funds of the revolutionists.

Troops For Finland.

Helsingfors, Finland, Sept. 23.—A large increase in the number of Russian troops in Finland is expected shortly. An explosion near the residence of the Governor of Vasa Thursday evening created excitement, but no damage is reported beyond the shattering of the windows of a neighboring house.

The Red Rose Flavor and Strength

NO Ceylon tea nor Indian tea alone can have the "rich fruity flavor" of Red Rose Tea, because neither variety in itself possesses all the qualities of strength, richness, delicacy, and fragrance. Each has its own peculiar qualities, but each has its weaknesses.

By combining the two in the Red Rose proportions, I produce a tea with the "rich fruity flavor" and strength of Red Rose Tea, a flavor and strength found in no brand of Ceylon alone.

Peterboro, Sept. 23.—A peculiar state of affairs developed early yesterday moning at the Central school, when twenty-five boys in J. T. Wallace's room went "on strike," as they call it, until the alleged unsanitary condition of the building is remedied. The boys paraded the streets and declare they will not return until the plumbing beneath the floor has been fixed. The School Board maintains that the conditions are not unsanitary, and have strongly denounced the action of the lads. The boys are considered as truants in the eyes of the law and will be severely dealt with.

Service Was Disturbed.

—Considerable annoyance was created last night at All Saints church during the festival service, by a "tic-tac" which was placed upon a window—evidently by some mischievous boys. The wardens state that in case of any further trouble from the same source, the perpetrators, who are known, will be promptly prosecuted.

Lindsay People Easy.

—Either pedlars are increasing in numbers because they find the women of Lindsay especially gullible, or else many have been preying on the public for long and Chief Nevison is only now in a position to get after them and secure a conviction. Last week two of these gentry contributed $52 to the town treasury, and this morning Wm. Stewart, a gypsy hailing from Toronto, who has been peddling oilcloth for some days, was sued to interview Magistrate Jackson. A conviction was secured and Stewart coughed up to the tune of $21.70.—Post.

Library Will Be Re-opened

New catalogues have been issued, and it is certain that the school as a whole, will appreciate the interest taken in providing good books by the management.

W. Lech & Sons Elite Fur & Hat Establishment

Magnificent Interior Fittings and Fixtures for Displaying Fine Goods.

Massive Wall Cases, Show Cases, Glass Counters, and Floor Cases, Etc.

One of the most progressive firms in the fur business in Peterborough to-day is Wm. Lech & Sons, 443 George street. Their business has developed to such a remarkable extent the past few years, that they have been obliged to evolve additional store accommodation and conveniences to meet the requirements of their increasing trade. It is only a short time ago since they remodelled their entire store and put in a new decorative store front which has attracted everyone for its effectiveness in displaying their furs and hats. The installation of Luxfer Prisms to bring in more daylight into their store, at the same time, proved that money can be well spent in exterior store improvements. Now they have just finished installing sets of elaborate wall cases, showcases and glass counters for protecting as well as displaying their goods. In handling so many high-class furs it has been found necessary to have show cases to protect the goods as well as display them. Two of the wall cases are massive, and beautiful in design, as well as of substantial construction; and, although costing a lot of money, they prove the valuable goods displayed from deterioration from dust, etc. They are the game of the show-case maker's art. The dimensions of the two magnificent wall cases are: Length, 13 feet; height, 12 feet; width, 3 feet; made of walnut, and British plate glass. These, when electrically illuminated, will present a very handsome appearance. There are also four glass floor show-cases, or silent salesmen, with glass shelves and fixtures. Each of these is 8 feet long by 28 inches wide, and are also illuminated with electricity.

The store is specially well equipped with mirrors, nickel-plated fixtures, wax figures, adjustable racks, hat and fur stands, etc.—every convenience for keeping the stocks clean and displaying them to the best advantage. These are some of the new interior furnishing triumphs of a new season in Wm. Lech & Sons' stylish fur and hat store, from which it is evident that the quality screen of the past, which has achieved for this firm a high reputation, is not going to suffer in the future for want of modern store fixtures and appliances.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post Card Column,—

Dear Sir,—Last night I had occasion to go to the Post Office, and I had great difficulty in effecting my purpose. I found the steps leading to the Water street entrance blocked with young men and young women, who appeared reluctant to stand aside, except under physical compulsion, and permit persons who had legitimate business in the Post Office to enter. I would suggest that the young people who make it a practice to congregate there in the evening should select some other place to transact their courtships or flirtations. A policeman taking a stroll in that direction and doing a little "move on" business might remedy the nuisance.

Yours, etc.

GRUMBLER.

Editor Post Card Column,—

Dear Sir,—Can you explain the reason of the fact that day after day a leading George street merchant and also an alderman of the city is permitted by the police force to obstruct the sidewalk by piling upon it boxes and baskets in such a manner as to interfere with pedestrians.

QUIZ.

Editor Post Card Column,—

Sir,—I have a suggestion to make. Lead up the town engineer and the chairman of the Board of Works with a return ticket to Lindsay and a five dollar bill for "incidentals" and let them go and see the beautiful cement street crossings the Scugogers are putting in. That's all—if they don't learn the lesson, they are slower than they have shown themselves to be in their neglect to provide street crossings in the City of Peterborough.

Yours, etc.

ANTI-MUD.

Editor of Post Card Columns:

Dear Sir,—I saw in your paper last night the programme of the Young Women's Christian Association. I noticed one awful funny thing in their classes. There's a morning class for "ladies", $1, and afternoon and evening class, for "young women", $2. Why is this distinction made—what is the difference between a "lady" and a "young woman"? Is the difference of price of $1.00—between $4 and $3—the amount paid for the snobbery of being called a "lady" in a catalogue? Why should one decent woman be charged $1.00, for being called a lady, and another dubbed "young woman"? Does this principle of snobbery extend to other departments of the management? Are there "chief seats in the synagogues?"

Yours sincerely,

SHOP GIRL.

Editor Post Card Column,—

At the meeting of council on Thursday evening, the matter of cleaning the snow off the streets was discussed. Well, I think some of those gentlemen had very little property to clean opposite or they would not have talked as they did.

CITIZEN.

Editor Post Card Column,—

Sir,—I was surprised in going down Aylmer street, between Charlotte and King, to hear sounds of riotous conduct, emanating from married men and women in a house in the vicinity. They seemed to be intoxicated. The language used was deceitful—unfit for publication. Such incidents have occurred many times recently, and the police would do well to take a walk in that direction when they feel equal to that degree of exertion.

Yours truly,

OBSERVER.

Death In California of Mr. A. C. McCollum

City Treasurer Brownscombe, this afternoon received a telegram announcing the death in Pasadena, Cal., of his brother-in-law, Mr. A. C. McCallum. No particulars are given but it is to be assumed that the death was unexpected at least by the friends of deceased in Peterborough. Mr. McCallum, who spent a month in Peterborough last summer, left on Aug. 22, with his wife and two daughters for California for the benefit of his health, he having been troubled with a pulmonary affection. A letter received on his arrival states that he and the family arrived safely and that he stood the journey well, and was in as good a state of health as could be expected.

The late Mr. McCallum was about forty years of age. He was a native of Scotland, in the vicinity of Glasgow, and has been a resident of Peterborough for about twenty years, during which the greater part of which term he was in the employ of the William Hamilton Manufacturing Company. Recently he took a position with the Canada Foundry Company, Toronto, which he was forced to relinquish owing to failing health. He spent last winter in California for the benefit of his health and returned somewhat improved, but apparently not cured of his malady. Deceased was in affiliation with St. Paul's church, a member of the Masonic Order, Peterborough Lodge, No. 155, and also a member of Court Peterborough, Canadian Order of Foresters, and was well worthy of the high respect he enjoyed in Peterborough.

Nothing has been decided as to the disposition of the remains.

Local Officers Express Opinions

A number of prominent local military men were this morning shown the plan proposed for the new armoury, and asked to give their opinion as to how it will fill the purposes for which it is intended. Though they had, of course, no opportunity to more than glance at them, they appeared to be generally well pleased, though, as might be expected, some alterations, it was thought, might be made in some cases.

Lieut.-Col. Miller, after glancing at the plan, expressed the opinion that a number of changes would be necessary in the construction of the building as proposed in the plan.

He thought it advisable that an artillery entrance should be provided upon the lane running between Murray and McDonel streets, in order that the parade ground in front should not be interfered with.

An officers' entrance should also be provided in one end of the building, where the bastions should also be built. The band room, in his opinion, was somewhat small for their suitability for this purpose.

Major R. M. Donnistoun did not wish to express an opinion upon the plans as he considered that a more extensive examination was necessary in order to form an estimate of their suitableness.

Sergt.-Major Brittain considered the plans as proposed as excellent in almost every detail. The main hall would be 10 feet wider and 25 feet longer than the present one, and would afford splendid accommodation. The officers' mess room, he thought, would be somewhat small for the purpose it is intended to serve. The building in most other respects, offered splendid facilities.

S. M. Brittain Scores Success

A general order just issued announces that Sergeant-Major Brittain, W. O., has passed the examinations at the Canadian School of Musketry, Ottawa, and has obtained a "distinguished" certificate, having taken ninety per cent. or over on each of seven examinations on Maxim Gun, Musketry Regulations, Rifle Theory and Mechanism, Mekometer and Skirmishing.

Out of a class of about thirty-three officers and thirty N. companies, only eleven got the honour of the "distinguished" certificate. Sergeant-Major Brittain's many friends will be pleased to learn of his success.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years the doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

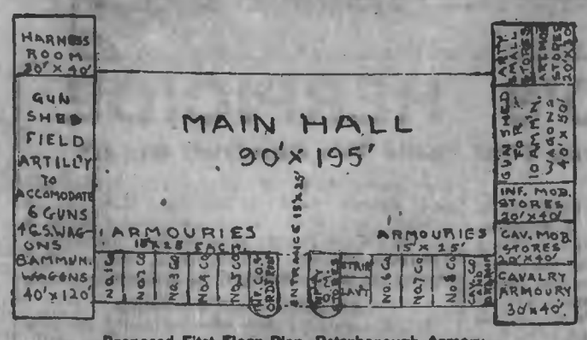
PLANS FOR THE NEW ARMORY SUBMITTED TO OFFICERS OF THE LOCAL REGIMENT

Mr. R. R. Hall has received from the Department of Public Works, Ottawa copies of the ground floor plan of the proposed armouries which will be erected in Peterborough, and he will submit them to the local military authorities with a view of obtaining their opinion as to whether they are best adapted to the requirements of the local militia. The idea is to not have the plans definitely approved of nor the contract let for their construction until they have been thoroughly considered, and until those interested have satisfied themselves that the building, when it has been built, will be one which will best fill the want which has been felt in the past, because of the lack of adequate accommodation for the military organizations that have their headquarters in this city, which because of its fine strategic location is destined to become a more important military centre than it has been in the past.

With this in view Mr. Hall succeeded in getting a plan placed in the estimates at the last session of the Commons for the purpose of providing the city with an armory which would be in keeping with its importance.

All the military men who have visited Peterborough, and who study the conditions agree that it is practically assured that this city will, in the not distant future become a mobilization point for the militia of this district, and since this seems to be practically assured it is fitting that the armoury should be of the most modern description.

That the Government recognises this fact is evident from the plans which they are taking to ascertain the views of those locally interested in the militia as evidenced by their action in sending a copy of the plan of the proposed building in order that they may suggest any improvements which occur to them. On this page will be seen reproductions, on a greatly reduced scale of the ground and gallery plans, as submitted for the approval of the officers of the local organizations. No plan of the front elevation has yet been received, but there is no doubt that the exterior appearance will be in keeping with the general character of the building, and that it will be a handsome structure goes without saying.

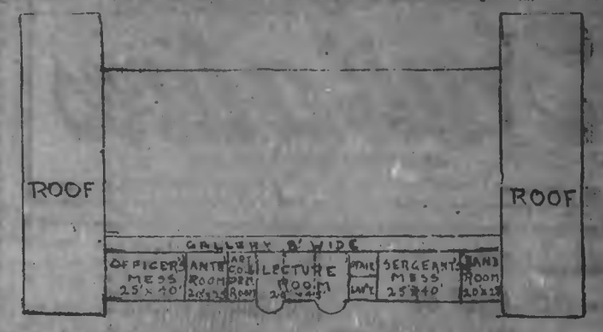


Proposed First Floor Plan, Peterborough Armory.

London Armory, After Which Style Peterborough's Armory Will Probably be Patterned.

It will be seen from the accompanying sketches that all arms of the service which will be quartered here will be provided for. The drill hall, measuring 90x195 feet will afford ample drilling accommodation for the work which will have to be performed indoors, while in its other appointments the building seems to be one which will meet with general approval. The front of the building, which will face either on Murray or McDonel streets will be in appearance, it is expected, very similar to the London armoury, an illustration of which also appears on this page and after the style of which, it is understood the Peterborough building will be modelled to a great extent. The entrance from the street will be in the centre of the building, while to either side of the main entrance will be the company store rooms for the infantry. To the left of the doors is the infantry orderly room, while to the right will be the O. M. stores.

At the extreme left of the building will be the artillery accommodations including a gun shed with room for six guns, 4 g.s. waggons and 8 ammunition waggons. This room will be 40x120. To the rear will be a harness room 30x40. At the right end of the drill hall the Cavalry division will be given space. The cavalry armoury will be 30x40 feet, and will be in front of the cavalry mob. stores room, 20x40 feet, behind which will be the infantry mob. stores in a room of equal size. A gun shed, with accommodation for ammunition will be at the rear of that room, and space will also be provided for the artillery small stores and the artillery mob. stores, two rooms, 20x30 feet being provided for that purpose.



Proposed Second Story Plan, Peterborough Armory.

The second story plan shows a lecture room 25x45 feet in size, and to the left an orderly room of ample size, behind which will be an ante room, and at the extreme left the officers' mess, which will be 25x40 feet, while to the right of the lecture room will be the sergeants' mess and the band room. Along the whole length of the drill hall, in the second story there will be a gallery 8 feet wide, from which the movements of the men below may be seen.
